financing

Yorkshire Water Services Limited

(incorporated in England and Wales with limited liability with registered number 02366682)

Prospectus Dated 29 August 2024

The payment of all amounts owing in respect of the bonds (the “Bonds”) issued by Yorkshire Water Finance plc (the “Issuer”) will be unconditionally and irrevocably guaranteed by Yorkshire Water Services Limited (“YWS” or “Yorkshire Water”), Yorkshire Water Services Holdings Limited (“YWH”) and Yorkshire Water Services Finance Limited (“YWSF”) as described herein. YWS, YWSF, the Issuer and YWH are together referred to herein as the “Obligors”. YWH has no significant assets other than the shares in its wholly owned subsidiary, YWS.

Application has been made to the Financial Conduct Authority (the “FCA”) under Part VI of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000, as amended (“FSMA”) for Bonds issued under the £8,000,000,000 multicurrency programme (the “Programme”) during the period of twelve months after the date hereof, to be admitted to the official list of the FCA (the “Official List”) and to the London Stock Exchange plc (the “London Stock Exchange”) for such Bonds to be admitted to trading on the London Stock Exchange’s Main Market (the “Market”). Except where the context provides otherwise, references in this Prospectus to Bonds being “listed” (and all related references) shall mean that such Bonds have been admitted to trading on the Market and have been admitted to the Official List. The Market is a UK regulated market for the purposes of Regulation (EU) No 600/2014 on markets in financial instruments as it forms part of domestic law by virtue of the European Union (Withdrawal) Act 2018, as amended (the “EUWA”) (“UK MiFIR”). The Programme provides that Bonds will be listed on the London Stock Exchange.

This Prospectus has been approved as a base prospectus by the FCA, as competent authority under Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 as it forms part of domestic law by virtue of the EUWA (the “UK Prospectus Regulation”). The FCA only approves this Prospectus as meeting the standards of completeness, comprehensibility and consistency imposed by the UK Prospectus Regulation. Such approval should not be considered as an endorsement of either the Issuer, the Obligors or the quality of the Bonds that are the subject of this Prospectus and investors should make their own assessment as to the suitability of investing in the Bonds.

The Bonds may be issued on a continuing basis to one or more of the Dealers specified under Chapter 1 “The Parties” and any additional Dealer appointed under the Programme from time to time by the Issuer (each a “Dealer” and together the “Dealers”), which appointment may be for a specific issue or on an ongoing basis. References in this Prospectus to the “relevant Dealer”, in the case of an issue of Bonds being (or intended to be) subscribed by more than one Dealer, shall be to all Dealers agreeing to subscribe to such Bonds.

For the avoidance of doubt, the Issuer may not as at the date of this Prospectus issue Wrapped Bonds pursuant to this Prospectus without issuing a supplemental prospectus.

Until the expiration of 40 days after the later of the commencement of the offering and the relevant Issue Date (the “Exchange Date”), beneficial interests in a Registered Global Note may be held only through Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg. Interests in a Temporary Global Bond (as defined below) will be exchangeable, in whole or in part, for definitive securities in bearer form on or after the date 40 days after the later of the commencement of the offering and the relevant Issue Date, upon certification as to non-U.S. beneficial ownership or to the effect that the holder is a U.S. person who purchased in a transaction that did not require registration under the Securities Act (as defined below) and as may be required by U.S. tax laws and regulations, as described in Chapter 8 “The Bonds” under “Forms of the Bonds”. See Chapter 4 “Risk Factors” for a discussion of certain factors to be considered in connection with an investment in the Bonds.

Under the Programme, the Issuer may, subject to all applicable legal and regulatory requirements, from time to time issue Bonds in bearer and/or registered form (respectively “Bearer Bonds” and “Registered Bonds”). Copies of each Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus (as defined below) will be available (in the case of all Bonds) from the specified office set out below of Deutsche Trustee Company Limited as bond trustee (the “Bond Trustee”), (in the case of Bearer Bonds) from the specified office set out below of each of the Paying Agents (as defined below) and (in the case of Registered Bonds) from the specified office set out below of each of the Registrar and the Transfer Agent (each as defined below).

The maximum aggregate nominal amount of all Bonds from time to time Outstanding (as defined below) under the Programme will not exceed £8,000,000,000 (or its equivalent in other currencies calculated as described herein), subject to increase as described herein.

Details of the aggregate principal amount, interest (if any) payable, the Issue Price (as defined below) and any other conditions not contained herein, which are applicable to each Tranche of each Sub-Class of each Class of each Series (all as defined below) will be set forth in a final terms (the “Final Terms”) or a drawdown prospectus (“Drawdown Prospectus”) which, in the case of Bonds to be admitted to the Official List and to trading on the Market, will be delivered to the FCA and the London Stock Exchange on or before the relevant date of issue of the Bonds of such Tranche.

Bonds issued by the Issuer under the Programme will be issued in series (each a “Series”) and in one or more of four classes (each a “Class”). Bonds issued by the Issuer may only be issued in unwrapped form pursuant to this Prospectus without issuing a supplemental prospectus. Each Class may comprise one or more sub-classes (each a “Sub-Class”) with each Sub-Class pertaining to, among other things, the currency, interest rate and Maturity Date (as defined below) of the relevant Sub-Class. Each Sub-Class fixed rate, floating rate or index-linked Bonds and may be denominated in sterling, euro or U.S. dollars (or in other currencies subject to compliance with applicable laws). Each Sub-Class may be issued in one or more tranches (each a “Tranche”), the specific terms of each Tranche being identical in all respects, save for the issue dates, interest commencement dates and/or issue prices, to the terms of the other Tranches of such Sub-Class.

Each Class of Unwrapped Bonds is expected on issue to have the following credit ratings:

Class	S&P Global Ratings UK Limited (“S&P”)	Moody’s Investors Service
		Limited (“Moody’s”)	Fitch Ratings Ltd. (“Fitch”)
Class A Unwrapped Bonds	A - (negative)	Baa2 (stable)	A - (stable)
Class B Unwrapped Bonds	BBB (negative)	Ba1 (stable)	BBB- (stable)

Any rating assigned to a series of Bonds will be specified in the applicable Final Terms. Each of Moody’s, S&P and Fitch are established in the United Kingdom (“UK”) and are registered in accordance with Regulation (EC) No. 1060/2009 as it forms part of domestic law by virtue of the EUWA (the “UK CRA Regulation”).

A credit rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold securities and may be subject to revision, suspension or withdrawal at any time by any one or all of the Rating Agencies. A suspension, reduction or withdrawal of the rating assigned to any of the Bonds may adversely affect the market price of such Bonds.

For the avoidance of doubt, the Issuer may not as at the date of this Prospectus issue Wrapped Bonds pursuant to this Prospectus without issuing a Drawdown Prospectus. The credit ratings of any Class of Wrapped Bonds which may be issued by the Issuer under the Programme in the future are not known as at the date of this Prospectus.

None of the Class A Unwrapped Bonds or Class B Unwrapped Bonds (the “Unwrapped Bonds”) will benefit from a Financial Guarantee or the guarantee of any other financial institution.

Each Sub-Class of Bearer Bonds may be represented initially by a Temporary Global Bond (as defined below), without interest coupons, which will be deposited with a common depository for Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg (as defined below) on or about the Issue Date (as defined below) of such Sub-Class. Ratings ascribed to all of the Bonds reflect only the views of the Rating Agencies.

If any withholding or deduction for or on account of tax is applicable to the Bonds, payments of interest on, principal of and premium (if any) on, the Bonds will be made subject to such withholding or deduction, without the Issuer being obliged to pay any additional amounts as a consequence (unless otherwise specified in the applicable Drawdown Prospectus).

In the case of any Bonds which are to be admitted to trading on a regulated market within the UK or offered to the public in the UK or a Member State of the European Economic Area in circumstances which require the publication of a prospectus under the UK Prospectus Regulation or the Prospectus Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 (the “Prospectus Regulation”), the minimum specified denomination shall be €100,000 (or its equivalent in any other currency as at the date of issue of the Bonds).

The Obligors may agree with any Dealer and the Bond Trustee that Bonds may be issued in a form not contemplated by the Conditions (as defined below) herein, in which event (in the case of Bonds admitted to the Official List only) a supplemental listing prospectus or Drawdown Prospectus, if appropriate, will be made available which will describe the effect of the agreement reached in relation to such Bonds.

Amounts payable under the Bonds may be calculated by reference to: (i) the Sterling Overnight Index Average (“SONIA”), which is provided by the Bank of England; (ii) EURIBOR, which is provided by the European Money Markets Institute (the “EMMI”); (iii) RPI, which is provided by the Office for National Statistics or the relevant successor index; (iv) CPI, which is provided by the Office for National Statistics or the relevant successor index; or (v) CPIH, which is provided by the Office for National Statistics or the relevant successor index. As at the date of this Prospectus, the EMMI (as administrator for EURIBOR) appears on the register of administrators and benchmarks established and maintained by the FCA pursuant to Article 36 of Regulation (EU) No. 2016/1011 (the “EU Benchmarks Regulation”) as it forms part of domestic law by virtue of the EUWA (the “UK Benchmarks Regulation”).

As far as the Issuer is aware, SONIA, RPI, CPI, and CPIH do not fall within the scope of the UK Benchmarks Regulation by virtue of Article 2 of the UK Benchmarks Regulation. The registration status of any administrator under the UK Benchmarks Regulation is a matter of public record and, save where required by applicable law, the Issuer does not intend to update the Prospectus to reflect any change in the registration status of the administrator. In addition, the transitional provisions in Article 51 of the UK Benchmarks Regulation apply, such that EMMI is not currently required to obtain authorisation or registration under the UK Benchmarks Regulation.

Investors should consult their own independent advisers and make their own assessment about the potential risks imposed by benchmark reforms, investigations and licensing issues in making any investment decisions with respect to Bonds linked to a "benchmark".

Section 619 of the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act of 2010 added a new Section 13 to the United States Bank Holding Company Act of 1956 (together with the final rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, the “Volcker Rule”). The Volcker Rule generally prohibits “banking entities,” (which are broadly in the Volcker Rule defined to include U.S. banks and bank holding companies and many non-U.S. banking entities, together with their respective subsidiaries and affiliates) from (i) engaging in proprietary trading, (ii) acquiring or retaining an ownership interest in or sponsoring a “covered fund” and (iii) entering into certain relationships with a “covered fund” for which the banking entity or an affiliate acts as investment manager, investment adviser, commodity trading adviser, or sponsor, subject to certain exemptions and exclusions. The Volcker Rule amendments also contain Super 23A and 23B requirements. Super 23A prohibits “covered transactions” between a “covered fund” and a banking entity (and its affiliates) that sponsors, advises or organizes and offers such funds, subject to certain exceptions and exclusions. Covered transactions include (among other things) entering into a swap transaction or guaranteeing notes if the swap or the guarantee would result in a credit exposure to the covered fund. Super 23B imposes requirements on all transactions between sponsored funds and banking entities or their affiliates.

If the Issuer is a covered fund, the Volcker Rule and its related regulatory provisions will impact the ability of banking entities to hold an “ownership interest” in it. This may adversely impact the market price and liquidity of the Bonds. Further, if a banking entity is considered the “sponsor” of the Issuer under the Volcker Rule, that banking entity may face a prohibition on covered transactions with the Issuer. This could adversely impact the ability of the banking entity to enter into new transactions with the Issuer and may require amendments to certain existing transactions and arrangements.

There is limited interpretive guidance regarding the Volcker Rule, and implementation of the regulatory framework for the Volcker Rule is still evolving and regulators in the United States may promulgate further regulatory changes. The Volcker Rule’s prohibitions and lack of interpretive guidance could negatively impact the liquidity and market price of the Bonds and no assurance can be given as to the impact of any regulatory changes on the Bonds. Prospective purchasers of the Bonds should consider the potential impact of the Volcker Rule in respect of such investment and on its portfolio generally. Each purchaser must determine for itself whether it is a banking entity subject to regulation under the Volcker Rule. None of the Issuer, the Obligor, any member of the YW Financing Group or the Kelda Group, the Arranger, the Dealers, the Bond Trustee, the Security Trustee, the Financial Guarantors or the Other Parties makes any representation regarding the ability of any purchaser to acquire or hold the Bonds, now or at any time in the future.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

Neither the delivery of this Prospectus nor any offering or sale of Bonds made in connection herewith shall, under any circumstances, constitute a representation or create any implication that there has been no change in the affairs of the Issuer or any member of the YW Financing Group since the date hereof. Unless otherwise indicated herein, all information in this Prospectus is given on the date of this Prospectus. This document does not constitute an offer of, or an invitation by, or on behalf of, the Issuer, the Arranger, any Dealer or any of their respective affiliates to subscribe for, or purchase, any of the Bonds.

Save for the Issuer and the other Obligors, no other party has separately verified the information contained herein (other than, in respect of the Hedge Counterparties, the information in Chapter 10

Accordingly, no representation, warranty or undertaking, express or implied, is made and no responsibility or liability is accepted by any Dealer (or their affiliates), the Arranger (or its affiliates), any Financial Guarantor, the Bond Trustee, the Security Trustee or any of the Hedge Counterparties, the Liquidity Facility Providers, the Authorised Credit Providers, the Agents, the Account Bank, the Standstill Cash Manager, the Finance Lessors or the members of the Kelda Group (each as defined below and, together, the “Other Parties”) as to the accuracy or completeness of the information contained in this Prospectus or any other information supplied in connection with the Bonds or their distribution (other than, in respect of the Hedge Counterparties, the information in Chapter 10 “Description of the Hedge Counterparties”). The statements made in this paragraph are without prejudice to the respective responsibilities of the Issuer and the other Obligors. Each person receiving this Prospectus acknowledges that such person has not relied on any Dealer (or their affiliates), the Arranger (or its affiliates), any Financial Guarantor, the Bond Trustee or the Security Trustee or any Other Party nor on any person affiliated with any of them in connection with its investigation of the accuracy of such information or its investment decision (other than, in respect of the Hedge Counterparties, the information in Chapter 10 “Description of the Hedge Counterparties”).

None of the Issuer, the Obligors, any member of the YW Financing Group or the Kelda Group, the Arranger (or their affiliates), the Dealers (or their affiliates), the Bond Trustee, the Security Trustee, the Financial Guarantors or the Other Parties accept responsibility to investors for the regulatory treatment of their investment in the Bonds including (but not limited to) whether any transaction or transactions pursuant to which Bonds are issued from time to time is or will be regarded as constituting a “securitisation” for the purpose of Regulation (EU) 2017/2402 or as it forms part of domestic law of the UK by virtue of EUWA by any regulatory authority in any jurisdiction. If the regulatory treatment of an investment in the Bonds is relevant to any investor’s decision whether or not to invest, the investor should make its own determination as to such treatment and for this purpose seek professional advice and consult its regulator. Prospective investors are referred to the “Risk Factors – Regulatory and Competition Risks” section of this Prospectus for further information.

None of the Obligors, the Arranger nor Dealers (nor any of their affiliates) accepts any responsibility for any social, environmental and sustainability assessment of any Bonds issued as a Green, Social or Sustainability Bond or makes any representation or warranty or assurance whether such Bonds will meet any investor expectations or requirements regarding such "green", "sustainable", "social" or similar labels. As at the date of this Prospectus, the providers of such opinions are not subject to any specific regulation or other regime or oversight. In the event any such Bonds are, or are intended to be, listed, or admitted to trading on a dedicated "green", "sustainable", "social" or other equivalently-labelled segment of a stock exchange or securities market, no representation or assurance is given by the Obligors, the Arranger or any Dealer (or any of their affiliates) that such listing or admission will be obtained or maintained for the lifetime of the Bonds. For the avoidance of doubt, neither the Yorkshire Water Sustainable Finance Framework nor any second party opinion are, nor shall they be deemed to be, incorporated in and/or form part of, this Prospectus and should not be deemed to be a recommendation to buy, sell or hold any Notes to be issued under the Programme. Prospective investors should seek advice from their independent financial adviser or other professional adviser regarding their purchase of any Bonds issued as a Green, Social or Sustainability Bond to be issued under the Programme before deciding to invest. See also the risk factor in this Prospectus headed "Risk Factors – Risks associated with Green Bonds, Social Bonds and Sustainability Bonds".

None of the Dealers (or their affiliates), the Arranger (or its affiliates), the Financial Guarantors, the Bond Trustee, the Security Trustee or the Other Parties expressly undertakes to review the financial condition or affairs of any of the Obligors during the life of the Programme or to advise any investor in the Bonds of any information coming to their attention. Each person contemplating making an investment in the Bonds must make its own investigation and analysis of the creditworthiness of the Issuer and the other Obligors, its own determination of the suitability of any such investment with particular reference to its own investment objectives and experience and any other factors which may be relevant to it in connection with such investment. A prospective investor who is in any doubt whatsoever as to the risks involved in investing in the Bonds should consult independent professional advisers. Any prospective Bondholder should take its own legal, financial, accounting, tax and other relevant advice as to the structure and viability of its investment.

For a description of certain restrictions on offers and sales of the Bonds and on distribution of this Prospectus, see Chapter 12 “Subscription and Sale” below. The Bonds may not be a suitable investment for all investors.

Each potential investor in the Bonds must determine the suitability of that investment in light of its own circumstances. In particular, each potential investor may wish to consider, either on its own or with the help of its financial and other professional advisers, whether it:

- has sufficient knowledge and experience to make a meaningful evaluation of the Bonds, the merits and risks of investing in the Bonds and the information contained or incorporated by reference in this Prospectus or any applicable supplement;
- has access to, and knowledge of, appropriate analytical tools to evaluate, in the context of its particular financial situation, an investment in the Bonds and the impact the Bonds will have on its overall investment portfolio;
- has sufficient financial resources and liquidity to bear all of the risks of an investment in the Notes, including Bonds with principal or interest payable in one or more currencies, or where the currency for principal or interest payments is different from the potential investor's currency;
- understands thoroughly the terms of the Bonds and is familiar with the behaviour of any relevant indices and financial markets; and
- is able to evaluate possible scenarios for economic, interest rate and other factors that may affect its investment and its ability to bear the applicable risks

Legal investment considerations may restrict certain investments. The investment activities of certain investors are subject to investment laws and regulations, or review or regulation by certain authorities. Each potential investor should consult its legal advisers to determine whether and to what extent (1) Bonds are legal investments for it, (2) Bonds can be used as collateral for various types of borrowing and (3) other restrictions apply to its purchase or pledge of any Bonds. Financial institutions should consult their legal advisers or the appropriate regulators to determine the appropriate treatment of Bonds under any applicable risk-based capital or similar rules.

STABILISATION

In connection with the issue and distribution of any Tranche of Bonds, the Dealer (if any) disclosed as the stabilising manager in the applicable Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus (the “Stabilising Manager”) or any person acting for him may over-allot or effect transactions with a view to supporting the market price of the Bonds of the Series of which such Tranche forms part at a level higher than that which might otherwise prevail. However, there is no assurance that the Stabilising Manager or any agent of theirs will undertake stabilisation action. Any stabilisation action may begin on or after the date on which adequate public disclosure of the terms of the offer of the relevant Tranche of Bonds is made and, if begun, may be ended at any time, but it must end no later than the earlier of 30 days after the Issue Date of the relevant Tranche of Bonds and 60 days after the date of the allotment of the relevant Tranche of Bonds. Any stabilisation action or over allotment shall be conducted by the relevant Stabilising Manager or any person acting for him in accordance with all applicable laws and rules. Any loss or profit sustained as a consequence of any such over-allotment or stabilising shall, as against the Issuer, be for the account of the Stabilising Manager.

The Issuer has undertaken, in connection with the admission of the Bonds to the Official List and to trading on the Market, that, if there shall occur any significant new factor, mistake or material inaccuracy relating to information contained in this Prospectus which is capable of affecting the assessment of any Bonds whose inclusion would reasonably be required by investors and their professional advisers, and would reasonably be expected by them to be found in this Prospectus, for the purpose of making an informed assessment of the assets and liabilities, financial position, profits and losses and prospects of the Issuer, and the rights attaching to the Bonds, the Issuer shall prepare a supplement to this Prospectus or publish a replacement prospectus for use in connection with any subsequent issue by the Issuer of Bonds and will supply to each Dealer and the Bond Trustee such number of copies of such supplement hereto or replacement prospectus as such Dealer and Bond Trustee may reasonably request. If the terms of the Programme are modified or amended in a manner which would make this Prospectus, as so modified or amended, inaccurate or misleading, a new prospectus will be prepared.

If at any time the Issuer shall be required to prepare a supplement to this prospectus pursuant to Article 23 of the UK Prospectus Regulation, the Issuer shall prepare and make available an appropriate amendment or supplement to this Prospectus or a further prospectus which, in respect of any subsequent issue of Bonds to be listed on the Official List and admitted to trading on the Market, shall constitute a supplemental prospectus as required by Article 23 of the UK Prospectus Regulation. FINAL TERMS AND DRAWDOWN PROSPECTUSES

In the following paragraphs, the expression “necessary information” means, in relation to any Tranche of Bonds, the information necessary to enable investors to make an informed assessment of the assets and liabilities, financial position, profits and losses and prospects of the Issuer and of the rights attaching to the Bonds. In relation to the different types of Bonds which may be issued under the Programme, the Issuer has endeavoured to include in this Prospectus all of the necessary information except for information relating to the Bonds which is not known at the date of this Prospectus and which can only be determined at the time of an individual issue of a Tranche of Bonds.

Any information relating to the Bonds which is not included in this Prospectus and which is required in order to complete the necessary information in relation to a Tranche of Bonds will be contained in the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus. Such information will be contained in the relevant Final Terms unless any such information constitutes a significant new factor relating to the information contained in this Prospectus in which case such information, together with all of the necessary information in relation to the Bonds, may be contained in a Drawdown Prospectus. In addition, the Obligors may agree with any Dealer and the Bond Trustee that the Bonds may be issued in a form not contemplated by the Conditions (as defined below), in which event (in the case of the Bonds admitted to the Official List only) a Drawdown Prospectus will be made available which will describe the effect of the agreement reached in relation to such Bonds.

The terms and conditions applicable to any particular Tranche of Bonds which is the subject of a Drawdown Prospectus will be the Conditions as supplemented, amended and/or replaced to the extent described in the relevant Drawdown Prospectus. In the case of a Tranche of Bonds which is the subject of a Drawdown Prospectus, each reference in this Prospectus to information being specified, completed or identified in the relevant Final Terms shall be read and construed as a reference to such information being specified or identified in the relevant Drawdown Prospectus unless the context requires otherwise. Each Drawdown Prospectus will be constituted by a single document containing the necessary information relating to the Issuer and the relevant Bonds.

For a Tranche of Bonds which is the subject of Final Terms, those Final Terms must be read in conjunction with this Prospectus. The terms and conditions applicable to any particular Tranche of Bonds which is the subject of Final Terms are the Conditions as completed to the extent described in the relevant Final Terms.

Upon the occurrence of certain index events (as set out in Condition 8(d) (Redemption for Index Event, Taxation or Other Reasons)), the Issuer may redeem all, but not some only, of the Indexed Bonds at their Principal Amount Outstanding together with accrued but unpaid interest and amounts in respect of indexation and any and all amounts due and payable, in the case of the Issuer, to any Financial Guarantor under the Finance Documents. No single Sub-Class of Indexed Bonds may be redeemed in these circumstances unless all the other Sub-Classes of Indexed Bonds referable to the Index the subject of such Index Event are also redeemed.

In addition, in the event of the Issuer becoming obliged to make any deduction or withholding from payments in respect of the Bonds (although the Issuer will not be obliged to pay any additional amounts in respect of such deduction or withholding) the Issuer may (but is not obliged to): (a) use its reasonable endeavours to arrange for the substitution of another company incorporated in an alternative jurisdiction (subject to certain conditions as set out in Condition 8(d) (Redemption for Index Event, Taxation or Other Reasons)) of the Bonds) and, failing this; or (b) redeem (subject to certain conditions as set out in Condition 8(d) (Redemption for Index Event, Taxation or Other Reasons) of the Bonds) all (but not some only) of the Bonds at their Principal Amount Outstanding (plus, in the case of Indexed Bonds, amounts in respect of indexation) together with accrued but unpaid interest.

No single Class or Sub-Class of Bonds may be redeemed if the Issuer is obliged to make any deduction or withholding from payments in respect of the Bonds, unless all the other Classes and Sub-Classes of Bonds are also redeemed in full at the same time.

In the event of YWS electing to prepay an advance under the Issuer/YWS Loan Agreement where such advance was funded by the proceeds of an issuance of a Sub-Class of Bonds (in whole or in part), the Issuer shall be obliged to redeem all or the relevant part of such Sub-Class of Bonds or the proportion of the relevant Sub-Class which the proposed prepayment amount bears to the amount of the relevant advance under the relevant Issuer/YWS Loan Agreement.

Where YWS or the Issuer has hedged its exposure in relation to such an advance under an Issuer/YWS Loan Agreement funded by the proceeds raised from an issuance of a Sub-Class of Bonds under a Hedging Agreement, YWS or, as the case may be, the Issuer shall be obliged to reduce the notional amount of such Hedging Agreement by an amount equal to the amount of such prepayment and to pay any resulting termination payment.

The Issuer shall only be permitted to pay Early Redemption Amounts to the extent that in so doing it will not cause an Event of Default to occur or subsist.

Denomination of Bonds

Bonds have been and will be issued in such denominations as may be agreed between the Issuer and the relevant Dealer save that: (i) in the case of any Bonds which are to be admitted to trading on the Market within the UK or offered to the public in the UK in circumstances which require the publication of a prospectus under the UK Prospectus Regulation, the minimum specified denomination shall be €100,000 (or its equivalent in any other currency as at the date of issue of the Bonds); and (ii) in any other case, the minimum specified denomination of each Bond will be such as may be allowed or required from time to time by the relevant central bank (or equivalent body) or any laws or regulations applicable to the Relevant Currency. See the section "Certain Restrictions" above.

Taxation

Payments in respect of Bonds or under the relevant Financial Guarantee will be made without withholding or deduction for, or on account of, any present or future taxes, duties, assessments or governmental charges of whatever nature imposed or levied by or on behalf of any jurisdiction, unless and save to the extent that the withholding or deduction of such taxes, duties, assessments or governmental charges is required by law. In that event and to that extent, the Issuer and, to the extent there is a claim under the relevant Financial Guarantee, the relevant Financial Guarantor will make payments subject to the appropriate withholding or deduction. Notwithstanding the foregoing, no additional amounts will be paid by the Issuer or the Guarantors or, to the extent there is a claim under the relevant Financial Guarantee, by the relevant Financial Guarantor in respect of any withholdings or deductions, unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus.

Status of the Bonds

The Bonds in issue at the date of this Prospectus constitute, and any further Bonds issued under the Programme will constitute, secured obligations of the Issuer. Each Class of Bonds issued by the Issuer ranks and will rank pari passu without preference or priority in point of security amongst themselves.

The Bonds represent the right of the holders of such Bonds to receive interest and principal payments from the Issuer in accordance with the terms and conditions of the Bonds (the “Conditions”) and the trust deed (as amended, supplemented or restated from time to time) (the “Bond Trust Deed”) to be entered into by YWS, YWH, YWSF, the Issuer and the Bond Trustee in connection with the Programme.

The Class A Unwrapped Bonds issued under the Programme rank and will rank pari passu with respect to payments of interest and principal. All claims in respect of the Class A Unwrapped Bonds will rank in priority to payments of interest and principal due on all Class B Unwrapped Bonds.

In the case of interest and principal on Class B Bonds only, if, on any Interest Payment Date or any date upon which such Class B Bond is to be redeemed (in whole or in part) prior to the taking of Enforcement Action, there are insufficient funds available to the Issuer to pay accrued interest or principal on the Class B Bonds (after taking into account, in respect of interest, any amounts available to be drawn under any DSR Liquidity Facility or from the Class B Debt Service Reserve Account of the Issuer), the Issuer’s liability to pay such accrued interest or principal will be treated as not having fallen due and will be deferred until the earliest of: (i) the next following Interest Payment Date on which the Issuer has, in accordance with the Payment Priorities, sufficient funds available to pay such deferred amounts (including any interest accrued thereon); (ii) the date on which the Class A Debt has been paid in full; and (iii) an Acceleration of Liabilities (other than a Permitted Hedge Termination, a Permitted Lease Termination or a Permitted EIB Compulsory Prepayment Event) and in the case of a Permitted Share Pledge Acceleration only to the extent that there would be sufficient funds available in accordance with the Payment Priorities to pay such deferred interest or principal (including any interest accrued thereon). Interest will accrue on such deferred interest or principal at the rate otherwise payable on unpaid principal of such Class B Bonds.

The Class B Unwrapped Bonds issued under the Programme will rank pari passu with respect to payments of interest and principal.

Covenants

The representations, warranties, covenants (positive, negative and financial) and events of default which will apply to, among other things, the Bonds are set out in the common terms agreement dated the Closing Date and as amended, supplemented or restated from time to time (the “Common Terms Agreement”). See Chapter 7 “Overview of the Financing Agreements” under “Common Terms Agreement”.

Guarantee and Security

The Bonds in issue have been, and any further Bonds issued under the Programme will be, unconditionally and irrevocably guaranteed and secured by each of YWS, YWSF, and YWH, pursuant to a guarantee and security agreement (the “Security Agreement”) entered into by each Obligor in favour of the Security Trustee over the entire property, assets, rights and undertaking of each such Obligor (the “Security”), in the case of YWS to the extent permitted by the WIA and the Instrument of Appointment. Each such guarantee constitutes a direct, unconditional and secured obligation of each such Obligor. The Security is held by the Security Trustee on trust for the Secured Creditors (as defined below) under the terms of the Security Agreement and subject to the terms of the STID (as defined below) (see Chapter 7 “Overview of the Financing Agreements” under “Security Agreement”).

YWS’s business (together with the facilities available to the YW Financing Group, including the Issuer/YWS Loan Agreements) have characteristics that demonstrate the capacity to produce funds to service any payments due and payable on the Bonds issued under the Programme.

Intercreditor Arrangements

The Secured Creditors and each Obligor are, and will each be, party to a security trust and intercreditor deed dated on the Closing Date and as amended, supplemented or restated from time to time (the “STID”), which regulates, among other things: (i) the claims of the Secured Creditors; (ii) the exercise and enforcement of rights by the Secured Creditors; (iii) the rights of the Secured Creditors to instruct the Security Trustee; (iv) the rights of the Secured Creditors during the occurrence of an Event of Default; (v) the Entrenched Rights and Reserved Matters of each Secured Creditor; and (vi) the giving of consents and waivers and the making of amendments by the Secured Creditors. See Chapter 7 “Overview of the Financing Agreements” under “Security Trust and Intercreditor Deed”.

Authorised Credit Facilities

Subject to certain conditions being met, the Issuer, YWSF and YWS is permitted to incur certain indebtedness under authorised credit facilities (each an “Authorised Credit Facility”) with an Authorised Credit Provider. These Authorised Credit Facilities may comprise loan, hedging, finance leases, liquidity facilities and other facilities subject to the terms of the Common Terms Agreement and the STID. Each Authorised Credit Provider will be party to the Common Terms Agreement and the STID and may have voting rights thereunder. See Chapter 7 “Overview of the Financing Agreements”.

DSR Liquidity Facilities

YWS has agreed to procure that: (a) on any Payment Date the aggregate of: (i) all amounts available for drawing under any DSR Liquidity Facilities in respect of Class A Debt and Class B Debt; and (ii) all aggregate amounts standing to the credit of the Debt Service

Reserve Accounts (including the value of any Authorised Investments funded from amounts standing to the credit of the Debt Service Reserve Accounts) are at least equal to the Required Balance; and (b) on any Non-Participating YWSF Bond Payment Date the aggregate of: (i) all amounts available for drawing under any DSR Liquidity Facilities in respect of Non-Participating YWSF Bonds (other than the Exchanged YWSF Bonds); and (ii) all amounts standing to the credit of the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Reserve Account (including the value of any Authorised Investments funded from amounts standing to the credit of the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Reserve Account) are at least equal to the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Required Balance. As at the date of this Prospectus, the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Required Balance will be an amount equal to the next 18 months' interest and principal forecast to be due on the Non-Participating YWSF Bonds, after taking into account anticipated real flow receipts under any Hedging Agreement then in place in respect of any Non-Participating YWSF Bonds. An amount equal to the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Required Balance is retained in YWSF's Non-Participating YWSF Bond Reserve Account.

Pursuant to the terms of the DSR Liquidity Facility Agreements which were entered into on 25 March 2024 (the “DSR Liquidity Facility Agreements”) and each further DSR Liquidity Facility Agreement, the DSR Liquidity Facility Providers make available, and will make available (as applicable), to the Issuer or, as the case may be, to YWSF or YWS a 5 year liquidity guarantee to unconditionally and irrevocably guarantee payments due by the Issuer or, as the case may be, YWSF or YWS in circumstances where YWS has insufficient funds available to it on a Payment Date to pay: (a) scheduled interest or certain other payments in respect of Senior Debt (including payments due to be made by YWS under the Issuer/YWS Loan Agreements, the Issuer/YWS Bond Loan Agreements and the YWSF/YWS Loan Agreements, to enable the Issuer or, as the case may be, YWSF to make interest payments due on the Bonds or, as the case may be, the YWSF Bonds); or (b) certain other payments ranking in priority to or pari passu with the Bonds (excluding any principal repayments)). Subject to the terms of the STID and the Common Terms Agreement, the DSR Liquidity Facility Agreement is and any further DSR Liquidity Facilities entered into shall be (as applicable) on such commercial terms as the Issuer or, as the case may be, YWSF or YWS have agreed or may agree (as applicable) with the relevant liquidity facility provider in terms of tenor and pricing subject always to meeting minimum Rating Agency criteria.

O&M Reserve Facilities

YWS shall at all times maintain an O&M Reserve Facility to be provided by the O&M Reserve Facility Providers available for drawing which, when aggregated with amounts (including the value of any Authorised Investments funded from amounts standing to the credit of the O&M Reserve Accounts of YWS) standing to the credit of the O&M Reserve Accounts, amount to not less than the O&M Reserve Required Amount. YWS is the borrower under the O&M

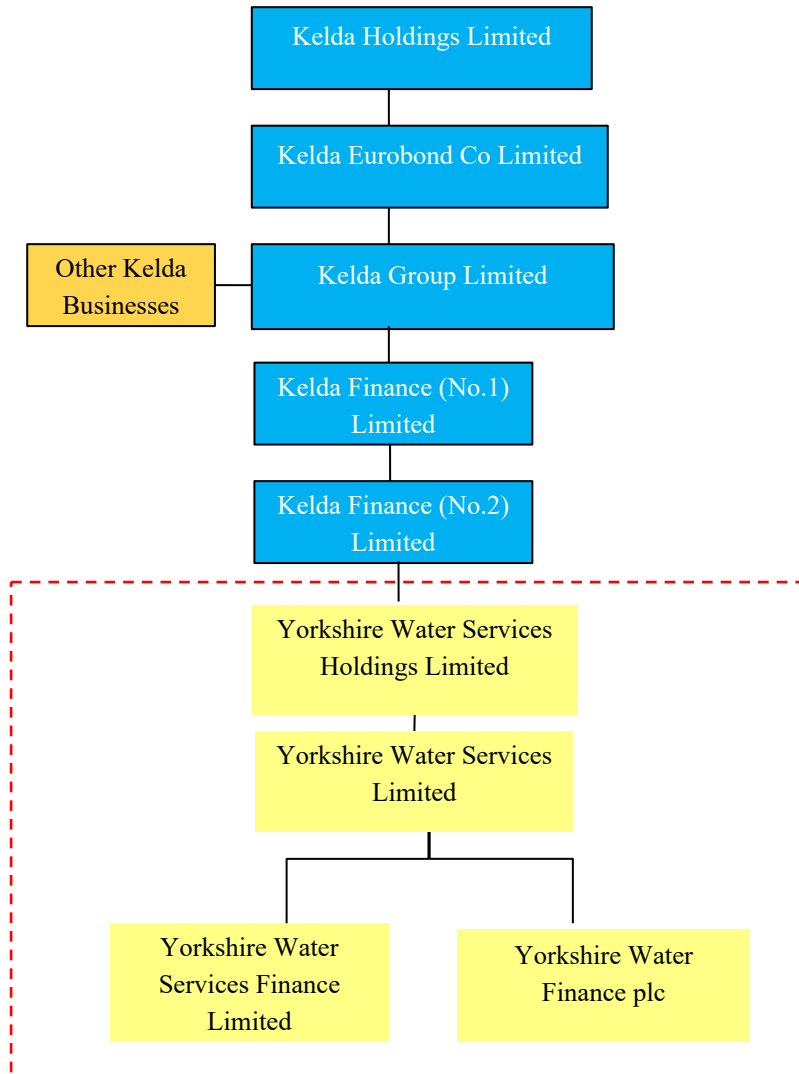

Reserve Facility Agreement originally dated 7 April 2011, as amended and restated on 23 September 2011, and as further amended and restated on 26 September 2012 (as may be further amended, supplemented or restated from time to time) which was renewed on 22 March 2024 for a 364 day term (the “O&M Reserve Facility Agreement”)

Each such Investors' Report will be made available by YWS and the Issuer on YWS's website.

CHAPTER 3

OWNERSHIP STRUCTURE

PROGRAMME STRUCTURE

- The Issuer may under the Programme issue Class A Unwrapped Bonds and Class B Unwrapped Bonds.
- YWS may borrow money from Authorised Credit Providers under Authorised Credit Facilities to repay or refinance the YW Financing Group's Financial Indebtedness and for general corporate purposes.
- The Issuer will on-lend the proceeds of each Series of Bonds issued on or after the date of this Prospectus to YWS pursuant to an Issuer/YWS Loan Agreement.
- In certain circumstances, YWS, the Issuer and YWSF may also borrow money from DSR Liquidity Facility Providers or claim under the DSR Liquidity Facilities or any further DSR Liquidity Facilities to service certain shortfalls in meeting payments in respect of the YW Financing Group's indebtedness. Where applicable, the Issuer and YWSF will on-lend any drawings or guaranteed claim amounts under a DSR Liquidity Facility to YWS under an Issuer/YWS Loan Agreement or a YWSF/YWS Loan Agreement, respectively.
- In certain circumstances, YWS may additionally borrow money from O&M Reserve Facility Providers under the O&M Reserve Facility or any further O&M Reserve Facilities for funding YWS's operating and maintenance expenditure and from Authorised Credit Providers under Authorised Credit Facilities for funding the working capital and Capital Expenditure requirements of YWS.
- Prior to the Closing Date, YWSF had issued each Class of YWSF Bonds which, upon issue, were unsecured obligations of YWSF guaranteed by YWS. The Initial YWSF/YWS Loan Agreement documents the terms of each advance that had previously been made by YWSF to YWS prior to the Closing Date in respect of the proceeds of each Class of YWSF Bonds issued.
- On the Closing Date, YWSF completed a consent solicitation process in respect of one Class of YWSF Bonds. As a result of the consent solicitation process, the terms and conditions of such Class of YWSF Bonds were amended on the Closing Date and the bond trustee in respect of such Class of YWSF Bonds entered into the Common Terms Agreement, STID and Master Definitions Agreement in respect of such Class in order to take the benefit of and to be bound by the Security and the common covenant, trigger event, event of default and intercreditor terms applicable to the Programme on behalf of the holders of such YWSF Bonds. As a result, such YWSF Bonds became Participating YWSF Bonds and the bond trustee became the Participating YWSF Bond Trustee in respect thereof.

- In addition to the consent solicitation process described above, on the Closing Date, YWSF also completed an exchange offer in respect of certain other Classes of YWSF Bonds pursuant to which the holders of such Classes of YWSF Bonds were offered new Class A Unwrapped Bonds which were issued by Yorkshire Water Services Odsal Finance Limited under the Programme on the Closing Date in exchange for delivering their existing YWSF Bonds to Yorkshire Water Services Odsal Finance Limited (the “Exchange Offer”). Pursuant to the 2018 Reorganisation, the Exchanged YWSF Bonds were transferred to YWSF and cancelled.
- As part of the Exchange Offer, certain holders of the YWSF Bonds did not accept the offer to exchange such YWSF Bonds for new Class A Unwrapped Bonds issued by Yorkshire Water Services Odsal Finance Limited as a result of which certain holders of the YWSF Bonds retained their YWSF Bonds. In each such case, from and including the Closing Date, such YWSF Bonds became Non-Participating YWSF Bonds, which benefit from the Shared Security (see Chapter 7 “Overview of the Financing Agreements - Security Agreement”) and which rank in point of payment and security pari passu with the Class A Bonds issued by the Issuer under the Programme. The bond trustee in respect of each Class of Non-Participating YWSF Bonds is referred to as the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Trustee.
- The Class A Unwrapped Bonds originally issued by the Yorkshire Water Services Bradford Finance Limited and Yorkshire Water Services Odsal Finance Limited (and in each case, which are now obligations of the Issuer) as at the date of this Prospectus constitute, and the Class A Unwrapped Bonds and the Class A Wrapped Bonds issued by the Issuer from time to time will constitute, Class A Debt for the purposes of the STID. The Participating YWSF Bonds issued by YWSF will also constitute Class A Debt for the purposes of the STID. The Non-Participating YWSF Bonds do not constitute Class A Debt, however the Non-Participating YWSF Bonds do benefit from the Shared Security.
- Where applicable, each of YWS, YWSF, and/or the Issuer are required to hedge their respective interest rate and currency exposure under the Senior Debt by entering into interest and currency swap agreements and other hedging arrangements with Hedge Counterparties in accordance with the Hedging Policy. The economic effect of any hedging entered into by the Issuer will be passed on to YWS through the relevant Issuer/YWS Loan Agreement and the economic effect of any hedging entered into by YWSF will be passed on to YWS through the relevant YWSF/YWS Loan Agreement.
- The Issuer’s obligation to repay principal and interest on the Bonds (both those issued previously and any future issuance) will be backed by the same asset (i.e. the Issuer/YWS Loan Agreements). Payments made by YWS under the Issuer/YWS Loan Agreements enable the Issuer to make payments due on the Bonds issued by the Issuer. Each Issuer/YWS Loan Agreement provides for payments to become due from YWS to the Issuer on dates and in amounts that match the obligations of the Issuer in respect of Bonds issued by the Issuer (and any DSR Liquidity Facility entered into by the Issuer) plus a certain profit margin.
- Payments made by YWS under the Initial YWSF/YWS Loan Agreement will enable YWSF to make payments due on the Participating YWSF Bonds and the Non-Participating YWSF

Bonds. The Initial YWSF/YWS Loan Agreement provides for payments to become due from YWS to YWSF on dates and in amounts that match the obligations of YWSF in respect of the Participating YWSF Bonds and the Non-Participating YWSF Bonds (and any DSR Liquidity Facility entered into by YWSF).

- The Issuer and/or YWSF may withdraw sums standing to the credit of the Debt Service Reserve Accounts and/or claim or draw under any DSR Liquidity Facility to on-lend to YWS to enable YWS to meet any shortfall in the amounts available to YWS on any Payment Date to pay: (a) scheduled interest or certain other payments in respect of Senior Debt (including payments due to be made by YWS under the Issuer/YWS Loan Agreements, the Issuer/YWS Bond Loan Agreements and the YWSF/YWS Loan Agreements, to enable the Issuer or, as the case may be, YWSF to make interest payments due on the Bonds or, as the case may be, the Participating YWSF Bonds); or (b) certain other payments ranking in priority to or pari passu with the Bonds (excluding any principal repayments)). YWSF may withdraw sums standing to the credit of the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Reserve Account and/or claim or draw under any DSR Liquidity Facility available in respect of the Non-Participating YWSF Bonds (other than the Exchanged YWSF Bonds) to on-lend to YWS to enable YWS to meet any shortfall in amounts available to YWS or YWSF to pay scheduled interest and/or principal in respect of any Non-Participating YWSF Bonds (other than the Exchanged YWSF Bonds).
- The respective obligations of YWS, YWSF, and the Issuer to each of their Secured Creditors are guaranteed by each other in favour of the Security Trustee pursuant to the Security Agreement. YWH in turn guarantees in favour of the Security Trustee the respective obligations of YWS, YWSF, and the Issuer.
- The obligations of each of YWS, YWSF, the Issuer and YWH are secured in favour of the Security Trustee under the terms of the Security Agreement.
- The guarantees and security granted by YWH and the Issuer are held by the Security Trustee for itself and on behalf of the Ring-fenced Secured Creditors and the guarantees and security granted by YWS and YWSF are held by the Security Trustee for itself and on behalf of the Shared Secured Creditors (which include the Non-Participating YWSF Bondholders and the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Trustee), in each case under the terms of the STID, which regulates the rights and claims of the Secured Creditors against the Obligors and the duties and discretions of the Security Trustee.

CHAPTER 4 RISK FACTORS

The following sets out certain aspects of the Programme documentation and the activities of the YW Financing Group about which prospective Bondholders should be aware. The events described below could have a material adverse impact on the business, financial condition or operational performance of the Issuer, YWS or the other Obligors or their ability to meet their obligations including meeting the financial ratios and covenants set out in the Common Terms Agreement and ultimately the payment of principal and interest under the Bonds. Loss of market value of the Bonds may also occur for these and other reasons. The Issuer believes that the factors described below represent the principal risks inherent in investing in Bonds issued under the Programme, but it may be unable to meet the financial ratios and covenants set out in the Common Terms Agreement, pay interest, principal or other amounts on or in connection with Bonds for other reasons which may not be considered significant risks by the Issuer based on information currently available to it or which it may not currently be able to anticipate and the Issuer does not represent that the statements below regarding the risks of holding any Bonds are exhaustive.

Prospective Bondholders should note that the risks described below are not the only risks that the Issuer, YWS or the other Obligors face. The Issuer, YWS or the other Obligors have described only those risks relating to their operations and the Bonds that they consider to be material. There may be additional risks that the Issuer, YWS or the other Obligors currently consider not to be material or of which they are not currently aware, and any of these risks could have the effects set forth above. Prospective Bondholders should read the detailed information set out elsewhere in this document prior to making any investment decision. Bondholders may lose the value of their entire investment or part of it in certain circumstances.

In addition, while the various structural elements described in this document are intended to lessen some of these risks for holders of the Bonds, there can be no assurance that these measures will ensure that the holders of the Bonds of any Sub-Class receive payment of interest or repayment of principal from the Issuer in respect of such Bonds, or from a Financial Guarantor in respect of the Class A Wrapped Bonds or Class B Wrapped Bonds issued by the Issuer, on a timely basis or at all.

Words and expressions defined in the “Terms and Conditions of the Bonds” below or elsewhere in this Prospectus have the same meanings in this section.

Strategic Risks

Damage to corporate reputation or brand perception

YWS's brand and reputation are important assets. YWS must actively manage its reputation, and that of its senior management and its executive directors, with various stakeholders. Such stakeholders include customers, investors, principal regulators, suppliers, contractors, consumer and community representatives, employees, the media, governments and government agencies, other political parties and regulatory and trade union bodies and other opinion formers (for example, activist groups). Any failure to operate professionally, fairly and with integrity, to act in the long term interest of customers, or the public perception that there has been such a failure or other real or perceived failures of governance, or legal or regulatory compliance could undermine public trust in YWS or its management.

Scrutiny regarding the performance and financial resilience of water and sewerage companies at both national and local levels, increases in living costs (including water and sewerage services), extreme weather events and political, regulatory and economic volatility have increased the level of media coverage of water and sewerage companies in general, for example, levels of concern about discharge of untreated sewage into rivers and at beaches (even in the cases where this is permitted and lawful) have resulted in considerable media and political attention and scrutiny of water companies at national and local levels. All of this may have had and may continue to have a negative impact on the public's perception of the water industry and companies within it. The increased use of social media has also allowed and is likely to continue to allow customers and consumer groups to engage, share views, and take part in direct action and other campaigns more readily than before, including the possibility of class actions (see Risk Factors – Litigation). Any failure to retain the trust of YWS's customers could lead to campaigns for corporate and regulatory change.

These reputational risks could lead to increased governmental, political and/or regulatory intervention (for example, the EA and Ofwat investigations launched in November 2021 (the same Ofwat investigation proceeded to a subsequent notice served by Ofwat under Section 203 of the WIA in March 2022 (as further described below in the Risk Factor "Environmental regulatory and statutory obligations")) or further investigations by Ofwat and/or DEFRA, rigorous enforcement of current legislation and regulation and the enactment of new, more stringent, regulation and legislation). In response to increasing concerns of customers and other stakeholders, Ofwat will be introducing (as part of PR24) common performance commitments for serious pollution incidents and discharge permit compliance performance commitments with the expectation that all water companies will comply by 2030. Such scenarios could adversely affect the process and outcome of Periodic Reviews including the upcoming PR24, harm regulatory relationships and increase costs and capital expenditure requirements.

Should these risks materialise, they could affect YWS's business, results of operations and overall financial condition, its ability to meet financial ratio and covenant requirements under the Common Terms Agreement (which may result in the occurrence of a Trigger Event or, ultimately, an Event of Default) and its ability to raise finance, and to comply with its obligations under the Programme including payment of principal and interest under the Issuer/YWS Loan Agreement, and consequently the Issuer's ability to meet its obligations under the Bonds issued under the Programme. For more information on financial ratios and covenant requirements please see Chapter 7 "Overview of the Financing Agreements – Common Terms Agreement – Covenants - Trigger Events – Events of Default".

Climate Change

Climate change is a significant risk to the long-term delivery of YWS's services, and such risk appears to be manifesting with increased frequency of extreme weather events (acute physical risks) and more gradual changes in temperature, rainfall, and sea level rise (chronic physical risks) (see also "Extreme Weather" under "Environmental Risks" below). These risks have potential to affect YWS's direct operations and those in its wider value chain. Assessing climate-related risks and opportunities is an important part of how YWS operates and plans for the future. YWS will need to be able to address these risks and opportunities and balance investment in adaptation and mitigation to ensure YWS continues to be resilient and avoid adverse impact to its operations.

The continued heightening of attention on climate change, including activities by non-governmental and political organisations as well as greater interest by the broader public, is likely to lead to additional regulations designed to tackle climate change. Policies and initiatives at national and international levels designed to achieve targeted outcomes in respect of climate change may affect business conditions and demand for services in the medium to long term. Customer response to climate change also presents risks to YWS due to growing customer demand for climate resilient and low carbon products and services. In addition, new regulatory regimes may adversely affect YWS's operations if YWS is unable to find economically viable and publicly acceptable solutions that reduce carbon dioxide emissions for new and existing projects or services and the appropriate financing for such projects.

As part of YWS's response to mitigate the causes of climate change, and to meet the performance commitments of the current AMP as set down by Ofwat, YWS has adopted three separate goals, being (i) reduce capital carbon emissions by 23% by 2025, (ii) aim to reduce operational carbon emissions by 12% by 2025 and (iii) aim to reduce operational carbon emissions to carbon neutral by 2030. YWS aims to achieve net zero emissions across all scopes of emissions by 2050 by working collaboratively with its value chain to reduce the carbon intensity of its business. This extends the previous 2030 commitment to operational carbon to these wider emissions in line with the requirement for net zero claims.

Plans are being developed to achieve these goals and these include reducing its use of grid electricity with up to 120MW generated by solar power and 40% of electricity will come from onsite renewables or private wire renewable sources. Carbon storage is another key aspect of the plan, storing up to 3.5ktCO_{2e} per year through woodland creation, restoring peatland and other initiatives. YWS is also transitioning vehicles to a green fleet with 18% of light commercial vans to be electric by 2025. As part of its PR24 planning process, YWS has put forward net zero enhancement investment plans to reduce methane and nitrous oxide emissions associated with wastewater treatment. These are both potent greenhouse gases, with global warming potential many times greater than carbon dioxide. The enhancement case also includes further investment renewable energy. In the longer term, YWS has set out additional investment related to reducing process emission, and scope 3 emissions associated with purchased goods and services and capital goods, in pursuit of its long term net zero goal.

As a highly regulated organisation, there is a risk that YWS is unable to deliver its services and fails to fulfil its purpose as a company or that it invests heavily to mitigate climate-related risks which could lead to increase in customer fees and customer debt. New regulatory regimes may adversely affect YWS's operations if YWS is unable to find economically viable, technologically deliverable as well as publicly, politically and regulatorily acceptable, solutions that avoid and/or reduce its CO₂ emissions for new and existing projects or services.

Energy accounts for a significant proportion of the cost of providing water services. Energy costs are forecast to rise in the short to medium-term due to a variety of factors, some of which are related to climate change mitigation and the move to renewable sources. The UK Government has committed to achieving its goal of becoming a net zero carbon emission country by 2050 and so energy transition costs will continue to be part of the cost of electricity. YWS may incur increased costs in the future due to increased electricity prices to account for carbon trading schemes and carbon prices applicable to electricity generators. Power outages may also increase in the future, causing operational challenges, delays and additional costs.

Measures to tackle loss of biodiversity and policies intended to protect local habitats may also limit access to water resources in areas deemed to be ecologically sensitive, which in turn could affect YWS's business. Failure to deliver the terms of any such policies or regulations on climate change, or indeed damage to the environment caused by YWS's business activities, could result in added reputational risk, legal proceedings, including prosecution and the imposition of fines and penalties or other measures being taken against YWS, which in turn could affect YWS's business, results of operations and overall financial condition, its ability to meet financial ratio and covenant requirements under the Common Terms Agreement (which may result in the occurrence of a Trigger Event or, ultimately, an Event of Default) and to raise finance, comply with its obligations under the licence and legislation and ultimately affect the payment of principal and interest under the Issuer/YWS Loan Agreement, and consequently the Issuer's ability to comply with its obligations under the Bonds. For more information, please see Chapter 6 "Regulation of the Water and Wastewater Industry in England and Wales" under "Climate Change". For more information on financial ratios and covenant requirements please see Chapter 7 "Overview of the Financing Agreements – Common Terms Agreement – Covenants – Trigger Events – Events of Default".

Uncertain Macroeconomic and Natural Environment

As at the date of this prospectus, YWS is exposed to significant uncertainty and volatility due to concurrent macroeconomic and natural factors including higher energy and chemical prices, inflation (including construction prices), increased labour costs, interest rates, currency exchange rates, increased borrowing costs and the possibility of extreme weather. The timing, volatility, unpredictability, and interaction of these factors alone and in combination creates uncertainty in forecasting and could lead to short or long term operational and financial cost pressures affecting YWS's business, results of operations and overall financial condition, its ability to meet financial ratio and covenant requirements under the Common Terms Agreement (which may result in the occurrence of a Trigger Event or, ultimately, an Event of Default) and to raise finance and comply with the Issuer's ability to meet its obligations under the Bonds issued under the Programme. For more information on financial ratios and covenant requirements please see Chapter 7 "Overview of the Financing Agreements – Common Terms Agreement – Covenants – Trigger Events – Events of Default".

Funding costs

In response to global inflationary pressures, central banks and other monetary authorities have begun raising interest rates and as a result, borrowing costs are generally rising for borrowers. If inflation stays at its current level or increases, interest rates may continue to rise or remain at persistently elevated levels.

Periods of high inflation can also give rise to timing mismatches between costs and revenues. Although YWS's revenues are linked to inflation, tariffs are not adjusted intra-year so revenue shortfalls may result until tariffs are increased the following year. Inevitable differences between the YWS cost base and the index make-up also mean that the adjustment may not simply be delayed but it may not correctly reflect YWS's increasing costs. Political pressures to maintain existing tariffs and provide other forms of customer support, may also arise (see also "Inflationary consequences" under "Financing Risks").

In the ordinary course of running its business, YWS requires regular access to both public and private debt markets in order to access funding required to maintain and invest in its business. Although the majority of YWS's existing borrowing is fixed rate (or effectively fixed rate), as new debt is required to be incurred or existing debt is required to be refinanced, YWS will be required to borrow money at market (and therefore increased) interest rates. The associated cost pressures (alone or in combination with other cost pressures) could have a material adverse impact on YWS and, consequently, on the Issuer's ability to meet its obligations (including in respect of financial ratios and the payment of principal and interest) under the Bonds.

Financial covenants

Under the Common Terms Agreement, YWS is subject to financial ratio tests which test historical and forecast periods.

The last published levels of these financial ratios (as taken from the Compliance Certificate dated 24 July 2024 in respect of the calculation date of 31 March 2024) as against the Trigger Event thresholds are set out below (see "Financing Risks" - "Interest Cover Ratio and Leverage"):

	31 March 2024	31 March 2025	Trigger (min)
Re-profiled Class A Adjusted ICR	1.53x	1.44x	1.3x
Re-profiled Senior Adjusted ICR	1.35x	1.31x	1.1x

Re-profiled Senior Average Adjusted ICR	1.36x	1.36x	1.2x

However, costs (including interest rates, energy costs, chemical costs and inflation) relating to macro-economic and geo-political factors, natural environment factors (including extreme weather events and customer payment behaviour (especially in the context of the cost-of-living crisis) can have a significant effect on the results of these ratios and, in respect of forecast periods, YWS must make projections in respect of these factors which require subjective determinations and forecasts. See also “Operational Risks – Increased operating expenditure and impact on financial ratios” and “Energy and Chemical” markets below. YWS management continue to prudently manage and monitor operating expenditure and their impact on financial ratios.

Exceptional expenditure (for example (but not limited to) extreme weather events) has, under the provisions of the Common Terms Agreement, historically been disregarded for the purposes of calculating interest cover ratios. Changing accounting standards and guidance may, depending on the nature of such exceptional expenditure, affect whether such expenditure can then be shown as an exceptional item in the financial statements of YWS or need to be disclosed in full in other sections of the annual report and financial statements.

In addition, while there is no expectation that YWS will not receive timely repayments referred to in the structured repayment plan (described in “Breach of Instrument of Appointment Conditions” below and Chapter 5 “Description of the YW Financing Group”, “Regulatory developments”), depending on other circumstances at the time if such scenario should arise there could be an adverse effect on YWS’s business, and overall financial condition, its ability to meet financial ratio and covenant requirements under the Common Terms Agreement and ultimately affect the payment of principal and interest under the Issuer/YWS Loan Agreement, and consequently the Issuer’s ability to meet its obligations under the Bonds issued under the Programme. For more information on financial ratios and covenant requirements please see Chapter 7 “Overview of the Financing Agreements – Common Terms Agreement – Covenants – Trigger Events – Events of Default”.

YWS is required to include in each Investor Report supplied with each Compliance Certificate such information (financial, accounting and regulatory) as in its reasonable opinion will allow investors to relate the relevant financial covenant calculations to the most recent financial determination and the financial statements supplied with it (including any regulatory depreciation, pay-as-you-go rate/percentage, totex or RCV information and any opex, capex or other accounting information).

Under the Common Terms Agreement various additional protections for Secured Creditors come into effect following the occurrence of a Trigger Event. Such protections include restrictions on YWS making payments (including dividends) to Associates, certain restrictions on raising newly committed incremental indebtedness and increased reporting and information requirements. See also Chapter 7 “Overview of the Financing Agreements – Common Terms Agreement – Covenants – Financial Covenants”.

A Trigger Event is not an Event of Default, does not lead to a Standstill Period and gives no right to Secured Creditors to take enforcement action or accelerate any Financial Indebtedness, nor would a Trigger Event restrict payments under the Issuer/YWS Loan Agreement.

The occurrence of a Trigger Event is unprecedented for YWS, and not common for YWS’ peers with similar financing structure, and therefore it is uncertain what the effects beyond the direct protective consequences for Secured Creditors set out in the Common Terms Agreement would be should a Trigger Event occur. The occurrence of a Trigger Event may, for example, lead to increased regulatory and/or political pressure on YWS, affect the perception of YWS in the credit-markets, the value of Bonds and/or the credit rating assigned to Bonds.

The occurrence of a Trigger Event (or Event of Default) could also have an adverse effect on YWS's business, reputation, results of operations and overall financial condition, its ability to meet financial ratio and covenant requirements under the Common Terms Agreement (which may ultimately result in the occurrence of an Event of Default)) and to raise finance effectively and efficiently, comply with its obligations under the licence and legislation and ultimately affect the payment of principal and interest under the Issuer/YWS Loan Agreement, and consequently the Issuer's ability to meet its obligations under the Bonds issued under the Programme. For more information on financial ratios and covenant requirements please see Chapter 7 "Overview of the Financing Agreements – Common Terms Agreement – Covenants – Trigger Events – Events of Default".

Thames Water and the UK Water Sector

On 5 April 2024, Thames Water Utilities Limited's ("Thames Water") indirect parent company, Kemble Water Finance Limited (rated 'RD' by Fitch), announced that it had sent formal notices of default to the holders of its debt instruments and to the respective agents under its banking facilities. In addition, on the same date Thames Water (Kemble) Finance Plc (rated 'C' by Moody's) sent formal notice of default to the note trustee in respect of its £400,000,000 4.625 per cent. Senior Secured Notes due 2026. There has been significant press speculation surrounding Thames Water's financial position since June 2023 when Thames Water's CEO Sarah Bentley resigned. In March 2024, Thames Water and its ultimate equity shareholders announced that they viewed the regulatory arrangements that are expected to apply to Thames Water in AMP8 make the business plan submitted by Thames Water for PR24 "uninvestible".

There continues to be on-going press speculation that Thames Water may be subject to a special administration order or a debt restructuring plan. The special administration regime has not previously been used for a UK water company, and its application or speculation as to its application could lead to a temporary and/or permanent decrease in investor confidence for companies in the UK water sector, particularly those with higher levels of gearing.

These factors could result in a reduced ability for YWS or the Issuer to raise new capital to refinance existing indebtedness or to finance YWS's business plan. These factors could also result in a higher cost of funding for any capital raised by YWS or the Issuer.

This could negatively impact YWS's business, overall financial condition, its ability to meet financial ratio and covenant requirements under the Common Terms Agreement and to raise finance, comply with its obligations under the Instrument of Appointment and legislation. This could affect the Issuer's and YWS's ability to make timely payment of principal and interest under the Bonds.

For more information on financial ratios and covenant requirements please see Chapter 7 "Overview of the Financing Agreements – Common Terms Agreement – Covenants – Trigger Events – Events of Default".

Regulatory and Competition Risks

Regulated Business

The water industry is subject to extensive legal and regulatory controls with which YWS must comply. The application of the laws, regulations, standards and policies published by Ofwat, by the Department for Environment, Food and Rural Affairs ("DEFRA"), England and Wales Drinking Water Inspectorate ("DWI"), the Environment Agency ("EA"), the Health and Safety Executive ("HSE"), Natural England and other regulators (as well as any future changes to any of these laws, regulations standards and policies), could have a material adverse impact on the business, financial condition or operational performance of YWS, which in turn could have a material adverse effect on YWS's and the Issuer's ability to comply with its financial obligations (including the payment of principal and interest) under the Bonds.

In this context potential investors should be aware of the following:

PR24

YWS operates within an economic regulatory framework whereby Ofwat sets price controls on the revenues that YWS can raise and, together with the DWI and EA (each sponsored by DEFRA), monitors and enforces compliance with YWS's licence, service and environmental obligations. For more information on the regulatory framework please see Chapter 6 "Regulation of the Water and Wastewater Industry in England and Wales – Water and Wastewater Regulation Generally".

The next set of price controls will be for the period starting in 2025 ("PR24"). On 13 December 2022, Ofwat published its final methodology for PR24 that sets the framework it will use for the next price control period of 2025 to 2030 (the "PR24 Final Methodology"). The PR24 Final Methodology emphasises that the water sector faces significant challenges, including that significantly better outcomes for the environment are required. On 8 December 2022, DEFRA published legally binding targets to protect the environment pursuant to the Environment Act 2021. These targets include cutting water pollution and are the latest of a series of environment measures reflecting increasing social and political concern about the environment.

On 11 July 2024, Ofwat published its draft determinations (the "DD") for PR24. Ofwat assessed the quality and ambition of YWS's original plan submission as 'Standard' and YWS will receive a financial reward equivalent to a 0.05% return on regulated equity. In the DD, Ofwat proposed operating and capital costs for YWS at 11% below the levels proposed by the company in its October 2023 business plan submission. Specific examples of cost challenges for YWS include Enhancement, including Storm Overflow expenditure. On 28 August 2024, YWS published its representations to Ofwat on the DD. Amongst other things, the representations included statements that the board of YWS was unable to provide the requested assurance to Ofwat that YWS would be financially resilient for 2025-30 and beyond based on Ofwat's DD and that it considers that significant changes to the DD are required before the UK water sector could be considered investible. The board of YWS considers that YWS would be financially resilient for 2025-30 and beyond on the basis that its represented changes are accepted by Ofwat (see further details in Chapter 6 – "Regulation of the Water and Wastewater Industry in England and Wales – PR24 Draft Determination" below).

In order for YWS to continue to deliver its services in compliance with existing and future environmental measures, targets, legislation and regulation, YWS may need to access further funding (see "Financing Risks" – "Future Financing"). Access to further funding is dependent on the regulatory process including the PR24 draft and Final Determination and, in turn, future price reviews.

If YWS is not able to finance expenditure and investment programmes (whether through insufficient revenues and/or the linked ability to raise capital) and/or YWS's represented changes are not accepted by Ofwat in its final determination, which is due to be published in December 2024, YWS may face challenges in meeting its compliance obligations over successive AMPs and is therefore likely to incur reputational damage, economic penalties and/or fines which would of themselves further adversely affect YWS's ability to raise the revenue and capital required to meet its compliance obligations. This could in turn lead to enforcement action being taken against YWS. (see Chapter 6 – "Regulation of the Water and Wastewater Industry in England and Wales – Enforcement Powers") which could in turn affect YWS's ability to make payments of principal and interest under the Issuer/YWS Loan Agreement, and consequently the Issuer's ability to meet its obligations under the Bonds issued under the Programme.

Instrument of Appointment

As further described in Chapter 6 “Regulation of the Water and Wastewater Industry in England and Wales” under “Instrument of Appointment”, YWS operates in accordance with its Instrument of Appointment. In November 2021, the Environment Act 2021 received royal assent which has introduced new provisions into the WIA which give Ofwat the power to modify a licence without the consent of the Regulated Company, subject to consultation and a right of veto on the part of the Secretary of State. There is, however, a process that must be followed before such a situation occurs, including that Ofwat or the Secretary of State (as applicable) must consider any representations or objections made by the existing Regulated Company and other consultees. For example, please see Risk Factor “Impact of Ofwat adopting tighter regulatory measures to achieve financial resilience”.

In addition, Ofwat has introduced a new principles-based licence condition (Condition G effective from February 2024), which provides a clear regulatory basis for the requirement for companies to treat customers fairly, including by providing support to customers in vulnerable circumstances.

The UK Secretary of State has a power to veto modifications proposed by Ofwat, within a specific timeframe. Should a modification to the licence be made, YWS is entitled to seek permission within a specified timeframe and if granted, to appeal the modification to the Competition and Markets Authority (“CMA”).

In determining whether any matter operates or may be expected to operate against the public interest, the CMA is to have regard to the matters in relation to which duties are imposed on the Secretary of State and Ofwat. Modifications could also result from a decision on a merger or market investigation reference by the CMA under the Enterprise Act if it concludes that matters under investigation in relation to water or sewage services were anti-competitive or, in certain circumstances, against the public interest. In addition, the Secretary of State has a power to veto certain proposed modifications agreed by Ofwat and YWS. Other proposed modifications agreed by Ofwat and YWS may be vetoed if it appears to the Secretary of State that the modifications should only be made, if at all, after a reference to the CMA. Primary legislation can create powers for the making of modifications by Ofwat without the consent of Regulated Companies. Section 55 of the Water Act 2014 provides for modification of a licence where necessary and expedient as a consequence of a provision made by or under Part 1 of the Water Act 2014.

Any modification to the conditions of the Instrument of Appointment could have a material adverse impact on the business, financial condition or operational performance of YWS and, consequently, on the Issuer’s ability to meet its obligations (including the payment of principal and interest) under the Bonds. For more information please see Chapter 6 “Regulations of the Water and Wastewater Industry in England and Wales” under “Competition in the Water Industry”.

Breach of Instrument of Appointment Conditions

As described in Chapter 6 “Regulation of the Water and Wastewater Industry in England and Wales” under “Enforcement Powers”, a failure by YWS to comply with the Instrument of Appointment Conditions or certain statutory duties, may result in an Enforcement Order by Ofwat, or the Secretary of State, or the imposition of financial penalties of up to 10 per cent. (for each respective breach) of its annual turnover, which could have a material adverse impact on YWS.

Failure by YWS to comply with any Enforcement Order (as well as certain other defaults) could eventually lead to the making of a Special Administration Order (see Chapter 6 “Regulation of the Water and Wastewater Industry in England and Wales” under “Instrument of Appointment”) which could also have an adverse impact on YWS. Any breach to the conditions of the Instrument of Appointment could have a material adverse impact on the business, financial condition or operational performance of YWS and, consequently, on the Issuer’s ability to meet its obligations (including the payment of principal and interest) under the Bonds.

On 13 October 2022 Ofwat announced that it had closed an enforcement case into YWS after it agreed a structured plan with YWS (see Chapter 5 “Description of the YW Financing Group”, “Regulatory developments”). Ofwat made this decision on the basis that it is in the interests of customers for the loans’ repayment plan to have greater certainty, and that the package of commitments put forward by YWS will improve its available financial resources. Ofwat opened the case due to concerns about the novation of the loans that YWS had originally made with Ofwat consent to other companies within its wider company grouping. No Trigger Event occurred under the Common Terms Agreement as a result of this enforcement case.

During the investigation, YWS took steps to address Ofwat’s concerns about these loans. Ofwat has stated that the structured repayment plan and additional commitments YWS put forward have both addressed these concerns and secured additional benefits for customers. YWS has provided these commitments as Section 19 Undertakings. The relevant Section 19 Undertakings include: (i) requesting that the loans be repaid to YWS on a staged basis of at least £300 million due to be paid by the end of June 2023, £200 million due to be paid by the end of March 2025 and with the remaining balance of approximately £440 million due to be paid by the end of March 2027; (ii) subject to external factors beyond YWS’s control and beyond the existing regulatory expectation that all water companies should manage their financial resilience to ensure that they withstand economic and cost shocks (excluding any agreed early start investment for AMP8 and any accelerated investment in AMP7), that YWS should achieve a gearing level on a regulatory basis of no higher than 72% by 1 April 2025 and (iii) YWS investing an additional £180m into the infrastructure to enable it to meet its target of exceeding the commitment made in the Government’s Storm Overflows Reduction Plan to reduce the average number of discharges from storm overflows by 20% from a 2021 baseline. YWS received an initial instalment of £400 million by the end of June 2023, in excess of the £300 million instalment agreed with Ofwat. Subsequently, YWS received a second instalment of £100 million during May 2024. In combination, the initial and second instalments received total £500 million and satisfy the undertakings to repay at least £300 million by the end of June 2023 and £200 million by the end of March 2025. While there is no expectation that YWS will not receive the other timely repayments mentioned above, if such scenario should arise, depending on other circumstances at the time there could be a material adverse impact on YWS and, consequently, on the Issuer’s ability to meet its obligations (including in respect of financial ratios and the payment of principal and interest) under the Bonds.

A breach of a Section 19 Undertaking could result in Ofwat making an Enforcement Order against YWS under Section 18 of the WIA (see above and Chapter 6 “Regulation of the Water and Wastewater Industry in England and Wales” under “Enforcement Powers”). Any non-compliance by YWS with any such Enforcement Order could also have a Material Adverse Effect resulting in the occurrence of a Trigger Event under the Common Terms Agreement, which may ultimately have an adverse impact on the Issuer’s ability to meet its obligations under the Bonds issued under the Programme (see Chapter 7 “Overview of the Financing Agreements” under “Trigger Event Consequences”).

Termination of the Instrument of Appointment

As described in Chapter 6 “Regulation of the Water and Wastewater Industry in England and Wales” under “Termination of an Instrument of Appointment”, there are certain circumstances under which YWS could cease to hold its Instrument of Appointment for all or part of its region.

Under section 9(4) of the WIA, if the Secretary of State or Ofwat were to make an appointment or variation replacing YWS as the regulated water and sewerage undertaker for its currently appointed area, they would have a duty to ensure (so far as consistent with their other duties under the WIA) that the interests of YWS’s creditors were not unfairly prejudiced by the terms on which the successor Regulated Company (or Companies) replacing YWS could accept transfers of property, rights and liabilities from YWS. There is, however, a process that must be followed before such a situation occurs, including that Ofwat or the Secretary of State (as applicable) must consider any representations or objections made by the existing Regulated Company and other consultees. Thus far there is no precedent to indicate how compulsory licence terminations or Special Administration Orders would work in practice for Regulated Companies, nor is there any precedent for such Regulated Companies to indicate the extent to which creditors' interests would be protected (see the paragraph on "Security" below).

The termination, non-renewal or transfer of the Instrument of Appointment could have a material adverse impact on YWS and, consequently, on the Issuer's ability to meet its obligations (including the payment of principal and interest) under the Bonds.

Periodic Review

The turnover, profitability and cashflow of the Appointed Business is substantially influenced by the price controls and by the service levels, regulatory targets and the associated incentives and penalties that are established by Ofwat in its Periodic Review, and subsequently by Ofwat's assessment of delivery against those factors.

There are now separate water resources, water network and wastewater networks price limits which are linked to CPIH plus or minus K (in line with current methodology). There are also separate bioresources and retail household price limits and these are linked to mechanisms which calculate the average revenue controls each year. The bioresources control is linked to a metric known as tonnes of dry solids produced and retail household is linked to the number of customers in the year. Within PR24 Ofwat is continuing to assess the efficiency of bioresources and wastewater projects separately and in isolation. Ofwat will separate developer services costs and revenues (for water and wastewater new connections activities) from the wholesale price controls.

Ofwat has a duty to exercise and perform its powers and duties in the manner it considers is best calculated to secure that companies holding an instrument of appointment are able (in particular, by securing reasonable returns as capital) to finance the proper execution of their functions. An adverse price determination, (which would adversely affect turnover, profitability and cashflow), may occur as a result of a number of factors. These include an inadequate allowed cost of capital or regulatory assumptions concerning operating expenditure and required capital expenditure and insufficiently accurate turnover forecasts. In addition, unforeseen financial obligations or costs may arise after a Periodic Review (for example, as a result of ensuring regulatory compliance or changes to legislation or regulatory requirements) that were not taken into account by Ofwat in setting price limits and are consequently not compensated for, which could materially adversely affect financial performance.

If a Periodic Review was determined adversely, this could have a material adverse impact on YWS's business, results of operations and overall financial condition, as well as its ability to meet financial ratio and covenant requirements under the Common Terms Agreement (which may result in the occurrence of a Trigger Event or, ultimately, an Event of Default) and to raise finance, comply with its obligations under the licence and legislation and may ultimately affect the payment of principal and interest under the Issuer/YWS Loan Agreements. Any such adverse determination may consequently affect the Issuer's ability to meet its obligations (including the payment of principal and interest) under the Bonds. A detailed description of the process under which Ofwat determines price limits for YWS is described in Chapter 6 "Regulation of the Water and Wastewater Industry in England and Wales" under "Economic Regulation". For more information on financial ratios and covenant requirements please see Chapter 7 "Overview of the Financing Agreements – Common Terms Agreement – Covenants – Trigger Events – Events of Default".

Interim Determinations

An interim determination of a price limit may be made between Periodic Reviews in specified circumstances including the circumstances contemplated by the Substantial Effects Clause in the licence. An interim determination could reduce the amount of revenue which YWS is able to charge to its customers, and could affect YWS's business, results of operations and overall financial condition, its ability to meet financial ratio and covenant requirements under the Common Terms Agreement (which may result in the occurrence of a Trigger Event or, ultimately, an Event of Default) and to raise finance, comply with its obligations under the licence and legislation and may ultimately affect the payment of principal and interest under the Issuer/YWS Loan Agreements, and consequently the Issuer's ability to meet its obligations under the Bonds. For more information please see Chapter 6 "Regulation of the Water and Wastewater Industry in England and Wales" under "Interim Determinations". For more information on financial ratios and covenant requirements please see Chapter 7 "Overview of the Financing Agreements – Common Terms Agreement – Covenants – Trigger Events – Events of Default".

Regulatory changes affecting RCV

RCV may be reduced or discontinued or the methodology for its calculation changed without modification of YWS's Instrument of Appointment. An amendment to Ofwat's reconciliation process, which could result in a lower RCV for YWS, is a risk which could adversely affect YWS's business and financial performance. This may impact the Issuer's ability to meet its obligations (including the payment of principal and interest) under the Bonds.

Changes in the specified inflation index

In its Water 2020 Paper, Ofwat stated that it intended to amend all water company licences, including YWS's Instrument of Appointment, so that wholesale revenues will be indexed by CPI (or CPIH) from 1 April 2020. As per the price review 2019 ("PR19") final methodology published in December 2017, Ofwat has linked revenues to CPIH from 1 April 2020. In addition, 50 per cent. of RCV as at 1 April 2020 is now being indexed by RPI and the remainder of the RCV as at that date, plus any new RCV added after that date is being indexed by CPIH. As part of the consultation on the PR24 Final Methodology, and consistent with previous guidance, Ofwat has confirmed its intent to fully transition to CPIH indexation at PR24. As with many peer companies, YWS has long-term liabilities under which payments are linked to RPI and therefore, where revenues cease to be linked to RPI, YWS will be exposed to basis mismatch in respect of these liabilities (albeit this may be mitigated in the future to some degree if RPI is modified in 2030). During September 2023, YWS executed £300 million of RPI to CPI swaps which will mature in 2030 to hedge the basis risk exposure created by RCV indexation. Exposure to fluctuations in inflation and between different indices in the future creates an element of unpredictability and basis mismatch that could have adverse consequences on YWS's business, results of operations and overall financial condition, and consequently on its ability to meet financial ratio and covenant requirements under the Common Terms Agreement (which may result in the occurrence of a Trigger Event or, ultimately, an Event of Default), its ability to raise finance, and comply with its obligations under the licence and legislation and ultimately have an adverse impact on the Issuer's ability to meet its obligations under the Bonds issued under the Programme. For more information on financial ratios and covenant requirements please see Chapter 7 "Overview of the Financing Agreements – Common Terms Agreement – Covenants – Trigger Events – Events of Default".

The national and international economic uncertainties may put pressure on YWS's input costs, and energy and other commodity costs may rise at rates above RPI or other indices used to determine future RCV and revenues.

Environmental regulatory and statutory obligations

YWS's water supply and sewerage operations are subject to a number of UK environmental laws and regulations relating to the protection of the environment and human health and it is possible that YWS and other Regulated Companies will incur significant costs in complying with existing and future laws and regulations.

Ofwat oversees compliance with wider environmental obligations contained in Section 94 of the Water Industry Act 1991, the Urban Waste Water Treatment Regulations 1994 (the "UWWTR") and YWS's licence at Condition P12, whilst the EA monitors compliance primarily against the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2016. Any breach of this legislation (including failure to deal with the effects of contamination and/or upgrade plant and equipment, or a breach of an environmental permit granted by the EA) or water quality standards could result in potential enforcement action, financial penalties, formal undertakings to Ofwat as result of Ofwat's actions and/or prosecution and potentially substantial fines from court proceedings brought by the EA. In general, environmental legislation imposes strict obligations on those who manage waste with few defences for non-compliance. In particular, there is no statutory defence where a discharge or pollution event has occurred in relation to some offences.

As described in Chapter 6 "Regulation of the Water and Wastewater Industry in England and Wales" under "Environmental Regulation", both the EA and Ofwat have the ability to impose financial penalties on water companies for any breach of legislation. In addition, following the implementation of the sentencing council guidelines for environmental offences in July 2014, the courts have the power to impose fines significantly in excess of £1 million per incident in cases involving the highest levels of culpability. Any financial penalties imposed on YWS for breach of environmental legislation could have a significant impact on its financial condition and/or the interests of the Bondholders.

In July 2024, the Supreme Court handed down its judgment in The Manchester Ship Canal Company Ltd (Appellant) v United Utilities Water Ltd (Respondent) No 2 [2024] UKSC 22, finding that the Water Industry Act 1991 does not prevent the Appellant canal company from bringing a claim in nuisance or trespass when the canal is polluted by discharges of foul water from the outfalls of the Respondent (United Utilities), even if there has been no negligence or deliberate misconduct on the Respondent's part. YWS was not involved in these proceedings and it remains to be seen whether this judgment will result in increased numbers of claims against water companies or impact the regulatory system they are subject to.

The Office for Environmental Protection (the "OEP") and the UK Government continue to scrutinise environment and water regulators in England and Ofwat more generally. On 12 September 2023, the OEP announced that, as a result of information gathered during its investigation, it believes there may have been failures to comply with environmental laws by Ofwat, the EA and DEFRA. Similarly, in 2023, the House of Lords Industry and Regulators Committee published a report on its inquiry into the work of Ofwat. Its key findings included that Ofwat and the EA must go further to hold water companies accountable for environmental pollution through penalties and prosecution and that water companies have been overly focused on maximising financial returns at the expense of the environment, operational performance and financial sustainability. Given that YWS is regulated by both the EA and Ofwat, there may be heightened financial risks for YWS if the EA and/or Ofwat adopt a stricter enforcement approach in light of the OEP's criticism.

There is also a heightened focus on compliance with regulation on storm overflows. As further described in Chapter 6 "Regulation of the Water and Wastewater Industry in England and Wales" under "Storm Overflows", the Environment Act 2021 introduced obligations on sewerage undertakers to report annual by 1 April on a range of data related storm overflows. The Environment Act 2021 also required the Secretary of State to prepare a plan to reduce such discharge and their adverse impacts, and report annually on its implementation. The plan, titled “Storm overflows discharge reduction plan” was published in August 2022 and updated in September 2023 and set out targets for water companies in relation to storm overflows. Ofwat similarly published measures in June 2023 penalising companies that do not fully monitor storm overflows. YWS may need to incur material capital expenditure in updating facilities to increase storm capacity and/or reduce the inflow to networks or treatment works, in order to improve future performance and/or as a result of the EA removing or limiting the ability to make discharges. There is a risk that such expenditure will not be covered by the Periodic Review process, and there can be no certainty as to how and whether future environmental laws and regulations will impact the business and financial condition of YWS and/or the interests of the Bondholders. It is possible that Ofwat may determine that the cost of fulfilling certain obligations is likely to be less than the cost forecast and subsequently incurred by YWS. In such circumstances, the funding allowed by Ofwat may not cover the actual costs with YWS bearing the additional element. In addition, the additional reporting requirements to which YWS is subject will increase costs in preparing and publishing the reports. Failure by YWS to meet the targets set out by Ofwat or in the Government’s plan for reduction of storm overflows could result in fines or a requirement for them to return money to their customers. See “Risk Factors” and in particular, “Risk Factors – Risks relating to the Issuer – Litigation – Impact of Ofwat adopting tighter regulatory measures to achieve financial resilience, Environmental regulatory and statutory obligations”.

In summary, it is possible that YWS and other Regulated Companies will incur material capital expenditure in the future to comply with requirements imposed under existing or future environmental laws and regulations (including nature conservation legislation). Furthermore, if any enforcement action is taken against YWS by the EA or Ofwat, this could materially and adversely affect YWS’s reputation and/or financial position and consequently, on the Issuer’s ability to meet its obligations (including the payment of principal and interest) under the Bonds.

Investigations

Companies operating at the size and scale of YWS are sometimes subject to various investigations, claims, disputes and potential litigation.

In November 2021, the EA and Ofwat announced separate investigations into sewage treatment works across all water companies in England and Wales in relation to the release of unpermitted sewage discharges into rivers and watercourses. However, in November 2021, Ofwat’s then acting Chief Executive published an open letter to all water and sewerage company CEOs regarding company compliance with environmental permits and made a number of requests for information which YWS complied with. The Ofwat letter stated that Ofwat would consider enforcement action for failure to comply with permit conditions and specifically mentioned the WIA 1991 drainage duties and the requirement under the licence to have sufficient financial and management resources, systems of planning and internal controls (including management oversight) to carry out regulated activities. In March 2022, Ofwat served a notice on YWS under section 203 WIA containing a number of questions regarding the operation of YWS’s sewage treatment sites. YWS responded to these questions in April 2022 and continues to be in discussion with Ofwat. Ofwat initially opened enforcement cases into six water companies noting that it will keep its enforcement cases “under review” and that the “companies in focus may change as new information comes to light”. On 12 December 2023, Ofwat confirmed in a press release that YWS, Thames Water and Northumbrian Water had received provisional findings in respect of their investigations but that no further comment would be made in respect of those provisional findings. YWS continues to cooperate with the investigation. A potential outcome as identified in Ofwat’s press release is an enforcement order and/or a financial penalty. On 16 July 2024, Ofwat announced the expansion of its investigation to four more water and wastewater companies and served formal notices on Dŵr Cymru Welsh Water, Hafren Dyfrdwy, Severn Trent and United Utilities, meaning that Ofwat now has investigations underway against all 11 water and wastewater companies in England and Wales in relation to the operation of their wastewater businesses.

On 6 August 2024, Ofwat published its draft penalty and enforcement notice (the “Ofwat Notice”) from its investigation into Yorkshire Water’s management of wastewater treatment works and wider sewer networks including the operation of storm overflows. The Ofwat Notice is now open to public consultation until 10 September 2024. As outlined in the Ofwat Notice, Ofwat have, subject to consultation responses, concluded that Yorkshire Water had contravened Regulation 4(4)(a) of the UWWTR by failing to ensure that its wastewater treatment works are designed, constructed, operated and maintained to ensure sufficient performance under all normal local climatic conditions, in addition to Regulation 4(2) and Schedule 2 of the UWWTR. Ofwat further found that YWS had contravened section 94 of the WIA as it had failed to provide a system of sewers and to cleanse and maintain those sewers so as to ensure that its catchment area is effectually drained and that it has not made proper provision for the emptying of those sewers by means of wastewater treatment works. Additionally, Ofwat concluded that YWS had failed to comply with Condition P of its Instrument of Appointment since at least 2017.

Consequently, Ofwat has proposed (i) issuing an enforcement order under section 18 of the WIA, requiring YWS to take particular steps to facilitate its compliance with UWWTR, section 94 of the WIA and Condition P of its Instrument of Appointment; and (ii) imposing a financial penalty under section 22A of the WIA equivalent to 7% (£47.15 million) of YWS’ relevant turnover from its wastewater business.

The EA investigation is continuing. YWS (along with all other water and sewerage companies) received a number of formal information requests from the EA to share data in relation to its wastewater treatment sites, sewage pumping stations and combined sewer overflows (“CSO”). These formal information requests were made under s108 Environment Act 1995, and the EA is carrying out a criminal investigation (which could lead to a fine or other actions being taken against YWS). As at the date of this Prospectus, YWS continues to cooperate with the EA’s information requests, however, the EA has not provided any further indication on timing or progress of the investigation. It may be several months, possibly a number of years, before there is an outcome. If the EA decides to take enforcement actions against YWS for any specific breaches, they could choose to bring prosecution proceedings where fines imposed by a criminal court are subject to sentencing council guidelines (which given the turnover of YWS, can be unlimited) or there may be a civil sanctions where a number of options are available to the EA.

In the financial year ended 31 March 2024, the EA has accepted various enforcement undertakings given to the EA by YWS following incidents in connection with its wastewater treatment works, including an enforcement undertaking totalling £1 million following an unauthorised sewage discharge from the Hookstone Road combined sewer overflow. YWS also completed a significant sewer network update in the area as part of the enforcement terms of the same undertaking.

The implementation of fines and penalties for environmental pollution offences, and the possibility of significant public, media and political scrutiny of YWS as a result of the investigations, could affect YWS’s business, results of operations and overall financial condition, its ability to meet financial ratio and covenant requirements under the Common Terms Agreement (which may result in the occurrence of a Trigger Event or, ultimately, an Event of Default) and to raise finance, comply with its obligations under both the licence and legislation. Such factors could in turn affect YWS’s ability to make payments of principal and interest under the Issuer/YWS Loan Agreement, and consequently the Issuer’s ability to meet its obligations under the Bonds issued under the Programme. For more information on financial ratios and covenant requirements please see Chapter 7 “Overview of the

Competition in the water industry

The Water Act 2014 extended retail competition for water and sewerage services to all eligible non-household customers in England from April 2017. The extent of competition in the sector is very largely determined by primary legislation, given effect by Ofwat through its regulation. On the basis of primary legislation, Ofwat has taken steps to implement the statutory provisions for competition in the water supply and sewerage industry via the Water Supply and Sewerage Licencing (the “WSSL”) regime. YWS does not operate as a retailer to the non-household sector, but provides wholesale services to retailers that hold WSSL licences. However, the household retail market was not highlighted as an area of focus for Ofwat’s competition activities under DEFRA’s Strategic Policy Statement published in February 2022.

Ofwat has also used regulatory policy and practice to introduce some competition into the water and wastewater value chain and the regulator has expectations that YWS as an incumbent water company will support and facilitate competition for the benefit of customers. This has included introducing the bid assessment framework for bioresources and establishing Direct Procurement for Customers (“DPC”), creating competition for new investments for large discrete new network investment projects. In this competitive model YWS would not own these assets but would collect the revenue enabling their costs to be recovered on behalf of the Competitively Appointed Provider (“CAP”) on a pass through basis.

Increased competitive activity and the introduction of new suppliers and new appointees (NAVs) within YWS’s water and sewerage regions could expose YWS to increased scrutiny. Consequently, this could increase the risk of Ofwat finding (following an investigation under the Competition Act 1998 or the WIA) that YWS has breached one of these requirements. This, in turn, could result in substantial fines, legal proceedings and/or have a negative impact on YWS’s operations and reputation (including loss of revenue) which in turn could affect its ability to make payments of principal and interest under the Issuer/YWS Loan Agreement, and consequently the Issuer’s ability to meet its obligations under the Bonds issued under the Programme.

Operational Risks

Increased operating expenditure and impact on financial ratios

At present, YWS continues to experience inflationary pressures on its operating expenditure and increased costs, in part due to the extended period of dry weather in 2022. Such costs will only be partly recovered from future customer bills in line with established regulatory mechanisms for Totex underperformance. In the past year, these pressures have included (i) increased energy consumption to manage water resources and maintain customer service as a result of prolonged dry weather and drought conditions, (ii) notably higher inflation resulting in increased costs that were not reflected when determining customer bills for the same period and (iii) abnormal price increases for energy and chemical costs due to geopolitical events. YWS’s management has provided updates in its annual report and bi-annual investor reports.

As at the date of this Prospectus, as part of the prudent management of the business, YWS’s management continue to evaluate the extent and manner in which operational expenditure may be managed tightly given these circumstances and which measures may feasibly be undertaken in order to reduce operating expenditure. YWS’s management expect that this cost management approach will be adaptable to demands faced by YWS over time. However, there can be no guarantee that YWS will be able to manage operating expenditure to a significant enough extent or within a timescale to meet its financial ratio and covenant requirements under the Common Terms Agreement (which may result in the occurrence of a Trigger Event or, ultimately, an Event of Default).

Under the Common Terms Agreement, YWS is subject to certain interest cover financial ratios which are calculated on the basis of Net Cash Flow as the numerator and interest cost or adjusted interest cost as the denominator. The calculation of Net Cash Flow for any given period varies depending on the operating expenditure incurred during that period, and therefore, where YWS experiences greater operating expenditure with no immediate recovery (either in full or in part) from customer bills then its Net Cash Flow (and the levels of interest cover under the financial ratios which YWS is subject to) may be reduced. It should also be noted that other factors beyond operating expenditure may impact the calculation of financial ratios. For more information on financial ratios and covenant requirements please see Chapter 7 “Overview of the Financing Agreements – Common Terms Agreement – Covenants – Financial Covenants”.

In calculating the financial ratios required to be calculated under the Common Terms Agreement, YWS management are required to use assumptions in projected financial ratio calculations which, among other things, are made in good faith, based on available information and genuinely represent a prudent view. Despite the best estimation and due diligence being undertaken by management, by their nature, projections used in financial ratio calculations (which may include schemes to reduce operating expenditure) may, in the fullness of time, turn out to vary to the actual outcomes confirmed for reporting purposes. Divergences between actual and projected ratio calculations may arise due to a number of different factors, including, but not limited to, macroeconomic factors, unforeseeable circumstances arising at a later date or inability for YWS to deliver against targets underpinning forecast assumptions.

Increased operating expenditure and difficulties in reducing such expenditure in a timely manner could affect YWS’s business, results of operations and overall financial condition, its ability to meet financial ratio and covenant requirements under the Common Terms Agreement (which may result in the occurrence of a Trigger Event or, ultimately, an Event of Default) and to raise finance, comply with its obligations under the licence and legislation and ultimately affect the Issuer’s ability to meet its obligations under the Bonds issued under the Programme. For more information on financial ratios and covenant requirements please see Chapter 7 “Overview of the Financing Agreements – Common Terms Agreement – Covenants – Trigger Events – Events of Default”.

Energy and Chemical markets

As at the date of this Prospectus, pricing in energy and chemical markets is materially elevated from recent historical levels and there is significant volatility in the energy market.

YWS’s energy hedging arrangements prioritise increased coverage for near term periods, reducing cover progressively across a rolling three-year period. YW is therefore more exposed to movements in energy prices in future years.

YWS is taking steps to secure long term sources of renewable energy, reduce the energy demands of the business and enter into alternative hedging mechanisms including power purchase agreements and physical hedges. More recently YWS has secured two long term corporate power purchase agreements with tenors of 10 and 15 years, providing cost certainty for 40% of hedged baseload through AMP7, AMP8, AMP9 and into AMP10. However, it should be noted that the proportion of energy requirements hedged by YWS will reduce over time and if such alternative mechanisms are not put in place, YWS would be further exposed to any adverse market movements in energy prices in AMP7 and beyond.

YWS is reliant upon the regular supply of key chemicals (particularly aluminium and ferric sulphates) to carry out its water treatment processes and in some cases, the cost of the chemicals used by YWS has increased (due to, among other things, the energy costs incurred in manufacturing the chemicals and supply shortages).

The YWS need for ferric sulphate will increase during AMP7 and beyond as it will be required to reduce the phosphorus content of the final effluent. The risks to the supply chain are enhanced by the strong market position that some of the chemical manufacturers enjoy. The Centre for Protection of National Infrastructure (CPNI) and National Cyber Security Centre (NCSC) are government bodies that recognise the supply of key chemicals as one of the 13 sectors of Critical National Infrastructure (“CNI”). Each sector has one or more Lead Government Department(s) responsible for ensuring protective security is in place. For chemicals this includes protection from major detrimental impact on the availability, integrity or delivery of essential services caused by supply disruption or competitive issues amongst suppliers. However, there can be no guarantee that such protections will adequately cover any issues associated with the chemical supply chain.

The associated costs pressures (alone or in combination with other cost pressures) could affect YWS’s business, results of operations and overall financial condition, its ability to meet financial ratio and covenant requirements under the Common Terms Agreement (which may result in the occurrence of a Trigger Event or, ultimately, an Event of Default) and to raise finance, comply with its obligations under the licence and legislation and ultimately affect the Issuer’s ability to meet its obligations under the Bonds issued under the Programme. For more information on financial ratios and covenant requirements please see Chapter 7 “Overview of the Financing Agreements – Common Terms Agreement – Covenants – Trigger Events – Events of Default”.

Supply chain partners

YWS needs to continue with tight management of the operating costs in an environment where it has experienced supply-chain inflationary pressures, including but not limited to the procurement of energy and chemicals. Reliable access to these chemicals is essential to minimise the risk of water contamination and the market is made more difficult by the strong market position enjoyed by many of the suppliers (as to which see the risk factor “Energy and Chemical markets” above). Furthermore, parts of the supply chain were recently disrupted by the exit from the European Union and such disruption may continue. Failure of any part of the supply chain will therefore fuel cost pressures and could affect YWS’s business, results of operations and overall financial condition, its ability to meet financial ratio and covenant requirements under the Common Terms Agreement (which may result in the occurrence of a Trigger Event or, ultimately, an Event of Default) and to raise finance, comply with its obligations under the licence and legislation and ultimately affect the Issuer’s ability to meet its obligations under the Bonds issued under the Programme. For more information on financial ratios and covenant requirements please see Chapter 7 “Overview of the Financing Agreements – Common Terms Agreement – Covenants – Trigger Events – Events of Default”.

Procurement Risk

YWS is currently subject to the Utilities Contracts Regulations 2016 (the “UCR 2016”) which require utilities to follow certain procedures when contracts for the pursuit of their utility activity and over specified financial thresholds are proposed (currently £429,809 for services and £5,372,609 (both including VAT) for works), to guarantee that the contract award procedure is carried out in a transparent and non-discriminatory manner by means of an advertising process in the “Find a Tender” procurement portal and the conduct of a competitive tendering procedure. A new regime under the Procurement Act 2023 (the “PA 2023”) will come into force on 28 October 2024 (which will maintain the financial thresholds that are currently in place).

Non-compliance with such regulations could result in contracts being declared by a court “ineffective” under the UCR 2016 (“set aside” under the PA 2023) and YWS becoming liable to damages claims from unsuccessful tenderers, as well as potential disruption and further costs to the operation of YWS's business. This may adversely affect YWS's ability to make payments of principal and interest under the Issuer/YWS Loan Agreements, and consequently result in the Issuer's inability to meet its obligations under the Bonds issued under the Programme.

Technology and Information Risk

Data is strategically important at a national and global level, including for YWS and the community it serves. Infrastructure which accumulates large volumes of data is susceptible to systems failures or targeted attacks which could negatively impact YWS's business. YWS is a category 2 responder under the Civil Contingencies Act and as such is required to comply with its obligations under this duty. Working with government and local resilience forums regionally and nationally, YWS is supporting the government in developing a stronger management framework to address risks associated with data storage and processing infrastructure. These data infrastructure related risks are under consideration as part of the UK National Risk Register.

All risk owners (including YWS) have been asked to consider data infrastructure-related risks. Examples of such risks include simultaneous loss of all fixed and mobile forms of communication the impacts of high temperatures and heatwaves, the disruption of space-based positioning and navigation systems and services and wider failure of the National Electricity Transmission System (NETS).

The increased use of online communications and cloud-based technology, smart technologies and the internet within YWS requires enhanced protection. There remains a transition risk as YWS continues to modernise its technology to meet the needs of the digital age and rapidly advancing customer experience expectations for both internal and customer information from unauthorised disclosure and improper use, especially as the sophistication of hackers continues to increase resulting in an increased risk of cyber-attack. Failure to keep key business systems or data secure from a malicious attack, or failure of YWS's cyber security measures, could result in sensitive data being released. The YWS Security Steering Group monitors delivery of the information security policy and procedures. The Group is committed to the continuous improvement of YWS's cyber controls and culture. The general IT control framework automates and embeds security controls, and in particular security controls relating to data access. YWS is improving the resilience of its infrastructure through targeted investment that includes regular testing of back-up and recovery procedures and ongoing training, development, and communication for all staff to improve security culture and compliance. A range of information and cyber security projects are further improving YWS's control environment, to maintain GDPR compliance, Network Information Systems Directive and other external standards.

Any failure to adequately protect YWS's information and operational technology systems or any failure of YWS's systems in respect of the security, governance and control of internal and customer information may lead to increased costs of operation, reputational damage, criminal fees and civil damages (including as a result of losses of sensitive information or breaches of legislation, including but not limited to the Data Protection Act 2018, the UK General Data Protection Regulation or Environmental Information Regulations). In view of the above, there is a risk that YWS's security measures will not be sufficient to prevent, respond to or recover from all possible breaches. A breach of its information system could cause serious disruption to the YWS business, and therefore its (and the Issuer's) ability to meet its obligations under the Bonds.

Asset health

Operational or critical asset failures, caused by both internal and external factors, can result in performance issues leading adverse effects on the environment, risk to the security of the water supply, detrimental impact on water quality or flooding, and even result in a consequential impact on other infrastructure and utility providers, any of which may require an urgent deployment of resources to recover the situation; the costs of which are likely to be high.

In addition, where asset health deteriorates, for example below the required regulatory performance level or results in outage or other impacts on customers, this could lead to a penalty on YWS through in-period financial ODIs, increased regulatory and political scrutiny, legal action from the EA (or other regulators, statutory bodies or other litigants), reputational harm or other negative consequences which could have an adverse effect on YWS's business, reputation, operational performance, profitability or financial condition and consequently, on the Issuer's ability to meet its obligations (including the payment of principal and interest) under the Bonds.

Sewer flooding

YWS's combined sewerage systems (as described more fully in Chapter 5 "Description of the YW Financing Group") can, during prolonged heavy rainfall, reach their hydraulic capacity resulting in flooding. As it is not possible to forecast accurately the occurrence and effects of sewer flooding, forward planning and the making of full and reliable provision for the effects, or the alleviation of the risk, of sewer flooding is difficult. The financial costs of measures required to deal with sewer flooding (including any compensation payments to its affected customers), or measures designed to alleviate the risk of sewer flooding to properties which become at risk, may therefore not be taken into account fully in a Periodic Review, which could have a material adverse impact on the business, financial condition or operational performance of YWS. In addition, underperformance against YWS's sewer flooding commitment may lead to financial penalties for YWS under the ODIs and consequently, on the Issuer's ability to meet its obligations (including the payment of principal and interest) under the Bonds.

Water resource shortages

In the event of water resource shortages, such as those experienced during 2022, additional costs may be incurred by YWS in order to provide longer term or emergency reinforcement to supplies in areas of shortage which may adversely affect its business, results of operations, profitability or financial condition. In addition, restrictions on the use or supply of water (including temporary use bans and drought orders or drought permits) may adversely affect YWS's turnover (see the Risk Factor entitled "Increased operating expenditure and impact on financial ratios") and may, in very extreme circumstances require an emergency drought order (which has never been experienced by YWS), which may lead to significant compensation becoming due to customers because of interruptions to supply, both of which could have a material adverse impact on the business, financial condition or operational performance of YWS and consequently, on the Issuer's ability to meet its obligations (including the payment of principal and interest) under the Bonds.

Potential water resource shortages may be exacerbated by reductions imposed by the EA in the volume of water licensed to be abstracted, to mitigate environmental damage or achieve sustainable levels of abstraction. In such situations, YWS may incur additional costs in implementing replacement sources and paying increased abstraction charges to cover compensation payments to other abstractors whose licences are revoked or varied to alleviate environmental impact. For more information please see Chapter 6 "Regulation of the Water and Wastewater Industry in England and Wales" under "Water Shortages".

Service interruptions due to key site or installation disruption

Unexpected failure or disruption (including the possibility of electricity outages raised by the current energy crisis, data outages, process safety failure, criminal acts or major health and safety incident) at a key site or installation (including a reservoir or treatment works), due to single supply water systems or for any other reason, could cause a significant interruption to the supply of services (in terms of duration or number of customers affected), materially affecting the way that YWS operates, prejudicing its reputation and resulting in additional costs including liability to customers or loss of revenue, each of which could have a material adverse impact on the business, financial condition or operational performance of YWS. In October 2023, YWS experienced a customer-impacting incident in Goole involving the sudden burst of a water tower inlet, which triggered further bursts and low water pressure within the region. The incident management process was triggered immediately to coordinate a response and resolution to the incident. The effects of the incident were felt by around 12,700 properties, either with low pressure or periods of no water at peak times. YWS established a clear communication strategy from the outset with regular updates to customers and stakeholders. YWS has settled all the compensation claims for this incident, and built an action plan based on improvements identified, with several changes already implemented to improve the clarity and speed of its communications to customers impacted by such incidents.

Underperformance against the performance commitment for supply interruptions may lead to financial penalties under the ODIs. Such financial penalties could result in YWS and/or the Issuer being unable to comply with its obligations under the Bonds.

Contamination of water supplies

Water supplies may be subject to contamination, including contamination from the presence of naturally occurring compounds and pollution from man-made substances, criminal acts and failures of third parties. In the event that YWS's water supply is contaminated and it is unable to substitute water supply from an uncontaminated water source, or to treat adequately the contaminated water source in a cost-effective manner, there may be an adverse effect on its business, financial condition or operational performance because of the resulting prejudice to reputation and required capital and operational expenditures. In the Environmental Performance Assessment (the "EPA") conducted annually by the EA, YWS's rating fell from three stars in 2022 to two stars. YWS also reported a slight increase in 'serious pollution incidents', from three such incidents in 2022 to five in 2023, for which it was rated red in the 2023 EPA. This increase in incidents is reflective of the high levels of rainfall putting additional strain on YWS's assets.

YWS seeks to understand, and where possible limit, the potential impact of contamination through adopting the internationally recognised Water Safety Planning approach, which approach is promoted by the World Health Organisation and which is closely regulated by the DWI. The adoption of such approach allows YWS to take a source to tap view of risk, seeking to implement control measures at the most appropriate point in the water supply chain.

There is a risk that YWS could, in the future, incur fines for breaches of statutory requirements or regulations, or held liable for human exposure to hazardous substances in its water supplies or other environmental damage. Any such future fine could have a material adverse impact on the business, financial condition or operational performance of YWS and consequently, on the Issuer's ability to meet its obligations (including the payment of principal and interest) under the Bonds.

Catastrophe Risk

Catastrophic events such as dam bursts, fires, earthquakes, floods, droughts, terrorist attacks, diseases and global pandemics, plant failure or other similar events could result in personal injury, loss of life, pollution or environmental damage, reputational harm or severe damage to or destruction of YWS's operational assets.

Subject to a possible interim determination of a price limit under the Substantial Effects Clause, any costs resulting from suspension of operations of YWS could have a material adverse effect on the ability of YWS to meet its financing obligations. Although the Common Terms Agreement requires YWS to maintain insurance (including business interruption insurance) to protect against certain of these risks, the proceeds from such insurance may not be adequate to cover reduced revenues, increased expenses or other losses or liabilities arising from the occurrence of any of the events described above.

Moreover, there can be no assurance that such insurance coverage will be available for some or all of these risks in the future at commercially reasonable rates or at all and consequently, there is a risk that such risks could negatively affect the Issuer's ability to meet its obligations (including the payment of principal and interest) under the Bonds. (See Chapter 5 "Description of the YW Financing Group" under "Insurance and Risk Management").

Staff Retention

YWS sometimes faces difficulty in its ability to attract and retain staff with the necessary skills, in particular IT skills. Such difficulty stems from the impact of the pandemic, the inflationary environment, industrial unrest and current market uncertainty, and as a result fewer people are relocating geographically, which has resulted in a smaller prospective employee pool with the necessary skill set. Challenges from external competition (as employees who are based in Yorkshire move to larger companies with national or international footprints), together with YWS's financial constraints may also have a negative effect on the ability of YWS to attract and/or retain staff.

The inability to retain or employ staff with the necessary skills could result in short- or long-term operational pressures affecting YWS's business, results of operations and overall financial condition, YWS's ability to meet financial ratio and covenant requirements under the Common Terms Agreement (which may result in the occurrence of a Trigger Event or, ultimately, an Event of Default) and to raise finance and comply with the Issuer's ability to meet its obligations under the Bonds issued under the Programme. For more information on financial ratios and covenant requirements please see Chapter 7 "Overview of the Financing Agreements – Common Terms Agreement – Covenants – Trigger Events – Events of Default".

Legal Risks

Litigation

As described in Chapter 5 "Description of the YW Financing Group", YWS and all other water and sewage companies in England, are currently facing a number of claims by multiple personal search companies ("PSCs"). These claims relate to historic fees which the PSCs claim should not have been paid because the information requested amounted to "environmental information". YWS is defending the claim. YWS and all other companies involved took part in a Stage 1 issues hearing in November/December 2023. A judgment was received on 28 June 2024 which found largely in favour of the water companies. The next step is awaited from the claimants in due course. YWS and five other water and sewerage companies in England and Wales are also facing a class action in respect of an alleged breach of the Competition Act 1998 (as described in Chapter 5 "Description of the YW Financing Group").

Furthermore, YWS may in the future face legal proceedings or litigation under existing legislation relating to its current business operations which as at the date of this Prospectus are not known. If any of the claims made by the PSCs are successful, or if any claim materialises from the collective action which is ultimately successful or if any future claim arises and is successful, they may have an adverse impact on the financial condition of YWS and consequently, on the Issuer's ability to meet its obligations (including the payment of principal and interest) under the Bonds.

The effect of Brexit on YWS financing

A combination of the UK's exit from the EU and post-Covid economics have impacted, and will continue to impact, the markets in which YWS operate. These uncertainties have the potential to adversely affect the geopolitical landscape, macroeconomic conditions, stability of the financial market and companies' businesses, including YWS. There is also a risk of possible downgrades to the United Kingdom's sovereign rating, which could in turn have a negative impact on the credit rating of the Issuer or YWS. See "Risks relating to the Bonds— Rating of the Bonds".

In addition, historically YWS has accessed funding from Europe-based investors and institutions. In light of the UK's exit from the EU, YWS may find it more difficult to access funding from such investors and institutions in the future, which could have a negative impact on YWS's ability to fund its activities and on the cost of that funding, which in turn could affect YWS's ability to meet financial ratio and covenant requirements under the Common Terms Agreement (which may result in the occurrence of a Trigger Event or, ultimately, an Event of Default) and to raise finance, comply with its obligations under the licence and legislation and ultimately affect the Issuer's ability to meet its obligations under the Bonds issued under the Programme. For more information on financial ratios and covenant requirements please see Chapter 7 "Overview of the Financing Agreements – Common Terms Agreement – Covenants – Trigger Events – Events of Default".

Political intervention in the water sector

YWS and the UK water industry generally continue to see a high level of scrutiny by regulators and key stakeholders, including the UK Government, parliamentarians and local politicians.

There remains a significant amount of negative public, media and political scrutiny of the UK water industry, in particular in relation to environmental performance, executive pay, the financial resilience of water and sewerage undertakers and dividends paid to equity investors in the sector. Consequently, there are increased public demands on regulators and the Government to take action and/or reform the regulatory regime that applies to the UK water sector, including that which applies to YWS. The water sector in England and Wales is subject to economic regulation by a regulator, the Water Services Regulation Authority (Ofwat), which was established to be independent of the Government. The economic regulator's duties and powers are set out in primary legislation (the WIA). As with other economic regulators, the Government may set out its strategic priorities for the sector in a 'Statement of Strategic Priorities' ("SPS"), and the economic regulator must act in accordance with this statement. This customarily happens once in each parliament. The Government issued its most recent SPS for the sector in February 2022. It was clear in this document that its priorities are to:

- protect and enhance the environment;
- deliver a resilient water sector;
- serve and protect customers; and
- use markets to deliver for customers.

In March 2023, the House of Lords Industry and Regulators Committee published its report following its inquiry into the work of Ofwat which, amongst other things, looked at Ofwat's performance in relation to its statutory duties, the investment and approach needed to prevent storm overflow overuse, and steps that must be taken to secure future water supply. Following responses by the Government and Ofwat in June 2023, the Industry and Regulators Committee launched a further follow-up inquiry on Ofwat, the water industry and the role of Government. The committee's follow-up inquiry concluded in September 2023. The committee concluded that the previous UK Government should provide stronger policy direction to Ofwat, including on the trade-off between investment and bills, and argued that "continued under-investment" will have serious long-term consequences. In December 2023, the previous UK Government responded to this recommendation stating that it "has given clear guidance through legislation and policy papers like the Plan for Water on what the priorities for the water sector should be" and "It is now up to Ofwat as the independent regulator to scrutinise proposed company plans to ensure they meet the government's requirements."

Following the election of a new Labour Government in the UK General Election in July 2024, the Government announced a planned Water (Special Measures) Bill in the King's Speech on 17 July 2024 to strengthen regulation, give Ofwat new powers to ban the payment of bonuses if environmental standards are not met, bring "automatic and severe fines", require water companies to install real-time monitors at every sewage outlet with data being independently scrutinised by the water regulators and increase accountability for water executives and management by introducing personal criminal liability for breaches of the law and providing for a new code of conduct for water companies to allow "customers to summon board members and hold executives to account". More detail on the proposed Bill and Ofwat's new powers is expected in due course.

There can be no certainty as to what changes will be made to the regulatory regime to which YWS is subject. Future intervention by the UK Government in the water markets, or changes in governmental policy, may affect YWS's business, results of operations and overall financial condition, its ability to meet financial ratio and covenant requirements under the Common Terms Agreement (which may result in the occurrence of a Trigger Event or, ultimately, an Event of Default), raise finance, comply with its obligations under the licence and legislation and ultimately affect the Issuer's ability to meet its obligations under the Bonds issued under the Programme. For more information on financial ratios and covenant requirements please see Chapter 7 "Overview of the Financing Agreements – Common Terms Agreement – Covenants – Trigger Events – Events of Default".

Security over assets

A Regulated Company's ability to grant security over its assets and the enforcement of such security are restricted by the provisions of the WIA and its licence. For example, both the WIA and the Instrument of Appointment restrict a Regulated Company's ability to dispose of interests in (or create a charge or mortgage over) Protected Land (as explained in Chapter 6 "Regulation of the Water and Wastewater Industry in England and Wales" under "Protected Land", below). The vast majority of YWS's assets by value are tangible property which is Protected Land and cannot therefore be effectively secured. This necessarily affects the ability of YWS to create a floating charge over the whole or substantially the whole of its business. Furthermore, in any event, there is no right of a floating charge holder under the WIA to block the appointment of a Special Administrator.

The Secretary of State and Ofwat have rights under the WIA to apply to the court for the appointment of a Special Administrator in certain circumstances in respect of YWS and its business. The appointment of a Special Administrator effectively places a moratorium upon any holder of security from enforcing that security (see the section "Special Administration" below).

There are also certain legal restrictions which arise under the WIA and YWS's Instrument of Appointment affecting the enforcement of the security created under the Security Agreement. For example, such enforcement is prohibited unless the person enforcing the security has first given 14 days' notice to Ofwat or the Secretary of State, giving them time to petition for the appointment of a Special Administrator (see Chapter 6 "Regulation of the Water and Wastewater Industry in England and Wales" under "Security").

Accordingly, the security provided over the assets of YWS in favour of the Security Trustee in respect of the Issuer's obligations under the Bonds affords significantly less protection to the Security Trustee (and, therefore, the Bondholders) than would be the case if YWS were not a Regulated Company subject to the provisions of the WIA and its Instrument of Appointment.

The considerations described above do not apply to the fixed and floating charges created under the Security Agreement by YWH, YWSF and the Issuer because they are not Regulated Companies. The enforcement of the security granted under the Security Agreement over the shares in any company in the YW Financing Group (other than the Issuer and YWSF), including any Holding Company of YWS, would not be subject to the moratorium set out in the WIA nor would it be an event which would itself result in the making of the Special Administration Order. Notwithstanding this, given Ofwat's general duties under the WIA to exercise its powers to ensure that the functions of a Regulated Company are properly carried out, the Issuer anticipates that any intended enforcement of the Security granted by YWH over, and subsequently any planned disposal to a third party purchaser of, the shares in YWS would involve consultation with Ofwat. In addition, it is anticipated that any intended enforcement of the security created by YWH under the Security Agreement, to the extent that such enforcement would amount to a relevant merger situation for the purposes of the Enterprise Act or a concentration with a European Community dimension for the purposes of the European Merger Regulation, would require consultation with Ofwat and would be reviewable by the CMA or the European Commission.

Notice of the creation of the security by YWS will not be given initially to YWS's customers or to YWS's contractual counterparties in respect of its contracts (other than certain material contracts). Also, any security over any amounts due from customers that constitute statutory receivables may be limited by law. In addition, if YWS were to acquire any land that was not Protected Land, the charge over that land granted by the Security Agreement would take effect in equity only. Accordingly, until any such assignment is perfected, registration effected with His Majesty's Land Registry in respect of registered land or certain other action is taken in respect of unregistered land, any such assignment or charge may be or become subject to prior equities arising (such as rights of set-off).

Special Administration

As set out in Chapter 6 "Regulation of the Water and Wastewater Industry in England and Wales" under "Special Administration Orders", the WIA contains provisions enabling the Secretary of State or Ofwat (with the permission of the Secretary of State) to secure the general continuity of water supply and, where applicable, sewerage services by petitioning the High Court for the appointment of a Special Administrator, in some circumstances (for example, where YWS is in breach of its principal duties under its Instrument of Appointment or of the provisions of a final or confirmed provisional enforcement order (and in either case the breach is serious enough to make it inappropriate for YWS to continue to hold its Instrument of Appointment) or is unable, or is unlikely to be able, to pay its debts). In addition, a creditor may petition the High Court for the winding-up of YWS, which could lead to the appointment of a Special Administrator where the Court is satisfied that it would be appropriate to make such a winding-up order if the company were not a company holding an appointment under the WIA.

On 22 March 2023, the House of Lords Industry and Regulators Committee published a report on its inquiry into the work of Ofwat. The Committee recommended that Ofwat be more proactive in using its special administration powers to change the management of continued poor performers in the sector. Ofwat and the Government responded to this report in May and June 2023 respectively. On the Committee's recommendation that Ofwat should consider being more proactive in the use of its special administration powers, Ofwat acknowledged that where appropriate it would do so, in particular where this would best enable it to fulfil its various duties. Ofwat also acknowledged that it has a role in working with companies to support them in pursuing alternatives to special administration where this is in the long-term interests of customers. This does not, however, mean maintaining an inefficient company that would otherwise fail. Meanwhile, the Government reiterated that special administration is the ultimate enforcement tool and (i) is only available where the statutory insolvency grounds or enforcement grounds are made out and where other means are inadequate, (ii) should only be utilised where appropriate. The Government also acknowledged that Ofwat is expected to allow funding for water companies to fulfil their statutory duties.

The duties and functions of a Special Administrator differ in certain important respects to those of an administrator of a company which is not a Regulated Company under English insolvency legislation.

During the period of the Special Administration Order, YWS would have to be managed by the Special Administrator for the purposes of the order and in a manner, which protects the interests of shareholders and creditors. As noted above, while the order is in force, no steps may be taken to enforce any security over the property of YWS except with the consent of the Special Administrator or the leave of the Court. A Special Administrator would be able to dispose of assets free of any floating charge existing in relation to them. On such a disposal, however, the proceeds would be treated as if subject to a floating charge which has the same priority as that afforded to the original security. A Special Administrator may not dispose of property which is the subject of a fixed charge without the agreement of the relevant creditor except under an order of the Court. On such a disposal, the disposal proceeds to which the chargee is entitled are determined by reference to “the best price which is reasonably available on a sale which is consistent with the purposes of the Special Administration Order” as opposed to an amount not less than “open market value”, which would apply in a conventional administration for a company which is not a Regulated Company under English insolvency legislation.

Where the grounds for a special administration order are that a company is or is likely to be unable to pay its debts, the purpose of the order is to rescue the company as a going concern. To achieve this purpose, the special administrator may propose: (a) a company voluntary arrangement under Part 1 of the Insolvency Act 1986, or (b) a compromise or arrangement in accordance with Part 26 or Part 26A of the Companies Act 2006.

If the special administrator thinks that it is not likely to be possible to rescue the company as a going concern, or that transfer is likely to secure more effective performance of the Regulated Company’s functions, or the order has been made on any other grounds, the purposes of the order consist of:

- (i) transferring to one or more different Regulated Companies as much of the business of the Undertaker in special administration as is necessary in order to ensure that the functions which have been vested in such a Regulated Company by virtue of its Appointment are properly carried out; and
- (ii) pending the transfer, the carrying out of those functions.

As a result of the statutory purposes of a Special Administration Order, it is not open to a Special Administrator to accept an offer to purchase the assets on a break-up basis in circumstances where the purchaser would be unable properly to carry out the relevant functions of a Regulated Company. The transfer is effected by a transfer scheme which the Special Administrator puts in place, subject to the approval of the Secretary of State or Ofwat on behalf of the existing Regulated Company. The transfer scheme may provide for the transfer of the property, rights and liabilities of the existing Regulated Company to the new Regulated Company(ies) and may also provide for the transfer of the existing Regulated Company’s instrument of appointment (with modifications as set out in the transfer scheme) to the new Regulated Company(ies).

The Flood and Water Management Act 2010 (the “FWM Act”) amends the special administration regime in the WIA to bring it in line with modern insolvency practice in unregulated industries. The FWM Act also streamlines the procedures for transferring a failing company to new owners. The previous regime only enabled the Special Administrator to transfer the appointment and assets of a failing water company onto one or more new owners. The changes enable the Special Administrator to pursue the goal of rescuing the Regulated Company as a going concern if this is reasonably practicable. Some of these provisions are in force as of 12 January 2024 by virtue of the Flood and Water Management Act 2010 (Commencement No. 10) Order 2024 (see “Updates to the Special Administration Regime” under “Termination of an Instrument of Appointment” in Chapter 6 (Regulation of the Water and Wastewater Industry in England and Wales)). There can be no assurance that any transfer scheme in the context of a Special Administration regime could be achieved on terms that would enable creditors (including the Bondholders) to recover amounts due to them in full.

Impact of Ofwat adopting tighter regulatory measures to achieve financial resilience

In March 2023, Ofwat decided to modify the ring-fencing licence conditions of the largest undertakers in order to strengthen its financial resilience. These modifications included:

- modifying the cash lock-up ‘licence condition’ to raise the cash lock-up trigger (a condition of YWS’s licence which restricts dividend payments in certain scenarios) to apply where any of YWS or the Issuer’s monitored ratings for Ofwat’s purposes are at or below BBB/Baa2 with “Credit Watch” or “Rating Watch” with a negative designation, effective from 1 April 2025. The modification includes a 3-month grace period between the point that a rating falls to the new trigger level of BBB/Baa2 with negative outlook and the cash lock-up being applied. During this period, companies can submit a request to Ofwat to determine (or Ofwat may determine on its own initiative) that the cash lock-up should not apply on the basis that the company’s financial resilience is not at risk. If a relevant credit rating were to be BBB-/Baa3 or lower, then the cash lock-up would automatically apply. The cash lock up mechanism would, if triggered, stop most payments being made by YWS to other group companies, including any dividend payments. This will not prevent payments by YWS of interest, principal and fees on intercompany loans made to YWS by the Issuer, provided that the Issuer remains in the Group;
- modifying the dividend policy licence condition to require that dividend policies and dividends declared or paid should take account of (i) service delivery for customers and the environment over time, (ii) current and future investment needs and financial resilience over the long term and (iii) rewarding efficiency and the management of economic risks. These modifications took effect on 17 May 2023. YWS believes that the existing dividend policy and its application meet these key requirements; and
- requiring large, regulated water companies to maintain investment grade issuer credit ratings with at least two credit rating agencies (rather than one as was previously the case), other than where Ofwat provides its written consent for YWS to maintain only one and to notify Ofwat as soon as reasonably practicable of changes to credit ratings, including reasons for the change. Such notification must be provided within a maximum of five working days of: (i) a change in credit rating grade or outlook; (ii) a new issuer credit rating being obtained; or (iii) the withdrawal of an issuer credit rating. These modifications took effect from 17 May 2023.

These modifications to the ring-fencing licence conditions could increase the likelihood of YWS not being able to pay a dividend, affecting the equity proposition that YWS presents. These factors could potentially give rise to increases in associated funding costs, affect YWS’s business, results of operations and overall financial condition, and its ability to raise finance, comply with its obligations under the licence and legislation and ultimately affect the Issuer’s ability to meet its obligations under the Bonds issued under the Programme.

Environmental Risks

Water Industry National Environment Programme

YWS’s current asset management period (“AMP7”) Water Industry National Environment Programme (“WINEP”) is YWS’s most extensive in terms of its scope and scale of ambition. The range of solutions vary from conventional engineering approaches, to YWS’s largest ever programme of catchment interventions. The programme has been developed with the UK regulators, the EA and Natural England to meet the environmental, resilience and flood risk obligations and expectations of the Government for YWS’s PR19 business plan.

WINEP is a major element of YWS's business plan and relevant aspects were also integrated within YWS's drinking water quality submissions to DWI and its Water Resource Management Plan submitted to DEFRA. There is a focus on the removal of phosphorus from river water. YWS will need to satisfy its obligations under WINEP by 2025.

YWS is incurring and will continue to incur significant costs in relation to the programme. By the end of 2023/2024 YWS had delivered £439 million of investment against this programme (at 2023/24 prices). Significant expenditure is expected in 2025, with much of the delivery phased for the latter years of AMP7. See also "Failure by YWS to deliver its capital investment programme" under "Financing Risks".

In 2020, DEFRA, the EA and Ofwat led a review of the WINEP ahead of PR24 to ensure the next round of WINEP actions achieves greater environmental benefits for every pound invested by water companies by using a more outcomes-based approach. In 2022, the EA also developed and published a WINEP methodology process document which is intended to help water companies to plan, execute and report on the environmental improvement measures they are required to undertake. This EA publication along with a number of other related publications together also aim to help water companies to plan for the next phase of the WINEP cycle (PR24). As part of the business plan submitted to Ofwat on 2 October 2023, YWS published its WINEP Enhancement Case. To maximise the wider environmental outcomes of YWS investment proposals, nature-based solutions were considered for all solutions, throughout the optioneering process. This builds on knowledge gained during AMP7 from investments at Clifton wastewater treatment works and Holly Myres Lane wastewater treatment works.

The significant cost and scale of the environmental projects required by AMP7 WINEP programme and future WINEP programmes could have the potential to have a material adverse impact on the business, financial condition or operational performance of YWS, and consequently, on the Issuer's ability to meet its obligations (including the payment of principal and interest) under the Bonds.

Extreme Weather

There is a risk that extreme weather conditions could have a significant impact on YWS and its operations. For example, freeze-thaw events (such as those experienced in Winter 2017/2018 and in December 2022) and/or concentrated rainfall (particularly after long periods of dry weather) would likely cause flooding (including widespread flood inundation of above ground assets). Similarly, prolonged periods of drought or heat would likely result in operational difficulties which could cause damage to service infrastructure assets (which may in turn result in pipe bursts and flooding). Also, more frequent and / or severe storm events and coastal storm surge events could cause damage to physical infrastructure and inundation of coastal assets, resulting in service disruption and pressure on emergency response. See also "Climate Change" under "Strategic Risks".

The summer of 2022 was exceptionally dry, with parts of the Yorkshire region seeing their lowest levels of rainfall since records began 130 years ago and, in August 2022, the highest temperatures ever recorded in the region. June 2023 was also exceptionally warm in the Yorkshire region. To help to ensure resilient supplies for customers, YWS maximised river and groundwater abstractions during this period to protect reservoir stocks. In addition, leakage increases during significant periods of dry weather as the moisture in the soil decreases, increasing soil movement and making pipes more susceptible to bursts. YWS has also redoubled efforts to reduce leakage from the network and performance is on track to achieve a 15% reduction in leakage from 2020 to 2025 in line with its regulatory performance commitment target. YWS has replaced 12,000 of its 30,000 acoustic loggers to improve data and connectivity to enable it to pinpoint leak locations with more accuracy. YWS has also installed over 1,000 smart pressure valves to main pressure in the network, reducing the rate of bursts and leaks. In 2024 YWS published its latest Water Resources Management Plan, which outlines how YWS will continue to deliver safe, clean drinking water to 2050 and beyond, even in the most severe droughts. The WRMP considers future water supply availability and demand. It then sets out the actions required to address the risk of a supply-demand deficit in the future. These actions include sourcing new water supplies, increasing storage and treatment capacity, and demand reduction measures such as reducing leakage, and encouraging reductions in business and household consumption. However, there is no guarantee that these actions will be effective.

Extreme weather could adversely affect YWS's service performance giving rise to increased operational costs and capital expenditure requirements, regulatory penalties, the need to pay compensation to customers or other government, political or regulatory action. In this regard, YWS maintains insurance cover consistent with the generally accepted practices of prudent water and sewage companies and this includes business interruption insurance, but there is no guarantee that such insurance is sufficient to cover to risks highlighted. This in turn could affect YWS's business, results of operations and overall financial condition, its ability to meet financial ratio and covenant requirements under the Common Terms Agreement (which may result in the occurrence of a Trigger Event or, ultimately, an Event of Default) and to raise finance, comply with its obligations under the licence and legislation, and ultimately affect the payment of principal and interest under the Issuer/YWS Loan Agreement and consequently the Issuer's ability to meet its obligations under the Bonds issued under the Programme. For more information on financial ratios and covenant requirements please see Chapter 7 "Overview of the Financing Agreements – Common Terms Agreement – Covenants - Trigger Events – Events of Default".

Priority Substances Directive

YWS is subject to the Environmental Quality Standards (2008/105/EC, usually referred to as the "Priority Substances Directive"), which was amended by 2013/39/EU. To ensure compliance, there is a risk that YWS may be required to install the equivalent of drinking water treatment at the sewage treatment works. This would represent a very significant investment for YWS if it is required to take such action.

Notably, YWS, with other UK water and sewerage companies through Water UK, is steering the Chemicals Investigation Programme along with DEFRA and the EA to deliver efficient treatment of the 45 priority substances, which YWS believes could, along with the EA's cost benefit analysis process, lessen the risk of a step change in investment needs. This work will continue for the duration of AMP8, until March 2030. In any case, there is still a risk that YWS may be required to make investments to comply with the Priority Substances Directive and this could have a negative impact on the financial condition of YWS and consequently, on the Issuer's ability to meet its obligations (including the payment of principal and interest) under the Bonds.

Urban Wastewater Treatment Directive

YWS is not currently subject to the Proposal for a directive of the European Parliament and of the Council concerning urban wastewater treatment (recast) (2022/0345) (the "Revised UWWTD"). The Revised UWWTD identifies twelve hazardous substances, at least six of which must be removed by 80% between influent and final effluent by quaternary treatment at every wastewater treatment works with a population equivalent of 10,000 and above by 31 December 2045. There is no certainty as to whether the Revised UWWTD will be transposed into the UK. However, if YWS was subject to Revised UWWTD, it would significantly increase its wastewater treatment costs.

Financing Risks

Interest Cover Ratio and Leverage

At the date of this Prospectus, the YW Financing Group has substantial indebtedness in relation to its shareholders' equity. As at 31 March 2024, the YW Financing Group was leveraged, after taking into account of cash reserves, at 67.1 per cent. as a percentage of Class A Net Indebtedness to RCV (being the Class A RAR) and at 70.8 per cent. as a percentage of Senior Net Indebtedness to RCV (being the Senior RAR) with RCV being £9,132.2 million. The corresponding numbers as at 31 March 2023 were 68.5 per cent. and 72.3 per cent. respectively with RCV being £8,714.6 million. Class A RAR and Senior RAR are alternative performance measures. Class A RAR has been calculated by looking at Class A Net Indebtedness to RCV and Senior RAR has been calculated by looking at Senior Net Indebtedness to RCV. As shown in the investors report of the YW Financing Group, for the period ended 31 March 2024, YWS's Class A Net Indebtedness was £6,124.8 million and YWS's Senior Net Indebtedness was £6,467.4 million. During the years to March 2025 these ratios are forecast to rise to 71.3 per cent. and 75.1 per cent. respectively. Please see further details in the Compliance Certificates available at <https://www.keldagroup.com/investors/document-library/yorkshire-water-investor-report-and-compliance-certificates/>. The information on this website does not form part of this Prospectus.

Class A RAR and Senior RAR (which take into account retained cash reserves) may increase up to 75 per cent. and 90 per cent. respectively before a Trigger Event will occur. The Finance Documents then provide for indirect restrictions on leverage through dividend blocks, trigger events and restrictions on the ability to incur further Financial Indebtedness (see Chapter 7 “Overview of the Financing Agreements - Common Terms Agreement”).

The Finance Documents also require YWS to maintain a minimum level of interest cover which is measured as the Re-profiled Class A Adjusted ICR, the Re-profiled Senior Adjusted ICR, the Re-profiled Class A Average Adjusted ICR and the Re-profiled Senior Average Adjusted ICR. At the date of this Prospectus the most recent forecasts of these ratios, and the respective Trigger levels, are as below (as taken from the compliance certificate dated 24 July 2024 in respect of the calculation date of 31 March 2024)):

Re-profiled Class A Adjusted ICR	1.53x	1.44x	1.3x
Re-profiled Senior Adjusted ICR	1.35x	1.31x	1.1x
Re-profiled Class A Average Adjusted ICR	1.52x	1.52x	1.4x
Re-profiled Senior Average Adjusted ICR	1.36x	1.36x	1.2x

If the Re-profiled Class A Adjusted ICR falls below 1.1x or the Senior RAR rises above 95 per cent. an Event of Default would occur.

The ability of YWS to improve its operating performance and financial results will depend upon specific factors such as current and projected working capital as well as economic, financial, competitive, regulatory and other factors beyond its control, including fluctuations in interest rates and general economic conditions in the UK (including for example potential changes in customer behaviours and/or their ability to pay their bills) due to the cost of living crisis (as to which see “Non-recovery of customer debt”).

Accordingly, there can be no assurance of YW Financing Group's ability to meet its financing requirements and no assurance that YW Financing Group's high degree of leverage will not have a material adverse impact on its ability to pay amounts under the Issuer/YWS Loan Agreements, the Issuer/YWS Bond Loan Agreements or the YWSF/YWS Loan Agreements, which would enable the Issuer to pay amounts due and owing in respect of the Bonds. Incurrence of additional indebtedness by YWS or the Issuer, which is permitted under the Finance Documents, may materially affect the ability of YWS, the Issuer or the other Obligor to pay amounts due and owing in respect of the Bonds.

Price controls

The main instrument of economic regulation in the water sector in England is the price control mechanism determined by Ofwat in accordance with the conditions of the licences. This controls the total revenue companies can recover from customers via bills for water supply and water recycling services. Certain charges are not included in the price control formula but are determined on an individual basis. The price controls are set by Ofwat for each Regulated Company individually and reflects the scale of its assumed expenditure, its cost of capital as determined by Ofwat, and its operational and environmental obligations, together with Ofwat's judgment to the scope for it to improve its efficiency.

Price control periods have to date been periods of five years, normally beginning on 1 April in years ending in 0 or 5 and end on 31 March 5 years later. The price controls for the current period (2020 to 2025, referred to as AMP7) were set at the end of 2019 to take effect on 1 April 2020, commonly referred to as Price Review 19 (“PR19”). The next set of price controls will be for the period starting in 2025 (“PR24”).

In December 2022, Ofwat published the PR24 Final Methodology that outlines how they propose to conduct the price control for PR24 and the methodology very much represents an evolution of Ofwat's PR19 methodology. The PR24 Final Methodology indicates a headline cost of capital of 3.29% (CPIH stripped), reflecting current market conditions, and changes to the capital structure of the notional company that is used as a benchmark for assessing the financeability of a price review. It remains a continuation of PR19 albeit with a change of emphasis away from base costs, where Ofwat expect a step change in efficiency and performance, but with stronger and wider delivery incentives. Ofwat will impose 23 performance commitments that will be common across all water and sewage companies, and each will come with a meaningful financial incentive. Bespoke performance commitments will be limited to just 2 or 3 in number.

Changes in the price control methodology for PR24 may translate into tighter controls on the total revenue that YWS can recover from customers, consequently leading to lower revenues for YWS. This may adversely affect YWS's business, results of operations and overall financial condition, its ability to meet financial ratio and covenant requirements under the Common Terms Agreement (which may result in the occurrence of a Trigger Event or, ultimately, an Event of Default) and to raise finance, comply with its obligations under the licence and legislation and ultimately affect the payment of principal and interest under the Issuer/YWS Loan Agreements, and consequently the Issuer's ability to meet its obligations under the Bonds issued under the Programme. For more information on financial ratios and covenant requirements please see Chapter 7 “Overview of the Financing Agreements – Common Terms Agreement – Covenants - Trigger Events – Events of Default”.

Pension Risk

On an IFRS basis, the fair value of the scheme as at 31 March 2024 was a surplus of £86.0million (2023: £51.2 surplus). The scheme was closed to future accrual on 31 March 2024 and no further employer contributions are expected. Deficit repair contributions ceased on 31 March 2022. The next actuarial valuation will be as at 31 March 2024 and is still being prepared. The latest formalised actuarial valuation of the KGPP was undertaken as at 31 March 2021 using assumptions that are consistent with the requirements of the statutory funding regime. This showed a surplus of £42 million. The market value of the assets used in the valuation was £1,563.0 million. While market conditions may result in the surplus turning to a deficit at any time, YWS is not presently expecting to make any future deficit repair contributions.

YWS is a contributing employer to the KGPP (a defined benefit pension scheme) (as described more fully in Chapter 5 “Description of the YW Financing Group”). In the event of other Kelda Group companies becoming unable to meet the liabilities for their employees within the KGPP, YWS may become responsible for some or all of those liabilities as well as the liabilities for its own employees, or on a “last man standing” basis.

Should such deficit repair contributions referred to above reoccur in the future, or should a scenario arise where YWS become responsible for some or all of the liabilities in relation to the KGPP (depending on other circumstances at the time) there could be a material adverse impact on YWS which could affect YWS’s payment of principal and interest under the Issuer/YWS Loan Agreement and, consequently, on the Issuer’s ability to meet its obligations (including in respect of financial ratios and the payment of principal and interest) under the Bonds.

Inflationary consequences

YWS’s business is exposed to inflation indices in respect of revenues and costs. YWS’s revenues are linked to inflation, however tariffs cannot be adjusted intra-year. During periods of significantly rising inflation this can result in YWS suffering from notable revenue shortfalls intra-year until tariffs can be increased the following year. Additionally, there can be no assurance that any such adjustment would reflect the true rate of inflation which YWS experiences for the goods and services it consumes in operating its business, including through the tariffs which YWS can periodically set for customers and exposure to index linked debt, swaps and other contracts and liabilities. Furthermore, in the context of the current cost of living crisis, YWS may come under political or regulatory pressure not to increase tariffs in line with inflation. These factors may result in revenue timing mismatches and/or permanent shortfalls for YWS.

Failure to adapt the cost base to rising inflation could result in re-prioritisation of investment and reduced service levels, impacting customer service and operational performance, which may consequently impact YWS’s business, results of operations and overall financial condition. In certain circumstances when rates of inflation increase, this could affect YWS’s business, results of operations and overall financial condition and its ability to meet financial ratio and covenant requirements under its financings and to raise finance. YWS’s totex allowances and revenue for the AMP7 period are both linked to CPIH (the consumer price index that includes owner occupied housing costs but not indirect taxes and as published by the Office for National Statistics) and RCV is also expected to be fully linked to CPIH in AMP8. As set out above, there are potential timing mismatches as tariffs cannot be adjusted intra-year. High levels of inflation also increase the risk of under-performance in its Capex Contracts, as a result of increasing construction inflation (labour, plant, materials) and the affordability of the original cost-benchmark. This could have an adverse impact on YWS’s financial position.

In addition, periods of rising inflation could also adversely impact the ability of YWS’s customers to pay their bills as part of the cost of living crisis, resulting in increases to the non-recoverability of customer debts which could impact its financial condition (see risk factor “Non-recovery of customer debt”).

These factors could affect YWS’s business, results of operations and overall financial condition, its ability to meet financial ratio and covenant requirements under the Common Terms Agreement (which may result in the occurrence of a Trigger Event or, ultimately, an Event of Default). Such factors could also impair YWS’s capacity to raise finance, comply with its obligations under the licence and legislation which could affect the payment of principal and interest under the Issuer/YWS Loan Agreement, and ultimately impair the Issuer’s ability to meet its obligations under the Bonds issued under the Programme. For more information on financial ratios and covenant requirements please see Chapter 7 “Overview of the Financing Agreements – Common Terms Agreement – Covenants - Trigger Events – Events of Default”.

Future Financing

The YW Financing Group will need to raise further debt from time to time in order, among other things, to:

- (i) finance future capital enhancements to YWS's asset base;
- (ii) on each date on which principal is required to be repaid and on the Maturity Date of the relevant Sub-Classes of Bonds, refinance the Bonds;
- (iii) paydown accretion by indexation to the notional amounts under RPI Linked Hedging Agreements; and
- (iv) refinance the YWSF Bonds and any other debt (including any RPI payments under an RPI Linked Hedging Agreement and for liquidity or working capital purposes) the terms of which have become inefficient or which have a scheduled partial or final maturity prior to the final maturity of the Bonds.

While the Common Terms Agreement and the STID contemplate the terms and conditions on, and circumstances under, which such additional indebtedness can be raised, there can be no assurance that the YW Financing Group will be able to raise sufficient funds, or funds at a suitable interest rate, or on suitable terms, at the requisite time such that the purposes for which such financing is being raised are fulfilled, and in particular such that all amounts then due and payable on the Bonds or any other maturing indebtedness will be capable of being so paid when due. For more information please see, Chapter 7 "Overview of the Financing Agreements - Common Terms Agreement".

Non-recovery of customer debt

Non-recovery of customer debt is a risk to YWS and may cause YWS's profitability to suffer. This risk is exacerbated by the current cost of living crisis and by high energy costs which are likely to disproportionately affect customers with lower incomes. The inability to recover customer debts accurately and in a timely fashion could result in a shortfall in recognised income which could have a consequential impact on YWS's financial performance and cash flow, and consequently on its ability to meet financial ratio and covenant requirements under the Common Terms Agreement (which may result in the occurrence of a Trigger Event or, ultimately, an Event of Default). There may also be an increased level of bad debt, resulting in increased operating costs (increased bad debt provisioning costs and increased collection activity). Non-recovery of customer bills above the allowance made by Ofwat is a risk to YWS and would cause its profitability to suffer. The WIA prohibits the disconnection of a water supply for domestic use in any premises as a result of customer non-payment and the limiting of a supply with the intention of enforcing payment for domestic use in any premises; although allowance is made by Ofwat in the price limits at each Periodic Review for a proportion of debt deemed to be irrecoverable. YWS may therefore suffer losses from its inability to recover its debts fully, which could have a material adverse impact on the business, financial condition or operational performance of YWS, which could in turn have an adverse impact on YWS's business, results of operations and overall financial condition, and consequently on its ability to meet financial ratio and covenant requirements under the Common Terms Agreement (which may result in the occurrence of a Trigger Event or, ultimately, an Event of Default). The incurrence of such losses may also impair YWS's ability to raise finance, comply with its obligations under the licence and legislation and may ultimately have an adverse impact on the Issuer's ability to meet its obligations under the Bonds issued under the Programme. For more information on financial ratios and covenant requirements please see Chapter 7 "Overview of the Financing Agreements – Common Terms Agreement – Covenants - Trigger Events – Events of Default".

Failure by YWS to deliver or finance its capital investment programme

The Appointed Business requires significant capital expenditure for additions to, or replacement of, plant and equipment. The price limits set by Ofwat every five years take into account the level of capital expenditure expected to be incurred during the relevant Periodic Review Period and the associated funding costs and operating costs.

If YWS is unable to deliver or finance its capital investment programme at expected expenditure levels, is unable to secure the expected level of efficiency savings on its capital investment programme, or the programme falls behind schedule or contains incorrect assumptions by YWS as to the capital investment required, YWS's ability to meet public, regulatory and political expectations, service standards, regulatory Performance Commitments and environmental performance standards could be adversely affected by such failure, which may result in penalties imposed by Ofwat or other sanctions (see "Breach of Instrument of Appointment Conditions" above) and the need for further increases in capital expenditure and operating expenditure by YWS. As well as contractual timeframes, Ofwat, EA or DWI may impose deadlines for completion of projects. While these deadlines can be extended with consent, failure to deliver any such projects within the set timeframe may result in regulatory enforcement action, reputational risk and financial penalties. YWS may therefore suffer losses which could have a material adverse impact on YWS's business, results of operations and overall financial condition, and consequently on its ability to meet financial ratio and covenant requirements under the Common Terms Agreement (which may result in the occurrence of a Trigger Event or, ultimately, an Event of Default), its ability to raise finance, and comply with its obligations under the licence and legislation and ultimately have an adverse impact on the Issuer's ability to meet its obligations under the Bonds issued under the Programme. For more information on financial ratios and covenant requirements please see Chapter 7 "Overview of the Financing Agreements – Common Terms Agreement – Covenants - Trigger Events – Events of Default".

Financing Structure Risks

Special purpose vehicle Issuer

The Issuer is a special purpose financing entity with no business operations other than raising external funding for YWS through the issuance of the Bonds, borrowing under the Liquidity Facilities and Authorised Credit Facilities and entering into Hedging Agreements. After the Closing Date, other than the proceeds of the issuance of Bonds, the Issuer's principal source of funds for making payments due on the Bonds is pursuant to the Issuer/YWS Loan Agreements and funds available to it pursuant to any DSR Liquidity Facilities and the Issuer/YWS Bond Loan Agreements. The Issuer has issued a guarantee in respect of the obligations of each of YWS and YWSF. YWSF is also a special purpose financing entity with no business operations other than having raised external funds for YWS through the issuance of the YWSF Bonds, and whose principal source of funds available to service debt will be pursuant to the YWSF/YWS Loan Agreements and the DSR Liquidity Facilities.

Therefore, the Issuer is subject to all the risks relating to revenues and expenses to which YWS is subject. Such risks could limit funds available to YWS to enable YWS to satisfy in full and on a timely basis its obligations under the Issuer/YWS Loan Agreements, the Issuer/YWS Bond Loan Agreements, the YWSF/YWS Loan Agreements and its guarantee under the Security Agreement.

Source of payments to Bondholders

Although any Class A Wrapped Bonds and Class B Wrapped Bonds issued by the Issuer will have the benefit of the relevant Financial Guarantee, none of the Bonds of any Class will be obligations or responsibilities of, nor are they guaranteed by, any of the Other Parties (other than the Guarantors and, in the case of the Wrapped Bonds, the relevant Financial Guarantor). The guarantee by YWH may be of limited value because it does not own, nor will it own, any significant assets other than its direct shareholding in YWS. The guarantee by YWSF may be of limited value because it does not own, nor will it own, any significant assets and, furthermore, YWSF has Financial Indebtedness outstanding under the Participating YWSF Bonds (which constitutes Class A Debt of the YW Financing Group) and Non-Participating YWSF Bonds. The guarantee by the Issuer in respect of Bonds issued by the other Issuer may be of limited value because the Issuer does not own, nor will it own, any significant assets.

In addition, a Financial Guarantor will only guarantee to the holders of the Class A Wrapped Bonds and holders of the Class B Wrapped Bonds issued by the Issuer the payment of scheduled principal and interest; it will not guarantee FG Excepted Amounts.

DSR Liquidity Facilities

YWS has agreed to procure that on any Payment Date, the aggregate of: (i) all amounts available for drawing under the DSR Liquidity Facilities in respect of Class A Debt and Class B Debt; and (ii) all aggregate amounts standing to the credit of the Debt Service Reserve Accounts (including the value of Authorised Investments funded from amounts standing to the credit of the Debt Service Reserve Accounts) are at least equal to the Required Balance. Investors should note that in certain circumstances, the Required Balance will be zero. The Required Balance was zero as at the Closing Date and may return to zero in the future. However, as at the date of this Prospectus, the Required Balance is greater than zero (see the definition of Required Balance in “Glossary of Defined Terms”).

If the Required Balance is greater than zero, the DSR Liquidity Facilities and any amounts credited to the Debt Service Reserve Accounts are intended to cover certain shortfalls in the ability of YWS to service payments of: (a) scheduled interest or certain other payments in respect of Senior Debt (including payments due to be made by YWS under the Issuer/YWS Loan Agreements, the Issuer/YWS Bond Loan Agreements and the YWSF/YWS Loan Agreements, to enable the Issuer or, as the case may be, YWSF to make interest payments due on the Bonds or, as the case may be, the Participating YWSF Bonds); or (b) certain other payments ranking in priority to or pari passu with the Bonds (excluding any principal repayments). However, on any such Interest Payment Date, there are no assurances that any such shortfalls will be met in whole or in part by amounts standing to the credit of the Debt Service Reserve Accounts or by the DSR Liquidity Facilities. For more information please see Chapter 7 “Overview of the Financing Agreements - Common Terms Agreement”.

Risks relating to the Bonds

Subordination of the Class B Bonds issued by the Issuer

Payments under the Class A Wrapped Bonds and the Class A Unwrapped Bonds (each of whatever Sub-Class) issued by the Issuer rank in priority to payments of principal and interest due on all Sub-Classes of the Class B Bonds. The Class A Wrapped Bonds and the Class A Unwrapped Bonds (each of whatever Sub-Class) rank pari passu.

If, on any Interest Payment Date or any date upon which such Class B Bond is to be redeemed (in whole or in part) prior to the taking of Enforcement Action, there are insufficient funds available to the Issuer to pay accrued interest or principal on the Class B Bonds (after taking into account, in respect of interest, any amounts available to be drawn under any DSR Liquidity Facility or from the Class B Debt Service Reserve Account of the Issuer), the Issuer’s liability to pay such accrued interest or principal will be treated as not having fallen due and will be deferred until the earliest of: (i) the next following Interest Payment Date on which the Issuer has, in accordance with the Payment Priorities, sufficient funds available to pay such deferred amounts (including any interest accrued thereon); (ii) the date on which the Class A Debt has been paid in full; and (iii) an Acceleration of Liabilities (other than a Permitted Hedge Termination, a Permitted Lease Termination or a Permitted EIB Compulsory Prepayment Event) and in the case of a Permitted Share Pledge Acceleration only to the extent that there would be sufficient funds available in accordance with the Payment Priorities to pay such deferred interest or principal (including any interest accrued thereon). Interest will accrue on such deferred interest or principal at the rate otherwise payable on unpaid principal of such Class B Bonds.

Notwithstanding the subordination of, and credit enhancement provided by, the Class B Bonds to the Class A Wrapped Bonds and Class A Unwrapped Bonds, the Issuer may, subject to certain conditions, optionally redeem some or all of the Bonds subordinated and providing credit enhancement to other Classes of Bonds.

It should be noted that all of the Payment Dates for the various different types of Class A Debt and Class B Debt will not necessarily coincide and that, until a Standstill Period has commenced, there is no obligation to ensure that a payment made to a holder of a Class B Bond (or any other Class B Debt Provider pursuant to any other Class B Debt) will not lead to a deficiency of funds to make payments in respect of Class A Debt that falls due on a later date.

Insolvency proceedings and subordination provisions

Following a number of actions (one of which has been stayed) in the U.S., there is uncertainty as to the validity and/or enforceability in the U.S. of a provision which (based on contractual and/or trust principles) subordinates certain payment rights of a creditor to the payment rights of other creditors of its counterparty upon the occurrence of insolvency proceedings relating to that creditor (so called “flip clauses”). Such provisions are similar in effect to certain of the terms which are included in Schedule 11 (Cash Management) to the Common Terms Agreement, in particular with respect to the subordination of payments to a hedge counterparty. In general, if a subordination provision included in the Finance Documents was successfully challenged under the insolvency laws of any relevant jurisdiction outside England and Wales (where the U.K. Supreme Court has upheld the validity of a flip clause), and any relevant foreign judgment or order was recognised by the English courts, there can be no assurance that such actions would not adversely affect the rights of the Bondholders, the market value of the Bonds and/or the ability of an Issuer to satisfy its obligations under the Bonds.

Rights available to Bondholders

The Bond Trust Deed contains provisions detailing the Bond Trustee’s obligations to consider the interests of the Bondholders as regards all powers, trusts, authorities, duties and discretions of the Bond Trustee (except where expressly provided otherwise). Where, in the sole opinion of the Bond Trustee, there is a conflict of interest between the interests of the holders of the Class A Bonds and the interests of the holders of the Class B Bonds, the Bond Trustee shall give priority to the interests of the holders of the Class A Bonds whose interests shall prevail. Where, in the sole opinion of the Bond Trustee there is a conflict of interest between the holders of two or more Sub-Classes of Bonds of the same Class, the Bond Trustee shall consider the interests of the holders of the Sub-Class of Bonds with the shortest dated maturity and, in either case, will not have regard to the consequences of such exercise for the holders of other Sub-Classes of Bonds or for individual Bondholders resulting from their being for any purpose domiciled or resident in, or otherwise connected with, or subject to the jurisdiction of, any particular territory or any political sub-division thereof. Subject to certain exceptions, to the extent that the exercise of any rights, powers, trusts and discretions of the Bond Trustee affects or relates to any Class A Wrapped Bonds or Class B Wrapped Bonds, the Bond Trustee shall only act on the instructions of the relevant Financial Guarantor(s) in accordance with the Bond Trust Deed. The STID provides that the Security Trustee (except in relation to certain Reserved Matters and Entrenched Rights as set out in the STID) will act on instructions of the relevant DIG Representative(s). When so doing, the Security Trustee is not required to have regard to the interests of any Finance Party (including the Bond Trustee as trustee for the Bondholders) in relation to the exercise of such rights and, consequently, has no liability to the Bondholders as a consequence of so acting.

Intercreditor Rights of Bondholders

The Bonds are subject to the provisions of the STID. The STID contains provisions enabling the Security Trustee to implement various modifications, consents and waivers in relation to the Finance Documents and the Bonds, subject to Entrenched Rights and Reserved Matters. See Chapter 7 “Overview of the Financing Agreements” under “Security Trust and Intercreditor Deed – Entrenched Rights and Reserved Matters” below. The Security Trustee is authorised to act on the instructions of the Class A DIG or, following repayment of the Qualifying Class A Debt, the Class B DIG.

Prior to a Default Situation or in respect of a STID Matter the subject of a valid Emergency Instruction Notice (in each case, other than in respect of Entrenched Rights and Reserved Matters), each Unwrapped Bondholder and, if an FG Event of Default has occurred and is continuing in relation to a Financial Guarantor, the relevant Wrapped Bondholders will be entitled to vote in the Class A DIG or, as the case may be, the Class B DIG, on a pound-for-pound basis through the clearing systems within a certain specified decision period (see Chapter 7 “Summary of the Financing Agreements - Security Trust and Intercreditor Deed - Bondholder Voting”).

Prior to a Default Situation and other than in respect of Entrenched Rights or Reserved Matters of the Bondholders, the Bond Trustee (in its capacity as DIG Representative of the Wrapped Bondholders (following the occurrence of an FG Event of Default which is continuing in respect of the Financial Guarantor of the relevant Wrapped Bonds) and/or the Unwrapped Bondholders) will not be entitled to convene a meeting of Bondholders to seek directions in respect of any vote.

During a Default Situation the Bond Trustee shall be entitled to vote and will be entitled to convene a meeting of Bondholders to seek directions from the relevant Unwrapped Bondholders and, if an FG Event of Default has occurred and is continuing in relation to a Financial Guarantor, the relevant Wrapped Bondholders in respect of such vote (and Bondholders will no longer be able to vote directly through the clearing systems unless a proposer of a STID Matter elects to utilise the Emergency Instruction Procedure) (see Chapter 7 “Overview of the Financing Agreements” under “Emergency Instruction Procedure”). In respect of a vote relating to Entrenched Rights and Reserved Matters, the Bond Trustee will be entitled to convene a meeting of Bondholders to seek directions from the Bondholders of each affected Series of Bonds in respect of such vote (and Bondholders will not be entitled to vote directly through the clearing systems in respect of such matters).

Accordingly, in respect of modifications, waivers or consents in respect of provisions of the Finance Documents (other than those in respect of Basic Terms Modifications (as defined in Condition 15 “Meetings of Bondholders, Modification, Waiver and Substitution”)), the votes of the Class A Bondholders or, following redemption in full of the Class A Bonds and repayment of all other Qualifying Class A Debt, the Class B Bondholders will be treated as a single class on a pound-for-pound basis with the other Secured Creditors in respect of Qualifying Debt. There is a risk that the votes of the Bondholders of the relevant Class may not constitute a majority in respect of modifications, waivers or consents. Such risk is increased due to the fact that prior to a Default Situation and in respect of a STID Matter the subject of a valid Emergency Instruction Notice (in each case, other than in respect of Entrenched Rights and Reserved Matters), only those votes of those Bondholders who participate in the vote within the specified decision period will be taken into account. Further, a vote in respect of the entire Outstanding Principal Amount of Class A Debt or, as the case may be, Class B Debt will be taken in respect of certain other Authorised Credit Facilities. It is possible that the interests of the Secured Creditors in respect of certain other Qualifying Debt will not be aligned with the interests of a Class or Sub-Class of Bondholders, and it is possible that, in relation to votes on certain matters, owing to the relative size of Senior Debt that is capable of being voted by Authorised Credit Providers other than the Bondholders, the Security Trustee is given an instruction that is not in the interests of the Bondholders.

Under the terms of the STID and the Common Terms Agreement, any further issues of debt securities by the Issuer must be made subject to the intercreditor arrangements contained in the Common Terms Agreement and the STID (to which the Bonds are also subject). No alteration of the rights of priority of the Class A Bondholders or, as the case may be, the Class B Bondholders may be made without the consent of the relevant Bondholders.

The Entrenched Rights and Reserved Matters may materially and adversely affect the exercise and proceeds of any enforcement of the Security. Subject to such Entrenched Rights and Reserved Matters and provided that the relevant Quorum Requirement has been met, the Majority Creditors may make a modification to, or grant any consent or waiver in respect of, the Finance Documents without the need to seek a confirmation from the Rating Agencies as to the then current ratings of the Bonds.

The consequences for YWS and the Issuer deriving from the occurrence of a Trigger Event and the restrictions on raising Financial Indebtedness in relation to financial covenants set in the Common Terms Agreement are untested. Although designed to protect Bondholders, the enforcement of such consequences (which may in the case of Trigger Events be subject to Entrenched Rights) may of themselves affect YWS's business, results of operations and overall financial condition and its ability to meet financial ratio and covenant requirements under its financings to raise further finance, operate its business and deliver investment in capital expenditure.

Independent Enforcement Rights of Non-Participating Bondholders

Certain holders of YWSF Bonds did not accept the Exchange Offer and retained ownership of their YWSF Bonds following completion of the Exchange Offer, with such YWSF Bonds becoming Non-Participating YWSF Bonds for the purposes of this Prospectus and the Finance Documents. The Non-Participating YWSF Bonds contain certain independent rights which are not regulated pursuant to the STID. Such rights include: (a) the right to declare the Non-Participating YWSF Bonds due and payable at par if default is made in the payment of any principal or interest on such Non-Participating YWSF Bonds or failure to perform or observe any of the other obligations of YWSF or YWS, in each case, within the prescribed grace period; and (b) the right to put the Non-Participating YWSF Bonds to YWSF at par if YWS's Instrument of Appointment is terminated or any one of certain prescribed events occur which is material to the operation of YWS's business as a Regulated Company and such event causes a downgrade in the rating of the Non-Participating YWSF Bonds.

However, for so long as any Non-Participating YWSF Bonds remain outstanding, YWSF will be permitted pursuant to the terms of any DSR Liquidity Facility entered into by YWSF from time to time, to make a claim or drawing under such DSR Liquidity Facility (or from its Non-Participating YWSF Bond Reserve Account if the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Required Balance has been met in whole or in part through monies standing to the credit of its Non-Participating YWSF Bond Reserve Account) in order to meet any shortfall in scheduled payments of interest or principal due in respect of the Non-Participating YWSF Bonds (other than the Exchanged YWSF Bonds). As at the date of this Prospectus, the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Required Balance is met in whole through monies standing to the credit of the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Reserve Account.

However, if there is no DSR Liquidity Facility available for drawing or in relation to which a claim can be made or, as the case may be, no monies standing to the credit of YWSF's Non-Participating YWSF Bond Reserve Account and YWSF and/or YWS fail to pay an amount due under the Non-Participating YWSF Bonds or if any one of the other rights of the Non-Participating YWSF Bonds described above are triggered resulting in the Non-Participating YWSF Bondholders taking Independent Enforcement Action, this could lead to the occurrence of an Insolvency Event in relation to YWS and/or YWSF and may adversely affect YWS's ability to satisfy on a timely basis its obligations under the Issuer/YWS Loan Agreements, the Issuer/YWS Bond Loan Agreements, the YWSF/YWS Loan Agreements and its guarantee under the Security Agreement and, ultimately, the Issuer's ability to make timely payment of interest and principal under the Bonds.

Trading in the clearing systems - integral multiples of less than the minimum Specified Denomination

In relation to any issue of Bonds which have a denomination consisting of the minimum Specified Denomination (set out in the applicable Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus) plus a higher integral multiple of another smaller amount, it is possible that the Bonds may be traded in amounts in excess of the minimum Specified Denomination that are not integral multiples of the minimum Specified Denomination. In such a case, a Bondholder who, as a result of trading such amounts, holds a principal amount of less than such minimum Specified Denomination will not receive a definitive Bond in respect of such holding (should definitive Bonds be printed) and would need to purchase a principal amount of Bonds such that it holds an amount equal to one or more of such Specified Denominations.

Rating of the Bonds

The ratings assigned by the Rating Agencies to the Wrapped Bonds are based solely on the ability of any Financial Guarantor to pay claims and reflect only the views of the Rating Agencies. The ratings assigned by the Rating Agencies to the Unwrapped Bonds reflect only the views of the Rating Agencies and in assigning the ratings the Rating Agencies take into consideration the credit quality of YWS and structural features and other aspects of the transaction.)

A rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold securities and will depend, among other things, on certain underlying characteristics of the business and financial condition of YWS, circumstances relating to the water and wastewater industry generally.

In general, United Kingdom regulated investors are restricted from using a rating for regulatory purposes if such rating is not issued by a credit rating agency established in the United Kingdom and registered under the Regulation (EC) No. 1060/2009 as it forms part of domestic law by virtue of the EUWA (the "UK CRA Regulation").

The FCA maintains on its website, www.fca.org.uk, a list of credit rating agencies registered in accordance with the UK CRA Regulation. This list is updated after the adoption by the FCA of any decisions to withdraw the registration of a credit rating agency under the UK CRA Regulation. However, such list is not conclusive evidence of the status of the relevant rating agency as there may be delays between certain supervisory measures being taken against a relevant rating agency and the publication of the updated list.

There is no assurance that any such ratings will continue for any period of time or that they will not be reviewed, revised, suspended or withdrawn entirely by the Rating Agencies (or any of them) as a result of changes in, or unavailability of, information or if, in the Rating Agencies' judgement, circumstances so warrant. If any rating assigned to the Bonds is lowered or withdrawn, the market value of the Bonds may be reduced. Future events, including events affecting YWS and/or circumstances relating to the water and wastewater industry generally, could have an adverse impact on the ratings of the Bonds.

Withholding Tax under the Bonds

In the event withholding taxes are imposed by or in any jurisdiction in respect of payments due under the Bonds, the Issuer is not obliged to gross-up or otherwise compensate Bondholders for the fact that the Bondholders will receive, as a result of the imposition of such withholding taxes, cash amounts which are less than those which would otherwise have been the case. The Issuer will, in such event, have the option (but not the obligation) of:

- (i) arranging for the substitution of another company in an alternative jurisdiction in place of the Issuer (subject to certain conditions); and, failing this,
- (ii) redeeming all Outstanding Bonds in full (subject to certain conditions).

See Chapter 8 “The Bonds” under “Terms and Conditions of the Bonds” and Condition 8(d) (Redemption for Index Event, Taxation or Other Reasons).

Likewise, in the event withholding taxes are imposed in respect of payments due under the Wrapped Bonds and the Relevant Financial Guarantor is called upon under its Financial Guarantee or Financial Guarantees to make payments in respect of such payments, such Financial Guarantor is not obliged to gross-up or otherwise compensate the holders of such Wrapped Bonds for the fact that such Wrapped Bondholders will receive, as a result of the imposition of any withholding taxes, cash amounts which are less than those which would otherwise have been the case. For a discussion of when any such UK withholding taxes may be imposed on payments by the Issuer, Guarantor or any Financial Guarantor, please see further Chapter 11 (Tax Considerations).

Change of Law

The structure of the transaction and, among other things, the issue of the Bonds and ratings assigned to the Bonds are based on law (including tax law) and administrative practice in effect at the date hereof and having due regard to the expected tax treatment of all relevant entities under such law and administrative practice. No assurance can be given that there will not be any change to such law, tax or administrative practice after the date of this Prospectus which change might impact on the Bonds and the expected payments of interest and repayment of principal.

Changes in Financial Reporting Standards

Certain provisions of the Transaction Documents contain certain conditions and/or triggers which are based upon an assessment of the financial condition of the YW Financing Group calculated by reference to the financial statements produced in respect of the companies in the YW Financing Group. These financial and other covenants are set at levels which are based on the current accounting principles, standards, conventions and practices adopted by the relevant companies.

Exceptional expenditure (for example but not limited to extreme weather events) has, under the provisions of the Common Terms Agreement, historically been disregarded for the purposes of calculating interest cover ratios. Changing accounting standards and guidance may, depending on the nature of such exceptional expenditure, affect whether such expenditure can then be shown as an exceptional item in the financial statements of YWS or need to be disclosed in full in other sections of the annual report and financial statements.

It is possible that any changes in these accounting principles, standards, conventions and practices which are adopted by the companies in the YW Financing Group may result in significant changes in the reporting of its financial performance. This, in turn, may necessitate that the terms of the conditions and triggers referred to above are renegotiated. Changes in accounting standards may also impact the tax position of the YW Financing Group and result in increased tax payments which may ultimately have an adverse effect on the ability of the Issuer to make payments due under the Bonds.

Factors which are material for the purpose of assessing the market risks associated with the Bonds under the Programme

Bonds subject to optional redemption by the Issuer

An optional redemption feature is likely to limit the market value of Bonds. During any period when the Issuer may elect to redeem Bonds, the market value of those Bonds generally will not rise substantially above the price at which they can be redeemed. This also may be true prior to any redemption period.

The Issuer may be expected to redeem Bonds when its cost of borrowing is lower than the interest rate on the Bonds. At those times, an investor generally would not be able to reinvest the redemption proceeds at an effective interest rate as high as the interest rate on the Bonds being redeemed and may only be able to do so at a significantly lower rate. Potential investors should consider reinvestment risk in light of other investments available at that time. Please see for further information Chapter 8 “The Bonds”, “Condition 8 (Redemption Purchase and Cancellation)” of the Conditions of the Bonds.

Index linked Bonds

Under the Programme, the Issuer may issue Bonds with principal or interest determined by reference to a specified inflation index during a reference period. Potential investors should be aware that they may lose all or a substantial portion of their principal of any index-linked Bonds issued under the Programme. The historical performance of an index should not be viewed as an indication of the future performance of such index. Inflation indexes may go down as well as up. Where Bonds in respect of which the amount of interest payable is subject to adjustment by reference to movements in an inflation index are issued, a decrease in such inflation index over the reference period will reduce the amount of interest payable in respect of such Bonds. In a deflationary environment, the annual interest received may be lower than the rate of interest specified in the applicable Final Terms. Where the amount payable upon redemption of the Bonds is subject to adjustment by reference to movements in an inflation index, a decrease in the specified inflation index over the reference period may reduce the amount to be repaid upon redemption of the Bonds to less than the nominal amount of the Bonds. Investors, as a consequence, may lose the value of their entire investment or part of it. The historical experience of the relevant inflation index should not be viewed as an indication of future performance of that inflation index during the term of any inflation linked Bonds. Accordingly, each potential investor should consult its own financial and legal advisers about the risk entailed by an investment in any inflation linked Bonds and the suitability of such Bonds in light of its particular circumstances.

Please see for further information Chapter 8 “The Bonds”, “Condition 7 (Indexation)” of the Conditions of the Bonds.

Fundamental Changes to RPI, CPI or CPIH

The formula used by the Office for National Statistics for calculating RPI, CPI or CPIH may change over time. Such a change in the methodology for calculating RPI, CPI or CPIH may affect the actual RPI, CPI or CPIH figure. Consequently, the amount of interest payable on each interest payment date and/or the amount to be repaid upon redemption of index linked Bonds may increase, or decrease, as a result of such a change to the RPI, CPI or CPIH figure. In particular, in March 2020, a public consultation was launched on proposals issued by the UK Statistics Authority (“UKSA”) on the timing and method of bringing CPIH methods and data sources into the RPI, including to cease the publication of RPI, and, in the interim, to change the methodology used for calculating the RPI with the aim of it converging with the methodology for calculating CPIH. In November 2020, the Government and the UKSA published their response to the consultation confirming that the methodology used for calculating the RPI will be aligned with the methodology for calculating CPIH no earlier than 2030. In April 2021 the trustees of the BT, Ford and Marks and Spencer pension schemes filed an application for a judicial review, which was granted in December 2021, over the legality of the planned change to the calculation of RPI. On 1 September 2022 the High Court ruled in favour of the Government, stating the proposed changes can legally and practically be made by the Government in February 2030. This High Court decision will have a significant impact on returns to index-linked gilt investors and other legacy users of RPI and it is unclear what, if any, further steps such investors may take. At the time of issue of any index linked Bonds, the applicability or non-applicability of Condition 7, as the case may be, in the case of a fundamental change to RPI, CPI or CPIH, as the case may be, may have a positive or negative impact on the amount of interest payable on each interest payment date and/or the amount to be repaid upon redemption of index linked Bonds. Each investor should consider carefully, and seek independent financial advice on, the impact of such changes on their investment.

Fixed/Floating Rate Bonds

Fixed/Floating Rate Bonds may bear interest at a rate that the Issuer may elect to convert from a fixed rate to a floating rate, or from a floating rate to a fixed rate. The Issuer's ability to convert the interest rate will affect the secondary market and the market value of such Bonds since the Issuer may be expected to convert the rate when it is likely to produce a lower overall cost of borrowing. If the Issuer converts from a fixed rate to a floating rate, the spread on the Fixed/Floating Rate Bonds may be less favourable than the prevailing spreads on comparable Floating Rate Bonds tied to the same reference rate. In addition, the new floating rate at any time may be lower than the rates on other Bonds. If the Issuer converts from a floating rate to a fixed rate, the fixed rate may be lower than the prevailing rates on its Bonds. Please see for further information Chapter 8 "The Bonds", "Condition 6 (Interest and other Calculations)" of the Conditions of the Bonds.

The market continues to develop in relation to SONIA as a reference rate for Floating Rate Bonds

As disclosed in Chapter 8 "The Bonds" under Condition 6 (Interest and other Calculations), the Issuer may issue Floating Rate Bonds referencing SONIA. Investors should be aware that the market continues to develop in relation to SONIA as a reference rate in the capital markets and its adoption as an alternative to Sterling London Interbank Offered Rate ("LIBOR"). In addition, market participants and relevant working groups are exploring alternative reference rates based on risk free rates including a term SONIA reference rate (which seek to measure the market's forward expectation of an average SONIA rate over a designated term) and the Bank of England started publishing the SONIA Compounded Index from 3 August 2020.

Accordingly, prospective Bondholders should be aware that the market continues to develop in relation to SONIA as a reference rate in the capital markets and its adoption as an alternative to Sterling LIBOR. For example, in the context of backwards looking SONIA rates, market participants and relevant working groups are currently assessing the differences between compounded rates and weighted average rates, and such groups are also exploring alternative reference rates based on SONIA, including forward-looking 'term' SONIA reference rates which seek to measure the markets forward expectation of an average SONIA rate over a designated term. The adoption of SONIA may also see component inputs into swap rates or other composite rates transferring from Sterling LIBOR or another reference rate to SONIA.

The market or a significant part thereof may adopt an application of SONIA that differs significantly from that set out in the Conditions and used in relation to Bonds that reference SONIA issued under this Prospectus. In addition, the methodology for determining any overnight rate index by reference to which the Interest Rate in respect of certain Bonds may be calculated could change during the life of the bonds. Furthermore, the Issuer may in the future also issue Bonds referencing SONIA that differ materially in terms of interest determination when compared with any previous SONIA referenced Bonds issued by it. The nascent development of SONIA as an interest reference rate for the Eurobond markets, as well as continued development of SONIA-based rates for such markets and the market infrastructure for adopting such rates, could result in reduced liquidity or increased volatility or could otherwise affect the market price of any SONIA-referenced Bonds issued under the Programme from time to time.

Further, interest on Bonds which reference SONIA is only capable of being determined immediately prior to the relevant Interest Payment Date. It may be difficult for investors in Bonds which reference SONIA to reliably estimate the amount of interest which will be payable on such Bonds. If Bonds referencing SONIA become due and payable as a result of an event of default under the Conditions, the rate of interest payable for the final Interest Period in respect of such Bonds shall only be determined immediately prior to the date on which the Bonds become due and payable and shall not be reset thereafter.

In addition, the manner of adoption or application of SONIA reference rates in the bond markets may differ materially compared with the application and adoption of SONIA in other markets, such as the derivatives and loan markets. Investors should carefully consider how any mismatch between the adoption of SONIA reference rates across these markets may impact any hedging or other financial arrangements which they may put in place in connection with any acquisition, holding or disposal of instruments referencing SONIA.

Investors should consider these matters when making their investment decision with respect to any Floating Rate Bonds referencing SONIA.

SONIA differs from other benchmarks in a number of material respects and has a limited history

Publication of SONIA has a limited history. The future performance of SONIA may therefore be difficult to predict based on the limited historical performance. The level of SONIA during the term of Bonds issued under the Programme may bear little or no relation to the historical level of SONIA. Prior observed patterns, if any, in the behaviour of market variables and their relation to SONIA such as correlations, may change in the future.

Furthermore, interest on Bonds which reference Compounded Daily SONIA is only capable of being determined immediately prior to the relevant Interest Payment Date. It may be difficult for investors in Bonds which reference such risk free rates to reliably estimate the amount of interest which will be payable on such Bonds, and some investors may be unable or unwilling to trade such Bonds without changes to their IT systems, both of which could adversely impact the liquidity of such Bonds. If Bonds referencing Compounded Daily SONIA become due and payable as a result of an event of default under Condition 11 (Event of Default), or are redeemed early on a date which is not an Interest Payment Date, the rate of interest payable for the final Interest Period in respect of such Bonds shall only be determined immediately prior to the date on which the Bonds become due and payable. Please see for further information Chapter 8 “The Bonds”, “Condition 6(b)(ii)” of the Conditions of the Bonds.

The administrator of SONIA may make changes that could change the value of SONIA or discontinue SONIA

The Bank of England (or a successor), as administrator of SONIA, may make methodological or other changes that could change the value of SONIA, including changes related to the method by which SONIA is calculated, eligibility criteria applicable to the transactions used to calculate SONIA, or timing related to the publication of SONIA. If the manner in which SONIA is calculated is changed, that change may result in a reduction of the amount of interest payable on such Bonds and the trading prices of such Bonds. In addition, the administrator may alter, discontinue or suspend calculation or dissemination of SONIA (in which case a fallback method of determining the interest rate on the Bonds will apply). The administrator has no obligation to consider the interests of Bondholders when calculating, adjusting, converting, revising or discontinuing SONIA.

Regulation and reform of EURIBOR and other “benchmarks” could adversely affect any Bonds linked to such “benchmarks”

Reference rates and indices, including interest rate benchmarks, such as EURIBOR which are used to determine the amounts payable under financial instruments or the value of such financial instruments (“Benchmarks”), have, in recent years, been the subject of political and regulatory scrutiny as to how they are created and operated. This has resulted in regulatory reform and changes to existing Benchmarks, with further changes anticipated.

These reforms and changes may cause a Benchmark to perform differently than it has done in the past or to be discontinued. Any change in the performance of a Benchmark or its discontinuation, could have a significant adverse effect on any Bonds referencing or linked to such Benchmark. More broadly, any of the international, national or other proposals of reform, or the general increased regulatory scrutiny of the benchmarks, could increase the costs and risks of administering or otherwise participating in the setting of a benchmark and complying with any such regulations or requirements. Such factors may have the effect of discouraging market participants from continuing to administer or contribute to certain “benchmarks” trigger changes in the rules or the methodologies used in certain “benchmarks” or lead to the discontinuance or unavailability of quotes on certain “benchmarks”.

On 21 September 2017, the European Central Bank announced that it would be part of a new working group tasked with the identification and adoption of a "risk free overnight rate" which can serve as a basis for an alternative to current benchmarks used in a variety of financial instruments and contracts in the euro area. On 13 September 2018, the working group on Euro risk-free rates recommended the new Euro short-term rate ("€STR") as the new risk-free rate for the euro area. The €STR was published for the first time on 2 October 2019 and on 4 December 2023, the working group issued its final statement, announcing the completion of its mandate. Although EURIBOR has been reformed in order to comply with the terms of the EU Benchmarks Regulation and the UK Benchmarks Regulation, it remains uncertain as to how long it will continue in its current form, or whether it will be further reformed or replaced with €STR or an alternative benchmark.

At this time, it is not possible to predict the effect of any establishment of alternative reference rates or any other reforms to EURIBOR that may be enacted. Uncertainty as to the nature of such alternative reference rates or other reforms may adversely affect the trading market for EURIBOR-linked securities. The potential elimination of benchmarks such as EURIBOR, the establishment of alternative reference rates or changes in the manner of administration of such a benchmark could also require adjustments to the terms of the benchmark-linked securities and may result in other consequences such as interest payments that are lower than, or that do not otherwise correlate over time with, the payments that would have been made on those securities if the relevant benchmark was available in its current form. Each potential investor should consult its legal advisers (or any other relevant independent advisers) to make their own assessment about the potential risks relating to the effect of any establishment of alternative reference rates or any other reforms to EURIBOR that may be enacted. Please see for further information Chapter 8 “The Bonds”, “Condition 6 (Interest and other Calculations)” of the Conditions of the Bonds.

The EU Benchmarks Regulation and the UK Benchmarks Regulation could adversely affect any Bonds linked to a “benchmark”

Regulation (EU) 2016/1011 (the “EU Benchmarks Regulation”) was published in the official journal on 29 June 2016 and has applied from 1 January 2018 (with the exception of provisions specified in Article 59 (mainly on critical benchmarks) that applied from 30 June 2016). The EU Benchmarks Regulation applies to the provision of benchmarks, the contribution of input data to a benchmark and the use of a benchmark within the EU. Among other things: it (i) requires benchmark administrators to be authorised or registered (or, if non-EU-based, to be subject to an equivalent regime or otherwise recognised or endorsed) and to comply with the extensive requirements in relation to the administration of benchmarks; and (ii) prevents certain uses by EU supervised entities of benchmarks of administrators that are not authorised or registered (or, if non-EU based, not deemed equivalent or recognised or endorsed).

The UK Benchmarks Regulation (Regulation (EU) No.2016/1011 as it forms part of domestic law by virtue of the EUWA), among other things, applies to the provision of benchmarks and the use of a benchmark in the UK. Similarly, it prohibits the use in the UK by UK supervised entities of benchmarks of administrators that are not authorised by the FCA or registered on the FCA register (or, if non-UK based, not deemed equivalent or recognised or endorsed).

Both the EU Benchmarks Regulation and UK Benchmarks Regulation could have a material impact on any Bonds linked to EURIBOR or another benchmark rate or index, including in any of the following circumstances:

- (i) a “benchmark” ceases to be published, calculated or administered;
- (ii) an index which is a “benchmark” could not be used by a supervised entity in certain ways if its administrator does not obtain authorisation or register, or if based outside of the UK or in a non-EU jurisdiction, the administrator is not otherwise recognised as equivalent; and
- (iii) the methodology or other terms of the “benchmark” could be changed in order to comply with the terms of the EU Benchmarks Regulation and/or UK Benchmarks Regulation (as applicable), and such changes could (amongst other things) have the effect of reducing or increasing the rate or level or affecting the volatility of the published rate or level of the benchmark.

Either of the above could potentially lead to the Bonds being de-listed or redeemed early or otherwise affected depending on the particular “benchmark” and applicable terms of the Bonds. Please see for further information Chapter 8 “The Bonds” and the Conditions of the Bonds.

Fallback arrangements could adversely affect Floating Rate Bonds

In addition, the potential elimination of a benchmark, or changes in the manner of administration of any benchmark, could require or result in an adjustment to the interest provisions of the Terms and Conditions, or result in other consequences, in respect of any Bonds linked to such benchmark. Furthermore, even prior to the implementation of any changes, uncertainty as to the nature of the alternative reference rates and as to potential changes to such benchmark may adversely affect such benchmark during the terms of the relevant Bonds, the return on the relevant Bonds and the trading market for securities (including the Bonds) based on the same benchmark.

Where Screen Rate Determination is specified as the manner in which the Interest Rate in respect of Floating Rate Bonds is to be determined, the Conditions provide that the Interest Rate shall be determined by reference to the Page (or its successor or replacement).

Where the Page is not available, and no successor or replacement for the Page is available, where the Floating Rate Option specified is a “EURIBOR” Floating Rate Option, the Conditions provide for the Interest Rate to be determined by the Calculation Agent by reference to quotations from banks communicated to the Calculation Agent. Where such quotations are not available (as may be the case if the relevant banks are not submitting rates for the determination of such original Reference Rate), the Interest Rate may ultimately revert to the Interest Rate applicable as at the last preceding Interest Determination Date before the original Reference Rate was discontinued. Uncertainty as to the continuation of the original Reference Rate, the availability of quotes from reference banks, and the rate that would be applicable if the original Reference Rate is discontinued may adversely affect the value of, and return on, the Floating Rate Bonds.

Where the Page is not available, and no successor or replacement for the Page is available, where the Floating Rate Option specified is a “SONIA” Floating Rate Option, the Conditions provide for the Interest Rate to be determined by the Calculation Agent by reference to the Bank of England’s base rate plus the five-day mean of the spread of the SONIA Reference Rate to the Bank of England’s base rate. Where the Bank of England Base rate is not available, the Interest Rate may ultimately revert to the Interest Rate applicable as at the last preceding Interest Determination Date before the original Reference Rate was discontinued.

Where ISDA Determination is specified as the manner in which the Interest Rate in respect of Floating Rate Bonds is to be determined, the Conditions provide that the Interest Rate in respect of the Bonds shall be determined by reference to the relevant Floating Rate Option in either the 2006 ISDA Definitions or the 2021 ISDA Definitions and the ISDA Benchmark Supplement. Where the Floating Rate Option specified is a “EURIBOR” Floating Rate Option, the Interest Rate may be determined by reference to the relevant screen rate or the rate determined on the basis of quotations from certain banks. If EURIBOR is permanently discontinued and the relevant screen rate or quotations from banks (as applicable) are not available, the operation of these provisions may lead to uncertainty as to the Interest Rate that would be applicable, and may, adversely affect the value of, and return on, the Floating Rate Bonds. Each potential investor should consult its legal advisers (or any other relevant independent advisers) to make their own assessment about the potential risks associated with the elimination of a benchmark, or changes in the manner of administration or calculation of any benchmark, which could require or result in an adjustment to the interest payable in respect of any Bonds linked to such benchmark. Investors should carefully consider how any mismatch between the adoption of benchmarks and/or fallbacks under the Bonds may be different to or may impact upon any hedging or other financial arrangements which the Issuer and/or YWS is a party to. Please see for further information Chapter 8 “The Bonds”, “Condition 6 (Interest and other Calculations)” of the Conditions of the Bonds.

Risks associated with Green Bonds, Social Bonds and Sustainability Bonds

Prospective investors who intend to invest in any Green Bonds, Social Bonds or Sustainability Bonds (collectively, the “Sustainable Bonds”) must determine for themselves the relevance of the information in the Programme and the relevant Final Terms by consulting with legal and other advisers and conducting any other investigation deemed necessary. There is currently no globally accepted framework or definition (legal, regulatory or otherwise) of, nor market consensus around, a “green”, “sustainability” or “social” or an equivalently-labelled investment. If developed, the Sustainable Bonds may not comply with any such definition and their green / social / sustainable status (including, in relation to Regulation (EU) 2019/2088 on sustainability-related disclosures in the financial services sector and any implementing legislation, or any similar legislation in any jurisdiction) could be withdrawn at any time. Regulation (EU) 2023/2631 on European Green Bonds and optional disclosures for bonds marketed as environmentally sustainable and for sustainability-linked bonds, which will apply from 21 December 2024 introduces a voluntary label (the “European Green Bond Standard”) for issuers of green use of proceeds bonds where the proceeds will be invested in economic activities aligned with Regulation (EU) 2020/852 on the establishment of a framework to facilitate sustainable investment (the “EU Taxonomy Regulation”) or Regulation (EU) 2020/852 as its forms part of domestic law in the UK by virtue of the EUWA. Any Sustainable Bonds issued under this Programme will not be aligned with such European Green Bond Standard and are intended to comply with the Yorkshire Water Sustainable Finance Framework only. It is not clear what impact the European Green Bond Standard may have on investor demand, pricing and liquidity of green use of proceeds bonds that do not meet such standard (such as the Sustainable Bonds).

Although the Issuer may agree to certain reporting and use of proceeds obligations while issuing Sustainable Bonds, failure to comply would not be an event of default. There is no direct contractual link between any Sustainable Bonds and any green targets of the Issuer. Therefore, payments of interest, principal or other amounts payable and rights to accelerate under the Bonds will not be impacted by the performance of Eligible Green Portfolio, Social Eligible Portfolio or Sustainable Eligible Portfolio funded out of the Bond proceeds.

If any Sustainable Bonds are listed or admitted to trading on a dedicated "sustainable" or other equivalently-labelled segment of any stock exchange or securities market (whether or not regulated), no representation or assurance is given by the Obligors, Arranger, Dealers (or any of their respective affiliates) or any other person that such listing or admission satisfies, whether in whole or in part, any present or future investor expectations or investment criteria as a result of any present or future law or regulations, its own by-laws, governing rules or mandates, in particular with regard to any direct or indirect green, social or sustainable impact of any projects or uses of proceeds. The criteria for such listings or admissions may vary between stock exchanges or securities market.

No assurance or representation is or can be given or made to investors by the Obligors, Arranger, Dealers (or any of their respective affiliates) or any other person that (i) the Green Eligible Categories, Eligible Green Portfolio, Social Eligible Categories, Eligible Social Portfolio, Sustainability Eligible Categories or Eligible Sustainability Portfolio (each as defined in Chapter 9 "Use of Proceeds") will meet or continue to meet any or all investor expectations regarding investment in "green bonds", "green", "social bonds", "social", "sustainability bonds", "sustainability" or "ESG" or equivalently-labelled investments; (ii) no adverse sustainable and/or other impacts will occur while implementing any projects or uses of the proceeds or that the Sustainable Bonds will comply with future standards or requirements for being Sustainable Bonds; or (iii) any listing or admission to trading on a "sustainable" or other equivalently-labelled segment of any stock exchange or securities market will be obtained or maintained. Furthermore, neither the Arranger nor the Dealers have undertaken any assessment of, nor are they responsible for verifying whether the (i) Eligible Green Investments fall within the Green Eligible Categories; (ii) Eligible Social Investments fall within the Social Eligible Categories; or (iii) Eligible Sustainability Investments fall within the Sustainability Eligible Categories, nor monitoring the use of proceeds of any Sustainable Bonds.

The Issuer and/or YWS may request third parties with applicable expertise to issue an opinion or certification: (i) confirming that the Eligible Green Portfolio has been defined as per the broad categorisation of eligibility for green investments in the International Capital Market Association ("ICMA")'s 2021 edition of the Green Bond Principles with the June 2022 Appendix (the "ICMA Green Bond Principles") and the Loan Market Association's (the "LMA") 2023 edition of the Green Loan Principles ("LMA Green Loan Principles"); (ii) confirming that the Eligible Social Portfolio has been defined as per the broad categorisation of eligibility for social investments in ICMA's 2023 edition of the Social Bond Principles (the "ICMA Social Bond Principles") and LMA's 2023 edition of the Social Loan Principles (the "LMA Social Loan Principles"); (iii) confirming that the Eligible Sustainability Portfolio has been defined as per the broad categorisation of eligibility for sustainability investments in the ICMA's 2021 version of the Sustainability Bond Guidelines (the "ICMA Sustainability Bond Guidelines"); and/or (iv) regarding the suitability of the Sustainable Bonds as against environmental, social and/or sustainable standards (any such opinion or certification, an "External Review"). Investors should note that neither the Dealers nor any of their affiliates have undertaken, nor are they responsible for, any assessment of the ICMA Green Bond Principles or any verification of whether the Eligible Green Portfolio complies with the ICMA Green Bond Principles.

Any External Review and the Yorkshire Water Sustainable Finance Framework are not, nor deemed to be, incorporated into this Prospectus and may not reflect the potential risks or factors that may affect the value of the Sustainable Bonds, Eligible Green Portfolio, Eligible Social Portfolio or Eligible Sustainability Portfolio. An External Review and/or the Yorkshire Water Sustainable Finance Framework is not a recommendation by the Obligors, Arranger, Dealers (or any of their respective affiliates) or any other person to buy, sell or hold the Sustainable Bonds. Any External Review is only current as at its issue date and its providers are not required to subsequently update it. Currently, the providers of External Reviews are not subject to any specific regulatory or other regime or oversight. The withdrawal of an External Review and/or the Yorkshire Water Sustainable Finance Framework may affect the value of Sustainable Bonds and/or have consequences for investors with mandates to invest in green, social and/or sustainable assets. No assurance or representation is given by the Obligors, Arranger, Dealers (or any of their respective affiliates) or any other person as to (i) the suitability or reliability of any External Review or other opinion by a third party (whether or not solicited by the Obligors) or (ii) whether an External Review and/or the Yorkshire Water Sustainable Finance Framework will comply with any present or future investor expectations or investment criteria. The Bondholders have no recourse to the Obligors, Arranger or any Dealers (or any of their respective affiliates), providers of any External Review, nor YWS in respect of the Yorkshire Water Sustainable Finance Framework, for its contents.

The failure to apply the Sustainable Bond proceeds towards an eligible project, the withdrawal of any External Review, the issue of an External Review attesting that the Issuer is not complying with any matters for which the External Review was issued and/or the withdrawal of listing or admission to trading of the Bonds on any stock exchange or securities market as aforesaid may have a material adverse effect on the value of Sustainable Bonds and also potentially the value of any other Bonds and/or result in adverse consequences for certain investors with portfolio mandates to invest in securities used for a particular purpose.

CHAPTER 5 DESCRIPTION OF THE YW FINANCING GROUP

In 2009, the YW Financing Group was established as a ring-fenced financing group separating YWS financially and operationally from the rest of the Kelda Group.

Chapter 3 “Overview of the Financing Structure” contains a structure chart showing the YW Financing Group.

YWS is subject to economic regulation as further described in this Prospectus. As such, YWS’s operational performance can impact on its financial performance through the incentive and penalties systems which Ofwat has in place. In YWS’s view, such operational performance figures are not financial measures and as such not alternative performance measures unless specifically disclosed as such.

YWS – the Company

There are 11 water and sewerage companies in England and Wales and six water-only companies. YWS is the fifth largest of the water and sewerage companies.

Area of Appointment

Under the WIA, YWS has been appointed as a water and sewerage undertaker for a geographic area occupying approximately 14,300 square kilometres, encompassing the former county of Yorkshire and part of North Derbyshire, which broadly covers an area from Sheffield and Chesterfield in the south, to Skipton and Leyburn in the west, to Hull, Scarborough and Whitby on the east coast and Northallerton in the north. The estimated total population served by YWS within this region is approximately 5.5 million people.

Operational and Financial Overview

YWS collects and treats circa 1.3 billion litres of water every day, treating the product to regulated standards and a quality that is fit for human consumption, and distributing to five and a half million consumers daily. YWS collects, treats and returns to the environment 2.2 billion litres of wastewater and rainwater every day.

Based on YWS’s annual report and financial statements for the year ended 31 March 2024, revenue increased by 7.2% to £1,227 million, driven by inflationary increased in tariffs of around £118 million

(but offset by the level of net ODI penalties and reversal of some over recovery in revenue from the previous year), while costs increased by a similar level. The main cost increase resulted from an increase in contracted services and further investment in repair and maintenance work to address higher volume of incidents due to the high levels of rainfall experience during the year. YWS improved productivity and lowered its energy costs, including through the self-generation of electricity. This helped YWS mitigate operational cost pressures, such as those from adverse weather conditions described above. For the year ended 31 March 2024, the value of YWS's Appointed Business earning a return on investment (known as “regulatory capital value” or “RCV”) was £9,132.2 million (31 March 2023: £8,714.6 million). The increase reflects the level of capital investment over the 2024 year, along with inflation using March 2024 CPIH/RPI. Net interest payable in the financial year ended 31 March 2024 dropped 33% to £209 million partly due to shareholder cash injections and steps taken to manage the treasury portfolio

To meet regulatory requirements and achieve its service objectives, YWS has a substantial capital investment programme extending throughout AMP7 (the “AMP7 Period”) and into subsequent AMP Periods. In 2024, YWS completed all required projects by the regulatory date commitments and capital expenditure increased to £684.6m (2023: £534.1m) due to the phased delivery of the Water Industry National Environment Programme (“WINEP”) within Asset Management Period (“AMP”) 7 (the five years from 1 April 2020 to 31 March 2025) and delivery of other capital schemes with regulatory completion dates towards the end of the AMP. YWS anticipates that 2025 expenditure will increase further to around £800 million as it continues to deliver its WINEP and meet the regulatory delivery obligations for approximately 382 schemes, and realises the cost of delivery of its £180m storm overflow investment which will lead to an average reduction of discharges by 20% from the 2021 baseline figure. As part of this planned investment, YWS identified 130 of its most frequently operating overflows as at 31 March 2024 (and continues to identify more sites) and is making improvements to these sites, including an investment of £1 million at Whitby to separate surface water from wastewater before it enters the sewer network. This is expected to reduce the use of the overflow by 25%. YWS is also building wetlands in Pontefract and South Emsall. Wetlands are a series of interconnected ponds which treats wastewater by the actions of the plants and soil as the wastewater travels through the wetland. They will be designed to intercept existing overflows and will treat wastewater to a higher standard before it is discharged into the waterflow. 95% of the projects are under contract and nearly 25% are either on site or completed.

YWS continues to evaluate proposals and opportunities for the business in accordance with YWS's ‘Six Capitals’ sustainable accounting approach. The framework helps YWS make more informed decisions with a fuller understanding of their wider environmental and social implications, both now and in the future. It also provides a means by which to measure progress towards YWS’ strategic objectives.

For the year ended 31 March 2024, YWS has invested around £224m through its WINEP on improving the environment in Yorkshire and investigating the impact of its activities. The WINEP covers a broad range of requirements across the entire Yorkshire region, for both its clean water and wastewater activities. It includes management and improvement of land, the sources of clean water, the environmental impacts of reservoirs and abstractions, and the impacts of the wastewater YWS releases. The range of solutions vary from conventional engineering approaches, to its largest ever programme of catchment interventions.

YWS have also set out its WINEP plans for environmental improvements for the period from 2025 to 2030 as part of its PR24 Business Plan. YWS will be embarking on its largest ever environmental improvement plan, which will protect and improve the quality of water in its rivers and at its coasts, leading to cleaner, safer water environments that support recreation and biodiversity across the region.

The most significant area of investment will be in the wastewater treatment works, which will see reductions in nutrients such as phosphorus and nitrogen. Where appropriate to do so, YWS will maximise the use of nature-based solutions to support improvements to biodiversity, net-zero, access, amenity and community engagement. YWS will continue to work collaboratively and in partnership with others delivering the joined-up approach that is one of its strategic pillars. Alongside delivery of large infrastructure programmes to protect and enhance the environment, YWS has delivered actions to support biodiversity and species conservation.

YWS owns approximately 28,000 hectares of land, making it the second largest landowner in Yorkshire. YWS works with its tenants and partners to provide environmental benefits such as peatland restoration, flood management, recreation, farming, wildlife conservation and carbon storage.

The Business

Water Resources

Water resources fall into two basic categories: (i) surface water (primarily sourced from reservoirs and rivers); and (ii) groundwater (principally from aquifers or other underground sources). Abstractions from these sources are made pursuant to abstraction licences issued by the EA.

Treatment Infrastructures

Abstracted water is treated at water treatment works prior to distribution to customers through water mains and service pipes. Following treatment, water is stored in one of 426 enclosed service reservoirs and water towers which serve to balance the rates of production and demand. Water from groundwater sources can be of such good quality that only disinfection is necessary while surface water, particularly that from upland sources, requires more advanced treatment often involving at least three stages.

Distribution

YWS distributes treated water through its trunk and distribution mains. These mains are of differing age and condition. YWS also has 501 treated water pumping stations. At the centre of the network is the integrated Yorkshire “Grid” which is a large diameter (raw and treated water) trunk main system connecting 99 per cent. of the Yorkshire supply area. The Grid provides flexibility and resilience in managing raw water and meeting customer demand.

Supply and Demand Management

To ensure that there is sufficient water to supply YWS’s customers, both now and in the future, YWS needs to manage its water resources, treatment and distribution efficiently and effectively. This is assessed through the water resources management plan (the “Water Resources Management Plan”) which is reviewed and revised every five years and shows how YWS plans to maintain a secure supply of water to all YWS customers. The Water Resources Management Plan 2019 was published as a final version in April 2020 following consultation and following instruction from DEFRA. It can be found at <https://www.yorkshirewater.com/resources>.

The Water Resources Management Plan 2019 shows that in the baseline scenario, without activity to address it, there is a forecast supply/demand deficit from 2034/35 onwards. This deficit will be met through planned leakage reduction in the remainder of AMP6 and during AMP7.

In November 2022 the YWS Draft Water Resources Management Plan 2024 was published for consultation (the plan can be found at <https://yorkshirewater.com/resources>).

Following the consultation period which ended in February 2023, YWS submitted a Revised Draft Water Resources Management Plan 2024 to Defra in October 2023. A further revision of the Revised Draft Water Resources Management Plan 2024 was submitted in May 2024 following DEFRA’s request for further information in February 2024. YWS currently expect to be informed of the Ministerial decision to publish its final WRMP24 in Autumn 2024.

The Revised Draft Water Resources Management Plan 2024 has identified some significant risks to the future supply/demand balance. The plan to mitigate the deficit includes a twin track approach that will deliver demand reduction and increase the YWS available water supply.

In relation to measures and strategies to contain and manage the demand for water from customers, YWS has a comprehensive water efficiency strategy in place. This includes promotion of water efficiency to customers through advice and practical measures. The aim of these initiatives is to raise customer awareness of the need to use water more conservatively. YWS provides customers with water saving advice and access to water saving products and supports relevant research.

YWS is also working to reduce water use at its own operational sites.

YWS seeks to maintain a level of service equivalent to one hosepipe ban (now called temporary use bans) every 25 years. In August 2022 following much drier than average rainfall in spring and summer YWS implemented a temporary hosepipe ban (the first since 1996) which was lifted in December 2022.

Drinking Water Quality

YWS has continued to maintain a high level of compliance with mandatory EU and UK drinking water quality standards. This high level of compliance has been largely achieved as a result of ongoing investment improving drinking water quality throughout previous AMP Periods and this will continue with new commitments during AMP7 to give further improvements.

Leakage Control and Security of Supply

Customers require YWS to reduce leakage, particularly when provided with information about performance in comparison to other water companies. YWS is making good progress in reducing leakage in line with industry targets to reduce leakage by 15 per cent. by 2025. YWS remains committed to a longer-term ambition to reduce this further and support increasing challenge on YWS's resilience to climate change.

Wastewater Treatment Works

The largest wastewater treatment works are located at Knostrop (Leeds), Blackburn Meadows (Sheffield) and Hull, each serving population equivalents of over 500,000 people.

A £600 million enhancement programme is being undertaken in AMP7 involving phosphorus removal at over 80 sites to improve the quality of water discharged into rivers. The level of investment is significant and includes projects at Knostrop (c.£60m), Blackburn Meadows (c.£40m), Killinghall (c.£19m), Dewsbury (c.£18m), Dronfield (c.£10m) and five sites across Barnsley (c.£11m). YWS expects to meet their regulatory obligations as a result of these schemes. Enhanced monitoring of flow and storm overflows is also being undertaken funded from additional investment of approximately £200 million.

Bioresources

YWS's bioresources business is responsible for the transport, treatment and recycling of sewage sludge. YWS takes partially treated sewage to generate renewable energy and quality products that go to agriculture, thereby creating value from waste and reducing carbon emissions. The bioresources market is estimated to be worth up to £1.6 billion in the UK and Yorkshire Water currently spends around 8 per cent. of its annual operating costs treating sludge. YWS generated 224 GWh of renewable energy in 2023, resulting in an impact of £25 million for the business.

YWS's AMP7 plans for bioresources centre around continuing to provide this high-quality service as efficiently as possible in the context of a growing population and extreme weather events. This includes maximising energy generation at YWS's sites and embracing the sludge treatment competitive market as part of an industry-wide effort to drive efficiency, boost resilience and deliver further innovation within the water sector. YWS's bioresources plan for 2020 to 2025 also includes offering more opportunities for third-party companies to enhance how YWS transports, treats and recycles sludge and extract additional value from the biogas produced by the sludge treatment process.

Around 150,000 dry tonnes of sewage sludge are treated each year by Yorkshire Water. Through the treatment facilities at Knostrop Leeds and Huddersfield, combined with existing regional facilities, YWS will convert all of its sludge waste into renewable energy through a process known as anaerobic digestion.

By the end of AMP7 Yorkshire Water will have 13 sludge treatment centres. These are plants across the region treating sludge, converting it into a fertiliser, and creating a biogas that can be turned into electricity. This electricity is used to offset additional electricity costs that would otherwise be purchased to operate the largest sewage treatment works. The renewable energy benefits of sludge treatment will help YWS with its commitment to be net zero and keep customer bills low.

Customer Charges

Charges for water supply and sewerage services are calculated separately based on the average costs of providing each service for each class of customer. Customers with unmetered supplies are billed primarily in advance on an annual basis, with payment being annually, semi-annually or by instalments. For supplies of metered water, non-domestic customers are billed periodically, depending on the volume of their consumption, and domestic customers are normally billed quarterly, in arrear.

YWS has a growing number of bulk water supply and discharge agreements with new appointees (NAVs) which require bulk charging arrangements to be put in place. YWS follows Ofwat's prevailing guidance with respect to the setting of charges for bulk supplies to NAVs in the region, YWS also has a small number of Existing Bulk Water Supply Contracts, which are determined on an individual basis, as are charges for some larger trade effluent customers. Trade effluent from industrial users is normally charged on a formulaic basis taking account of the volume of wastewater, its strength and costs of removal and treatment.

Separate charges are made for water supply and sewerage services, and the combined average water supply and sewerage services bill for both metered and unmetered domestic customers in the 2023/24 billing period was approximately £441 (2022/23: £414).

YWS has placed metered charge bases on all new properties and those properties which have been converted into flats since 1989. YWS is also entitled to place metered charges on domestic customers who have certain categories of non-essential water use (for example, customers having a swimming pool or a garden irrigation system). In addition, all domestic customers can opt to have a meter fitted, where practicable, without incurring a charge.

In respect of non-domestic use, almost all commercial customers pay for water usage by volume, the only exceptions being in cases where metering has proved impractical or uneconomic.

In 2020/21 YWS experienced a reduction in the rates of new meters being installed in existing residential (i.e. not new build) homes. This was due to a number of factors including government restrictions, changing customer preferences, new YWS policies to protect colleagues and customers and a decline in demand driven by changing working habits. This has since reversed and YWS saw an increase in installation rates in 2021/22, and while this has been maintained in the current financial year, it still falls short of Ofwat expectations. During the next financial year, YWS expects the cost of living crisis to impact customer demand and to result in a further increase in installation levels.

YWS annually publishes its charges for the new connections services it provides to developers, self-lay providers and NAVs. These charges are set to reflect the costs to provide the services, and are assured to be compliant with Ofwat's charging rules for new connections services. In May 2024, Ofwat consulted on making changes to its charging rules to further protect customers with limited market choice. Ofwat is also developing an environmental incentives framework to promote the building of sustainable new homes by developers targeting lower domestic water use.

Bad Debts

Under the WIA, regulated water and waste water companies are legally prevented from disconnecting household customers from their water supply for failure to pay bills. Retail non-household customers, however, may be subject to a number of actions, including disconnection where persistent failure to settle charge occurs. YWS, through the use of a dedicated billing call centre (which is operated by Loop Customer Management Limited), contacts customers who are in arrears and arranges payment plans wherever possible.

YWS's debt prevention and management strategy focuses on targeted collection strategies for different groups of customers ranging from customers who cannot pay to those who will not pay. This targeted approach uses information held by YWS and data sourced from credit reference agencies. YWS was the first water company in the UK to start sharing data with credit reference agencies. Access to credit reference agency data allows access to a wide range of data improving the accuracy of YWS's collections decisions targeting either enforcement or hardship strategies to the most appropriate customers.

YWS plans to increase the number of financially vulnerable customers it supports with paying their water bills by helping over 100,000 customers every year by the end of AMP7 and keep the cost of bad debt at no greater than 3.75 per cent. of the average household bill.

The bad debt charge (as a percentage of revenue) is an alternative performance measure. The level of household bad debt provisions recognised by YWS is based on a management estimate of future cash collection derived from historic, current and forward looking information. A high level of uncertainty remains around how current economic conditions could impact the recoverability of household debtors, particularly in the light of the current cost of living crisis and by high energy costs which have adversely impacted typical households disposable income affecting some customers' ability to pay. It is included in this Prospectus to allow potential Bondholders to better assess YWS's performance and business.

Outsourcing

The principal activities that YWS outsources relate to its customer services activities, capital investment programme and several of its day-to-day maintenance operations. This is a common and long-standing practice among the water and sewerage undertakers in the UK. YWS has controls and processes in place to ensure appropriate risk assessment and management is applied when entering into outsourcing contracts and in selecting partners. Framework contracts exist with those partners engaged in delivering the largest capital schemes and all new capital projects are subject to a consistent review and authorisation process.

In a typical year YWS will make new contract arrangements for c£200 million of spend. This will vary during the five-year investment period; particularly when the construction frameworks for the delivery of assets (the "Delivery Frameworks") are let, which are typically valued at c£1 billion. In FY 23/24 the most significant contracts which have been let, relate to:

- IT Partner Framework – covering future spend for Solutions Architecture, Software Asset Management, Data and Security on a multi supplier Framework - £20m
- Nitrogen Purging & Digester Maintenance - £24m
- Motor Control Centres & System Integration - £15m
- Chemicals Framework Mini-Competition - £15m
- Buildings Maintenance, Grounds Maintenance, Cleaning, Design & Build - £11.5m
- Polyelectrolytes - £8m
- Screens, Handling Equipment and CSOs - £5.2m
- Microsoft Enterprise & SCE Agreement - £3m
- Assurance framework - £3m

- Programmable Logic Controllers (PLC) - £2.3m

Insurance and Risk Management

YWS maintains insurance as part of the Kelda Group insurance programme. The insurance coverage is reviewed and placed by an independent insurance broker with the result that YWS's insurances: (i) are consistent with principles of Good Industry Practice; (ii) have regard to the risk being covered; and (iii) address the interests of YWS and each Finance Party that provided financing to YWS. While the level of cover for property damage and business interruption is substantial, the deductible can be up to £20 million, so the cost to YWS can be material.

YWS is committed to strong risk management to consistently meet its customers' needs and protect the environment, whilst keeping its colleagues safe and well. The YWS principal risk register contains 12 risks, many of which are related to weather and climate. The Audit and Risk Committee is responsible for overseeing the effectiveness of the risk management and control framework. The framework promotes resilience through early identification of what could go wrong and putting controls in place to mitigate the effects before they happen. Risks are monitored against agreed appetite levels and escalated to be managed at the right level of the business.

The Board maintains oversight of risk management through a programme of deep dives across all its committees. Risk identification is both bottom up and top down. It is embedded in all operational systems and subject matter experts conduct horizon scans to identify emerging risks. A standard risk assessment matrix ensures a consistent measurement of both impact and likelihood. Strong systems of internal control are in place to mitigate risk to an acceptable level. In addition to oversight by the board of YWS, these risks are also reported on a quarterly basis, and remedial plans are initiated for significant emerging risks.

Derivatives Portfolio

As part of YWS's proactive management of its swap portfolio, during September 2023, YWS:

- managed accrued accretion balances within the limits of the Common Terms Agreement through voluntary early termination of two inflation-linked swaps with a notional value of £176.9 million that were due to mature in February 2026;
- entered into new RPI to CPI swaps with a notional value of £300 million maturing in 2030 to hedge basis risk exposure on the RCV indexation; and
- entered into new fixed to floating interest rate swaps with a notional value of £1 billion and maturing in 2025, with a view to fixing the floating legs of YWS's inflation linked swaps until the end of AMP7. As a result, the current level of fixed and inflation linked debt held by the YWS has reduced to approximately 92%.

YWS also addressed the mandatory break date in February 2025 on inflation-linked swaps with a total notional value of £23 million. Post-February 2025 cash flows have been cancelled through an early settlement payment made in June 2024. Subsequent to cancellation of these swaps in February 2025, the total notional value of the inflation linked swap portfolio will be £1,089 million. The next mandatory break date in the portfolio is February 2028 in relation to swaps with a notional value of £110 million.

YWS's ongoing efforts have resulted in a significant reduction in their mark to market liability to approximately £1.75 billion (compared to a peak of £3 billion in FY22).

Pensions

YWS is a contributing employer to the KGPP (a defined benefit pension scheme), whose principal employer is Kelda Group. The ring-fencing programme does not segregate YWS pension arrangement from those of the Kelda Group. However, YWS's contributions to the KGPP and the Yorkshire Water Pension Savings Plan (YWPSP) Arrangement are made in respect of YWS's employees only. The statutory funding regime that applies to the KGPP provides for an allocation of liabilities attributable to each employer which participates in the KGPP and the rules of the KGPP set out the contribution obligations of each participating employer, including YWS. In the event of other Kelda Group companies becoming unable to meet the liabilities for their employees within the KGPP, YWS may become responsible for some or all of those liabilities as well as the liabilities for its own employees, or on a "last man standing" basis. Following a 60 day consultation with Active members in late 2023, the KGPP closed to future accrual on 31 March 2024. Proposals were also made to change the index for a subset of categories within the KGPP from RPI to CPI. The change of index will take effect from the increase date at 1 April 2025.

Until 31 August 2022, YWS employees also participated in the Kelda Stakeholder+ arrangement (the "Stakeholder+arrangement") (which new employees were automatically enrolled in from 1 July 2013 to satisfy the requirements of Section 3 ("Automatic Enrolment") of the Pensions Act 2008). The Yorkshire Water Pension Savings Plan (the "YWPSP") was launched on 1 September 2022 to replace the Kelda Stakeholder+arrangement. Both arrangements are "defined contribution" arrangements funded by both employer and employee contributions. From 30 September 2007, the KGPP has been closed to new members and all new YWS employees since that date were invited to participate in the Stakeholder+arrangement (until its discontinuance) and have subsequently been invited to participate in the YWPSP.

The pension arrangements are of the group "multi-employer scheme" nature, such that YWS's pension scheme assets and liabilities are included with those of other companies in the Kelda Group. The fair value of the scheme as at 31 March 2022 was a surplus of £116.3 million (2021: £95.3 million surplus).

The KGPP is subject to the UK statutory funding regime, with contributions subject to agreement between the KGPP principal employer and trustees and the body which acts as "Independent Body" of the KGPP. The UK Pensions Regulator has the power to impose a schedule of contributions and recovery plan should it not be possible to reach agreement on the KGPP's contributions (which has never occurred).

Strategy

YWS, as a regulated water and wastewater company, provides some of life's most essential services and YWS is a custodian of the region's natural environment and critical infrastructure. YWS is regulated by four main authorities to act in the best interests of the society that it serves: Ofwat, the EA; the Drinking Water Inspectorate ("DWI") and the HSE.

During the year ended 31 March 2023, YWS set out a new ten-year strategy, with a vision for a thriving Yorkshire. As the water and sewerage company for Yorkshire, the services that YWS provides have a significant impact on the county and YWS wants to help ensure Yorkshire thrives, both now and into the future, with services that are right for its customers and right for the environment.

'Right for our customers' means that YWS will provide safe, clean, great tasting water and return wastewater safely to the environment, in a way that delivers good value for money. YWS has been open in its future plans about bills needing to increase to enable YWS to invest more in infrastructure, however, it is offering greater support to customers who struggle to pay their bills.

'Right for the environment' means protecting precious water resources and minimising the impact of wastewater on the natural environment of Yorkshire. YWS are extremely focused on reducing pollution and sewer flooding and improving river and coastal water quality. YWS has clear long-term plans in place and is making significant investments to reduce wastewater discharges, including £180m of additional investment up to 31 March 2025 (which was announced in August 2022) to improve over 130 of the worst performing storm overflows (as at 31 March 2024), and a further £1.4bn of investment in storm overflows for the five-year period to 2030, as proposed in the YWS PR24 Business Plan.

Achieving the vision

Strategic pillars

The strategy has three pillars which are key areas of focus to reach the vision.

(i) Improving Asset Health

Asset health is critical to delivering the service that YWS customers expect and to protect the environment. Water and wastewater assets include the YWS pipe network, the treatment works where water or wastewater is treated and all the assets that link these together. YWS needs to keep investing in pro-active maintenance to reduce asset failure, as well as creating new assets to improve the quality, resilience and capacity of the services provided. YWS aims to do this while keeping bills as low and protecting the environment through nature-based solutions where possible.

(ii) Creating an engaged, high-performing team

People are extremely important to YWS's plans. YWS wants to be an inclusive workplace where everyone feels safe, respected, and encouraged to do well. This also applies to contract partners that work closely with YWS to drive continuous performance improvement.

(iii) Taking a joined-up approach

In order to deliver what is right for Yorkshire, YWS needs to work collaboratively within the organisation and with customers and other stakeholders.

YWS strategy has two key foundational areas which underpin the rest of the strategic activity; modernisation and sustainable business:

(i) Modernisation

YWS's modernisation programme underpins all three pillars of the strategy described above and is the primary way of accelerating the change that YWS needs to meet performance ambitions, maximising innovation and security. The programme covers people, technology, processes and data and is designed to help drive improvement in each of these areas.

(ii) Sustainable Business

The strategy is built on long-term responsible business practices. This includes looking after the health, safety and wellbeing of colleagues, partners and everyone else impacted by YWS activities, and ensuring a financially stable and sustainable business.

Resilience and sustainability are imperatives within the strategy

Central to YWS's strategy is the need to ensure long-term resilience and remain adaptable to changing circumstances. YWS's business fundamentally relies on natural, social and financial resources, and there are major challenges to the resilience of its services from factors such as climate change, population growth and resource constraints.

To address these challenges YWS has:

- embedded its “Six Capitals” approach into decision making processes to help expand its understanding of risk and value, and drive better decision-making that considers social, environmental and financial impacts;
- established the Yorkshire Water Sustainable Finance Framework, which aligns YWS’s financing with its broader corporate strategy and the accompanying annual impact reporting allows investors to see how their money is allocated between YWS’s sustainability goals;
- taken an adaptive pathway approach to planning for the future, which helps account for future uncertainties and allow YWS to make the timely investment decisions to deliver its strategy efficiently;
- developed 25+ year strategic investment plans to mitigate long-term risks and ensure YWS can continue to deliver safe, reliable services to customers in future; and
- implemented adaptation measures to build operational resilience to the impacts of climate change, such as through building flood defences, relocating vulnerable assets and deploying nature-based solutions.

Litigation

Save as disclosed below, there are no governmental, legal or arbitration proceedings (including any such proceedings which are pending or threatened of which YWS is aware) during the 12 months preceding the date of this Prospectus which may have or have had in the recent past significant effects on the financial position or profitability of YWS.

YWS and all other water and sewerage companies in England, are currently facing a number of claims by multiple personal search companies (“PSCs”). The claim is for historic fees which the PSCs claim should not have been paid because the information requested amounted to “environmental information”. YWS is defending the claim. YWS and all other companies involved took part in a Stage 1 issues hearing in November and December 2023. A judgment was received on 28 June 2024 which found largely in favour of the water companies. The next steps are awaited from the Claimants in due course.

YWS together with five other water and sewerage companies in England and Wales has been issued with proceedings in respect of an alleged breach of the Competition Act 1998. The claim is brought by the Proposed Class Representative, Professor Carolyn Roberts on behalf of the customers of YWS, alleging that YWS and the other five companies have engaged in unlawful discharge of untreated sewerage and wastewater into waterways leading to a breach of competition law, a Certification Hearing in due to commence in September 2024. For more information, please see Chapter 4 “Risk Factors – Litigation”.

Regulation

Economic Regulation

YWS’s business and results are affected by the regulated tariffs which YWS may charge its customers, as approved by Ofwat, as well as by drinking water quality, health and safety and environmental regulations and the terms of its Instrument of Appointment. As part of each Periodic Review, Ofwat sets price limits every five years intended to enable water and sewerage companies in England and Wales to finance their operations and earn a reasonable return on capital. As part of this process, YWS submits a five-year business plan to Ofwat for approval prior to the start of each Periodic Review Period, after which a final determination (each a “Final Determination”) is made by Ofwat. The AMP7 Period relates to the period from 1 April 2020 to 31 March 2025, and the corresponding Final Determination was published by Ofwat on 16 December 2019, which has been superseded in its entirety by the CMA report published on 9 April 2021.

Where unexpected costs or savings occur during the period relating to a Final Determination, mechanisms do exist to facilitate interim adjustments, although such adjustments are subject to stringent conditions. Therefore, in practice, unexpected costs or savings are more commonly only reflected in the prices set for the next AMP Period.

CMA Referral of Ofwat’s AMP7 Final Determination

On 16 December 2019, Ofwat published its Final Determinations on PR19, which set out the price controls that would apply to water companies in England and Wales for the period from 1 April 2020 to 31 March 2025. YWS, along with three other water companies, rejected Ofwat’s determinations, and on 10 February 2020 asked Ofwat to refer the matter to the CMA for review.

Between April 2020 and August 2020, the relevant submissions were made to the CMA by all relevant parties. The CMA published provisional findings on 29 September 2020 inviting further comments from YWS and Ofwat. Ofwat submitted its response to the CMA’s consultation on 27 October 2020, and final submissions were provided by all of the main parties to the CMA in February 2021. On 17 March 2021, the CMA published its final report to Ofwat having reached its own independent judgement as to the right outcome based on the facts and evidence presented to it.

The CMA’s final report, which sets out its price control determinations for the four companies that appealed Ofwat’s PR19 determinations, was published on 9 April 2021. This final report contains further detail regarding the CMA’s conclusions that will impact the financial performance of Yorkshire Water for the rest of AMP7.

In particular:

Allowed expenditures

The main change to Ofwat’s PR19 determination was the decision by the CMA to expand its dataset to include data from the 2019/20 financial year, which was not available when Ofwat’s determination was published in December 2019. Consequently, the CMA determined that the total expenditure (“Totex”) allowance for Yorkshire Water’s wholesale activities should be set £158 million (2017/18 CPIH prices) higher for AMP7 than Ofwat’s PR19 determination, an increase of 3.9%. This increased Totex allowance comprised a £120 million increase to allowed base expenditure and a £38 million increase to allowed enhancement expenditure.

In addition, the CMA reviewed the cost sharing rates to apply when a water company overspends or underspends against its Totex allowance in AMP7. These rates determine how much an overspend can be recovered in future customer bills or an underspend is shared by reducing future customer bills. The CMA decided to reset the main cost sharing rates in Ofwat’s PR19 determination so that 55% (Ofwat: combination of 62% and 67%) of underspend is shared with customers and 45% (Ofwat: combination of 33% and 38%) of overspend is recovered from customers.

Outcomes

The CMA concluded that the package of performance commitments and incentives established by Ofwat in its PR19 determination should largely remain in place. It was noted that the use of asymmetric or penalty-only incentives may be appropriate in certain circumstances, but any residual financial risk would need to be considered when assessing cost of capital and the ability for a water company to finance its functions.

Cost of capital

The CMA performed an extensive review of the cost of capital that is needed by water company to remunerate its investors in a price control. This was based on the well-established Capital Asset Pricing Model (“CAPM”) methodology and used observable market data as far as possible. This approach was consistent with Ofwat’s PR19 determination and that used more generally by UK regulators.

The CMA’s conclusions from its review were to set an appointee cost of capital of 3.20% (CPIH real) and a wholesale cost of capital at 3.12% (CPIH real), a 0.20% increase on Ofwat’s PR19 determination that was driven principally by a 0.53% (CPIH real) increase in the cost of equity, which included an ‘aiming up’ adjustment of 0.25% to the mid-point of the CMA’s calculated range for cost of equity. This adjustment was based on considerations regarding the promotion of investment, the risk of an exit of capital from the water sector, risk asymmetry in incentives linked to performance commitments, and the need for the cost of capital to support the ability for a water company to be able to finance its functions.

Financeability assessment

The CMA completed an in-the-round assessment of Yorkshire Water’s financeability, assuming a notional capital structure with 60% gearing, which included financial ratio analysis similar to that performed by credit ratings agencies. This was to allow that Yorkshire Water could maintain a strong investment grade rating, assuming a notional capital structure with 60% gearing, which incorporated the impact of downside scenarios due to either an annual penalty equivalent to 1% of regulated equity or a 2% annual overspend of Totex.

The principal difference to Ofwat’s PR19 determination was the CMA’s conclusion that the allowed cost of capital was the most important determinant of financeability and should be sufficient for Yorkshire Water to be financeable in line with the CMA’s assessment without any adjustment to accelerate revenues from future periods into AMP7.

In December 2022, Ofwat published the PR24 Final Methodology that sets the framework it will use for the next price control period of 2025 to 2030. It is broadly a continuation of PR19 albeit with a change of emphasis away from base costs, where Ofwat expect a step change in efficiency and performance, but with stronger and wider delivery incentives. Ofwat will impose 23 performance commitments that will be common across all water and sewage companies and each will come with a meaningful financial incentive. Bespoke performance commitments will be limited to just 2 or 3 in number. At PR24, Ofwat has also introduced price control deliverables (PCDs) that are specific to key company enhancement investment schemes. PCDs are a new tool to protect customers from under- or non-delivery of funded enhancements. PCDs aim to encourage on time delivery by returning money to customers where companies fail to deliver the funded improvements on time.

Financial gearing in the notional capital structure was reduced from 60% to 55% and Ofwat set out an indicative early view of the appointee cost of capital of 3.29% (CPIH real) and a wholesale cost of capital at 3.23% (CPIH real).

Gearing Outperformance Sharing Mechanism (“GOSM”)

The CMA concluded that there was no reason to include in its determination the GOSM, as introduced by Ofwat in 2018, to address possible risks associated with high gearing. Specifically, its assessment noted that either weak or no evidence had been presented to support the need for such a mechanism and there were doubts as to the effectiveness of the GOSM to improve financial resilience.

The CMA acknowledged regulators hold legitimate concerns on the financial resilience of regulated companies and that high levels of gearing may reduce financial resilience with the possible transfer of risk to customers and/or taxpayers. However, it noted there was insufficient evidence presented in the support of an intervention on gearing for AMP7 and Ofwat has options open to it to address resilience concerns, including licence modifications.

Adjustment for revenue reconciliation

The CMA's review included a disputed matter, between Yorkshire Water and Ofwat, regarding Ofwat's exclusion from the PR19 determination of an adjustment by Yorkshire Water in the AMP6 reconciliation for revenue forecasting. This adjustment was made to correct a historical data input error by Yorkshire Water in its PR14 submissions.

After a detailed review, the CMA concluded that there had been an unambiguous data input error by Yorkshire Water in its PR14 submissions and decided to make an adjustment to the PR19 allowances to increase revenues by £33.7 million (2017/18 CPIH prices) and to reduce RCV by £11.2 million (2017/18 CPIH prices).

Financial impact in AMP7

The impact of the CMA's conclusions is to increase allowed wholesale revenues in Ofwat's PR19 determination by £148 million (2017/18 CPIH prices) to £4,971 million (2017/18 CPIH prices), an increase of 3.0%. There is no change to allowed retail revenues of £321 million (2017/18 CPIH prices) in Ofwat's PR19 determination.

During the CMA's review Yorkshire Water has operated under Ofwat's PR19 determination, including in respect of the level of allowed revenues that could be billed to customers, for the 2020/21 and 2021/22 financial years. The publication of the CMA's final report means its determination now supersedes Ofwat's PR19 determination for all aspects of the price control and for all years of AMP7.

The CMA has reassessed the annual amounts in AMP7 for each component of allowed revenues in Ofwat's PR19 determination that have been affected by changes made by the CMA (e.g. return on capital due to the increased wholesale cost of capital and the removal of accelerated revenues). Consequently, if the CMA's determination had applied from the start of AMP7 then Yorkshire Water's total allowed revenues would be higher in each financial year than those in Ofwat's PR19 determination.

Since Yorkshire Water has operated under Ofwat's PR19 determination for total allowed revenues in 2020/21 and 2021/22, the CMA has used revenue reprofiling to ensure Yorkshire Water's total allowed revenues for AMP7 agree with its determination and to manage the average customer bill profile during AMP7. The average customer bill under the CMA's determination in AMP7 is £374 (2017/18 CPIH prices), an increase of £10 to Ofwat's PR19 determination, but a reduction from AMP6 prices.

Ofwat performance measures – Agreed Outcomes, Performance Commitments and Outcome Delivery Incentives AMP7 includes the five year period covering 1 April 2020 to 31 March 2025. AMP7 plans include 44 performance commitments for this five-year period, of which there are 27 measures with an associated financial reward, penalty or both (“Outcome Delivery Incentives” or “ODIs”). The majority (26 of the 27) are in-period ODIs. In-period means ODIs which are applied during the five-year price control rather than at the end of the period. In-period ODIs increase the power of incentives by bringing a reward or penalty closer in time to the actions that earned it.

YWS's performance commitments and ODIs for AMP7 are set out in detail in the 2019 Final Determination and in particular in the Yorkshire Water Outcomes performance commitment appendix (<https://www.ofwat.gov.uk/wp-content/uploads/2019/12/PR19-final-determinations-Yorkshire-> Water-%E2%80%93-Outcomes-performance-commitment-appendix.pdf), together with a corrigendum (<https://www.ofwat.gov.uk/regulated-companies/price-review/2019-price-review/pr19-outcomes-performance-commitments-changes-and-corrections/>)

Performance against these new commitments is published on the YWS website and will be confirmed through the annual regulatory reporting, which is published annually in July.

YWS submitted the business plan for AMP8, to Ofwat in October 2023. The aim of the business plan is to meet the needs of the Yorkshire region and support the ambitions of partners. Alongside submission of that business plan, YWS will focus on the rollout of strategy to support its delivery, the implementation of modernisation programme activities and continued compliance focus across the business, including in relation to the PR24 price control. For further information, see Chapter 6 “Regulation of the Water and Wastewater Industry in England and Wales – Economic Regulation – PR24 Price Control”.

Regulatory developments

On 13 October 2022 YWS announced that intercompany loans of £940 million originally made by YWS to Saltaire Water Limited and Kelda Holdco Limited, which were subsequently novated to Kelda Eurobond Co. Limited, would be repaid by the end of March 2027. This will include a repayment of not less than £300 million by the end of June 2023, a repayment of not less than £200 million by the end of March 2025 and the repayment of the remaining balance of the intercompany loans (which is expected to be approximately £440 million) by the end of March 2027 (see Chapter 4 “Risk Factors” under “Breach of Instrument Appointment Conditions” and “Financial covenants”).

These intercompany loans were originally made in connection with the acquisition by Kelda Group plc in 2008 and 2009 respectively and are excluded from the calculations of YWS’s reported gearing and interest cover for covenant purposes.

The Board of YWS has resolved to exercise its right under the loan agreements to recall the intercompany loans made to Kelda Eurobond Co Limited by YWS, with at least £300 million to be received on or before 30 June 2023, at least a further £200 million to be received on or before 31 March 2025 and the remaining balance of the loans to be received on or before 31 March 2027.

Kelda Holdings Limited, the ultimate holding company of YWS (as described in Chapter 3 “Ownership Structure”), is owned by, Gateway HK Water Limited, Gateway HK Water II Limited and Gateway Infrastructure HK Limited, Epsom Investment PTE Limited, Wharfedale Hong Kong Limited, and State Infrastructure Holdings 1 Pty Limited (the “KHL Shareholders”). The KHL Shareholders provided Kelda Holdings Limited with a capital injection of £500 million to be drawn on 28 June 2023, of which YWS received an initial instalment of £400 million by the end of June 2023, in excess of the £300 million instalment agreed with Ofwat. Subsequently, YWS received a second instalment of £100 million during May 2024. In combination, the initial and second instalments received total £500 million and satisfy the undertakings to repay at least £300 million by the end of June 2023 and £200 million by the end of March 2025 (please see further Chapter 4 “Risk Factors” under “Breach of Instrument Appointment Conditions”). The board of Kelda Holdings Limited have recognised that further repayments of the intercompany loans will need to be made in accordance with the schedule agreed with Ofwat.

A portion of the funds received in June 2023 (i.e. an additional sum of approximately £100 million) will be invested during the remainder of AMP7 to reduce storm overflow spills by at least 20% per year by March 2025 from the 2021 baseline. The balance will be used to reduce financial gearing and YWS consequently expects reported regulatory gearing to reduce to be no higher than 72% at the end of AMP7 unless YWS chooses to accelerate AMP8 capital investment into AMP7 (which may occur).

This will mean that shareholders will have foregone dividends for nine years during AMP6 and AMP7.

Business performance

In 2021/22, there were unprecedented external challenges, a significant change in the leadership team and an affirmation of YWS's purpose, vision and behaviours, whilst delivering on plans to provide a step up in customer and operational performance.

Throughout 2021/22, YWS managed the impact of major storms and a major power loss event which had a significant impact on the lives of the customers and the communities it served. During 2021/22 YWS has also been significantly impacted by the impacts of a prolonged drought and prevailing high energy prices which have resulted in operating costs that have been higher than expected. These atypical costs have been exceptional in nature and elements of these atypical costs have been adjusted for in the most recent published Compliance Certificate.

Delivery for customers

In 2023/24, YWS met 21 of the 42 performance commitments. that had a target for the year (there are two performance commitments that only have an end of AMP target), and 7 out of their 12 core performance commitments. Leakage is a commitment of high importance to customers and YWS achieved a 12.7% reduction in leakage from the 2019/20 baseline, which achieves the target set. YWS's performance reflects a major investment in its SMART network techniques which continue to reduce leakage and future plans to develop and deliver new SMART network projects inform YWS's future forecasts of further reductions to leakage. YWS also improved its C-Mex rank, placing ninth out of 17 water companies (2023 rank: eleventh) driven by its IT modernisation programme, as well as its D-Mex ranking from seventeenth position in 2023 to fifteenth position in 2024.

YWS has met performance commitments for a number of asset health metrics such as mains repairs, sewer collapses and low pressure. YWS improved on certain clean water metrics in 2024 such as leakage and mains repairs, however, other metrics were impacted by the water quality issue at Chellow water treatment works and supply interruptions. YWS is closely monitoring the Chellow site as part of a proactive improvement plan. YWS also decided to rebase its approach to operational carbon to focus on location-based performance in line with AMP8 metrics and thus did not purchase any Renewable Electricity Generation of Original (REGOs), resulting in missing its operational carbon performance commitment. YWS performed ahead of its peers in discharge permit compliance, scoring 99.68% with only one permit failing during 2023/2024. While YWS did not meet the compliance target of 100%, there is a dead band of 99% meaning that YWS did not incur a penalty for missing the target.

However, YWS's rating in the EPA conducted by the EA fell from three stars to two stars in 2023, caused by a change of methodology with stricter performance measures and YWS was rated red in 2023 for an increase in the number of what the EA has classified as serious pollution incidents caused by YWS. The change in methodology has led to a fall in the ratings of a number of water companies. YWS are disappointed at the downgrade of their EPA rating and remain committed to improving its environmental performance by focusing on pollution incident response times, installing additional monitoring, increasing mains investment and deploying 5,000 pollution loggers to return to a three star EPA rating.

The 2023 calendar year was reported as being the sixth wettest year since Met Office records began and between September 2023 and January 2024, YWS experienced ten named storm events compared to one in the prior year. This led to flooding, high ground water levels and associated pollution incidents as YWS's network was inundated with surface water. Whilst YWS has met its performance commitments for minimising external sewer flooding, it has failed to meet its internal sewer flooding commitments. That being said, YWS expects sewer flooding to benefit from the modernisation programme including moving to geographic pods across the wastewater business to improve response times and customer issue resolution, with a specific focus on properties impacted by repeat sewer flooding. The run rate of incidents thus far are below 2023/24 levels and a lower incident repeat rate of around 2%.

The delivery of YWS’s capital programme has made excellent progress this financial year and the agreed regulatory commitments were delivered in year four of the AMP. A significant proportion of the YWS capital programme relates to investment under WINEP. The overall programme has been structured to minimise the cost of delivery of this largescale environmental improvement investment whilst hitting all the agreed regulatory compliance dates YWS has a cumulative total of 1,029 WINEP obligations due by March 2025. The remaining schemes due for delivery in the final year of this AMP (approximately 382 schemes), are all forecasted to hit compliance dates, except for nine WINEP schemes (impacting 15 obligations) which are classed as at risk due to potential delay to the regulatory commitment dates. Financial performance on the programme is strong with the year ending in a net capital outperformance position.

Although YWS missed the performance target on bathing water quality, it is making improvements in this area. In early 2024, YWS delivered a new 835-metre £15 million sewer at Ilkley, the first inland bathing water site. This sewer is already reducing discharges above the bathing water designation. In March 2024, YWS announced plans to invest a further £60 million in the networks in Ilkley, including expanding the capacity at the treatment works. These proposals are subject to approval from Ofwat and local decision-makers. In May 2024, the Government announced 27 new inland bathing water designations, including two in Yorkshire at Knaresborough and Wetherby. YWS supported these applications at consultation stage and will work closely with local partners to improve the river health.

YWS incurred a penalty for missing its target for the per capita consumption metric due to the unprecedented effect of the Covid-19 pandemic, however, YWS is performing ahead of its peers in this metric. YWS’s per capita consumption is 126.9 litres per day on a three-year rolling basis. Ofwat will re-assess YWS’s performance against this metric at the end of AMP7, taking into consideration actions taken to lower consumption and addressing the changing behaviour and usage patterns throughout this period.

In the period ended 31 March 2024, YWS also supported approximately 124,000 customers in paying their bills and increased the number of households on its Priority Services Register to 212,872. 25% of YWS’s customers use an online account and 20% of customers use the e-billing service.

Overall, this resulted in YWS being in a net penalty position of £38.235 million for 2023/24. YWS’s latest available published performance against its 44 performance commitments and associated ODIs are set out in the table below for the twelve months to 31 March 2024.

Annually, Ofwat publish a Water Company Performance Report. This presents Yorkshire Water's performance alongside that across the wider industry. Within the report, Ofwat assess each company as either leading, average or lagging, based on performance against targets. For 2022/23, Ofwat did not categorise any companies as 'leading'. It rated ten companies as 'average' and seven as 'lagging'. YWS was classed as a lagging company. In response, YWS published a Service Commitment Plan, detailing a number of actions to improve performance in the last two years of the AMP. Ofwat meet with YWS on a quarterly basis to review performance and the progress against the plan.

Customer Measure of Experience (C-Mex)

The customer measure of experience (“C-Mex”) is designed to incentivise water companies to provide an excellent customer experience for residential customers, across both the retail and wholesale parts of the value chain.

C-Mex comprises two surveys – the customer service survey of residential customers who have recently contacted their company in relation to that recent contact and the customer experience survey of random members of the public in relation to their experience of their water company.

In both cases customers are asked how satisfied they are with the service provided and how likely they would be to recommend the water company to family or friends. The net promoter score result is measured and reported separately to the C-Mex score which is used to calculate financial incentives.

Higher performance payments are available if YWS passes each of the following three ‘gates’:

- is one of the top three performers by C-Mex score;
- is at or above a cross-sector threshold of customer satisfaction performance based on the all-sector upper quartile (ASUQ) of the UK Customer Satisfaction Index (UKCSI); and
- has lower than the industry average number of household complaints (per 10,000 connections).

For PR24, Ofwat is reviewing the survey mechanisms used for C-Mex to make it more balanced. It will also review the basis for determining the relative financial incentives companies face, including looking to introduce customer experience comparisons with sectors beyond the water sector.

Developer Measure of Experience (D-Mex)

- Ofwat has also introduced a developer services measure of experience (“D-Mex”), with both financial and reputational incentives, to improve the customer experience of developer services customer in England and Wales. The customers captured by D-Mex includes small and large property developers, self-lay providers and those with NAVs. These customers can also include residential customers that have new mains connections installed.
- D-MeX comprises a qualitative element which is a survey of developer services customers who have recently completed a transaction with their water company and a quantitative element which measures performance against a set of Water UK developer services level of service metrics.
- The financial incentives for D-Mex are asymmetrical, with performance payments of up to 2.5 per cent. and performance penalties of up to 5 per cent. of a company’s annual developer services revenue.

For PR24 Ofwat is reviewing the survey mechanism used for D-Mex to make it more balanced. It will also review the basis for determining the relative financial incentives companies face.

Financial resilience in the water sector

Ofwat published “Financial resilience in the water sector: a discussion paper” in December 2021. Its objective is to ensure that companies can demonstrate financial structures that enable them to deliver their services in the best interests of customers, taking account of future pressures. This could be because of less predictable weather, the effects of climate change and population growth. Building on this paper, PR24 Final Methodology indicated that Ofwat will require board assurance that companies can maintain financial resilience over AMP8 and beyond in executing their business plan, and reserve the right to publish draft determinations with respect to incentive-based mechanisms within AMP8 if they are not satisfied with the progress in strengthening the regulatory protections or where companies with risky structures are not delivering tangible improvements in financial resilience. It is expected that stress testing scenarios will be prescribed and will require a level of headroom. The gearing reduction of the notional company (from 60 per cent. to 55 per cent.) signalled a move towards financial resilience although the target rating remained unchanged.

Furthermore, YWS has given a number of undertakings to Ofwat related to financial resilience on 12 October 2022 in connection with Ofwat's investigation of certain intercompany loans. For further information, please see Chapter 4 "Risk Factors –Breach of Instrument of Appointment Conditions" and Chapter 5 "Description of the YW Financing Group", "Regulatory developments".

Ring-Fencing and the YW Financing Group

As part of its obligations as a Regulated Company, YWS is subject to certain ring-fencing measures under its Instrument of Appointment.

The ring-fencing measures are intended to ensure: (i) that YWS has the means to conduct its Appointed Business separately from the Kelda Group; and (ii) that all dealings between the Kelda Group and the YW Financing Group are on an arm's length basis.

The main elements comprising the regulatory and structural ring-fencing of the YW Financing Group from the other Kelda Group companies are set out below.

Regulatory ring-fencing is common, in differing degrees, to each of the Regulated Companies in England and Wales pursuant to their respective instruments of appointment. Following a number of Ofwat consultations since 2018 aimed at strengthening the regulatory ring-fence, in July 2020, Ofwat updated the ring-fencing provisions in YWS's Instrument of Appointment, which are now principally found in Condition P. As at the date of this Prospectus, Ofwat is consulting on making certain amendments to licence condition P (in respect of which please see "Modification of an Instrument of Appointment Regulatory landscape" below).

Under Instrument of Appointment Condition P19, as supplemented by RAG 5, YWS must ensure that transactions between it and its associated companies in the Kelda Group are on an arm's length basis to prevent cross-subsidisation of activities.

Under Condition P14, YWS must also ensure at all times, so far as reasonably practicable, that if a Special Administration Order was made in respect of it, YWS would have available to it sufficient rights and assets (other than financial resources) to enable the Special Administrator to manage its affairs, business and property so that the purposes of such order could be achieved.

Ring-fencing provisions in YWS's Instrument of Appointment

The ring-fencing provisions contained in YWS's Instrument of Appointment are broadly similar to those contained in the licences of all other Regulated Companies. The most important of these provisions are:

- Transactions between YWS and its associated companies: Any transaction between YWS and its associated companies (being its subsidiaries and any affiliated companies) must be conducted at arm's length, such that there is no cross-subsidy of the associated company by YWS (or vice versa).
- Restrictions on Dividend Payments: YWS is required to only pay dividends in accordance with a policy that complies with the following principles: (i) such payments will not impair the ability to finance its regulated activities; and (ii) the payment of such dividends is to reward efficiency and the management of economic risk.
- Adequate Resources, Systems of Planning and Internal Controls: YWS is required at all times to act in a manner "best calculated" to ensure that it has adequate financial resources and facilities, management resources and systems of planning and internal control to carry out its regulated activities. Compliance with this requirement must not be dependent upon discharge by any other person of any obligation under, or arising from, any agreement or arrangement under which that other person has agreed to provide any services to YWS in its capacity as a Regulated Company. The directors of YWS are required to certify on an annual basis that YWS will have sufficient resources and systems of planning and internal control for the subsequent 12 month period. The basis on which such a view is formed must also be disclosed to Ofwat. As soon as the directors become aware of a reason why YWS cannot be expected to comply with this obligation, they are to file a report to this effect to Ofwat in accordance with the provisions of its Instrument of Appointment.

- Conducting the Appointed Business of YWS: YWS (and its directors) is required to operate the Appointed Business as though it were substantially YWS's sole business and YWS was a separate public limited company. YWS must meet the objectives on board leadership, transparency and governance (“BLTG”) set out below and explain (in a manner that is effective, accessible and clear) how it is meeting these objectives. The BLTG objectives require the board of YWS to:
 - Establish the company's purpose, strategy and value;
 - Have full responsibility for all aspects of the company's business plan in the long term;
 - Have an approach to transparency and governance that engenders trust in the company and ensures accountability for their actions; and
 - Ensure that it and its committees are competent, well run and have sufficient independent membership.

Additional restrictions in YWS's Instrument of Appointment

- Limits on the transfer of certain assets to associated companies: Save with the express consent of Ofwat, YWS is not permitted to transfer certain rights or assets (being those which a Special Administrator would require if a Special Administration Order were made in order to operate the Appointed Business) to an associated company.
- Restrictions on other transactions: Save with the express consent of Ofwat, YWS must not: (i) give a guarantee in relation to any liability of an associated company; (ii) make a loan to an associated company; or (iii) enter into an agreement or other legal instrument incorporating a cross default obligation (whether with an associated company or otherwise). There are limited exceptions relating to existing cross-default obligations.
- Publishing of financial information: Although no longer expressly set out in its Instrument of Appointment, YWS is required to publish such information about its annual and interim financial results as is required by the Listing Rules as if YWS were listed on the London Stock Exchange.
- Maintenance of a financial instrument listed on the London Stock Exchange: Maintenance of a financial instrument listed on the London Stock Exchange: YWS shall maintain the listing of a financial instrument whose market price reflects its financial position on the London Stock Exchange and shall use all reasonable endeavours to retain that financial instrument.
- Investment grade credit rating: YWS (or any associated company which issues corporate debt on its behalf) is required to maintain an Investment Grade issuer credit rating. The issuer rating will reflect the financial capacity of the Appointed Business and therefore its ability to raise capital or maintain access to liquidity in the future. Any significant adverse changes to the rating will act as an early signal that the ability of the Appointed Business to raise future finance is at risk

- Cash lock-up: The cash lock-up provision which prohibits, subject to certain limited exceptions, save with the express consent of Ofwat, the transferring, leasing, licensing or lending of any sum of cash or other assets to an associated company when YWS or any associated company which issues corporate debt on its behalf: (i) no longer holds an Investment Grade issuer credit rating; (ii) holds more than one issuer credit rating and any one of those is not Investment Grade; or (iii) holds an issuer credit rating which is at the minimum Investment Grade level and that rating has been put under review for possible downgrade or is assigned a negative outlook. The cash lock-up provisions in Regulated Companies' licences are currently subject to an Ofwat consultation. For more information, please see "Impact of Ofwat adopting tighter regulatory measures to achieve financial resilience" on page 52.

In relation to the second paragraph (Restrictions on other transactions) above, as part of its obligations under the Security Agreement, YWS gives guarantees and security in respect of the obligations of the other Obligor and there are also cross-default provisions applicable to YWS in relation to certain events occurring in respect of the other Obligor. Details of the guarantee and security package are set out in Chapter 7 "Overview of the Financing Agreements". YWS has obtained consent from Ofwat that such arrangements are permitted to subsist within the YW Financing Group.

Ultimate Controller Undertakings

Condition P requires that YWS secures legally enforceable undertakings from its Ultimate Controller and, when such Ultimate Controller is not the UK Holding Company, from its UK Holding Company, that it (and each of its subsidiaries, other than YWS and its subsidiaries), will:

- give YWS all such information as may be necessary to enable YWS to comply with its obligations under the WIA or with the conditions of the Instrument of Appointment; and
- refrain from any action which might cause YWS to breach any of its obligations under the WIA or the Instrument of Appointment;

YWS must inform Ofwat immediately in writing if it becomes aware that the undertakings have ceased to be legally enforceable, or that there has been any breach of their terms. Save with the written consent of Ofwat, YWS must not enter into any new contract or arrangement with its Ultimate Controller or the subsidiaries of such a person (other than subsidiaries of YWS) at a time when no such undertaking exists or there is an unremedied breach of such undertaking. Further, YWS must also inform Ofwat as soon as reasonably practicable if it becomes aware that: (i) arrangements are in progress or in contemplation which, if carried into effect, may lead to a change in Ultimate Controller(s); (ii) arrangements have been put into effect which might be considered to have led to a change in Ultimate Controller(s); or (iii) any person intends to submit a merger control filing to the CMA or the European Commission with respect to an actual or potential change of control of YWS.

"Ultimate Controller" means any person (including, without limitation, a corporate body) which (whether alone or jointly and whether directly or indirectly) is (in the reasonable opinion of Ofwat) in a position to control or in a position to materially influence, the policy or affairs of the Appointed Business or of any Holding Company of the Appointed Business.

As at the date of this Prospectus:

- Wharfedale Hong Kong Limited is a holder of 23.37 per cent. of the shares in the equity of Kelda Holdings Limited and has provided a Condition P undertaking in similar terms to the other members of the consortium.

- State Infrastructure Holdings 1 Pty Limited is a holder of 12.75 per cent. of the shares in the equity of Kelda Holdings Limited, acquiring the same from Citi Infrastructure Investors and Infracapital Partners LP. The ultimate investor is SAS Trustee Corporation.

In view of the size of this minority holding, YWS informed Ofwat in writing following completion of the acquisition that it did not believe that a Condition P undertaking was required from State Infrastructure Holdings 1 Pty Limited or its holding company, SAS Trustee Corporation. As at the date of this Prospectus, Ofwat has not challenged that belief nor asked for a Condition P undertaking from either SAS Trustee Corporation or State Infrastructure Holdings 1 Pty Limited.

- Epsom Investment PTE Ltd is a holder of 33.56 per cent. of the shares in the equity of Kelda Holdings Limited and has provided a Condition P undertaking in similar terms to the other members of the consortium.
- Gateway HK Water Limited, Gateway HK Water II Limited and Gateway Infrastructure HK Limited (the “Gateway Entities”) together hold 30.32 per cent. of the shares in the equity of Kelda Holdings Limited. The Gateway Entities are managed by Corsair Capital LLC as investment advisor and Corsair Infrastructure Partners LP, who has provided a Condition P undertaking in similar terms to the other members of the consortium.

CHAPTER 6 REGULATION OF THE WATER AND WASTEWATER INDUSTRY IN ENGLAND AND WALES

Water and Wastewater Regulation Generally

Background

The structure of the water and wastewater industry in England and Wales dates from 1989, when the Water Act 1989 was enacted. As at July 2022, Ofwat recognised 65 companies providing water and sewerage services in England and Wales (including the eleven large regional water and sewerage companies, six large regional water only companies, nine local companies providing water or sewerage or both, and 40 water supply and/or sewerage licensees offering regulated retail services to non-household customers, and one infrastructure provider). The provisions of the Water Act 1989 are now contained mainly in the consolidating Water Industry Act 1991 which itself has been substantially amended by the Water Industry Act 1999, the Water Act 2003, the Flood Water Management Act 2010, the Water Act 2014 and to a lesser extent by various other statutory provisions. References in this section to statutes are to the WIA, as amended, unless otherwise stated. The Water Act 2014 introduces a new, more liberalised market structure, vests more powers and responsibilities in Ofwat and makes several changes to water resources and environmental regulation. Under the Water Act 2014, the non-household retail market opened to competition in England in April 2017. This new market structure provides a choice for owners of any (not just large) non-household premises to choose their provider as far as a retail service (for both water supply and sewerage) is concerned. These providers, or “water supply or sewerage licensees”, comprise not only the original 12 licensees that served large-use customers before April 2017, but also new entrants. Certain eligible non-household customers can also seek to self-supply their premises.

Regulatory Framework

The activities of Regulated Companies are principally regulated by the provisions (as amended) of the WIA and the regulations made under this Act and the conditions of their instruments of appointment (also referred to as licences). Under the WIA, the Secretary of State has a duty to ensure that there is an appointee for every area of England and Wales. Appointments may be made by the Secretary of State or in accordance with a general authorisation given to Ofwat.

Ofwat is the economic regulator for water and wastewater in England and Wales and is responsible for, inter alia, setting price controls and monitoring and enforcing licence obligations. Regulated Companies are required by their licences to make an annual return to Ofwat of financial and non-financial information (the “annual performance report”) to enable Ofwat to assess their activities.

The two principal quality regulators are the DWI (the DWI is appointed by the Secretary of State for Environment, Food and Rural Affairs) and the EA. The EA is an executive non-departmental public body, sponsored by the Department for Environment, Food and Rural Affairs (“DEFRA”). The DWI’s principal task is to ensure that Regulated Companies in England and Wales are fulfilling their statutory requirements under the WIA and the water quality regulations for the supply of wholesome drinking water. The DWI carries out technical audits of each water undertaker and licensee inputting water into an undertaker’s network. This includes an assessment of the quality of water supplied, arrangements for sampling and analysis, and progress made in delivering schemes to improve water quality. The EA’s duties include the management and regulation of water abstraction from, and discharges to, controlled waters (which include rivers, coastal waters, territorial waters extending three miles from shore, inland freshwaters and groundwater).

The WIA, as amended by the Water Act 2003, introduced the independent consumer council for water consumers (known as the “CC Water”), whose role is to provide information of use to consumers and to promote the interests of all water consumers.

On 6 July 2016, the EU Parliament adopted the Directive on security of network and information systems (the “NIS Directive”). The NIS Directive provides legal measures to protect essential services and infrastructure by improving the security of Network and Information systems. The Government implemented the NIS Directive through the NIS Regulations 2018 (the “NIS Regulations”), which came into force on 19 May 2018. In January 2022, the Government launched a public consultation on proposals for legislation to improve the UK’s cyber resilience. The proposals included policy measures which aim to address the evolving cyber security threats the UK faces via amendments to the NIS Regulations. Following the consultation, the Government confirmed in November 2022 that it is moving forward with plans to update the NIS Regulations as they apply to the UK. The DWI is the competent authority for the purposes of the NIS Regulations. Drinking water supply and distribution has been designated as an essential service for the purposes of the NIS Regulations and Regulated Companies, who are suppliers of potable water to 200,000 or more people, are automatically designated as an “Operator of Essential Services” and are required to comply with its requirements. In sum, operators of essential services are required to take appropriate measures to manage risks to their network and information systems, to prevent and/or minimise the impact of incidents to those systems, and to notify the DWI of any incident that has affected the network and information systems which has had a significant impact on the continuity of the essential service. This will include occurrences where the operator of essential services has identified any operator error or interference with power, electronic systems, operational technology or information technology which has impacted on the supply, quality or sufficiency of water.

There are also specific requirements for development, and requirements for the protection and management of nationally and internationally important wildlife and natural habitats (either on land owned by YWS or on land affected by YWS’s wider operations) regulated by Natural England, DEFRA and the EA.

Duties of Ofwat and the Secretary of State

Each of the Secretary of State and Ofwat has a general duty under the WIA to exercise and perform its powers and duties under the WIA in the manner it considers best calculated to, inter alia:

- (i) further the consumer objectives which are to protect the interests of consumers (particularly certain specified categories of consumer which would include, for example, individuals (i) who are disabled or chronically sick; (ii) of pensionable age; (iii) with low incomes; or (iv) living in rural areas), wherever appropriate by promoting effective competition between persons engaged in, or in commercial activities connected with, the provision of water and sewerage services;
- (ii) secure that the functions of Regulated Companies are properly carried out throughout England and Wales;
- (iii) secure that Regulated Companies are able (in particular, by securing reasonable returns on their capital) to finance the proper carrying out of those functions;
- (iv) secure that the activities authorised by the licence of a water supply licensee or sewerage licensee and any statutory functions imposed on it in consequence of the licence are properly carried out; and
- (v) further the resilience objective, which is to secure:
 - (a) the long-term resilience of water supply and sewerage systems and services; and

- (b) that Regulated Companies take steps to enable them, in the long term, to meet the need for water supplies and sewerage services to consumers, including by promoting long term planning and investment and managing water resources in sustainable ways.

On 21 May 2024, the Government extended the Growth Duty to Ofwat. The Growth Duty came into statutory effect in 2017 under the Deregulation Act 2015 and requires regulators to have regard to the desirability of promoting economic growth, alongside the delivery of protections set out in relevant legislation.

Subject to the Primary Duties, each of the Secretary of State and Ofwat shall also exercise and perform its powers and duties under the WIA in the manner it considers best calculated to, inter alia:

- (i) promote economy and efficiency on the part of Regulated Companies;
- (ii) secure that no undue preference is shown, and that there is no undue discrimination in the fixing by Regulated Companies of water and drainage charges;
- (iii) secure that consumers are protected in relation to benefits that could be secured for them by the application in a particular manner of any of the proceeds of any disposal (whenever made) of Regulated Companies' protected land or of an interest or right in or over any of that land;
- (iv) ensure that consumers are also protected in relation to any activities of Regulated Companies which are not attributable to the exercise of functions of a relevant undertaker, such as activities which do not fall within the scope of their statutory functions or activities with parties connected to the relevant undertaker;
- (v) contribute to the achievement of sustainable development (together, the “Secondary Duties”).

The Secretary of State and Ofwat shall also have regard to the principles of best regulatory practice (including the principles under which regulatory activities should be transparent, accountable, proportionate, consistent and targeted only at cases in which action is needed).

Instrument of Appointment

General

Under the WIA, each Regulated Company is appointed as a water and/or sewerage undertaker pursuant to an Instrument of Appointment. The Instrument of Appointment is commonly referred to as a licence (and is referred to as such herein). Each Regulated Company is regulated through the conditions of its licence as well as the WIA. Each licence specifies the geographic area served by the company and imposes several conditions on the licence holder that relate to limits on charges, information reporting requirements, various codes of practice, and other matters. In addition to the conditions regulating price limits (see the section “Economic Regulation” below), each licence also contains conditions regulating infrastructure charges and the making of charges schemes and imposes prohibitions on undue discrimination and undue preference in charging. Other matters covered by conditions in each licence include: accounts and the provision of accounting information; core customer information; procedure on leakage; levels of service and service targets; “ring-fencing” of assets and restrictions on disposal of land; underground asset management plans; the provision of information to Ofwat; fees; payments to customers for supply interruptions because of drought; obligations in relation to the Market Arrangements Code, and the introduction of water under the supply licensing regime. Ofwat is responsible for monitoring compliance with licence conditions and, where necessary, enforcing compliance through procedures laid down in the WIA.

Termination of an Instrument of Appointment

There are certain circumstances provided for in the WIA under which a Regulated Company could cease to hold a licence for all or part of its area:

- a Regulated Company could consent to the making of a replacement appointment or variation, which changes its appointed area, in which case Ofwat has the authority to appoint a new licence holder;
- under Condition O of a licence, where the Secretary of State has given the Regulated Company at least 25 years' notice and that period of notice has expired;
- under the provisions of the Special Administration regime, the Special Administrator may transfer the business and licence to a successor (see the section "Special Administration Orders" below); or
- by the granting of an "inset" appointment (or "NAV") over part of a Regulated Company's existing appointed area to another Regulated Company (see "Competition in the Water Industry" below).

Before making an appointment or variation NAV replacing a Regulated Company, Ofwat or the Secretary of State must consider any representations or objections made by the existing Regulated Company and other consultees. Where the Secretary of State or Ofwat makes such an appointment or variation, in determining what provision should be made for the fixing of charges by the new Regulated Company, it is the duty of the Secretary of State or Ofwat (as applicable) to ensure, so far as may be consistent with their duties under the WIA, that the interests of the members and creditors of the existing Regulated Company are not unfairly prejudiced as regards the terms on which the new Regulated Company could accept transfers of property, rights and liabilities from the existing Regulated Company.

A NAV can be granted to a company seeking to provide water and/or water recycling services on an unserved site, or to premises using more than 50 megalitres of water (250 megalitres up until 2005) within an existing Regulated Company's area, or where the incumbent Regulated Company consents to the variation. Inset appointments may be granted to any existing or new Regulated Company, but not a licensed water supplier.

Modification of an Instrument of Appointment Regulatory landscape

Conditions of a licence may be modified in accordance with the procedures laid down in Section 12A of the WIA, as amended by the Environment Act 2021. Subject to a power of veto in certain circumstances within a certain timeframe by the Secretary of State, Ofwat requires YWS's consent to modify the Instrument of Appointment of YWS, following the procedure prescribed in sections 13 onwards of the WIA. Before making the modifications, the WIA requires Ofwat to publish a notice containing the proposed modifications as part of a consultation process. This notice must be published and sent to the Regulated Company whose licence is being modified under Section 12A, any other Regulated Company whose interests are materially affected by the modification, the Secretary of State, the Consumer Council for Water and any person whose function is to represent the Regulated Companies and their interests who are likely to be materially affected by the proposed modifications (a "Regulated Company Representee"). This consultation gives the Regulated Companies and the identified third parties, a certain time (not less than forty-two days from the publication of the notice) to make representations in relation to the proposed modifications which Ofwat must consider. After this period Ofwat must publish the decision and the modifications, state their effect, how Ofwat has taken into account any representation made and the reason for any differences between the modifications and those set out in the consultation. The proposed modifications will take effect fifty-six days after the publication of Ofwat's decision to modify, unless Ofwat considers it necessary or expedient for the modification to take place earlier. If Ofwat requires the modification to take place before the fifty-six day time period, Ofwat will need to indicate this in their initial notice, state their justification behind this accelerated time period, and state how it will not have a material adverse effect on any Regulated Company.

Where Ofwat proceeds with a modification under Section 12A of the WIA, an appeal can be made to the CMA. This appeal can be made by a Regulated Company whose licence is being modified under Section 12A, or by another Regulated Company whose interests are materially affected by the modification. Additionally, an appeal can be brought by a Regulated Company Representative, who is materially affected by the modification, or the Consumer Council for Water.

The CMA may refuse the appeal where the appeal is being brought by a Regulated Company, where that Regulated Company's licence is not being amended, and the CMA considers that Regulated Company's interests are not materially affected by the modification. A similar refusal mechanism applies to a Regulated Company Representative. In addition, the CMA may refuse an appeal where it is brought for reasons that are trivial or vexatious or has no reasonable prospect of success.

In determining the appeal, the CMA must have regard to the duties of Ofwat and the Secretary of State, as well as Ofwat's strategic priorities and objectives. These include furthering the consumer objective to ensure that the functions of Regulated Companies are properly carried out, and to ensure that Regulated Companies are able to finance the carrying out of those functions.

The CMA may allow the appeal where it is satisfied that the decision was wrong on one or more of the following grounds:

- that Ofwat failed properly to have regard to its duties, strategic priorities and objectives;
- that Ofwat failed properly to give appropriate weight to its duties or its strategic priorities and objectives;
- that the decision was based, wholly or partly, on an error of fact;
- that the modifications fail to achieve, in whole or in part, the effect stated by Ofwat;
- that the Authority did not follow the procedure required by Sections 12A to 12C of the WIA; and
- that the decision was otherwise wrong in law.

Should the CMA allow the appeal, it may quash the decision, or remit the matter back to Ofwat back to reconsider and make determinations in accordance with directions given by the CMA. Ofwat must comply with a direction given to it.

It is possible for primary legislation to confer on Ofwat the power to modify the licences of a Regulated Company albeit that this is usually a time-limited power and any licence modification must usually be made in accordance with, and as a direct consequence of, a provision of such primary legislation. To date, changes permitted pursuant to primary legislation have only occurred in relation to Conditions R and S.

The CMA (and the Secretary of State in certain circumstances) also has, among others, the power to modify the conditions of the licence after an investigation under its merger or market investigation powers under the Enterprise Act if it concludes that matters investigated in relation to water or sewerage services were anti-competitive or, in certain circumstances, against the public interest.

Since 2018, new appointee (NAV) activity has increased in the Yorkshire Water region and as at June 2024, 124 NAV appointments had been approved by Ofwat (70 for water, 11 for wastewater, 43 for combined services), with several others in the pipeline. For all the current appointments in the region, YWS supplies water and/or sewerage services in bulk to the NAV on an ongoing basis through a bulk supply or discharge agreement. As such, YWS will have long-term relationships with the NAVs to manage.

Recent modifications to and proposals to modify the Instrument of Appointment

Ring-fencing

In March 2023, Ofwat made modifications to strengthen the ring-fencing licence conditions of the largest undertakers. The changes include:

- (i) modifying the cash lock-up licence condition (i.e. the dividend restriction in Yorkshire Water's licence) to raise the cash lock-up trigger to BBB/Baa2 with negative outlook, effective from 1 April 2025;
- (ii) modifying the dividend policy licence condition to require that dividend policies and dividends declared or paid should take account of service delivery for customers and the environment over time, current and future investment needs and financial resilience over the long term (which became effective on 17 May 2023);
- (iii) requiring companies to notify Ofwat about any changes to credit ratings (including changes in rating and/or outlook, new ratings assigned or planned rating withdrawals), with reasons for the change, where applicable; and
- (iv) requiring water companies to maintain investment grade issuer credit ratings with at least two credit rating agencies.

Licence Fees

Regulated Companies are required to pay licence fees to Ofwat and Condition N of the licences set a cap on the level of these fees. In October 2022, Ofwat modified the regulation fee cap in order to ensure that the budget agrees with His Majesty's Treasury could be funded. The modification came into effect on 1 January 2023.

Customer Condition

On 12 February 2024, following consultations, Ofwat introduced into each Regulated Company's licence a new customer-focused Condition G and deleted Condition J. Condition G now provides a new regulatory basis for the requirement for companies to treat their household customers fairly, including by providing support to vulnerable customers.

Direct Procurement for Customers (DPC)

Following a consultation process, Ofwat amended the licence of six water companies (including Yorkshire Water) in relation to direct procurement for customers (DPC) that involves a water company competitively tendering for services for the delivery of discrete large infrastructure projects. The licence condition amendments to Condition B and a new Condition U in relation to the affected companies will come into effect on 21 June 2024 in advance of AMP8. These changes align with the changes Ofwat made in 2021 to five water companies for PR19 to enable DPC delivery.

In January 2022, Ofwat launched a consultation on whether to modify condition C of each English water company's Instrument of Appointment. The licence condition C relates to setting infrastructure charges. All water companies supported the proposal to remove licence condition C, as well as to reduce the time between making the modification and the modification taking effect. Condition C was removed from licences as of 1 April 2022.

Excluded Charges

In April 2024, Ofwat published its decision to amend the definition of “Excluded Charges” in Condition B (Charges) in the licence of the 14 English water companies for whom Ofwat will set price controls at PR24. Pursuant to this modification, new Excluded Charges, in relation to amounts or charges payable to those water companies for the specified developer services, will be added. The effect of these changes will be to exclude the revenue for these activities (including amounts payable for reasonable administrative expenses and other overheads) from the scope of the network plus price controls that Ofwat will be setting for the period from 1 April 2025 to 31 March 2030.

Enforcement Powers

The general duties of Regulated Companies as water or wastewater undertakers are enforceable by the Secretary of State for the Environment or Ofwat or both. The conditions of the Instrument of Appointment (and other duties) are enforceable by Ofwat alone whilst other duties, including those relating to water quality, are enforceable by the DWI. Other duties, such as those in respect of water abstractions and discharges, are enforceable by the EA.

Where the Secretary of State (via the DWI) or Ofwat is satisfied that a Regulated Company is contravening, is likely to contravene, is causing or contributing to a contravention or is likely to cause or contribute to a contravention of a condition of its licence or a relevant statutory or other requirement, either the Secretary of State or Ofwat (whichever is the appropriate enforcement authority) must make a final Enforcement Order to secure compliance with that condition or requirement, save that, where it appears to the Secretary of State or Ofwat that it would be more appropriate to make a provisional Enforcement Order, that party may do so. In determining whether a provisional Enforcement Order should be made, the Secretary of State or Ofwat shall have regard to the extent to which any person is likely to sustain loss or damage as a consequence of such breach before a final Enforcement Order is made. The Secretary of State or Ofwat will confirm a provisional Enforcement Order if satisfied that the provision made by the order is needed to ensure compliance with the condition or requirement that has been breached. There are exemptions from the Secretary of State’s and Ofwat’s duty to make an Enforcement Order or to confirm a provisional Enforcement Order where:

- the contraventions were, or the apprehended contraventions are, of a trivial nature;
- the company has given, and is complying with, a Section 19 Undertaking to secure or facilitate compliance with the condition or requirement in question;
- duties in the WIA preclude the making or confirmation of the order; or
- where it would be more appropriate to proceed under the Competition Act 1998.

Section 19 Undertakings create obligations that are capable of direct enforcement under section 18 of the WIA. Accordingly, the main implication of a Regulated Company assuming such an undertaking is that any future breach of the specific commitments contained in the undertaking is enforceable in its own right (without the need for further grounding on general statutory or licence provisions).

The WIA also confers powers on Ofwat or the Secretary of State to impose financial penalties on Regulated Companies and the licensees introduced by the Water Act 2003. Ofwat and the Secretary of State have the power to fine such a company up to 10 per cent. (for each respective breach) of the relevant turnover (where possible relating to the business area where the breach occurred) in the business year if it has failed or is continuing to fail to comply with its licence conditions, standards of performance or other obligations. The penalty must also be reasonable in all the circumstances. The time limit for imposing such financial penalties has been extended by the Water Act 2014 from 12 months to 5 years. A penalty may not be imposed later than five years from the contravention or failure except when a notice under section 22A(4) of the WIA (indicating the amount of the proposed penalty and the circumstances giving rise to a penalty) or under section 203(2) of the WIA (requiring the Regulated Company to provide information in relation to the contravention or failure) is served during that period. Where a final or provisional order has been made in respect of a contravention or failure, a penalty cannot be imposed unless a notice under section 22A(4) is served within 3 months of the final order or confirmation of the provisional order, or within 6 months of the provisional order if it is not confirmed.

As at the date of this Prospectus, neither Ofwat nor the Secretary of State has imposed any such financial penalties on YWS.

Ofwat published an updated enforcement strategy in January 2017. This remains the most recent enforcement strategy. Ofwat confirmed that its approach to enforcement is risk-based and aimed at securing companies' compliance with their licence and statutory obligations. Ofwat stated that although it is willing to use all powers vested in it under relevant legislation to secure compliance, where it finds that a company has breached its licence or a statutory obligation, it may consider not opening a formal enforcement case if the company has taken appropriate steps to provide redress to customers or it may start formal proceedings but agree to reduce the penalty. Some contraventions (i.e., misreporting or causing harm to customers) will automatically result in enforcement action and in some instances, significant financial penalties.

The Water Act 2003 also provides for situations where a new licensee has caused or contributed to a breach of a Regulated Company's licence or caused or contributed to a Regulated Company contravening a statutory or other requirement, or where a Regulated Company has caused or contributed to the breach of a new licensee's licence or caused or contributed to the breach of the latter's statutory or other requirements. In those cases, Ofwat may impose an appropriate remedy. A Regulated Company may appeal a penalty order to the Court. The Court may cancel or reduce the penalty or extend the timescale to pay. The requirement to pay the penalty is suspended until the case is determined. A financial penalty may not be imposed under this provision for an infringement if it is more appropriate to proceed under the Competition Act.

Special Administration Orders

(a) Circumstances

The WIA contains provisions enabling the Secretary of State or Ofwat to secure the general continuity of water supply and wastewater services. In certain specified circumstances, the Court may, on the application of the Secretary of State or, with their consent, Ofwat, make a Special Administration Order in relation to a Regulated Company and appoint a Special Administrator. These circumstances include:

- where there has been, or is likely to be, a breach by a Regulated Company of its principal duties to supply water or provide wastewater services or of a final or confirmed provisional enforcement order and, in either case, the breach is serious enough to make it inappropriate for the Regulated Company to continue to hold its licence;
- where the Regulated Company is, or is likely to be, unable to pay its debts;
- where, in a case in which the Secretary of State has certified that it would be appropriate, but for section 25 of the WIA, for him to petition for the winding-up of the Regulated Company under section 124A of the Insolvency Act, it would be just and equitable, as mentioned in that section, for the Regulated Company to be wound up if it did not hold a licence; and
- where the Regulated Company is unable or unwilling to adequately participate in arrangements certified by the Secretary of State or Ofwat to be necessary by reason of, or in connection with, the appointment of a new Regulated Company upon termination or variation of the existing Regulated Company's licence.

In addition, on an application being made to Court, whether by the Regulated Company itself or by its directors, creditors or contributories, for the compulsory winding-up of the Regulated Company, the Court would not be entitled to make a winding-up order. However, if satisfied that it would be appropriate to make such an order if the Regulated Company were not a company holding a licence, the Court shall instead make a Special Administration Order.

(b) Special Administration Petition Period

During the period beginning with the presentation of the petition for Special Administration and ending with the making of a Special Administration Order or the dismissal of the petition (the "Special Administration Petition Period"), the Regulated Company may not be wound up, no steps may be taken to enforce any security except with the leave of the Court and, subject to such terms as the Court may impose, no other proceedings or other legal process may be commenced or continued against the Regulated Company or its property except with the leave of the Court.

Once a Special Administration Order has been made, any petition presented for the winding-up of the company will be dismissed and any receiver appointed, removed. Whilst a Special Administration Order is in force, those restrictions imposed during the Special Administration Petition Period continue.

(c) Special Administrator powers and the Transfer Scheme

A Special Administrator has extensive powers similar to those of administrators under the Insolvency Act, but with certain important differences. They are appointed for the purposes of transferring to one or more different Regulated Companies as a going concern, so much of the business of the Regulated Company as is necessary to ensure the proper carrying out of its water supply or sewerage functions as the case may be and, pending the transfer, of carrying out those functions. During the period of the order, the Regulated Company is managed for the achievement of the purposes of the order and in a manner, which protects the respective interests of members and creditors. However, the effect of other provisions of the WIA is ultimately to subordinate members' and creditors' rights to the achievement of the purposes of the Special Administration Order.

Were a Special Administration Order to be made, it is for the Special Administrator to agree to the terms of the transfer on behalf of the existing appointee, subject to the provisions of the WIA. The Transfer Scheme may provide for the transfer of the property, rights and liabilities of the existing Regulated Company to the new Regulated Company(ies) and may also provide for the transfer of the existing Regulated Company's licence (with modifications as set out in the Transfer Scheme) to the new Regulated Company(ies). The powers of a Special Administrator include, as part of a Transfer Scheme, the ability to make modifications to the licence of the existing Regulated Company, subject to the approval of the Secretary of State or Ofwat, as well as the power to exercise any right the Regulated Company may have to seek a review by Ofwat of the Regulated Company's charges pursuant to an interim determination of a price limit or a Substantial Effects Clause. To take effect, the Transfer Scheme must be approved by the Secretary of State or Ofwat. In addition, the Secretary of State and Ofwat may modify a Transfer Scheme before approving it or at any time afterwards with the consent of the Special Administrator and each new Regulated Company.

The WIA also grants the Secretary of State, with the approval of His Majesty's Treasury, the power: (i) to make appropriate grants or loans to achieve the purposes of the Special Administration Order and to indemnify the Special Administrator against losses or damages sustained in connection with the carrying out of their functions; and (ii) to guarantee the payment of principal or interest and the discharge of any other financial obligations in connection with any borrowings of the Regulated Company subject to a Special Administration Order.

The FWM Act (see “Competition in the Water Industry” below) amended the special administration regime in the WIA to bring it in line with modern insolvency practice in unregulated industries. The FWM Act also streamlined the procedures for transferring a failing company to new owners. The changes enable the Special Administrator to pursue the goal of rescuing the Regulated Company as a going concern if this is reasonably practicable. Some of these provisions are in force as of 12 January 2024 by virtue of the Flood and Water Management Act 2010 (Commencement No. 10) Order 2024, as further described below (see “Updates to the Special Administration Regime”).

In its updated approach to enforcement dated 9 January 2017, Ofwat has confirmed that, as at the beginning of 2016, neither the Secretary of State nor Ofwat have needed to apply to the Court for such a Special Administration Order (although the process has now been used for energy supplier Bulb).

(d) Updates to the Special Administration Regime

On 12 January 2024, the Flood and Water Management Act 2010 (Commencement No. 10) Order 2024 came into force. On 22 January 2024, the Water Industry Act 1991 (Amendment) Order 2024 and Water Industry (Special Administration) Regulations 2024 (together, the “WISAR Regulations”) were laid before parliament in draft form. The WISAR Regulations have since come into force on 23 February 2024.

The Flood and Water Management Act 2010 (Commencement No. 10) Order 2024 brings into force certain changes which were made or envisaged by Schedule 5 of The Flood and Water Management Act 2010 and the Corporate Insolvency and Governance Act 2020, but which have laid dormant on the statute book until now. Key changes which are in force as of 12 January 2024 include:

- (i) updating the statutory objectives of the regime where it is commenced on the grounds of insolvency to include as a primary objective the “rescue of the company as a going concern” and providing that in such circumstances the existing going concern transfer objective only applies if the Special Administrator thinks that: (a) it is not likely to be possible to achieve the rescue objective; or (b) transfer is more likely to secure more effective performance of the functions or activities of the water undertaker;
- (ii) the ability to utilise the existing transfer scheme by way of a ‘hive down’, whereby a going concern transfer may be effected by transferring all or part of the company’s undertaking to a wholly-owned subsidiary and then transferring the shares in that subsidiary to another company; and
- (iii) the ability for a Special Administrator to propose a company voluntary arrangement under the Insolvency Act or a scheme of arrangement or restructuring plan under the Companies Act 2006 in furtherance of the priority rescue objective.

Key changes of the WISAR Regulations, now in force as of 23 February 2024, include:

- (i) the application of a modified form of the “new” style administration law under Schedule B1 to the Insolvency Act, as opposed to the current position which applies a modified form of the “old” administration regime under the pre-September 2003 version of the Insolvency Act, which was in force prior to the significant overhaul and modernisation of the administration regime introduced by the Enterprise Act;

- (ii) a number of proposed changes to the Insolvency Act and the Companies Act 2006 to give DEFRA and Ofwat enhanced oversight where company voluntary arrangements, schemes of arrangement or restructuring plans (as applicable) are used;
- (iii) an express prohibition on Special Administrators disposing of Protected Land without the consent of the Secretary of State;
- (iv) providing for the ranking of expenses and HM Treasury funding, HM Treasury loans, grants guarantees or indemnities rateably with other liabilities arising under contracts entered into by the Special Administrator and in priority to remuneration and expenses of the Special Administrator;
- (v) updates to the ability to challenge the conduct of a Special Administrator such that, in addition to creditors and members, the Secretary of State or Ofwat will also be able to apply to the court, on certain grounds and in certain circumstances, to challenge the conduct of a Special Administrator. This includes standalone rights for the Secretary of State or Ofwat to challenge conduct (or proposed conduct) of the Special Administrator that is contrary to the conditions of the company's instrument of appointment or other statutory requirements imposed on water companies, alongside updates to provide that the court cannot grant a remedy in respect of a challenge made by creditors or members unless the Secretary of State and Ofwat have been given a reasonable opportunity to make representations. Changes are also made to bring the challenge provisions broadly in line, with modifications, with the equivalent provisions under Schedule B1 to the Insolvency Act; and
- (vi) including clarity as to the options available for ending the Special Administration (e.g., via a creditors' voluntary liquidation, dissolution or court application) broadly by the Special Administrator with the consent of the Secretary of State or Ofwat or, in relation to the court route only, on the application of the Secretary of State or Ofwat.

On 19 March 2024, the Water Industry (Special Administration) (England and Wales) Rules 2024 came into force. The key change in this respect relate to applying a modified form of the Insolvency (England and Wales) Rules 2016 to the Special Administration regime, thereby displacing the "old" style Water Industry (Special Administration) Rules 2009 that had hitherto applied, so as to bring the insolvency rules that apply to the Special Administration regime up-to-date with those that apply in the ordinary administration context (subject to applicable modifications).

Protected Land

Under the WIA, there is a prohibition on Regulated Companies disposing of any of their Protected Land except with the specific consent of, or in accordance with a general authorisation given by, the Secretary of State. A consent or authorisation may be given on such conditions as the Secretary of State considers appropriate. For the purpose of these provisions, disposal includes the creation of any interest (including leases, licences, mortgages, easements and wayleaves) in or any right over land and includes the creation of a charge. Condition K of YWS's Instrument of Appointment sets a threshold of £1 million for requiring permission from Ofwat to dispose of Protected Land or £500,000 in respect of a disposal to an associated company. All land disposals are reported to Ofwat in the annual return.

Protected Land comprises any land, or any interest or right in or over any land, which:

- was transferred to a water and sewerage company (under the provisions of the Water Act 1989) on 1 September 1989, or was held by a water only company at any time during the financial year 1989/90;
- is, or has at any time on or after 1 September 1989 been, held by a company for purposes connected with the carrying out of its regulated water or wastewater functions; or
- has been transferred to a company in accordance with a scheme under Schedule 2 to the WIA from another company, in relation to which the land was Protected Land when the transferring company held an appointment as a water or sewerage undertaker.

Unless a specific consent is obtained from the Secretary of State, all disposals of Protected Land must comply with Condition K of the licences of Regulated Companies. This condition seeks to ensure: (i) that, in disposing of Protected Land, the Regulated Company retains sufficient rights and assets to enable a Special Administrator to run its business, affairs and property so that the purposes of the Special Administration Order can be achieved; and (ii) that the best price is received from disposals of land. Where such proceeds were not taken into account when price limits were set, they are shared equally as between customers and shareholders. To this end there are certain procedures for and restrictions on the disposal of Protected Land and special rules apply to disposals by auction or formal tender and to disposals to certain associated companies. These include a restriction on the disposal (except with the consent of Ofwat) of Protected Land required for carrying out the Appointed Business. In addition, Ofwat can impose conditions on disposals of Protected Land including conditions relating to the manner in which the proceeds of a sale are to be used.

Given the purposes of the WIA (in particular, the purposes of the Special Administration regime and the restrictions on enforcement of security thereunder) and of Condition K of its licence, a Regulated Company would not expect to obtain the consent of the Secretary of State or Ofwat to the creation of any security over its Protected Land.

Security

Restrictions on the granting of Security

A Regulated Company's ability to grant security over its assets and the enforcement of such security are restricted by the provisions of the WIA and its licence. For example, both the WIA and the licence restrict a Regulated Company's ability to dispose of Protected Land (as explained in the section "Protected Land" above). Accordingly, its licence restricts a Regulated Company's ability to create a charge or mortgage over Protected Land.

In addition, provisions in a Regulated Company's licence require the Regulated Company at all times:

- (a) to ensure, so far as is reasonably practicable, that if a Special Administration Order were made in respect of it, it would have sufficient rights and assets (other than financial resources) to enable the Special Administrator to manage its affairs, business and property so that the purpose of such an order could be achieved; and
- (b) to act in the manner best calculated to ensure that it has adequate: (a) financial resources and facilities; (b) management resources; and (c) systems planning and internal control, to enable it to carry out its regulated activities.

These provisions have the indirect effect of further limiting the ability of a Regulated Company to grant security over its assets, in particular assets required for carrying out the Appointed Business, and by limiting in practice the ability to enforce such security.

Restrictions on the enforcement of Security

Under the WIA, the enforcement of security given by a Regulated Company in respect of its assets is prohibited unless the person enforcing the security has first given 14 days' notice to both the Secretary of State and Ofwat. If a petition for Special Administration has been presented, leave of the Court is required before such security is enforceable or any administrative receiver can be appointed (or, if an administrative receiver has been appointed between the expiry of the required notice period and presentation of the petition, before the administrative receiver can continue to carry out their functions). These restrictions continue once a Special Administration Order is in force with some modification (see the section "Special Administration Orders" above).

Once a Special Administrator has been appointed, he would have the power, without requiring the Court's consent, to deal with property charged pursuant to a floating charge as if it were not so charged. When such property is disposed of under this power, the proceeds of the disposal would, however, be treated as if subject to a floating charge which had the same priority as that afforded by the original floating charge.

A disposal by the Special Administrator of any property secured by a fixed charge given by the Regulated Company could be made only under an order of the Court unless the creditor in respect of whom such security is granted otherwise agreed to such disposal. Such an order could be made if, following an application by the Special Administrator, the Court was satisfied that the disposal would be likely to promote one or more of the purposes for which the order was made (although the Special Administrator is subject to the general duty to manage the company in a manner which protects the respective interests of the creditors and members of the Regulated Company). Upon such disposal, the proceeds to which that creditor would be entitled would be determined by reference to the "best price which is reasonably available on a sale which is consistent with the purposes of the Special Administration Order" as opposed to an amount not less than "open market value" which would apply in a conventional administration for a non-Regulated Company under the Insolvency Act.

Within three months of the making of a Special Administration Order or such longer period as the Court may allow, the Special Administrator must send a copy of their proposals for achieving the purposes of the order to, inter alios, the Secretary of State, Ofwat and the creditors of the company. The creditors' approval of the Special Administrator's proposal is not required at any specially convened meeting (unlike in the conduct of a conventional administration under the Insolvency Act). The interests of creditors and members in a Special Administration are still capable of being protected since they have the right to apply to the Court if they consider that their interests are being prejudiced. Such an application may be made by the creditors or members by petition for an order on several grounds, including either: (i) that the Regulated Company's affairs, business and property are being or have been managed by the Special Administrator in a manner which is unfairly prejudicial to the interests of its creditors or members; or (ii) that any actual or proposed act of the Special Administrator is or would be prejudicial. Except as mentioned below, the Court may make such order as it thinks fit, and any order made by the Court may include an order to require the Special Administrator to refrain from doing or continuing an act about which there has been a complaint. The exception referred to above is that the Court may not make an order which would prejudice or prevent the achievement of the purposes of the Special Administration Order.

Enforcement of Security over Shares in Regulated Companies

Under the WIA, the enforcement of security over, and the subsequent sale of, directly or indirectly, the shares in a Regulated Company would not be subject to the restrictions described above in relation to the security over a Regulated Company's business and assets. Notwithstanding this, given Ofwat's general duties under the WIA to exercise and perform its powers and duties, inter alia, to ensure that the functions of a Regulated Company are properly carried out, the expectation is that any intended enforcement, either directly or indirectly, of security over, and subsequently any planned disposal of, the shares in a Regulated Company to a third party purchaser would require consultation with Ofwat. In addition, depending on the circumstances, the merger control provisions could apply in respect of any such disposal.

Economic Regulation

Overview

Economic regulation of the water industry in England and Wales was historically based on a system of five-year single price caps imposed on the amounts which a Regulated Company can charge to its customers. This was replaced with effect from 1 April 2015 with a system of four (three for water-only companies) price limits covering water operations, wastewater operations, retail household and retail non-household. The system retains its incentive based properties and each price limit will operate for five years as with the previous regime, with the exception of retail non-household. The general features of each of the Ofwat's determinations are described further below. YWS specific information relating to the 2019 and 2021 Final Determinations is set out in Chapter 5 "Description of the YW Financing Group". The outcome of the next price review will run from April 2025 to 31 March 2030 ("PR24") with the Final Determination for PR24 expected in December 2024. In December 2022 Ofwat finalised its price setting methodology following consultation earlier in the year by way of the PR24 Final Methodology.

PR24 Price Control

Ofwat published for consultation its views in July 2022 on how the price control in AMP8 would be conducted, and this was subsequently updated by the PR24 Final Methodology published in December 2022. The PR24 final methodology is very much a continuation and refinement of the themes that had been identified in PR19. Ofwat set out its four key ambitions, namely:

- focusing on the long term with stronger adaptive planning to deliver the right investment to meet immediate and long-term challenges when the future is uncertain, as well as holding companies to account for the improvements that they need to deliver;
- delivering greater environmental and social value, including by acting immediately on river water quality, moving faster towards net zero, and working differently to deliver more catchment- and nature-based solutions;
- reflecting a clearer understanding of customers and communities with open meetings on companies' plans, more robust research to ensure customers' voices are heard and better understood, and wider engagement with partners; and
- driving improvements through efficiency and innovation and rewarding companies that produce the most ambitious business plans to meet the challenges facing the sector.

Ofwat proposed to further develop markets for developer services, bioresources, water resources and the provision of large infrastructure and reduce discharges from the wastewater network. The details include:

- Allowed return on equity to be set based on CAPM, unless there is "strong and compelling" evidence from market-based cross-checks to deviate from this; the allowed return on equity is not to be indexed, but Ofwat may revisit the option of indexing should volatility in borrowing rates persist at the time that each of the draft and the final determinations are set;
- Decrease notional gearing to recognise the need for more equity in the notional capital structure;

- The balance sheet will be used as the primary method for setting an embedded debt allowance, excluding swaps and non-standard debt instruments;
- Setting a separate, indexed, allowance for new debt, with an acute focus on actual outperformance achieved by companies;
- Provide an early view for determining the return on capital set on the basis of a fixed allowed return on equity. Reflecting that this ‘early view’ has been set in a period impacted by volatility and movements in interest rates, Ofwat keeps open the option to use a longer trail of historical data for setting the draft and final determinations in 2024, reflecting the evolution of interest rates;
- Ensure investors receive a reasonable return, but that customers will not unnecessarily bear high bills at PR24 and beyond; require companies to assess and report on risks around their business plan using return on regulatory equity (“RoRE”);
- Fully index the RCV to CPIH from the start of the 2025-30 control period;
- Set standalone tax allowances at the wholesale level for each wholesale control and set the margin for the retail controls to include an allowance for tax; pass through significant changes in the tax framework outside company control (e.g. corporation tax rate) and adopt a symmetrical approach to tax clawback arrangements where companies with gearing levels that are above the notional level inject equity to strengthen their financial resilience in 2025 to 2030; and
- Each company will need to submit a plan that is financeable and provide Board assurance that it is financeable on the basis of the notional capital structure; target credit rating of at least BBB+/Baa1; cashflow metrics to be used.

A summary of the control is set out in the table below:

Price Controls	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • No change to the number of price controls but most developer services connections excluded and assessed separately for efficiency • Changes to method of cost assessment for bioresources, moving to a market-based approach to funding bioresources • Retail price control to remain unindexed although potential for real price effects to be agreed ex ante

More focussed assessment areas for quality & ambition. • Open challenge sessions with customers and stakeholders before and after business plan submission
Outcomes	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • 23 common performance commitments, limited bespoke performance commitments and delivery managed by price control deliverables • All performance commitments will have financial ODIs, with symmetrical ODI rates set at ~70% of marginal benefit (using the collaborative research) where possible • No dead-bands except for CRI and limited caps/collars, but further consideration to be given

YWS submitted its draft business plan for AMP8 to Ofwat in October 2023, as the opening claim on price control resources for AMP8, within the PR24 price control review process. YWS’s plan for the 2025-2023 regulatory period, which has been developed in conjunction with customers, includes spending £7.8 billion operating and investing in its network to deliver its essential services to customers and delivering its biggest ever environmental investment programme. This includes an investment of £1.8 billion in delivering the WINEP enhancement programme including delivering the legal requirement of the Storm Overflow Discharge Reduction Plan.

PR24 Draft Determination

The periodic review currently under way will culminate in the determination of price controls for the period 1 April 2025 to 31 March 2030. On 11 July 2024, Ofwat published its PR24 draft determination (the “DD”) for YWS. Notable features of the DD include the following:

- Ofwat’s assessment of YWS’ Totex, WACC, “cost of equity” and “cost of debt” in the DD compared to YWS’ business plan for AMP8 were:

	YWS’ Business Plan	DD
Totex	£8.1bn	£7.3bn

WACC	3.66%	3.72%
Cost of equity	4.55%	4.80%
Cost of debt	2.94%	2.84%

- The quality and ambition of Yorkshire Water’s PR24 plan was assessed as ‘standard’, earning a reward equivalent to £11m or an additional 5bps return;
- Ofwat deemed YWS’ base costs as “very efficient” in wastewater and bioresources, “efficient” in retail, but “inefficient” in water;
- Three of YWS’ adjustment claims were accepted by Ofwat (water mains replacement, phosphorus removal and water meter replacement), with two rejected (for clean water asset health linked to treated water storage tanks, filters and clarifiers);
- YWS’ performance commitment levels set at the industry average position;
- Frontier shift efficiency adjustment of 1% per year for majority of base and enhancement expenditures, applied from 2023-24, compared to 0.7% in the business plan; and
- Additional protections introduced, including caps and collars on selected incentive mechanisms and energy cost indexation.

YWS submitted its responses and representations on the DD to Ofwat on 28 August 2024 (the “DD Response”). The Board of YWS concluded that it was unable to provide the requested assurance that YWS is financially resilient for 2025-30 and beyond based on Ofwat’s DD and made a number of representations on the DD in the DD Response. YWS’ DD Response focussed on the following key areas:

- Sector Investability: YWS’s view is that Ofwat’s DD appeared to focus on the near term at the expense of the long term, the DD is not the right balance in the long term interest of customers, and that the DD raises significant questions over the investability of the UK water sector, and particularly YWS’s ability to finance its operations. Despite a welcome movement to introduce an aiming up element on cost of capital, the equity return on offer to investors, at 6.80% is only marginally above other types of asset classes, such as investment grade corporate bonds. Yet, the potential return carries significant downside risk given substantial reductions to Totex allowances, the challenging performance commitments and related penalties in the draft determination, together with Ofwat’s measures to restrict dividends, and the clear rise in reputational risk for those operating in the sector in the UK.
- Totex allowance: Ofwat allowed a total expenditure which is £1.9 billion higher than YWS’ PR19 cost allowance but £0.8 billion or 11% lower than YWS’s business plan, whilst raising YWS’s delivery obligations. YWS identified three specific areas of concern in light of the costs allowance, being (i) storm overflows (£325 million reduction) (ii) targeted allowances cost adjustment claims (£332 million reduction) and (iii) the Chellow water treatment works (requested under DPC) (£105 million reduction). YWS’ DD Response includes a Totex plan of £8.4 billion (post frontier shift and gross of grants and contributions), including an additional £165 million for coastal bathing water investment at Scarborough and Robin Hoods Bay requested by YWS as part of the DD Response. This represents an increase of £1.1 billion compared to the DD.
- Performance commitments: Ofwat has set targets for a range of performance commitments YWS in AMP8, including reducing storm overflow spills by 43%, leakage by 12%, customer water supply interruptions by 45% and internal sewer flooding by 60%. YWS plans specifically to address internal sewer flooding, storm overflows, GHG wastewater and mains repairs. YWS however, believes that although the targets have been set at a median level in the DD (while the targets were previously set at levels in the upper quartile), the majority of the water companies are set to be in significant penalty position in AMP8 as Ofwat's starting point in setting these targets is not currently being achieved by the industry. YWS would have to improve by 40% or 50% in some areas to avoid penalties, whilst in other areas, the delivery profiles do not reflect the agreed compliance dates with the EA and bring forward the output deliverables, increasing the inevitability of penalties. YWS has requested in the DD Response that Ofwat reassesses the performance commitments to fairly balance between risk and reward and act as an incentive at the margin to improve outcomes for customers and the environment, rather than punitive regime.

- WACC: Ofwat has determined YWS's WACC at 3.72% in the DD, which is slightly higher than set out in the company's business plan, including a 25bps aiming-up allowance. YWS believes that Ofwat's determination does not reflect YWS's actual cost of financing for AMP8 given the movement in markets and the risk profile in the last year.
- Customer bills: YWS believes that Ofwat's approach to address customer bills in AMP8 is to use lower RCV run-off rates (from 4.65% to 4.17%), deferring cash flows to companies and as a result, increasing implications for future bills. This deferral also puts asset resilience at risk, potentially comprising service for current and future customers. YWS in the DD Response noted that YWS does not agree with this approach, including that it is inconsistent with other steps that Ofwat wish to take to improve financial resilience. YWS expressed its view in the DD Response that the natural rate is the fair rate to use for RCV run-off.
- Uncertainty mechanisms: Ofwat have put in place uncertainty mechanism to mitigate future risk, including business rates, IED, sludge land bank requirements and energy costs. However, the majority of these push the impact of the uncertainty to future period and hence defer costs. YWS would encourage Ofwat to ensure that a reasonable allowance is made in AMP8 as a baseline for these costs in addition the uncertainty mechanism provided.
- Performance commitment deliverables: Ofwat introduced the concept of performance commitment deliverables in AMP8, requiring companies to refund money to customers where enhancement projects are not delivered in the AMP or on time. YWS welcomes the focus on ensuring companies deliver improvement commitments on time, however, in the DD Response, YWS noted that a number of the mechanisms Ofwat are proposing, for example on smart meters, have significant risks that companies alone are not able to mitigate.

YWS' DD Response is focused on ensuring that their business plan meets the needs of customers, that they can invest in the resilience of their network and meet environmental requirements. YWS believes that it can be financial resilient in AMP8 if its represented changes are accepted by Ofwat in its final determination, which is due to be published in December 2024. Any assessment of financial resilience remains conditional on Ofwat acting in accordance with its statutory duty to ensure water companies are financeable and investible and to set cost of capital at a level that is sufficient to attract new investment required in the sector. All aspects of the DD are subject to revision prior to the publication of final determinations, including the allowed rate of return.

Key features of the AMP7 and AMP8 price limit framework

A key feature of the AMP7 price limit framework is Ofwat's continued ambition to set allowances independently of companies' business plans based on economic models of the costs of an efficient water company. This places the onus on companies to manage their business in such a way that is sustainable over the long term. Ofwat has moved to an 'outcome based' regulatory model and hence has put in place outcomes, commitments and ODIs which affect all price limits. These have been developed during the price review for each price limit following extensive customer engagement and review by Ofwat. The outcomes apply to the Regulated Company and describe the outcomes that customers wish to be delivered. The YWS outcomes are set out in Chapter 5 “Description of the YW Financing Group”.

For each outcome a series of appropriate commitments are established that set out the levels of performance that will be targeted in the current price limit period. For PR24, Ofwat specified 15 ‘common’ performance commitments, which all companies were required to include in their plans. These reflected the priorities that were common to all customers, such as leakage, service interruptions or sewer flooding. Other ‘bespoke’ performance commitments were proposed by companies to reflect local priorities. To incentivise delivery of these commitments, ODIs, either financial or reputational, are developed for each commitment. Where financial incentives apply, the unit rate of reward or penalty, and the bands in which the incentive applies, are also established. Companies will report on their performance against all incentives (financial and non-financial) on an annual basis. Where financial rewards or penalties are accrued in any year, they are reflected in allowed revenues two years later.

In addition to the company-specific ODIs, Ofwat has included common performance ODI’s to allow companies to be compared against a defined set of measures.

In PR19, Ofwat also introduced two new customer satisfaction measures – C-MeX and D-MeX. C-MeX is a measure of household customers’ satisfaction and replaces Ofwat’s previous satisfaction measure, SIM. C-MeX carries a maximum reward and penalty of 12% of retail revenues. D-MeX measures the service provided to developers wishing to connect to the water or wastewater network. The maximum reward is 2.5%, and the maximum penalty 5%, of developer services revenue. These metrics continue into AMP8.

Wholesale price limits

Ofwat have moved on from AMP6 and have split the number of wholesale controls further from two to four control, water resources, water networks, wastewater networks and bioresources.

Three of the newly defined controls, water resources, water networks and wastewater networks share a number of common features which are described below.

K factor: The wholesale controls are revenue caps with the amount of revenue that can be collected, in each control, limited to the previous year’s revenue cap increased by the sum of the percentage movement in the CPIH plus K, a company and price limit specific adjustment factor.

More specifically the wholesale price limit shall consist of, in each charging year:

- the percentage change (expressed, in the case of an increase, as a positive number, in the case of a decrease, as a negative number, and, in the case of no change, as zero) in the CPIH between the published for the month of November in the prior year and that published for the immediately preceding November; and
- a number, “K”, which may be a positive number or a negative number or zero, which together shall be expressed as a percentage, and which shall limit the change in the revenue allowed to the Appointed Business in each charging year in respect of the wholesale activities concerned.

For the purpose of this price limit, the revenue in respect of the wholesale activities concerned includes capital contributions such as cash receipts from connection and infrastructure charges (including requisitions and self-lay).

For each charging year starting on or after 1 April 2020 the revenue allowed to the Appointed Business in respect of the wholesale activities concerned will be the product of the following formula:

$$R_t = R_{t-1} \times (1 + (\text{CPIH}_t + K_t)/100)$$

Where:

R_t = Revenue allowed to the Appointed Business in charging year;

R_{t-1} = Revenue allowed to the Appointed Business in the prior year;

$\text{CPIH}_t + K_t$ = a number which is the sum of:

- (i) the percentage change (expressed, in the case of an increase, as a positive number, in the case of a decrease, as a negative number, and, in the case of no change, as zero) in the CPIH between that published for the month of November in the prior year and that published for the immediately preceding November; and
- (ii) a number, “ K_t ” for charging year t , which may be a positive number or a negative number or zero.

Specific values for YWS for price limits for years 2020 to 2025 are set out in Chapter 5 “Description of the YW Financing Group”.

The bioresources control is:

- a total amount of revenue which is modified to reflect differences between outturn sludge production and forecast sludge production;
- an adjustment to reflect any over- or under-recovery of revenue in previous charging years; and
- an adjustment to reflect any profit made by the Appointed Business where assets belonging to the Appointed Business are used by any other person (or by any business or activity of the Appointee other than the Appointed Business) and shall limit the revenue allowed to the Appointed Business in each charging year starting on or after 1 April 2020. The price control shall be calculated by the following formula:

$$R_t = MR_t - ABR_t - [T_{t-2} \times (1 + \text{CPIH}_{t-1}/100) \times (1 + \text{CPIH}_t)/100]$$

Where:

$$ABR_t = (\text{RR}_{t-2} - R_{t-2}) \times (1 + D/100)^2 \times (1 + \text{CPIH}_{t-1}/100) \times (1 + \text{CPIH}_t/100)$$

UR_t = Unadjusted revenue. This is the total revenue allowed to the Appointed Business in each charging year starting on or after 1 April 2020 based on the forecast amount of sludge produced. It is set out in Table 5 within “Ofwat’s PR19 final determination of Price Controls for Yorkshire Water”.

MR_t = Modified revenue. This is the unadjusted revenue allowed to the Appointed Business which is modified to reflect differences between outturn sludge production and forecast sludge production.

ABR_t = Bioresources revenue adjustment. This is the difference between the Appointee’s allowed revenue and the revenue actually recovered in a charging year two years before charging year t in respect of bioresources activities. Inflation and financing adjustments for two years is applied to this difference. In the charging years starting 1 April 2020 and 1 April 2021, this term shall have the value of zero.

Tt-2 = Profit from bioresources trading expressed in outturn prices in £ millions in year t-2. When appointed assets are used for sludge imports (non-appointed activities), the company will determine a transfer price. This should include at least the incremental cost of treating the imported sludge plus a proportion of the margin from the trade. The Appointee should act consistent with the Regulatory accounting guidelines (RAG) 5.07 when setting their transfer price. The Tt-2 profits from bioresources trading will be the margin element of the transfer prices earned for trades that occur in year t-2. In the charging years starting 1 April 2020 and 1 April 2021, this term shall have the value of zero.

ATDSt = Actual volume of sludge (TDS). This is the total amount of sludge produced in terms of tonnes of dried solid (TDS) during the charging year produced by the whole service. This will be known after the end of the charging year. When setting charges for the charging year, companies should use the best available estimate of what ATDSt would be.

FTDSt = Forecast volume of sludge (TDS) produced in year t as set out in Table 5 within “Ofwat’s PR19 final determination of Price Controls for Yorkshire Water”.

VR = Variable revenue. The adjustment to allowed revenue reflecting differences between outturn sludge production and forecast sludge production as set out in Table 5 within “Ofwat’s PR19 final determination of Price Controls for Yorkshire Water”.

Regulatory Capital Value: Under the methodology developed by Ofwat, the regulatory capital value (RCV) of Regulated Companies is a critical parameter in the calculation of the wholesale price limits set at Periodic Reviews. It represents the value of the capital base of the relevant price limit for the purposes of calculating the return on the capital element of the determination of K. The value of the regulatory capital value to investors and lenders is protected against inflation by an annual adjustment. This annual adjustment is transitioning from RPI to CPIH during AMP7, with 50% of the opening RCV being inflated by RPI and 50% by CPIH. From the start of the PR24 price limit period, the RCV will be fully indexed by CPIH. In addition, Ofwat’s projections of regulatory capital value take account of the assumed net RCV additions in each year of a Periodic Review Period which are a function of the total expenditure over the period and the pay-as-you-go (“PAYG”) ratio. The PAYG ratio is established for each price limit in the Final Determination and reflects the proportion of total expenditure that is remunerated in the current price limit period with the remaining non-PAYG totex added to the RCV to be remunerated in future periods. The remuneration of the RCV occurs through the RCV run-off, where the RCV is reduced by the RCV run-off rate that is included within the revenue cap.

Totex Menu: in the totex menu was a mechanism in AMP6 that provided an incentive on Regulated Companies to reduce their wholesale costs and improve efficiency. Companies made a choice for each of their wholesale controls, following the Final Determination using the menu published by Ofwat, that determined three factors – the level of allowed expenditure, the level of additional income and a totex sharing rate. These factors operated together to provide an incentive to maximise totex efficiency. The menu choice was essentially the ratio of expected expenditure over the price limit period to Ofwat’s estimated baseline expenditure. Once this choice was made the published menu determined the level of allowed expenditure as the 25:75 interpolation between the two, the level of additional income and the totex sharing rate (the proportion of any over or under spend of totex to be shared with customers). The 2014 Final Determination included an implied menu choice and so the menu choice did not affect revenues during the AMP6. Instead adjustments are made, as appropriate, in the adjustments that flow into AMP7.

The totex menu was removed in PR19 and the cost sharing rate for totex was calculated by Ofwat based on the efficiency assessment of company’s original business plans submissions and the final determination efficiency position.

Revenue Forecasting Incentive (RFI) mechanism:

In AMP6 Ofwat introduced a Wholesale Revenue Forecasting Incentive Mechanism (“WRFIM”), which replaced the previous revenue correction mechanism (“RCM”) and provided an incentive to set tariffs so as to closely recover the allowed revenue whilst also providing a protection mechanism so that any over or under-recovery of revenue can be carried forward to the next year. The WRFIM allowed a dead band where revenue forecasting errors of between +/- 2 per cent. of allowed revenue attract no penalties. Should forecasting errors exceed 2 per cent., a penalty interest rate is applied to the amount of the error and this interest charge was deducted from allowed revenue at the price review in 2019. In the case where forecasting errors exceeded 6 per cent. of allowed revenue, YWS would have to furnish an explanation to Ofwat in addition to incurring the penalty interest rate charge.

In AMP7 Ofwat has replaced the WRFIM with a new Revenue Forecasting Mechanism (“RFI”). The mechanics are the same as those in the previous WRFIM, however it only covers three of the four wholesale controls, water resources, water network and wastewater networks.

The RFI provides an incentive to set tariffs so as to closely recover the allowed revenue whilst also providing a protection mechanism so that any over or under-recovery of revenue can be carried forward to the next year. The RFI allows a dead band where revenue forecasting errors of between +/- 2 per cent. of allowed revenue attract no penalties. Should forecasting errors exceed 2 per cent. a penalty interest rate is applied to the amount of the error and this interest charge will be deducted from allowed revenue at the price review in 2024, with the usual two-year lag i.e., penalties relating to forecasting errors in 2021/22 would reduce allowed revenues in 2023/24. In the case where forecasting errors exceeded 6 per cent. of allowed revenue, YWS would have to furnish an explanation to Ofwat in addition to incurring the penalty interest rate charge. For PR24, Ofwat will continue with the PR19 RFI mechanism that covers the water resources and network plus water and wastewater controls.

Retail Household Price Limit

The retail household control is materially different in structure to the wholesale controls. The retail household control does not have an RCV or K factor and is not indexed to CPIH. Instead, the control is based on an overall average cost to serve limit, which is a weighted average of the average cost to serve for a number of customer types i.e. meter or unmetered and whether water, wastewater or both. The limit is set for each year of the control and is set in nominal terms.

Restrictions on the charging

Under the WIA, Regulated Companies must charge for water supplied, or sewerage services provided, to dwellings in accordance with a charges scheme and must comply with any requirements prescribed by the Secretary of State. Regulated Companies are prohibited from disconnecting dwellings and certain other premises for non-payment of charges for water supply.

In its Information Notice 23/09, published in September 2023, Ofwat set out its expectations for 2024/2025 in relation to water company charges. Ofwat expects water companies to be transparent about how they set charges. Customers and other stakeholders expect water company charges to comply with all relevant statutory obligations, including Ofwat’s charging rules. They also expect water companies to engage meaningfully on proposed charges and ensure that the information they publish is subject to high-quality assurance. Where water companies introduce new charging policies or see changes in the cost of providing services which lead to significant increases in charges, Ofwat expects water companies to have met a high evidential bar including appropriate third-party support for why the changes are being proposed; proven interactions with customers; and evidence of engagement with and support from customer representatives, where appropriate.

In August 2023 Ofwat published a consultation on “Changing Ofwat's charging rules to support the new developer services framework” that proposed the following:

- requiring companies to tether charges for typically uncontested sites to those of typically contested sites;
- increasing transparency and supporting the market through a requirement to further unbundle charges for activities involved in service connections;
- introducing two new scenarios for which companies will publish worked examples, to offer additional assurance to developer customers at sites not represented by existing scenarios;
- providing enhanced guidance via its Regulatory Accounting Guidelines on how to allocate costs to developer services;
- carrying out a market review prior to PR29, for companies to demonstrate how they support the developer services market; and
- requiring companies to set infrastructure charges taking account of differences between actual and forecast costs and revenues.

In light of the proposed changes to Developer Services, through the PR24 process, Ofwat published a consultation on the 23 May 2024 “Changing Ofwat’s charging rules to further protect customers in the new developer framework”. The changes proposed are designed to complement the deregulation of certain aspects of developer services that Ofwat will implement as part of PR24, by proposing measures that will offer protection to developer services customers for whom market choice is currently limited.

Initial conclusions to this consultation were published in May 2024 in which Ofwat concluded it would (i) cap the difference in charges for sites where competition is lower relative to where it is higher; (ii) require companies to publish separate charges and worked examples, for some activities needed to deliver service connections, within their published Charging Arrangements; (iii) require companies to publish charges for a new worked example scenario; (iv) carry out a market review early in the next price control period; (v) consider how best to implement additional guidance to water companies on allocating overheads separately; and (vi) allow companies to set infrastructure charges to enable them to recover all the costs of network reinforcement from developer customers whilst disallowing companies from offering income offset under or in connection with any agreement entered into from 1 April 2025.

A further consultation on the details of the proposals, before Ofwat formally amends its charging rules, was launched in May 2024 with responses due by 4 July 2024.

Bulk Supply and special agreement charges

Bulk supplies, special agreements and access prices are special price terms that fall outside the standard tariffs that are outlined in YWS’s schemes.

Bulk supplies are a supply of water (potable or non-potable) and/or sewerage services from one appointed company to another. They can be from:

- an incumbent water undertaker to another incumbent undertaker (also referred to as a “bulk transfer” or “water trade”); or
- an incumbent undertaker to an appointee under a new appointment and variation (NAV) arrangement that serves a new development or large non-household user.

Special agreements are made between non-household customers and a supplier where the relevant large user tariff is not in place. These include trade effluent agreements.

Where a party applies to Ofwat for the bulk supply to be made or determined, Ofwat may order a supplier to enter into a bulk water supply agreement, under such terms and conditions as Ofwat specifies. Ofwat can only make an order if it is satisfied that the bulk supply is necessary for securing the efficient use of water resources and where it is satisfied that the parties are unable to come to any agreement themselves.

The Water Act 2014 enabled Ofwat to create codes relating to bulk supply pricing. In January 2021, Ofwat published its guidance “Bulk charges for new appointees - guidance on YWS’s approach and expectations”, replacing its 2018 guidance on “Bulk Charges for NAVs”. As a supplement to the bulk supply pricing principles which Ofwat published in 2011, the guidance document sets out its approach when determining bulk charges set by an incumbent water company for bulk services provided to a NAV in England and Wales.

Interim Determination of a Price Limit

Under certain circumstances both the Regulated Company and Ofwat have the opportunity to apply for an interim determination between Periodic Reviews. An application for an interim determination can be made in respect of the following:

(a) Notified Item

The terms of what items and costs are reasonably recoverable (including thresholds for triviality and materiality) are set out in detail in Condition B of the regulated company’s licence.

A Notified Item is any item formally notified by Ofwat to the Regulated Company as not having been allowed for (either in full or at all) in determining a price limit. Ofwat only provided for one general notified item in the determination of price limits for the Regulated Companies in the AMP6 Period, which was to allow for increases in wholesale water business rates following the 2017 revaluation.

In AMP7 YWS has no notified items.

(b) Relevant Changes of Circumstance

Relevant Changes of Circumstance are defined in the licences. Such changes include:

- (i) the application to the Regulated Company of any new or changed legal requirement including any legal requirement ceasing to apply, being withdrawn or not being renewed (to the extent that the legal requirement applies to the Regulated Company in its capacity as a water or wastewater undertaker);
- (ii) any difference in value between actual or anticipated proceeds of disposals of Protected Land and those allowed for at the last Periodic Review or interim determination; and
- (iii) where, on an interim determination of a price limit, allowance has been made for taking steps to secure compliance or facilitate compliance with a legal requirement or achieve a service standard and the Regulated Company has failed to take those steps and: (a) as a result, failed to spend the full amount which it was assumed would be spent taking into account savings which may have been achieved by prudent management; and (b) the stated purpose has not otherwise been achieved.

The conditions of the licences specify a materiality threshold which must be reached before any adjustment can be made. Condition B of the licence sets out in detail the step-by-step methodology which Ofwat is required to apply.

(c) Substantial Effects Clause

In addition, under the Substantial Effects Clause in the licence of a Regulated Company, the Regulated Company or Ofwat is permitted to request price limits to be reset if its Appointed Business either: (i) suffers a substantial adverse effect which could not have been avoided by prudent management action; or (ii) enjoys a substantial favourable effect which is fortuitous and not attributable to prudent management action. For this purpose, the financial impact is calculated in the same way as for the materiality threshold (set out in Condition B of the licence and referred to in (b) above), except that the 10 per cent. materiality threshold is replaced by a 20 per cent. materiality threshold. YWS has a Substantial Effects Clause in its Instrument of Appointment.

Ofwat can respond to applications for interim determinations by other Regulated Companies such as YWS by considering the substantial favourable effects mechanism.

Interim Determinations

Under the Substantial Effects Clause of the Instrument of Appointment, Ofwat can request price limit to be reset at a lower level if YWS's Appointed Business enjoys a substantial favourable effect which is fortuitous and not attributable to prudent management action.

Further, in respect of any interim determination of a price limit sought by YWS in respect of a substantial adverse effect on its Appointed Business, there is no assurance that such interim determination of a price limit sought will be made or, if an interim determination of a price limit or determination pursuant to the provisions of the Substantial Effects Clause is made, that such adjustment or determination will provide adequate revenue compensation to YWS, therefore, YWS would have to bear any additional cost from its own resources. In such an event, Ofwat will consider all aspects of a price limit under such a request and may make an adjustment or determination that could place YWS in worse a position than the existing price limit.

Performance Commitments and incentives.

For the five-year AMP7 Period that started on April 2020 and will end 31 March 2025, YWS's plans include 43 new performance commitments on its operational performance commitments, of which there are 28 measures with an associated Outcome Delivery Incentives. The majority (26 of the 28) are new in-period ODIs, which are applied during the five-year price control rather than at the end of the period. In-period ODIs increase the power of incentives by closing the time between performance against defined targets and the realisation of resulting financial reward or penalty.

YWS's Performance Commitments and ODI's for AMP7 were originally set out in detail by Ofwat in the 2019 Final Determination and in particular in the Yorkshire Water Outcomes performance commitment appendix (<https://www.ofwat.gov.uk/wp-content/uploads/2019/12/PR19-final-determinations-Yorkshire-Water-%E2%80%93-Outcomes-performance-commitment-appendix.pdf> (which does not form part of this Prospectus)), together with a corrigendum (<https://www.ofwat.gov.uk/regulated-companies/price-review/2019-price-review/pr19-outcomes-performance-commitments-changes-and-corrections/> (which does not form part of this Prospectus)). For more information, please see Chapter 5 "Description of the YW Financing Group", "CMA Appeal of Ofwat's AMP7 Final Determination". Performance against these new commitments is published on the YWS website on a quarterly basis but will be confirmed through the annual regulatory reporting, which is published annually in July.

Targeted price limits

Ofwat has moved to set separate price limits for water resources, water network plus, bio-resources and wastewater network-plus from 1 April 2020 for five years. Ofwat has allocated RCV between the four price limits, using a focused allocation of RCV for bio-resources and an unfocused allocation for water resources. A focused allocation means the bio-resources RCV should be set equal to the estimated value of assets in this price limit. In this way: the RCV discount (the difference between the lower water RCV and higher asset value) is unfocused:

- on wastewater network-plus. Ofwat published guidance for companies on the appropriate approach for estimating the bio-resources asset value (e.g. using net modern equivalent asset values). An unfocused allocation means the water resources RCV as a proportion of the wholesale water RCV should be set equal to the water resources asset value as a proportion of the wholesale water asset value; and
- shared between water resources and water network-plus. Ofwat committed to protect the value of the RCV for efficient investment incurred before 31 March 2020, which has been included in the RCV allocated to the bio-resources and water resources price limits.

Changes to Indexation

For PR19, Ofwat announced a move from RPI to CPIH indexation of prices because RPI is a more volatile measure of inflation than CPIH. CPIH indexation will apply to 100 per cent. of revenue from the beginning of AMP7 (1 April 2020). From the beginning of AMP7, CPIH indexation will apply to 50 per cent. of the existing RCV at 1 April 2020 plus all new RCV additions from then onwards. The remaining 50 per cent. of the RCV at 1 April 2020 will continue to be indexed to RPI. In its PR24 Final Methodology, Ofwat is proposing to retain the Bank of England's 2.0% CPI target as its long-run CPIH assumption, noting that CPI and CPIH have been very close in value since the CPIH was introduced. In addition, Ofwat's preferred approach is a transition to full CPIH indexation of the RCV at 1 April 2025.

To accommodate the use of different price indices, Ofwat has calculated a nominal WACC, which is then converted into a RPI stripped WACC and CPIH stripped WACC which are then applied to the two different elements of RCV that are indexed to RPI and CPIH respectively to determine the return on RCV element of revenue: (i) a real RPI stripped WACC (2.20 per cent following the CMA ruling) is applied to the RPI indexed part of the RCV; and (ii) a real CPIH stripped WACC (3.12 per cent following the CMA ruling) is applied to the CPIH indexed part of the RCV. A summary of changes proposed by Ofwat in PR24 is provided above under "Economic Regulation".

For PR24, YWS will move to a fully CPIH indexed RCV.

References to the CMA

If Ofwat fails within specified periods to make a determination at a Periodic Review or in respect of an interim determination or if the Regulated Company disputes its determination, the Regulated Company can require Ofwat to refer the matter to the CMA for determination by it after making an investigation. The CMA must make its determination in accordance with any regulations made by the Secretary of State and with the principles which apply, by virtue of the WIA, in relation to determinations made by Ofwat. The decisions of the CMA are binding on Ofwat.

Financial Structure Monitoring Regime

During 2015 Ofwat introduced a "financial structure monitoring regime". The purpose of the framework is to enhance visibility and transparency of financial and capital structures in the sector, assess industry financial resilience and the risks to customers posed by companies' financial structures, and identify financial, structural and systemic risk which may impact on service delivery over time and prove harmful to customers. Ultimately, Ofwat can use the framework to identify whether it would be appropriate to intervene in the interests of customers.

PR19 Reconciliation Rulebook

On 4 March 2020 Ofwat opened a consultation for the proposals for the PR19 reconciliation rulebook, the final rulebook and models were published on 2 December 2020. Minor updates and clarifications were made in August 2023 with respect to cost reconciliations, the reconciliation on innovation fund and competition, and the ODI performance model (see Appendix 3 of the rulebook).

The reconciliation rulebook sets out how Ofwat proposes to reconcile incentives which were set as part of the 2019 Final Determination and reconcile company performance throughout AMP7 using in period ODIs and at the price review in 2024. There are number of new mechanisms that have been introduced in PR19.

The rulebook includes provisions as to how Ofwat will manage the areas which YWS are subject to:

- ODIs, which provide companies with rewards for achieving stretching performance targets and compensate customers if performance is below performance targets;
- cost reconciliations model, where company over performance- and underperformance against the PR19 wholesale totex allowance is shared with customers. Bioresources totex is excluded from this model;
- revenue forecasting incentive (RFI) mechanism, which provides financial incentives for companies to provide accurate forecasts, and ensures under-recovery and over-recovery is reconciled;
- bioresources revenue reconciliation model, which provides financial incentives to forecast and recover the allowed bioresources revenue based on tonnes of dry solids sludge that is produced;
- household retail, where the total revenue allowance is adjusted for actual customer numbers;
- developer services model, which has been designed to reconcile developer services revenues within the network-plus control for PR19;
- WINEP reconciliation mode, the purpose of this model is to account for the impact of ministerial decisions on the scale of companies' environmental enhancement programmes where this differs from YWS's assumptions made at final determinations;
- cost of new debt reconciliation model, this model will index the cost of new debt by reference to a market benchmark in 2020-25, with an end of period reconciliation adjustment;
- tax reconciliation, this is a tax true-up mechanism, which will take account of any changes to corporation tax or capital allowance rates after the PR19 final determination;
- RPI-CPIH wedge true up model, this will be used in PR24 to reconcile for the difference between the actual RPI-CPIH (measures of inflation) wedge observed over the price control period, and the RPI-CPIH wedge included in the PR19 final determination; and
- innovation competition, this model calculates the total amount of unused innovation funds to be redistributed to individual companies' customers. Ofwat have stated in the PR24 process that they no longer require the innovation fund to be closed at the end of AMP7, it will continue into AMP8 and will increase from £200m to £400m.

Environmental Regulation

The water industry is subject to numerous regulatory requirements concerning human health and safety and the protection of the environment. Non-compliance with many of these requirements may potentially constitute a criminal offence.

Principal UK Law

The application of sentencing guidelines for environmental offences by the courts has led to increases in record fines for large utility companies (including water companies) in the UK over recent years. This has in turn driven an increased focus on compliance with environmental laws and environmental permit conditions. It has also increased focus on environmental compliance issues at a senior management and boardroom level.

In addition, the Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 (as amended) (“RESA”) allows the Secretary of State to confer powers on the regulators to impose civil penalties (such as fixed monetary penalties) on businesses as an alternative to criminal prosecution in relation to a number of environmental offences. Through the Environmental Civil Sanctions (England) Order 2010 the Secretary of State conferred these powers on the EA. One particularly common sanction is the use of enforcement undertakings, which is a voluntary agreement offered by entities which have committed an environmental offence. The undertaking contains measures to restore any environmental harm done as well as steps to ensure future compliance, and enable offenders to avoid court action (with the agreement of the EA) if they voluntarily admit certain environmental offences. Whilst adverse publicity related to court hearings may therefore be lessened, the EA will be required to publish details of any sanctions imposed.

The EA aims to protect and enhance the environment as a whole and contribute towards sustainable development. As part of its remit, and in line with the new requirements introduced by the Environment Act 2021 concerning storm overflows and sewerage discharges (see “Storm overflows”) the EA’s expectation is that water companies continue to reduce pollution incidents from sewer systems and sewage treatment works. The EA requested in 2020 that all water companies develop, publish and implement Pollution Incident Reduction Plans (“PIRPs”). YWS first published its plan in March 2020 and published an updated plan in August 2022, which can be found at https://www.yorkshirewater.com/media/4boj2gek/yw_pollution-incident-reduction-plan.pdf (but which does not form part of this Prospectus). Despite the requirements for all water companies to have PIRPs, in the 2022 “Water and sewerage companies in England: environmental performance report” published on 12 July 2023, the EA noted that the number of pollution incidents (from sewerage and water supply assets) had worsened from 2021 to 2022 and the early unconfirmed data for 2023 appeared to show no improvement. The EA also stated that it will continue to track progress on water company PIRPs making sure they contain effective actions so that pollution incident targets are achieved.

Throughout spring 2024, YWS undertook a comprehensive, data-led review of pollution performance to form new initiatives to drive improvements. These new initiatives will form part of the latest PIRP, which will be published in early 2025 following the receipt of Ofwat’s PR24 final determination. In the meantime, YWS has agreed with the EA to report on progress of the current initiatives.

In line with the EA’s push to improve day-to-day performance and meet progressively higher standards of environmental protection, it announced in November 2021 in conjunction with Ofwat a major investigation into water and sewerage companies across the industry. The EA is now investigating more than 2,200 water and sewerage companies at wastewater treatment works that discharge into English waters. The EA’s initial assessment indicates that there may have been widespread and serious non-compliance with the relevant regulations by all water and sewerage companies.

In March and June 2022 Ofwat announced that it was opening enforcement cases into six water and wastewater companies as part of its ongoing investigation, one of which is YWS. Since opening the investigations, Ofwat has issued over 30 formal evidence requests to the companies concerned, and analysed over 3,000 pieces of evidence. In December 2022, Ofwat announced that it had notified three companies, including YWS, on its provisional findings in light of the evidence received to that date.

YWS and the other companies were provided with the opportunity to respond to the provisional findings and to provide Ofwat with further relevant evidence.

On 6 August 2024, Ofwat published its Draft Penalty and Enforcement Notice (the “Ofwat Notice”) from its investigation into Yorkshire Water’s management of wastewater treatment works and wider sewer networks including the operation of storm overflows. The Ofwat Notice is now open to public consultation until 10 September 2024. As outlined in the Ofwat Notice, Ofwat have, subject to consultation responses, concluded that Yorkshire Water had contravened Regulation 4(4)(a) of the UWWTR by failing to ensure that its wastewater treatment works are designed, constructed, operated and maintained to ensure sufficient performance under all normal local climatic conditions, in addition to Regulation 4(2) and Schedule 2 of the UWWTR. Ofwat further found that YWS had contravened section 94 of the WIA as it had failed to provide a system of sewers and to cleanse and maintain those sewers so as to ensure that its catchment area is effectually drained and that it has not made proper provision for the emptying of those sewers by means of wastewater treatment works. Additionally, Ofwat concluded that YWS had failed to comply with Condition P of its Instrument of Appointment since at least 2017.

Consequently, Ofwat has proposed (i) issuing an enforcement order under section 18 of the WIA, requiring YWS to take particular steps to facilitate its compliance with UWWTR, section 94 of the WIA and Condition P of its Instrument of Appointment; and (ii) imposing a financial penalty under section 22A of the WIA equivalent to 7% (£47.15 million) of YWS’ relevant turnover from its wastewater business.

In July 2024, the Supreme Court handed down its judgment in The Manchester Ship Canal Company Ltd (Appellant) v United Utilities Water Ltd (Respondent) No 2 [2024] UKSC 22, finding that the Water Industry Act 1991 does not prevent the Appellant canal company from bringing a claim in nuisance or trespass when the canal is polluted by discharges of foul water from the outfalls of the Respondent, the relevant water company (United Utilities), even if there has been no negligence or deliberate misconduct on the water company’s part. YWS was not involved in these proceedings and it remains to be seen whether this judgment will result in increased numbers of claims against water companies or impact the regulatory system they are subject to.

The EA can take enforcement action against companies, including fines and prosecutions. In particular, the EA can impose variable monetary penalties (“VMPs”) which are discretionary civil fines that may be used as an alternative to prosecution where there are strong mitigating factors, or where the criminal standard is not met. Changes to VMPs came into force on 1 December 2023 by statutory instruments amending the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2016 and the Environmental Civil Sanctions (England) Order 2010. As of 11 December 2023, the EA can now impose potentially significant financial penalties on companies that pollute the environment without bringing criminal proceedings. The previous £250,000 cap on VMPs under the Environmental Civil Sanctions (England) Order 2010 has been removed, and the range of offences for which VMPs can be imposed has been expanded.

If Ofwat finds a company has breached an obligation that Ofwat is responsible for enforcing, it has a duty, subject to certain exceptions, to issue an enforcement order to require the company to take steps to secure its compliance. If Ofwat ultimately makes a finding of breach sufficient to warrant a fine, as part of its enforcement powers, Ofwat can impose a financial penalty on companies, the value of which can be up to 10% of relevant turnover. Where appropriate, Ofwat may decide not to issue an enforcement order, or decide to impose a reduced or no financial penalty at the conclusion of an investigation.

Following the implementation of the sentencing council guidelines for environmental offences in July 2014, in cases involving the highest levels of culpability (whether assessed as low culpability, negligent, reckless or deliberate) and harm, the courts have the power to impose fines significantly in excess of £1 million per incident. The guidelines do not limit the fine that can be imposed and the levels of fines for Very Large Organisations (as defined in the sentencing guidelines) can be difficult to predict. The Court of Appeal has ruled that a fine matching 100% of an organisation's pre-tax net profit may not be considered manifestly excessive. While the current guidelines remain in place, the Environmental Audit Committee, a cross-party committee of MPs responsible for the 2021 inquiry into river water quality, has called for their review as part of their report issued in January 2022. The Government response was published in May 2022, and stated that the sentencing council will consider the recommendation in due course, and any changes to sentencing guidelines would be subject to public consultation. As at the date of this Prospectus, YWS has not received any further information on this and is not aware of any public consultation, proposed or otherwise.

As a result of these investigations and to ensure compliance with the regulations, companies, including YWS, may need to incur material capital expenditure in updating and improving facilities to improve future performance and/or as a result of the regulatory action. For example, this could mean that more investment by YWS is needed in infrastructure to increase storm capacity and/or reduce the flows coming into the networks and/or treatment works. There is a risk that such expenditure will not be covered by the Periodic Review process and will require significant separate investment. See "Risk Factors" and in particular, "Environmental Risks" and "Litigation – Impact of Ofwat adopting tighter regulatory measures to achieve financial resilience, Environmental regulatory and statutory obligations".

Storm Overflows

Aligned with the EA and Ofwat investigation, the Environment Act 2021 has introduced new obligations on both the Secretary of State and sewerage undertakers in respect of storm overflows. Sewerage undertakers will be required to report annually by 1 April on their storm overflows, providing a range of data on the location of the overflow, the watercourse into which the overflow discharges, the frequency and duration of the discharges, the volume of each discharge and information on any investigations that have taken place or improvement works undertaken in relation to the storm overflow. The Secretary of State is subject to a requirement to prepare a plan for reducing discharges from storm overflows and the adverse impacts of those discharges and must also report annually on the progress made in implementing the plan.

Under the Environment Act 2021, the government was required to publish, by 1 September 2022, a plan to reduce storm overflow spills and their adverse impact. This plan, the "Storm overflows discharge reduction plan", was published in August 2022, and was updated in September 2023. The plan sets water companies targets to reduce all storm overflows. As part of this plan, by 2035, water companies are required to improve all storm overflows discharging near every designated bathing water and improve 75% of overflows discharging into or near high priority nature sites. By 2045, water companies will have improved all remaining storm overflows discharging into or near 'high priority sites'. By 2050, no storm overflows will be permitted to operate outside of unusually heavy rainfall or to cause any adverse ecological harm. Failure of the water companies to meet these targets could result in fines or a requirement for them to return money to their customers.

Under the Environment Act 2021, the UK government must produce a report in 2025 on implementation of the Plan and the effect of any progress. Subsequent reports will be published every five years. The government is clear that improving water quality is a priority and the use of storm overflows must be addressed. Therefore, the government has committed to review the targets in the Storm overflows discharge plan in 2027, ahead of the 2030-35 water company planning cycle (PR29) once new information, including from companies' business plans, is available. This will also feed into broader reporting mechanisms under the Environment Act 2021, such as through the Environmental Improvement Plan, to monitor and assess how this and other actions are contributing to the broader recovery of river and water habitats. In June 2023, and following a consultation as to the storm overflows performance commitment definition for PR24 launched in May 2023, Ofwat published measures that will penalise companies that do not fully monitor storm overflows. Where a storm overflow is not monitored, or a monitor is not functioning correctly, Ofwat will assume that the overflow has spilled 100 times each year when calculating a company's performance against its performance commitments. The impact of these requirements will not only be in the increased costs required to prepare and publish the reports but may also result in an increase in investment and capital expenditure needed in order for sewerage undertakers to be in a position to report given the level of data required and to ensure compliance with the regulations. There is also a concern that such investment will not be covered by the Periodic Review process. See "Risk Factors" and in particular, "Risk Factors – Risks relating to the Issuer – Litigation – Impact of Ofwat adopting tighter regulatory measures to achieve financial resilience, Environmental regulatory and statutory obligations".

Combined Sewer Overflows ("CSOs")

Sewage systems are designed to cope with the combined flow of sewage and storm water up to a particular level, which is consented to by the EA (the "Consented Discharge"). Where, during heavy rains, the level of sewage and storm water exceeds the level that the sewerage systems are designed to cope with, the Consented Discharge is allowed to flow into the relevant watercourse in order to prevent flooding in the surrounding area. The drainage systems vary considerably in their age, design, and hydraulic performance and the EA regulate and monitor the impact of these discharges on the aquatic environment. Any discharges which are considered to be unsatisfactory may be required to be improved through the investment programme agreed as part of the periodic review process.

It is a requirement of the Urban Waste Water Treatment Directive (91/271/EEC) (the "UWWTD") that Member States limit the pollution of receiving waters by untreated sewage discharge. To meet this requirement, the EA uses performance criteria to assess the impact of CSOs and to determine whether they should be regarded as "satisfactory" or "unsatisfactory". CSOs will be regarded as unsatisfactory if, for example, they cause a breach of water quality standards or other EC Directives, they cause or significantly contribute to a deterioration in river chemical or biological quality/class, or they cause a significant visual or aesthetic impact due to solids or sewage fungus and have a history of justified public complaint.

Sewer Flooding

When a "combined" sewerage system, which carries both sewage and surface water run-off, reaches its capacity during heavy rainfall, a mixture of surface run-off and sewage overflows into rivers or out of external or internal drains. Section 94 of the WIA places a duty on water companies to ensure its area is properly drained via an adequate sewerage system. This duty is enforceable by the Secretary of State or Ofwat who, under section 18 of the WIA, may make an enforcement order securing compliance. Householders can bring proceedings against the water company in respect of its failure to comply with such an enforcement order. However, where such an order has not been made, the only remedy available to such householders is to request that the Secretary of State or Ofwat makes an order and, if one is not forthcoming, to pursue judicial review proceedings against either the Secretary of State or Ofwat on the grounds of their failure to act. Householders do not have the right directly to enforce section 94 against water companies.

Environmental Permitting Regime

The Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2016 (the "Environmental Permitting Regime") came into force on 1 January 2017. The Environmental Permitting Regime states that operators require an environmental permit in order to operate a regulated facility or cause or knowingly permit a water discharge activity or groundwater activity.

Under the Environmental Permitting Regime, it is a criminal offence for a person to cause or knowingly permit any poisonous, noxious or polluting matter or trade or sewage effluent to enter controlled waters (including most rivers and other inland and coastal waters) other than in accordance with the terms of an environmental permit. The principal prosecuting body is the EA. The terms of the environmental permit will depend largely on the type of discharge and when the permit was granted. The EA has discretion as to the terms on which environmental permits are granted or existing are altered. The disposal of wastewater sludge from wastewater treatment works is also controlled.

The EA ran a consultation from 29 January 2024 to 11 March 2024 on changes to environmental permitting charges for water discharge activities and groundwater activities. The consultation proposed, amongst other things, significant increases to annual subsistence charges for discharges of sewage effluent by sewerage undertakers and intermittent discharges of storm sewage and emergency sewage discharges by sewerage undertakers. The EA published its response to the consultation on 24 May 2024, confirming that the proposals would be implemented. The new charges came into effect on 1 June 2024.

Discharge into Controlled Waters

If Regulated Companies want to discharge polluting matter into controlled waters, whether from continuous or intermittent (Storm/CSO) outfalls, they need to hold an environmental permit. Since 1 April 2010, applications are made under the Environmental Permitting Regime, as amended (although consents under the WIA may be required for works carried out at reservoirs, wells or boreholes where discharges are made through pipes of a certain size). The EA has the power to grant or refuse permits, to impose conditions in, modify, vary or revoke such permits. Permit conditions may control the quantity of a discharge or the concentrations of particular substances in it or impose broader controls on the nature of a discharge.

Abstraction Licensing

YWS is dependent on abstraction licences issued by the EA to enable it to abstract water from surface and groundwater. Under the Water Resources Act 1991 (“WRA”), water abstractions must be carried out in accordance with a licence granted by the EA. It is a criminal offence to abstract water without a licence or in breach of the conditions of an abstraction licence. The maximum penalty is an unlimited fine. Existing abstraction licences may be revoked or varied where the Secretary of State believes that revocation or variation is necessary to protect any waters or underground strata, any flora and fauna dependent on them, from serious damage and such variations and revocations can be made without compensation being payable. This position will change in England on 1 January 2028, when permanent licences may be varied or revoked in England without paying compensation, if it is necessary to protect the environment.

Water shortages

This licensing regime was imposed by the EA to mitigate environmental damage or to achieve sustainable levels of abstraction. Costs may be incurred by YWS in implementing replacement sources and abstraction charges could be increased by the EA to cover compensation payments made to other abstractors whose licences are revoked or varied to alleviate environmental impact, each of which could have a material adverse impact on the business, financial condition or operational performance of YWS.

Over AMP8, YWS’s ‘water available for use’ is forecast to fall by 73 Ml/d principally due to changes in levels of service (the company moves from a 1-in-100 year to a 1-in-200 year level of service for severe restrictions, which reduces water availability) and climate change impacts on water availability. This reduction includes the benefit of a number of new supply options by which YWS is increasing its water for available use by 23 Ml/d by better utilising existing abstraction licences or by apply for new abstraction licences. These sustainability reductions are part of YWS's obligation to meet the Water Framework Directive requirements for heavily modified water bodies and YWS works closely with the EA to manage and mitigate its risk exposure to this.

Water Abstraction Reform

The Government has raised concerns about the UK's current approach to managing water abstraction, as seen in the Government's "25 Year Environment Plan" which placed an emphasis on addressing "unsustainable abstraction". Specifically, it has raised concerns about older abstraction licences which allow abstraction which may cause damage to the environment, the fact that the current regulatory regime is not flexible enough to cope with increasing demand and pressures from climate change, and the outdated, paper-based nature of the abstraction service. In January 2016, DEFRA published the Government response to its consultations on water abstraction reform. The proposals, which will not now be implemented in full until 2030 at the earliest, include the incorporation of the water abstraction regime into the environmental permitting regime set out in the Environmental Permitting Regulations. The headline objectives of these reforms are to:

- (a) improve flexibility to address short-term water availability issues; and
- (b) improve long-term sustainable management supporting growth and investment.

On 29 May 2018, DEFRA published its water abstraction plan which sets out its approach to managing water abstraction going forwards. The plan is centred around three key pillars:

- (a) making full use of existing regulatory powers to address unsustainable abstraction. Specifically, the EA will use its powers to amend abstraction licences, commencing with changes to those licences which have the greatest impact. The aim is to be in a position to ensure 90 per cent. of surface water bodies and 75 per cent. of groundwater bodies achieve DEFRA's water abstraction sustainability standards by 2021;
- (b) develop a stronger catchment focus, which will ensure sufficient protection from unsustainable abstraction in key catchment areas; and
- (c) supporting reform to water abstraction regulation by modernising the abstraction system.

A 12-week consultation commenced by DEFRA in September 2021 on this move closed in December 2021. DEFRA has still not published its response to the consultation.

Sewerage Sludge

The recycling of sewerage sludge by using it on agricultural land as a fertiliser and soil conditioner is recognised by the European Parliament and Commission as the Best Practicable Environmental Option. Recycling sewerage sludge must be done in accordance with the Sludge (Use in Agriculture) Regulations 1989 (as amended). The use of sludge in agriculture is subject to market forces and legislation. Significant market or legislative changes could cause water companies to incur material expenditure in relation to sewerage sludge and Ofwat may view such legislative changes as potentially representing "Relevant Changes of Circumstance" in relation to the licences of water companies.

Trade Effluent Discharge

Regulated Companies are responsible under the WIA for regulating discharges of trade effluent into their sewers. Industrial and trade sources of wastewater to sewers arise from a wide range of industries, such as food manufacturers, car washes and laundries. Regulated Companies regulate these discharges to protect their operations and the environment.

It is an offence under the WIA to discharge trade effluent from trade premises without a consent from, or an agreement with, the relevant Regulated Company, or to fail to comply with the conditions in a consent. Under section 118 of the WIA, an owner or occupier of premises who wishes to discharge trade effluent into public sewers must apply to the relevant Regulated Company for consent to do so. In considering whether or not to grant such a consent, such Regulated Company will usually have regard to the effect that receiving the effluent will have on the performance of its wastewater treatment works and associated discharges. Such consent may be subject to conditions imposed by the Regulated Company. These conditions can stipulate treatment to be undertaken to minimise the polluting effects of the discharge, as well as charges to be paid in respect of the trade effluent discharge. Under the Trade Effluents (Prescribed Processes and Substances) Regulations 1989 (as amended), when trade effluent contains prescribed substances, or more than a prescribed quantity of such substances, or derives from a stipulated process (that is a “special category effluent”), the relevant Regulated Company must refer to EA any application to make such a discharge. EA must then determine whether, and if so upon what conditions, the Regulated Company may accept the discharge. Any person aggrieved by the refusal of the Regulated Company to give consent or by conditions imposed in a consent can appeal to Ofwat. The Regulated Company may review the terms of any consent from time to time and vary those terms by notice. However, this power is subject to restrictions.

A Regulated Company may enter into an agreement with the owner or occupier of trade premises for the reception and disposal of trade effluent, instead of granting a consent. If the trade effluent which is to be the subject of an agreement is special category effluent, the Regulated Company must refer to the EA the question of whether the relevant operations should be prohibited or made subject to conditions. The Regulated Company cannot enter into any agreement regarding special category effluent until the EA serves notice on the Regulated Company of its determination in this regard.

Water Resources Planning

The Water Act 2003 amended the WIA to provide that Regulated Companies are under a duty to further water conservation when they formulate or consider any proposal relating to their functions and has placed water resources management plans on a statutory footing: Regulated Companies have a duty to produce Water Resources Management Plans, publish and consult upon them. These plans set out how Regulated Companies will manage and develop water resources so as to be able, and continue to be able, to meet its water supply duties under the WIA. It must address, amongst other things, the Regulated Company’s estimate of the water it will need to meet its duties, and the measures it intends to take to manage and develop resources. The planning period is 25 years. The plan is developed following guidance from the EA and is reviewed and revised every 5 years.. It builds on YWS’s previous plan and incorporates new information and the latest methodologies.

Climate Change

As a result of water and wastewater treatment processes being energy intensive, Regulated Companies are significant energy users and their activities constitute a significant environmental impact. W Regulated Companies are subject to the climate change levy. As large consumers of electricity, Regulated Companies were affected by the U.K. Carbon Reduction Commitment Energy Efficiency Scheme (the “CRC”). In its 2016 Budget, the Government confirmed that following its review of corporate taxation, it would abolish the CRC with effect from the 2018/2019 compliance year. The Streamlined Energy and Carbon Reporting Regulations require quoted companies, large UK-incorporated unquoted companies and limited liability partnerships to report in relation to their greenhouse gas emissions, including disclosure of their total UK energy use and actions taken to increase energy efficiency in the UK. Listed and large private companies in the UK are also required to annually make climate-related financial disclosures pursuant to amendments to the FCA’s Listing Rules and the UK Companies Act 2006.

Emissions Trading Schemes

YWS is a large consumer of energy and so likely to incur increased costs directly and indirectly by carbon trading schemes. The UK left the EU Emissions Trading Scheme (“ETS”) in 2021 following the June 2016 referendum in favour of the UK leaving the EU and the replacement UK ETS scheme began operating in January 2021. Energy transition costs will continue to be part of the cost of electricity and with the Government’s commitment to achieve its goal of becoming a net zero carbon emission country by 2050, these costs are unlikely to decline.

Contaminated Land

Part 2A of the EPA, together with certain implementing regulations and statutory guidance, establishes a legal regime to address the remediation of contaminated land (including controlled waters). Current and future impacts may be dealt with under other pollution control laws instead (for example, if the contamination arises out of an activity regulated under the Environmental Permitting Regime). Under Part 2A, the original polluter or any person who is a “knowing permitter” can be required to clean up contamination of land if it is causing, or there is a significant possibility of it causing, significant harm to the environment or to human health or if it is causing, or there is a significant possibility of it causing, significant pollution of controlled waters. The higher threshold of “significant” pollution of controlled waters has been effective since 6 April 2012. If the polluter or a knowing permitter cannot be found, the owner or occupier of the land may be held liable, whether or not it caused the contamination. Civil liability may also arise (under such heads of claim as nuisance or negligence) where contamination migrates into or on to third-party land and/or impacts upon human health, flora or fauna and liability for contamination may also rest with a water company where the contamination emanating from its land arose as a result of the activities of one of its statutory predecessors. In practice, remediation of contaminated land is most likely to be triggered on the cessation of regulated activities or the redevelopment of land.

Hazardous Substances

The Health and Safety at Work Act 1974 and the Control of Substances Hazardous to Health Regulations 2002 as amended set out specific safety standards on storing hazardous substances on operational sites. All chemical installations and pipework must meet specific standards to ensure that the installations are safe and do not present a risk to staff, contractors or visitors, or to the general environment.

Asbestos

The Control of Asbestos Regulations 2012 impose a duty on those who own or control commercial premises to carry out detailed assessments for the presence of asbestos, record its condition and proactively manage the associated risks.

Principal EU Law and UK’s departure from the EU

The activities of Regulated Companies in the UK are affected by the requirements of legislation which originally stemmed from EU Directives and now stem from UK laws and EU Directives. Such EU Directives include the Water Framework Directive (2000/60/EC) (the “Water Framework Directive”), the UWWTD and the Industrial Emissions Directive (2010/75/EU) (the “IED”) which are discussed below. The UK left the EU on 31 January 2020 (“exit day”) and is no longer an EU member state. The UK-EU withdrawal agreement came into force on exit day and provided for a transition period until 31 December 2020. At the end of the transition period a new body of retained EU law was created under the EUWA. Generally, EUWA: (i) retained EU-derived domestic legislation (including UK legislation that implements EU directives); and (ii) saved and converted into UK law most directly applicable EU legislation. The body of retained EU law will continue to operate in UK law unless and until references to EU legislation are removed and/or replaced with references to UK legislation and the transfer of powers from EU institutions to UK institutions occurs.

The new principal institution is the OEP, an independent statutory body. The OEP oversees compliance with environmental law and is able to bring legal proceedings against water companies, government and public authorities if necessary. The OEP also scrutinises and advises the Government. Environmental principles will guide future government policy.

Water Framework Directive (“WFD”)

The Water Framework Directive rationalised existing EU water legislation to provide a framework for the protection and improvement of ground, inland and coastal waters and to promote sustainable water consumption. It seeks to halt deterioration in the status of EU ‘water bodies’ and achieve good status for Europe’s rivers, lakes and groundwater. The Water Framework Directive requires, amongst other things, that Member States produce river basin management plans. These plans were required to be produced by December 2009 and updated by December 2015 and every 6 years thereafter. The plans (River Basin Management Plans) include lists of measures that Regulated Companies and other parties and sectors need to undertake to protect and improve the quality of the water environment. England’s most recent river basin management plan was published on 22 October 2022 (and minor amendments have been made as recently as 17 January 2024).

To comply with the WFD, the UK and European Union Member States should have ensured that all their waters achieve at least “good status” or “good ecological potential” by 2015, or, on the grounds that achieving a “good status” is either disproportionately costly or technically unfeasible, set out alternative standards and or a timetable for the achievement of these by no later than 2027. In 2019, less than 20 per cent. of water bodies achieved the good status. The next comprehensive update of classifications in water bodies will occur in 2025.

The principal implementing regulations in the UK for the Water Framework Directive are the Water Environment (Water Framework Directive) (England and Wales) Regulations 2017 and the Water Framework Directive (Standards and Classification) Directions (England and Wales) 2015. The EA is responsible under these regulations for monitoring and reporting on the objectives of the Water Framework Directive on behalf of the Government. The EA works with Ofwat, local government, non-governmental organisations (NGOs) and a wide range of other stakeholders including local businesses, water companies, industry and farmers in order to achieve the objectives under the Water Framework Directive.

There are 12 river basin districts (“RBDs”) in England and Wales. The EA manages the 7 RBDs in England. An RBD covers an entire river system, including river, lake, groundwater, estuarine and coastal water bodies. All of YWS’s activities fall within the Humber Basin and the Humber River Basin Management Plan, (<https://www.gov.uk/guidance/humber-river-basin-district-river-management-plan-updated-2022>).

Specific measures to deliver the Water Framework Directive are agreed with the EA through the Periodic Review process and the River Basin Management Plans (“RBMPs”).

The YWS Periodic Review process for 2020-25 included a substantial Water Framework Directive programme for both delivery schemes and investigation in order to understand YWS’s impact to inform future price reviews. Schemes were progressed where there was a need clearly attributed to YWS and, where there were effective, technically feasible and cost beneficial solutions. The programme is known as the “Water Industry National Environment Programme”, or “WINEP”. The primary role of the WINEP is to inform water companies on the actions they need to take to meet statutory environmental obligations, non-statutory environmental requirements or delivery against a water company’s statutory functions. The WINEP is developed and agreed with the Environmental Agency and Natural England.

In 2020, DEFRA, the EA and Ofwat led a review of the WINEP ahead of PR24 to ensure the next round of WINEP actions achieves greater environmental benefits for every pound invested by water companies by using a more outcomes-based approach. In 2022, the EA also developed and published a WINEP methodology process document which is intended to help Regulated Companies to plan, execute and report on the environmental improvement measures they are required to undertake. This EA publication along with a number of other related publications together also aim to help Regulated Companies to plan for the next phase of the WINEP cycle (PR24).

Industrial Emissions Directive and H4 Odour Guidance

The Industrial Emissions Directive (“IED”) came into force on 6 January 2011 and has been implemented through the Environmental Permitting Regime in England and Wales. Under the IED, activities which lead to the disposal and/or recovery of non-hazardous waste must be permitted, unless these activities are covered by the UWWTD (known as the UWWTD exemption). In 2014 the EA set out an interim position statement that deferred the need for water companies to submit permit applications for sewage sludge digestion at sewage treatment works. However, in July 2019 the EA confirmed that they would be implementing the aspect of the IED that requires a permit for biological treatment of sludge above IED thresholds. YWS has 12 sites which are required to have IED permits. 6 sites permitted to this level and the remaining 6 sites are either in discussion with the EA or are in the permitting queue and are expected to be discussed before December 2024

The EA’s view is that anaerobic digestion plants with a capacity of less than 100 tonnes of waste per day at wastewater treatment works are exempt from the IED. However, if this approach changed then it is probable that anaerobic digestion plants would require a bespoke environmental permit. This would lead to additional requirements and increased cost.

Even if anaerobic digestion plants are not subject to elevated requirements under the IED, it is possible that they could be regulated as a waste operation. Although sewage treatment is excluded, anaerobic digestion may be viewed by the EA as a separate ‘waste’ activity and therefore captured under general waste legislation, again requiring a bespoke permit. The Environmental Permitting Regulations: H4 odour management guidance (the “H4 guidance”) introduces in any event more stringent odour requirements and management plans for existing sites that have environmental permits. Under the H4 guidance, operators of sites with environmental permits are required to assess the level of odour emanating from their sites based on their frequency, intensity, duration and offensiveness, as well as the sensitivity of receptors. On the basis of such assessment, an operator must implement appropriate control measures to minimise the odour and suggested control measures are set out in the H4 guidance. If the odour levels are unreasonable (despite having used appropriate measures), further action may be required or the operator may be required to cease operations.

Groundwater Directive

The Environmental Permitting Regime implement Directive 2006/118/EC (the “Groundwater Directive”) in England and Wales. Activities that could lead to the contamination of groundwater such as direct and indirect discharges of pollutants to groundwater, are regulated under the Environmental Permitting Regime. The definition of a pollutant includes substances harmful to human health or the quality of aquatic ecosystems. The Environmental Permitting Regime require a permit for such discharges. Direct discharges, which are those ones which enter, without percolation, straight into groundwater, are controlled under the environmental permitting regime. Any permits granted must be consistent with the requirements of the Environmental Permitting Regime. The EA has powers under the Environmental Permitting Regime to issue prohibition notices to stop activities which may cause a direct or indirect discharge of pollutants to groundwater, for example, oil from underground storage tanks.

Bathing Waters Directive

The Bathing Water Regulations 2013 transpose the Bathing Waters Directive (2006/7/EC) into law in England and Wales. The main objective of this directive is to improve public health protection. The directive sets four standards of water quality (excellent, good, sufficient and poor). Key aspects of the directive include an obligation to meet a much tighter minimum bathing water quality standard, rationalisation of the water quality parameters to be monitored, updated rules for the frequency of sampling and improved provision of information to the public concerning bathing water quality. In England, the EA is responsible for monitoring bathing waters and communicating the results to the public.

Water Quality Directive

The Water Supply (Water Quality) Regulations 2018 (“Water Quality Regulations”) implement the EU Directive on the Quality of Water intended for Human Consumption (98/83/EC) (the “Drinking Water Directive”) and set standards for water intended for drinking, food preparation or other domestic purposes. The Water Quality Regulations also include a requirement for wider catchment risk assessments and a Drinking Water Safety Plan (“DWSP”) approach to be adopted to safeguard the quality of drinking water supplies.

The relevant regulator for the purposes of the Water Quality Regulations is the DWI. The DWI is part of DEFRA and acts as a technical assessor on behalf of the Secretary of State in respect of the quality of drinking water supplies. The DWI carries out technical audits of each water undertaker and licensee inputting water into an undertaker’s network; this includes an assessment of the quality of water supplied, arrangements for sampling and analysis, and progress made in delivering schemes to improve water quality. It can also take enforcement action in the event that a water undertaker is in contravention of regulatory requirements concerning the “wholesomeness” of water supplies. Water supplied for domestic purposes or food production must be wholesome at the time of supply. “Wholesomeness” is defined by reference to standards and other requirements set out in the Water Quality Regulations.

It is a criminal offence for a Regulated Company to supply water that is unfit for human consumption. Court proceedings can be brought by the DWI in the name of the Secretary of State or the Director of Public Prosecutions for the offence of supplying water “unfit for human consumption” (for example if discoloured or foul tasting water is supplied to customers) or for the offence of supplying water that is inadequately treated or disinfected, unless the breach is trivial or unlikely to recur, or the relevant Regulated Company has taken immediate remedial action, or has submitted a legally binding programme of work in the form of a Section 19 Undertaking to achieve compliance within an acceptable timescale or agrees to a notice served under Regulation 28(4) of the Water Quality Regulations (the “Regulation 28(4) Notice”). If there has been such a breach and the Regulated Company does not give a Section 19 Undertaking or fails to comply with its terms, or fails to comply with the terms of a Regulation 28(4) Notice, the DWI may make a provisional or final enforcement order to secure compliance.

EU Floods Directive

Directive 2007/60/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council of 23 October 2007 on the assessment and management of flood risks (“EU Floods Directive”) was adopted by the European Council and entered into force on 26 November 2007. The aim of the EU Floods Directive was to establish a framework for the assessment and management of flood risks, aiming to reduce the adverse consequences to human health, the environment, cultural heritage and economic activity. The EU Floods Directive required Member States to firstly carry out a preliminary flood risk assessment by 22 December 2011, which included considering historic floods and where similar future events might be envisaged. Based on such assessment, Member States were then required to identify each river basin district (or similar) for which potential significant flood risks exist or might be considered likely to exist. For such areas, Member States were then required to draw up flood risk maps by 22 December 2013 and establish flood risk management plans focused on prevention, protection and preparedness by 2015. The EU Floods Directive applies to inland waters as well as all coastal waters across the whole territory of the EU. The EU Floods Directive shall be carried out in coordination with the WFD, notably by flood risk management plans and river basin management plans being coordinated, and through coordination of the public participation procedures in the preparation of these plans. All assessments, maps and plans prepared shall be made available to the public. In March 2016, the EA published seven flood risk management plans for the seven river basin districts solely in England. Flood Risk Management Plans must be reviewed by the EA and lead local flood authorities every 6 years. The latest collection of Flood Risk Management Plans have been published for 2021 to 2027.

The Flood and Water Management Act 2010 (“FWMA”) implements the EU Floods Directive into UK law. The key requirements within the FWMA are the requirement for the EA to create a National Flood and Coastal Erosion Risk Management Strategy, which several organisations must follow; the requirement for leading local flood authorities to create local flood risk management strategies; and a requirement for relevant authorities to co-operate in the exercise of their flood and coastal risk management functions. The FWMA included several amendments to other legislation, which introduced, amongst other things, a revised approach to reservoir management; changes to the arrangements that would apply should a water company go into administration; an increased ability for water companies to control non-essential uses of water, such as the use of hosepipes and an ability for water companies to offer concessions to community groups for surface water drainage charges.

Priority Substances Directive

The WFD also has ‘subsidiary Directives’ of which the one most likely to drive substantial investment is that regarding Environmental Quality Standards (2008/105/EC, usually referred to as the “Priority Substances Directive”). It was amended by Directive 2013/39/EU to include additional parameters and continues to represent a compliance (and hence investment) risk in that full compliance might only be achieved by the installation of the equivalent of drinking water treatment at the sewage treatment works. Under the Water Environment (Water Framework Directive) (England and Wales) Regulations 2017, the Secretary of State and the EA (amongst others) must exercise their relevant functions to ensure compliance with the Environmental Quality Standards laid down in the Priority Substances Directive (as amended).

Habitats and Birds

The Conservation of Habitats and Species Regulations 2017 (the “2017 Regulations”) transposed the provisions of Directive 92/43/EEC on the conservation of natural habitats and wild flora and fauna (the “Habitats Directive”) and Directive 2009/147/EC on the conservation of wild birds (the “Birds Directive”) into English and Welsh law, to establish a network of areas protected by designation across the United Kingdom to conserve endangered habitats classified as special protection areas under the Birds Directive and Special Areas of Conservation under the Habitats Directive. Once a site is designated, the United Kingdom must take steps to avoid the deterioration of habitats and disturbance of species. The 2017 Regulations were updated by the Habitats and Species (Amendment) (EU Exit) Regulations 2019 after Brexit to provide for the designation and protection of the National Site Network, the protection of certain species and the adaptation of planning and other controls for the protection of the National Site Network.

The designation of areas as part of the National Site Network may negatively impact upon a water company’s plans for future sites or operations. This risk is significantly increased by the effects of climate change, such as the increasing risk of drought.

General

Each Regulated Company currently effectively holds a geographic monopoly within its appointed area for the provision of water operations and sewerage services although there is some limited competition in respect of its retail activities, there is competition in respect of all non-household customers (except in Wales). Ofwat has stated that it will use its powers under the Competition Act to investigate and prohibit anti-competitive practices and abuses of a dominant position to ensure a level playing field in the industry. These powers include the power to impose penalties of up to 10 per cent. of worldwide group-wide turnover for the business year preceding the finding of the infringement. Any agreement which infringes the Competition Act may be void and unenforceable. Breaches of the Competition Act may also give rise to claims for damages from third parties.

Ofwat has a duty to consider whether the exercise of its powers under the Competition Act is more appropriate before using its powers under the WIA to promote competition.

The Enterprise Act adds further remedies for breach of competition law. The Enterprise Act contains criminal sanctions, including the possibility of imprisonment of individuals who have been involved in certain cartels, and directors involved in breach of competition law may be disqualified. Consumer groups are able to bring actions on behalf of customers (including for damages).

The current main methods for introducing competition are:

- (i) since 1 April 2017, all non-household customers in England may choose their water and/or sewerage supplier;
- (ii) Regulated Companies publish a wholesale charges scheme detailing charges to be levied on retailers, who then compete for customers' business based on price and other terms;
- (iii) new appointments and variations (NAVs) - where one company can replace another as the statutory undertaker for water and/or sewerage services in a specified geographical area within the other Regulated Company's appointed territory. A NAV can be granted to a company seeking to provide water and/or sewerage services on an unserved site, or in respect of a site with water and/or sewerage services within an existing Regulated Company's area where at least 50 megalitres of water are supplied or likely to be supplied to particular premises wholly or mainly in England in any 12 month period or where the incumbent Regulated Company agrees to transfer part of its service area to a different company. The NAV mechanism continues alongside the regime for licensing new entrants under the Water Act 2014;
- (iv) facilitating developers, or their contractors, to provide new water mains and service pipes instead of asking Regulated Companies to do the work ("self-lay"). The Water Act 2003 introduced a statutory framework for self-lay (see below);
- (v) the Water Act 2003 introduced a statutory framework to allow water supply licensees to introduce water into the undertaker's supply system to supply water to its customer's eligible premises (also known as "common carriage"). All Regulated Companies maintain network access codes¹ which set out the conditions, including indicative access prices, under which licensees may introduce water into their networks. A water supply licensee may challenge the terms of access, in particular access prices to the Regulated Company's network under the Competition Act;

- (vi) cross-border supplies (raw/treated water and sewage/bio-resource) where a customer in an area adjacent to a neighbouring Regulated Company's service area can connect to another Regulated Company's network and receive a supply;
- (vii) private suppliers or private sewers including on-site water and effluent treatment; and
- (viii) a market operator (MOSL) for the non-household retail market in England that processes transactions, facilitate new companies to enter the market and ensure Water companies are held to account for their performance. MOSL administers a code with retailers, wholesalers, customer's and stakeholders that modify identify – and implement – ways to improve the market;
- (ix) eligible customers are also able to choose to self-supply their own premises. The customer buys water supply and wastewater services from the water company and provides their own retail services;
- (x) Ofwat has concurrent powers with the CMA to apply UK competition law on anti-competitive practices and abuses of a dominant position to ensure a level playing field in the industry. In March 2017, Ofwat published guidance on its approach to applying the Competition Act and the corresponding provisions in Articles 101 and 102 of the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union in the water and wastewater sector in England and Wales; and
- (xi) from 2020, emerging markets in water resources, bio-resources, leakage detection and demand management.

Water Act 2014

The Water Act 2014 aims to implement legislative changes to strengthen the water sector's ability to respond to the challenges of a growing population. It also aims to offer consumers more choice by enabling them to easily switch water and sewerage suppliers through the removal of existing regulatory barriers for new entrants to the market.

The Water Act 2014 is intended to modernise Ofwat's regulatory powers to allow it to continue to regulate the industry in the interests of consumers and will extend the scope of the Environmental Permitting Regime (overseen by the EA) to include water abstraction and impounding licences, and to align the frequency of drought planning to a five year cycle so it aligns with other water planning cycles.

The Water Act 2014 further includes provisions for, among other things:

- (i) facilitating bulk supply agreements and mains connection agreements, by revising the rules relating to bulk charges imposed by water undertakers;
- (ii) modernising Ofwat's regulatory powers to allow it to continue to regulate the industry in the interests of consumers and extending the scope of the EA's Environmental Permitting Regime to include water abstraction and impounding licences and to align the frequency of drought planning to a five year cycle so it aligns with other water planning cycles;
- (iii) expanding the water supply licensing regime to introduce sewerage licences and wholesale (non-retail) supply licences, and to facilitate the creation of a cross-border retail market between England & Wales and Scotland; varying some disincentives to water company mergers;
- (iv) introducing changes to the general regulation of the water industry, e.g., providing for a new statutory "resilience objective" of Ofwat – "...to secure that water and sewerage undertakers take steps for the purpose of enabling them to meet, in the long term, the need for the supply of water and the provision of sewerage services to consumers, including by promoting appropriate long-term planning and investment by relevant undertakers...”;

- (v) enabling the Secretary of State to pass regulations setting out standards of performance for water companies and for the payment of compensation to customers where they fail to meet these standards;
- (vi) allowing penalties to be imposed on water companies for licence breaches for 5 years (rather than 12 months) after the breach;
- (vii) allowing Ofwat to amend water companies’ licence conditions to reflect the reforms in the Water Act 2014 (subject to consultation with affected water companies and the Secretary of State); and
- (viii) reforming the special water merger regime by introducing exceptions to the obligation on the CMA to refer water mergers to a second phase investigation and enabling the CMA to accept undertakings in lieu of a reference.

The Competition Act 1998

Under the Competition Act there are two prohibitions concerning anti-competitive agreements and conduct. The Act also provides for extensive powers of investigation and enforcement.

The Chapter I prohibition prohibits agreements between undertakings which may affect trade within the United Kingdom and which have as their object or effect the prevention, restriction or distortion of competition within the United Kingdom. The Chapter II prohibition prohibits the abuse of a dominant position which may affect trade within the United Kingdom.

Ofwat has concurrent powers with the CMA to apply and enforce the Competition Act to deal with anti-competitive agreements or abuses of dominance relating to the water and sewerage sector, including the power to enforce directions to bring an infringement to an end and to impose fines of up to 10 per cent. of the most recent financial year’s turnover of the Regulated Company involved for infringing the Competition Act. Also, any arrangement which infringes the Competition Act may be void and unenforceable and may give rise to claims for damages from third parties.

Merger Regime

The CMA has a duty to refer for a second phase investigation completed mergers or anticipated mergers between two or more water enterprises where the value of the turnover of the water enterprise being taken over, and the value of the turnover of each of the water enterprises belonging to the person making the takeover, are greater than £10 million, unless the CMA believes that:

- for anticipated mergers, the arrangements are not sufficiently far advanced or not sufficiently likely to justify a reference;
- the water merger has not prejudiced, or is not likely to prejudice, Ofwat’s ability in carrying out its functions to use comparative regulation; or
- the water merger has prejudiced, or is likely to prejudice, Ofwat’s ability to make comparisons between water enterprises, but that this prejudice is outweighed by relevant customer benefits (RCBs) relating to the merger.

The relevant turnover for these purposes is limited to the provision of services as a water or water and sewerage company, i.e., the ‘regulated’ turnover.

Before making a first phase decision, the CMA must consult with Ofwat. Where the CMA is under a duty to refer a water merger for a second phase investigation it may accept undertakings in lieu ("UILs") to remedy, mitigate or prevent the merger's prejudicial effect on Ofwat's ability to make comparisons between water enterprises. When forming a view on UILs, the CMA must consider the need to achieve as comprehensive a solution to that effect on Ofwat as is reasonable and practicable. Moreover, the CMA must request and consider Ofwat's opinion on the effect of the offered UILs.

Remedies imposed by the CMA may be structural (total or partial prohibition of a proposed merger; total or partial divestiture of the acquired water enterprise; or divestiture of another water company held by the acquiring company) or behavioural, such as amendments to a Regulated Company's licence (for instance regarding the provision of information) or a requirement to maintain separate management. In deciding on remedies, the CMA may have regard to any relevant customer benefits (in the form of lower prices, higher quality, greater choice or innovation) of the merger under consideration. The CMA takes the final decision on remedial action, and this decision can be appealed to the Competition Appeals Tribunal by any person sufficiently affected by the decision. Depending on the size of the parties involved, such mergers may require notification to the European Commission under the EU merger regime. In such circumstances, the CMA may still be able to investigate the effect of the merger, in order to protect the UK's legitimate national interests.

Furthermore, the Water Act 2014 also imposes a duty on the CMA to keep under review and advise the Secretary of State on both the £10 million threshold and the conditions under which the CMA must refer water mergers. In July 2017, one merger (Severn Trent Plc / Dee Valley Group plc) took place under this new regime with the remaining mergers of water companies having been reviewed by the CMA under the general merger regime. In June 2021, the CMA announced that it was opening an investigation into the completed acquisition by Pennon Group plc of Bristol Water Holdings UK Limited. The investigation has now been closed on the basis of undertakings offered by Pennon Group plc to provide separate reporting information for South West Water and Bristol Water, to enable Ofwat to maintain separate wholesale water price controls, in order that Ofwat has sufficient comparative information between water companies.

In cases of an acquisition of a Regulated Company by a company which is not already a Regulated Company or where the special water merger regime does not otherwise apply, general merger control rules apply. These may call for discussion with the CMA as well as Ofwat. The CMA has the power to investigate an anticipated or completed merger which meets the relevant thresholds, namely where the acquired enterprise generates turnover in the UK of £70 million or more, or the acquiring and acquired enterprises supply or acquire at least 25 per cent. of the same goods or services supplied in the UK (or a substantial part thereof) and the merger increases that share of supply. The CMA must refer a transaction for a second phase investigation if the transaction could be expected to result in a substantial lessening of competition within any market or markets in the UK for goods or services. In its investigations, the CMA will consult with Ofwat.

The Secretary of State, in certain limited circumstances, may also refer a merger to the CMA for a second phase investigation into whether the arrangement could be expected to operate against the public interest. Depending on the size of the parties involved, such mergers may still require notification to the European Commission 143 under the EU merger regime. In such circumstances, the CMA may still be able to investigate the effect of the merger, in order to protect the UK's legitimate national interests.

A BEIS consultation paper was published in July 2021 "Reforming Competition and Consumer Policy". It seeks to streamline the investigation processes of UK merger control. This includes institutional reform, jurisdiction of merger control and the operation of the fast-track process. There is no indication from this document that the Water merger regime will be changed in future legislation but the policies surrounding it might change.

Regulatory Developments

Water 2020: our regulatory approach for water and wastewater services in England and Wales (“Water 2020”)

Published by Ofwat in May 2016, Water 2020 set the regulatory framework for wholesale markets and the 2019 price review. In Water 2020 Ofwat outlined that the water sector is facing critical challenges, “where if we do not change, then there is an increasing risk that the future could be characterised by disengaged customers and low levels of legitimacy; where precious water resources are not used as efficiently as they might be – putting greater pressure on the environment; and where opportunities to tackle affordability and deliver more for less are not seized, resulting in higher bills for customers.” Ofwat then set out its new regulatory approach with the aim to secure a resilient future for water, for the benefit of customers, the environment and wider society.

Ofwat’s aim was to make changes to help the sector meet the long-term needs of customers, society, the environment and investors. Recognising that stability in the sector is vital, certain changes for PR19 require a managed transition. For example, investment made as the end of 2020 was protected through the RCV.

In line with Water 2020, Ofwat issued the PR19 final methodology in December 2017. The methodology presented the framework within which plans were to be submitted by companies for the PR19 period (2020 to 2025). The methodology contained four key themes that all companies are required to consider:

- Delivering great customer service
- Affordable bills
- Ofwat’s publication titled ‘Resilience in the round’
- Innovation

The methodology confirmed the following key items:

- (i) Indexation: Wholesale revenues will be indexed by CPIH from 1 April 2020. 50 per cent. of the RCV as at 1 April 2020 will be indexed going forward by RPI. The remainder of the RCV as at 1 April 2020 and all additional RCV accrued on and after 1 April 2020 will be indexed by CPIH.
- (ii) Weighted average cost of capital (“WACC”): Ofwat provided an early view of the WACC within their PR19 final methodology issued in December 2017. Their early view of total company WACC was 5.47 per cent. on a nominal basis, which equates to an equivalent RPI stripped WACC of 2.40 per cent. (assuming a long term RPI of 3.0 per cent.), or a CPIH stripped WACC of 3.40 per cent. (assuming a long term CPIH of 2.0 per cent.). The final WACC for the PR19 period was confirmed in the final determination, published in December 2019. The final total company WACC was 4.98 per cent. on a nominal basis, which equates to an equivalent RPI stripped WACC of 1.92 per cent. (assuming a long term RPI of 3.0 per cent.), or a CPIH stripped WACC of 2.92 per cent. (assuming a long term CPIH of 2.0 per cent.). The RPI stripped WACC will be applied to the 50 per cent. of the existing RCV at 1 April 2020 indexed by RPI. The CPIH stripped will be applied to the 50 per cent. of the existing RCV at 1 April 2020, plus the additional RCV accrued on or after 1 April 2020 which will be indexed by CPIH.
- (iii) Bioresources: Ofwat amended all water company licences to create a binding price limit for bioresources (bio-resources, a by-product of wastewater treatment which is increasingly being seen as a resource), separate from the wastewater transport and treatment price limit (“network plus”) and to ensure market information is provided and shared to enable and incentivise the development of bioresource markets. Pre-2020 RCV is protected through the design of the regulatory framework for bioresource treatment and disposal in the PR19 process and no explicit mechanism is needed. The new bioresource price limit will reflect the relevant proportion of its RCV. RCV will be allocated to the new bioresource price limit on a focused basis.

- (iv) Water resources: Ofwat amended licences to create a binding price limit for water resources, separate from the water operations transport and treatment price limit (“network plus”). The water resource price limit differentiates between revenue for pre- and post-2020 water resource capacity. The latter will be exposed to utilisation risk, the former will not. The total revenue control will constitute two elements: (a) a fixed element (e.g. £X million per annum); and (b) a mechanistic in-period adjustment factor that allows for bilateral market entry. As with bioresources, RCV will be allocated to this new price limit. This has been done on an unfocused basis, meaning that instead of a methodology required to value the relevant constituent parts of the business, it will be for each water company in making its PR19 application to develop and justify the allocation of RCV for its water resource price limit. In addition to these changes, the licence change ensures that basic market information for supply-demand deficits and water resource costs in a consistent format is available and to require water companies to allow reasonable commercial and non-commercial use of this public data.
- (v) Direct procurement for customers (DPC): Ofwat expected all incumbent water undertakers to use direct procurement for suitable discrete high value capital projects (outside bioresources) with a whole-life totex guideline value of more than £100 million. At PR19 the threshold for considering DPC was £100 million.

Please refer to “Economic Regulation – PR24 Price Control” for further information as to the PR24 Final Methodology

A Better Deal

On 30 November 2015, the Government announced in “A Better Deal: boosting competition to bring down bills for families and firms” that it intends to introduce household retail competition to the water sector in England. It asked Ofwat to provide an assessment, by summer 2016, of the costs and benefits of extending retail competition to household customers. Ofwat submitted its final assessment in September 2016 which concluded that evidence suggests that a net positive outcome of introduction of competition to the residential retail water market is more likely than not, with Ofwat noting that there are potential benefits worth around £2.9 billion over 30 years if competition is extended to household customers. It is now up to the Government to decide if and when retail competition should be extended to household customers. However, given the current economic and political climate, the prospect of legislative changes being made to enable household competition being introduced in the immediate future looks remote as at the date of this Prospectus.

Bilateral Water Trading Market

In ‘Water 2020: Our regulatory approach to water and wastewater services in England and Wales’, Ofwat set out how it intends to change the way it regulates to enable the sector to address the future challenges it faces and enable and encourage greater efficiency within the water sector, including how markets could play a more significant role in the supply of water resources.

Measures related to the introduction of bilateral markets for water resources (where a third-party provider of water resources contracts directly with a retailer to sell water to its business customers) are contingent on certain provisions of the Water Act 2014 being commenced.

Prior to any commencement, Ofwat and the sector will need to address policy issues and consider the role of bilateral markets within the broader evolution of the development of water resources, including the new National Framework and the cross-regulatory initiative, “RAPID”.

In June 2019, Ofwat published a ‘Call for Information’ seeking views from interested stakeholders about the development and implementation of a bilateral market in water resources in England. It intends to engage further with stakeholders and continue to liaise closely with DEFRA, the EA and the DWI to ensure that any approach taken to develop bilateral water markets remains aligned, in particular around issues such as water quality and environmental impacts.

Exit Regulations

The Water and Sewerage Undertakers (Exit from Non-household Retail Market) Regulations 2016 (the “Exit Regulations”), came into force on 3 October 2016, and provide for water and sewerage undertakers whose areas are wholly or mainly in England to apply to the Secretary of State for permission to exit the non-household retail market in their area of appointment when the retail market for non-household customers opened in April 2017.

YWS notified the Secretary of State that YWS would not be exiting its non-household retail activities on 1 April 2017 and would be deferring its exit until after the opening of the non-household retail market. A contract between YWS and Three Sixty (a sister company of YWS), which required Three Sixty to provide all non-household retail services to the business customers of YWS and was a key part of ensuring appropriate separation between the non-household retail and wholesale parts of the business.

In October 2019, Scottish Water Business Stream Limited (“Business Stream”) acquired the YWS non-household retail business, YWBS, and the retail customers of Three Sixty. YWS subsequently exited the retail market following approval of the transfer by the Secretary of State and Ofwat. Under the acquisition arrangements Three Sixty provides non-household retail services to Business Stream under commercial terms to aid a smooth transition for customers.

Furthermore, Three Sixty’s water and sewerage supply licence was revoked with effect from 18 September 2020.

Innovation Fund and Competition

In December 2019, Ofwat outlined its decision to make up to £200 million of customer funding available for the period 2020-25 (via customers’ bills), and to hold a collectively funded innovation competition at least once a year. Following consultations in 2020, the £200 million Innovation Fund was launched in 2021 with the Innovation in Water Challenge (“IWC”). Water companies, in partnership with others, could submit innovation projects with the opportunity to win funding up to £250,000 and a larger Water Breakthrough Challenge (“WBC”) for projects up to £10 million. The Water Breakthrough Challenge 2 (“WBC2”) was launched later that year and split into two parallel Streams – Catalyst for projects up to £1 million and Transform up to £10 million. A total of 41 projects were awarded £63.6 million across the three competitions involving approximately 300 different organisations.

In parallel, the sector developed collaboratively its ‘UK 2050 Water innovation strategy’, which seeks to guide innovation investment across the sector, and provides ongoing oversight and support to Ofwat around the Innovation Fund.

As a result of this collaboration, Ofwat has evolved the structure and the Water Breakthrough Challenge 3 (“WBC3”) opened in October 2022 with three Streams:

- Transform - A £30 million competition for project bids valued between £2 million to £10 million, supported by at least 10% company or other contribution (non-customer funding).

- Catalyst – An £8 million competition for project bids valued between £150,000 to £2 million, supported with at least 10% company or other contributions (non-customer funding).
- A new Water Discovery Challenge competition that will open in 2023. This will be directed to non-water companies only with £4 million available for small innovation project bids up to £500,000 each. No additional funding will be required to make a bid.

Ofwat's goal is that the Innovation Fund's impact will continue well beyond AMP7 as successful projects share their outcomes across the sector. Ofwat has indicated its intention to extend the Innovation Fund into AMP8 but has yet to announce how this may operate or its level of customer and company funding.

The Innovation Fund represents the additional revenue that water companies will collect from their customers for the purpose of the collectively funded innovation competitions for the period 2020-2025. The amount each company's customers will contribute will be proportionate to individual company revenues at PR19. The revenue collected from customers is to be ringfenced and administered so that it will not be used for purposes other than the innovation competition.

YWS has so far secured two awards from the Innovation Fund on projects it will lead and is partnering on eight further projects led by other water companies. The company plans to selectively make project bids into the competitions whilst also leveraging other external innovation grants or competitive funding to support its investment in research and development. For example, YWS has secured around £5 million of funding from the Department of Culture Media and Sport (DCMS) to pilot a solution for laying and operating broadband fibre cable within existing water network infrastructure. It has also been awarded funding from the Market Operator (MOSL) to test a range of interventions that aim to improve the smooth working of the non-household retail market in England.

Changes to the Regulatory Accounting Guidelines

Statutory Accounts on their own are insufficient to assess the performance of price controlled water companies as their assets typically have a much longer life than those of an average UK company and so their value cannot be assessed by conventional means. The regulatory accounting guidelines (RAGs) define in detail the treatment of particular items (for example, revenue and interest) where Ofwat disclosure and accounting requirements differ from those normally required under UK accounting standards and applicable legislation.

The latest version of the Regulatory Accounting Guidelines were published by Ofwat in March 2022. These new guidelines provide information by which Companies were required to publish their 2021-22 Annual Performance Report. There is a 65 per cent. increase in the number of YWS's performance commitments (from 26 to 43) and a 67 per cent. increase in the volume of APR reporting requirements with additional lines and additional tables now included, providing information to a greater level of granularity.

Licence Fees for Water Companies and WSSL Licences

In August 2019, Ofwat published an information notice setting out changes to how, when determining the level of licence fees, Ofwat will allocate relevant costs between companies holding appointments as water and/or sewerage undertakers (appointed water companies) and water supply and/or sewerage licensees (WSSL licensees). Appointed water companies and WSSL licensees are required to pay licence fees to Ofwat, the Consumer Council for Water and the CMA. Ofwat has simplified the licence fee structure by calculating the flat fee element of licence fees by licence, rather than by licence holder, for both the Consumer Council for Water's and Ofwat's costs.

Customers' Interests

Customer Measure of Experience (C-Mex)

As described above in Chapter 5 “Description of the YW Financing Group”, the customer measure of experience (“C-Mex”) is a new measure for AMP7 and it is designed to incentivise water companies to provide an excellent customer experience for residential customers, across both the retail and wholesale parts of the value chain.

C-Mex comprises two surveys – the customer service survey of residential customers who have recently contacted their company in relation to that recent contact and the customer experience survey of random members of the public in relation to their experience of their water company.

In both cases customers are asked how satisfied they are with the service provided and how likely they would be to recommend the water company to family or friends. The net promoter score result is measured and reported separately to the C-Mex score which is used to calculate financial incentives.

Higher performance payments are available if YWS passes each of the following three ‘gates’:

- one of the top three performers by C-Mex score;
- is at or above a cross-sector threshold of customer satisfaction performance based on the all-sector upper quartile (ASUQ) of the UK Customer Satisfaction Index (UKCSI); and
- has lower than the industry average number of household complaints (per 10,000 connections).

Developer Measure of Experience (D-Mex)

Ofwat has also introduced a developer services measure of experience (D-Mex), with both financial and reputational incentives, to improve the customer experience of developer services customer in England and Wales. The customers captured by D-Mex includes small and large property developers, self-lay providers and those with NAVs. These customers can also include residential customers that have new mains connections installed.

D-Mex comprises a qualitative element which is a survey of developer services customers who have recently completed a transaction with their water company and a quantitative element which measures performance against a set of Water UK developer services level of service metrics.

The financial incentives for D-Mex are asymmetrical, with performance payments of up to 2.5 per cent. and performance penalties of up to 5 per cent. of a company’s annual developer services revenue.

Guaranteed Standards Scheme

The Guaranteed Standards Scheme (“GSS”) is underpinned by regulations made under sections 38(2) to (4), 95(2) to (4) and section 213 of the WIA, which prescribe minimum levels of service in matters such as the keeping of appointments with customers, enquiries and complaints from customers, giving notice of interruption of supply, and sewer flooding events.

If a Regulated Company does not meet any of the prescribed standards, the customer is entitled to compensation, normally in the region of £20 for domestic customers and £20 or £50 for business customers (although, in the case of sewer flooding, it can be up to £1,000) within 10 working days of the incident. The availability of such compensation is in addition to the availability of any other remedy the customer may have. Yorkshire Water also publish a Customer Charter based on this regulation which enhances some of the minimum standards and payment values. The Customer Charter can be accessed at: https://www.yorkshirewater.com/media/320hbao/customercharter_leaflet-0420.pdf. The Water Act 2014 extends guaranteed service standards (minimum service standards and payments for service failures) for household and non-household customers to all licensees operating in the retail market.

Abstraction Incentive Mechanism

In April 2016, Ofwat began to apply an Abstraction Incentive Mechanism, which is targeted at limiting the levels of abstraction at low flows from environmentally sensitive sites. The incentives in AMP6 were purely reputational, however in AMP7 such incentives are also financial. YWS currently has no abstraction sites under the Abstraction Incentive Mechanism.

Code for Adoption Agreements

In its “Code for Adoption Agreements” of November 2017, Ofwat required Regulated Companies operating mainly in England to agree, in consultation with developers and self-lay providers, a standard set of arrangements for adopting water and sewerage infrastructure laid by developers. Among the detail of this Code was a requirement for companies to set certain standards for the self-lay process and provide "redress" for failing to meet those standards. The sector guidance submitted provides for a much greater number of metrics to be reported to Water UK (the water industry trade association) and published, with redress payments for individual failings as well as a right to a written explanation, escalated through company management where appropriate.

It is hoped that the sector guidance and model agreements will deal with any shortcomings in and impediments to the self-lay market. It does, however, appear to be a matter of strong consensus among companies that the new financial incentives based on developer satisfaction will achieve far more than any redress available under the self-lay sector guidance, which has been designed to complement those incentives, rather than repeat them.

Climate Change

Carbon Emissions: YWS discloses in its Annual Report its climate risks in alignment with ‘Task Force on Climate-related Financial Disclosures (TCFD) guidelines. YWS has a number of climate specific risks including drought, flooding, land management, coastal erosion, invasive species and affordability. YWS is committed to reducing these climate risks. Such commitment includes YWS’s pledge to reach net zero target, through a mixture of energy efficiency, investment in renewable technology and land management such as peatland restoration and tree planting. Details about YWS’s pledge to reduce carbon emissions is accessible at: <https://www.yorkshirewater.com/environment/climate-change-and-carbon/>. In 2023, YWS’s net carbon emissions decreased to 90,000 CO₂e, (2022: 94,000 CO₂e) and their NO_x and PM emissions also decreased from 120t in 2022 to 103t.

Drought: YWS has a statutory long- term water resource management and drought plan (WRMP) which is required under section 37A to 37D of the WIA. The WRMP sets out how YWS intends to manage the increasing risk of hot, dry weather and increased demand due to climate change and population growth over the next 25 years. The Yorkshire Grid means YWS’s customers’ supply is resilient to a 1- in- 500 year drought event, one of the highest levels of drought resilience in England. To meet and maintain this level of resilience YWS is prioritising investment to reduce leakage by 15 per cent. by 2025.

Natural Flooding: Climate change may increase the risk of YWS’s assets (which are necessarily located next to rivers and the sea) to flooding. Due to the location of some of YWS’s assets it is difficult for YWS to fully flood proof. Critical equipment has been raised above historic flood depths at YWS’s largest and most important sites, with an allowance for climate change where practicable. Such preparation will allow YWS to efficiently recover such sites in instances of flooding. YWS is also leading the way with natural flood risk management techniques, co-ordinating the Yorkshire Land Network, encouraging farming tenants to adopt the Beyond Nature approach to sustainable farming and collaborating with the National Trust and others on landscape scale schemes to slow the flow of water. Alongside YWS's peatland and other habitat restoration work, this activity helps protect raw water quality, sequesters and stores carbon and enhances biodiversity.

Surface Water Flooding: There is a risk of surface water overwhelming YWS's sewer network represents one of the most challenging climate risks. The automatic right to connect, urban creep, population growth and increasing intensity of rainfall due to climate change have caused (and will continue to cause) YWS's network capacity to decrease. The new requirement for a 25 year Drainage and Wastewater Management Plan ("DWMP") will help place drainage planning on the same basis as water resources, allowing a long term view of risks and solutions. YWS's first DWMP will be published in Summer 2022. YWS will require ongoing investment in sewer repair and refurbishment to prevent flooding, alongside a programme of investigations and solutions to reduce the impact of storm overflows on river water quality. YWS will also need to work in partnership to remove surface water, highways drainage and watercourses from its network. YWS's £22 million Living with Water programme in Hull seeks to identify partnership opportunities to manage surface water flooding in a more holistic and sustainable way. YWS is also encouraging surface water removal by working with developers to install appropriately designed sustainable urban drainage systems which YWS can then adopt. These systems help store and slow the flow of rainwater into YWS's network, reducing the risk of sewer flooding.

CHAPTER 7 OVERVIEW OF THE FINANCING AGREEMENTS

Security Trust and Intercreditor Deed

General

The intercreditor arrangements in respect of the YW Financing Group (the “Intercreditor Arrangements”) are contained in the STID and the Common Terms Agreement. The Intercreditor Arrangements bind each of the Secured Creditors (subject in the case of the Non-Participating YWSF Bondholders and the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Trustee to the provisions set out under “Non-Participating YWSF Bondholders” below) and each of the Obligors.

The Secured Creditors will include the Senior Debt Providers that enter into or accede to the STID. Any new Authorised Credit Provider (or, in respect of Bondholders, any additional Bond Trustee, or in respect of the Participating YWSF Bondholders, any additional Participating YWSF Bond Trustee) will be required to accede to the STID and the Common Terms Agreement.

Unsecured creditors will not become parties to the Intercreditor Arrangements and, although ranking behind the Secured Creditors in an administration or other enforcement, will have unfettered, independent rights of action in respect of their debts. However, the aggregate amount of unsecured Financial Indebtedness will be restricted under the Common Terms Agreement.

The purpose of the Intercreditor Arrangements is to regulate, among other things: (i) the claims of the Secured Creditors; (ii) the exercise, acceleration and enforcement of rights by the Secured Creditors; (iii) the rights of the Secured Creditors to instruct the Security Trustee; (iv) the rights of the Secured Creditors during a Standstill Period (see the section “Standstill” below); (v) the Entrenched Rights and the Reserved Matters of the Secured Creditors; and (vi) the giving of consents and waivers and the making of modifications to the Finance Documents.

The Intercreditor Arrangements also provide for the ranking in point of payment of the claims of the Secured Creditors, both before and after any enforcement of the Security, and for the subordination of all claims of Subordinated Secured Creditors, Subordinated Creditors or claims among the YW Financing Group (other than claims in respect of the Issuer/YWS Loan Agreements, the Issuer/YWS Bond Loan Agreements and the YWSF/YWS Loan Agreements). Each Secured Creditor (other than the Security Trustee acting in such capacity and subject in the case of the Non-Participating YWSF Bondholders and the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Trustee to the provisions set out under “Non-Participating YWSF Bondholders” below) and each Obligor give certain undertakings in the STID which serve to maintain the integrity of these arrangements.

Non-Participating YWSF Bondholders

The Non-Participating YWSF Bondholders and the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Trustee are Shared Secured Creditors (see “Security Agreement” below).

Pursuant to the STID, each Class of Non-Participating YWSF Bondholders are entitled to instruct the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Trustee to accede to the STID and agree to be bound by the terms of the Common Terms Agreement and the Master Definitions Agreement on behalf of the Non-Participating YWSF Bondholders of each such Class and to act as their Secured Creditor Representative and Class A DIG Representative thereunder. At the meetings of each Class of Non-Participating YWSF Bondholders which were convened by YWSF in October 2009, the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Accession Resolutions were passed in respect of four Classes of the Non-Participating YWSF Bonds. As such, the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Trustee has acceded to the STID on behalf of such Classes and the Non-Participating YWSF Bondholders in respect of those Classes are entitled to vote in respect of certain limited matters which are defined as Non-Participating YWSF Bond Voting Matters.

Notwithstanding any other provision of the STID, the Non-Participating YWSF Bondholders and the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Trustee shall retain every right, power and discretion to take Independent Enforcement Action against YWSF and/or YWS (such rights, powers and discretions constituting “Non-Participating YWSF Bond Reserved Matters”), however, the Non-Participating YWSF Bondholders and the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Trustee will only be entitled to vote in the Class A DIG in respect of Non-Participating YWSF Bond Voting Matters for so long as they hold Non-Participating YWSF Bonds which form part of a Class of Non-Participating YWSF Bonds in respect of which no Independent Enforcement Action has been taken. Following the taking of any Independent Enforcement Action, the relevant Class of Non-Participating YWSF Bonds will cease to constitute Qualifying Class A Debt.

Furthermore, the Non-Participating YWSF Bondholders and the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Trustee in respect of a Class of Non-Participating YWSF Bonds in respect of which a Non-Participating YWSF Bond Refusal Date has occurred, will have no entitlement to vote or direct the Security Trustee in relation to any matter following such date, however, such Non-Participating YWSF Bondholders and Non-Participating YWSF Bond Trustee shall remain Shared Secured Creditors.

In addition, Non-Participating YWSF Bondholders have certain limited entrenched rights (the “Non-Participating YWSF Bond Entrenched Rights”) relating to the Shared Security, the entitlement to vote in respect of Non-Participating YWSF Bond Voting Matters and the Payment Priorities.

References in this Prospectus to the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Trustee acting in its capacity as Secured Creditor Representative and Class A DIG Representative and to the voting rights of the Non-Participating YWSF Bondholders of any Class shall only apply from the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Accession Date in respect of such Class.

Modifications, Consents and Waivers

Subject to the Entrenched Rights and Reserved Matters (see the section “Entrenched Rights and Reserved Matters” below) (which will always require the consent of all of the relevant Secured Creditors who are affected), the Security Trustee may (but is not obliged to) make modifications to the Finance Documents without the consent of any other Secured Creditor, if such modifications, consents or waivers:

- (a) in the opinion of the Security Trustee, are:
 - (i) to correct manifest or proven errors;
 - (ii) to comply with mandatory provisions of law; or
 - (iii) of a formal, minor or technical nature,(and in each case the Security Trustee may rely upon a certificate of an expert in relation thereto), or,
- (b) subject to the proviso to this paragraph (b), would not, in the opinion of the Security Trustee (having regard to its obligations and duties as trustee to the Secured Creditors pursuant to the STID and subject to the standard of care ascribed to the Security Trustee pursuant to the STID) be reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect on the ability of the Obligors to comply with their payment obligations in respect of the Qualifying Debt owed to the relevant Qualifying Debt Providers, provided that, in exercising discretion under this paragraph (b), the Security Trustee shall not concur with any proposed modification to, or give any consent or grant any waiver under or in respect of, any term of the STID or any other Finance Document to which the Security Trustee is a party or over which it has Security under the Security Documents, in respect of any proposed consent, waiver or modification that:

- (i) would change or would have the effect of changing any of the Trigger Events;
- (ii) would change or would have the effect of changing any of the covenants set out in the Common Terms Agreement;
- (iii) would change or would have the effect of changing the cash management provisions set out in Schedule 11 (Cash Management) of the Common Terms Agreement;
- (iv) would relate to the waiver or amendment of any Event of Default or Potential Event of Default; or
- (v) would relate to the waiver or amendment of any of the repeated representations under the Common Terms Agreement.

The Security Trustee shall also concur, without any requirement to obtain the consent or sanction of any other Secured Creditor other than those listed in the proviso below, with any proposed modification, amendment, consent or waiver to an Authorised Credit Facility (other than any Issuer/YWS Loan Agreement, YWSF/YWS Loan Agreement or Issuer/YWS Bond Loan Agreement), provided that: (i) each Contracting Secured Creditor under the relevant Authorised Credit Facility (or, to the extent that the relevant Authorised Credit Facility requires only a specified majority of the relevant Contracting Secured Creditors to consent to or sanction the proposed modification, amendment, consent or waiver, at least the specified majority of the relevant Contracting Secured Creditors under the relevant Authorised Credit Facility) has provided written consent to such modification, amendment, consent or waiver; and (ii) the requested modification, amendment, consent or waiver does not impose additional obligations or liabilities on the Security Trustee.

Additionally, the Security Trustee shall concur (subject to the provisions of the STID), without the consent or sanction of any other Secured Creditor, with any proposed modifications to the Issuer/YWS Bond Loan Agreements to the extent required to ensure that the economic effect of the Issuer/YWS Bond Loan Agreements taken as a whole will be such that the Issuer will have sufficient funds, on each Payment Date in respect of each Class of Class A Unwrapped Bonds issued by the Exchange Issuer, to make the payments due on such Bonds on such Payment Date in full, in each case plus any applicable fee or margin payable to the Issuer.

Other than as set out above and subject to Entrenched Rights and Reserved Matters (which will always require the consent of all of the relevant Secured Creditors who are affected), the Security Trustee shall only agree to any modification of or grant any consent or waiver under the Finance Documents or (subject to restrictions during a Standstill Period) take Enforcement Action with the consent of or if so instructed by the Majority Creditors provided that the relevant Quorum Requirement has been met.

The STID contains detailed provisions setting out the voting and instruction mechanics in respect of STID Matters, including provisions specifying the relevant decision periods within which votes must be cast (each a “Decision Period”) (which period must not be less than 15 Business Days from notification to the Qualifying Debt Providers of a STID Matter). Pursuant to the terms of the STID, the “Quorum Requirement” for any STID Matter is one or more Qualifying Class A Debt Provider (or, following the repayment in full of all Qualifying Class A Debt, one or more Qualifying Class B Debt Provider) representing in aggregate at least 20 per cent. of the entire Outstanding Principal Amount of all Qualifying Class A Debt (or, following the repayment in full of all Qualifying Class A Debt, all Qualifying Class B Debt), provided that, if the Quorum Requirement is not met within the initial Decision Period (as specified in the STID), the Decision Period will be extended by a further period of seven Business Days and the Quorum Requirement shall reduce to zero at the end of such extended Decision Period.

Majority Creditors

Decisions of the Majority Creditors will be determined by votes on a “pound-for-pound” basis (based on the Outstanding Principal Amount of the Qualifying Class A Debt voted by the Class A DIG Representatives (or, following the repayment in full of all Qualifying Class A Debt, the Outstanding Principal Amount of the Qualifying Class B Debt voted by the Class B DIG Representatives)).

Subject to Entrenched Rights and Reserved Matters and provided that the relevant Quorum Requirement has been met, the Security Trustee will be entitled to act on the instructions of the Majority Creditors of those Class A DIG Representatives or, as the case may be, Class B DIG Representatives which have actually voted within the specified Decision Period or, if earlier, as soon as Class A DIG Representatives or, as the case may be, Class B DIG Representatives in respect of more than 50 per cent. of the Qualifying Class A Debt or, as the case may be, Qualifying Class B Debt have voted in favour of the relevant proposal.

Class A Debt Instructing Group

Both prior to and during any Standstill Period, after acceleration of the Secured Liabilities and upon any enforcement of the Security prior to repayment in full of the Qualifying Class A Debt, only the Class A DIG Representatives voting in respect of the Outstanding Principal Amount of Qualifying Class A Debt that they represent will be eligible to exercise the rights of the Majority Creditors. Following the taking of any Independent Enforcement Action by or on behalf of any Class A Debt Provider, the relevant Class A Debt will cease to constitute Qualifying Class A Debt.

Provided that the relevant Quorum Requirement has been met, decisions of the Majority Creditors will bind all of the Secured Creditors in all circumstances, save for certain Entrenched Rights and Reserved Matters (see the section “Entrenched Rights and Reserved Matters” below).

The Class A DIG Representatives, which will together be entitled to vote on certain proposals as part of the “Class A Debt Instructing Group” or the “Class A DIG”, will be comprised of the following representatives (each, a “Class A DIG Representative”):

- (a) in respect of each Sub-Class of Class A Wrapped Bonds and the YWSF Wrapped Bonds (if no FG Event of Default has occurred and is continuing in respect of the Financial Guarantor of those Wrapped Bonds or, as the case may be, the YWSF Wrapped Bonds), the Financial Guarantor of such Sub-Class of Class A Wrapped Bonds or, as the case may be, the YWSF Wrapped Bonds;
- (b) in respect of each Sub-Class of Class A Wrapped Bonds and the YWSF Wrapped Bonds (after an FG Event of Default has occurred and is continuing in respect of the Financial Guarantor of those Wrapped Bonds or, as the case may be, the YWSF Wrapped Bonds) and each Sub-Class of Class A Unwrapped Bonds and each Class of YWSF Unwrapped Bonds, the Bond Trustee or, as the case may be, the Participating YWSF Bond Trustee (provided that, unless:
 - (i) a Default Situation has occurred and is continuing (other than in respect of a STID Matter the subject of an Emergency Instruction Notice);
 - (ii) such proposal is the subject of an Entrenched Right or a Reserved Matter of the Class A Bondholders or, as the case may be, the Participating YWSF Bondholders, the Class A Wrapped Bondholders (in respect of each such Sub-Class or Class of Class A Wrapped Bonds), the Participating YWSF Bondholders (in respect of such YWSF Wrapped Bonds), the Class A Unwrapped Bondholders (in respect of each Sub-Class of Class A Unwrapped Bonds) or, as the case may be, the Participating YWSF Bondholders (in respect of each Class of YWSF Unwrapped Bonds), shall each be entitled to participate directly in the Class A DIG and direct the Bond Trustee or, as the case may be, the Participating YWSF Bond Trustee to vote in respect of any STID Direct Voting Matters through the clearing system voting mechanics as described under “Bondholder Voting” below);

- (c) (in respect of a Non-Participating YWSF Bond Voting Matter only) in respect of each Class of Non-Participating YWSF Bonds, the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Trustee, provided that:
- (i) the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Trustee and the Non-Participating YWSF Bondholders of a Class of Non-Participating YWSF Bonds in relation to which a Non-Participating YWSF Bond Refusal Date has occurred shall have no entitlement to vote or direct the Security Trustee under the STID on any matter (including a Non-Participating YWSF Bond Voting Matter) following such date;
 - (ii) the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Trustee and the Non-Participating YWSF Bondholders of a Class of Non-Participating YWSF Bonds in relation to which no Non-Participating YWSF Bond Refusal Date has occurred shall have no entitlement to vote on or direct the Security Trustee in relation to any matter under the STID other than a Non-Participating YWSF Bond Voting Matter, a Non-Participating YWSF Bond Entrenched Right or a Non-Participating YWSF Bond Reserved Matter; and
 - (iii) (subject at all times to the other provisos contained in this paragraph (c)), unless
 - (A) a Default Situation has occurred and is continuing (other than in respect of a STID Matter the subject of an Emergency Instruction Notice); or
 - (B) such proposal is the subject of an Entrenched Right or a Reserved Matter of the Non-Participating YWSF Bondholders,the Non-Participating YWSF Bondholders (in respect of each Class of Non-Participating YWSF Bonds), shall each be entitled to participate directly in the Class A DIG and direct the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Trustee to vote in respect of any STID Direct Voting Matters (to the extent that such STID Direct Voting Matters are in respect of Non-Participating YWSF Bond Voting Matters) through the clearing system voting mechanics as described under “Bondholder Voting” below;
- (d) in respect of the Existing Authorised Credit Facilities, the relevant Existing Authorised Credit Provider;
- (e) in respect of each Finance Lease, the relevant Finance Lessor; and
- (f) in respect of any other Secured Liabilities of the type referred to in paragraphs (a) to (e) above or (with the approval of the Majority Creditors) other types of Secured Liabilities that rank pari passu with all other Class A Debt, the relevant representative appointed under the terms of the relevant Finance Document and named in the relevant Accession Memorandum as the Class A DIG Representative.

Other Secured Creditors of Class A Debt that accede to the STID and the Common Terms Agreement after the Closing Date may appoint their own representative to act as their Class A DIG Representative.

Class B Debt Instructing Group

Following repayment in full of the Qualifying Class A Debt, the Class B DIG Representatives voting in respect of the Outstanding Principal Amount of Qualifying Class B Debt that they represent will be eligible to exercise the rights of the Majority Creditors. After repayment in full of the Qualifying Class A Debt, provided that the relevant Quorum Requirement has been met, decisions of such Majority Creditors will bind all of the Secured Creditors in all circumstances, save for certain Entrenched Rights and Reserved Matters (see the section “Entrenched Rights and Reserved Matters” below).

The Qualifying Class B Debt Providers will exercise their rights through a group of representatives which will together be entitled to vote on certain proposals as part of the “Class B Debt Instructing Group” or the “Class B DIG”. The Class B DIG will be comprised of the following representatives (each, a “Class B DIG Representative”):

- (a) in respect of each Sub-Class of Class B Wrapped Bonds (if no FG Event of Default has occurred and is continuing in respect of the Financial Guarantor of those Wrapped Bonds), the Financial Guarantor of such Sub-Class of Class B Wrapped Bonds;
- (b) in respect of each Sub-Class of Class B Wrapped Bonds (after an FG Event of Default, has occurred and is continuing in respect of the relevant Financial Guarantor) and each Sub-Class of Class B Unwrapped Bonds, the Bond Trustee (provided that, unless:
 - (i) a Default Situation has occurred and is continuing (other than in respect of a STID Matter the subject of an Emergency Instruction Notice); or
 - (ii) such proposal is the subject of an Entrenched Right or a Reserved Matter of the Class B Bondholders, the Class B Wrapped Bondholders (in respect of each such Sub-Class or Class of Class B Wrapped Bonds) or the Class B Unwrapped Bondholders (in respect of each Sub-Class of Class B Unwrapped Bonds) shall each be entitled to participate directly in the Class B DIG and direct the Bond Trustee to vote in respect of any STID Direct Voting Matters through the clearing system voting mechanics described under “Bondholder Voting” below); and

- (c) in respect of any other Secured Liabilities of the type referred to in paragraphs (a) and (b) above or (with the approval of the Majority Creditors) other types of Secured Liabilities that rank pari passu with all other Class B Debt, the relevant representative appointed under the terms of the relevant Finance Document and named in relevant Accession Memorandum, as the Class B DIG Representative.

Bondholder Voting

Unless a Default Situation has occurred and is continuing (other than in respect of a STID Matter the subject of an Emergency Instruction Notice (see the section “Emergency Instruction Procedure” below)) or a STID Matter is the subject of an Entrenched Right or a Reserved Matter of a Series, Class or Sub-Class of Bondholders or, as the case may be, a Class of Participating YWSF Bondholders, the Bond Trustee or, as the case may be, the Participating YWSF Bond Trustee shall not be entitled to convene a meeting of any Series, Class or Sub-Class of Bonds or, as the case may be, Class of Participating YWSF Bonds to consider any STID Matter to be voted on by the Class A DIG or, as the case may be, the Class B DIG. However, in such circumstances:

- (a) for so long as Qualifying Class A Debt remains outstanding, each Class A Unwrapped Bondholder, each Participating YWSF Bondholder in respect of YWSF Unwrapped Bonds and, if an FG Event of Default has occurred and is continuing in respect of a Financial Guarantor, each Class A Wrapped Bondholder in respect of the relevant Class A Wrapped Bonds and each Participating YWSF Bondholder in respect of the YWSF Wrapped Bonds; or
- (b) following the repayment in full of all Qualifying Class A Debt and for so long as Qualifying Class B Debt remains outstanding, each Class B Unwrapped Bondholder and, if an FG Event of Default has occurred and is continuing in respect of a Financial Guarantor, each Class B Wrapped Bondholder in respect of the relevant Class B Wrapped Bonds, (each, a “Qualifying Bondholder”) shall each be entitled to vote on the proposed STID Matter (a “STID Direct Voting Matter”) within the specified Decision Period directly through the clearing systems.

The Bond Trustee or, as the case may be, the Participating YWSF Bond Trustee will, upon receipt of notice of a STID Direct Voting Matter pursuant to the terms of the STID, distribute a copy of the STID Direct Voting Matter to the Qualifying Bondholders through the clearing systems. The Principal Paying Agent (in respect of Bearer Bonds), the Registrar (in respect of Registered Bonds) or, as the case may be, the YWSF Paying Agent (in respect of the Participating YWSF Bonds) will collect the votes cast by such Bondholders or, as the case may be, Participating YWSF Bondholders and will complete block voting instructions (which will be the only method of voting in respect of such matters) and will notify the Security Trustee, the Bond Trustee or, as the case may be, the Participating YWSF Bond Trustee and the Issuer or, as the case may be, YWSF accordingly. Only the Outstanding Principal Amount of Bonds or, as the case may be, Participating YWSF Bonds then owned by Bondholders or, as the case may be, Participating YWSF Bondholders that vote on (either for or against) a proposed STID Direct Voting Matter within the Decision Period will be counted towards the overall voting requirement of the Class A DIG or, as the case may be, the Class B DIG for the purposes of the definition of Majority Creditors (and such votes will be divided on a pound-for-pound basis between votes cast in favour and votes cast against, irrespective of whether a majority of a particular Sub-Class of Bonds or Participating YWSF Bonds have voted in favour or against). Votes cast in favour and votes cast against will then be aggregated by the Security Trustee with the votes cast by the other Class A DIG Representatives or, as the case may be, Class B DIG Representatives in order to determine whether the Majority Creditor requirement has been reached to pass the relevant STID Matter.

In respect of any STID Matter that is the subject of an Entrenched Right or Reserved Matter of a Series, Class or Sub-Class of Bondholders or, as the case may be, a Class of Participating YWSF Bondholders, the DIG Representative in respect of all Bonds and Participating YWSF Bonds will be the Bond Trustee or, as the case may be, the Participating YWSF Bond Trustee who will be entitled to convene a meeting of any Series, Class or Sub-Class of Bonds or, as the case may be, any Class of Participating YWSF Bonds to consider any such STID Matter. In such circumstances, the relevant Decision Period shall end on such later date (not later than two months after notification of the STID Matter) as is requested of the Security Trustee by the Bond Trustee or, as the case may be, the Participating YWSF Bond Trustee should the Bond Trustee or the Participating YWSF Bond Trustee consider it necessary to convene a meeting of any one or more Series, Class or Sub-Class of Bondholders or, as the case may be, Participating YWSF Bondholders to seek directions.

In respect of any STID Matter following the occurrence of a Default Situation and for so long as a Default Situation is continuing (other than a STID Matter in respect of which the proposer has elected to utilise the Emergency Instruction Procedure), the DIG Representative in respect of all Unwrapped Bonds and YWSF Unwrapped Bonds and, following an FG Event of Default in relation to the relevant Financial Guarantor, the relevant Wrapped Bonds or, as the case may be, YWSF Wrapped Bonds will be the Bond Trustee or, as the case may be, the Participating YWSF Bond Trustee who will be entitled to convene a meeting of any Series, Class or Sub-Class of Bonds or, as the case may be, any Class of Participating YWSF Bonds to consider any such STID Matter (provided that the Bond Trustee as DIG Representative of the Class B Bondholders in respect of the Unwrapped Bonds will only be entitled to vote on a STID Matter following the repayment in full of all Qualifying Class A Debt). In such circumstances, the relevant Decision Period shall end on such later date (not later than two months after notification of the STID Matter) as is requested of the Security Trustee by the Bond Trustee or, as the case may be, the Participating YWSF Bond Trustee should the Bond Trustee or the Participating YWSF Bond Trustee consider it necessary to convene a meeting of any one or more Series, Class or Sub-Class of Bondholders or, as the case may be, Participating YWSF Bondholders to seek directions.

Subject to Entrenched Rights and Reserved Matters, whilst a Default Situation is continuing, the Bond Trustee or, as the case may be, the Participating YWSF Bond Trustee shall not be entitled to convene a meeting of the Bondholders or, as the case may be, the Participating YWSF Bondholders after the presentation of a valid Emergency Instruction Notice pursuant to the terms of the STID (see “Emergency Instruction Procedure” below). However, the Unwrapped Bondholders, Participating YWSF Bondholders in respect of YWSF Unwrapped Bonds and, following an FG Event of Default in relation to the relevant Financial Guarantor, the relevant Wrapped Bondholders or, as the case may be, Participating YWSF Bondholders in respect of the YWSF Wrapped Bonds will be entitled to participate directly in the Class A DIG or, as the case may be, the Class B DIG in respect of any vote on any STID Matter the subject of an Emergency Instruction Notice.

Pursuant to the STID, from and including the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Accession Date in respect of any Class of Non-Participating YWSF Bonds (see “Non-Participating YWSF Bonds” above), the Non-Participating YWSF Bondholders will be entitled to participate directly in the Class A DIG in respect of Non-Participating YWSF Bond Voting Matters only pursuant to voting provisions on substantially similar terms to those described above in respect of Bondholders and Participating YWSF Bondholders (such voting provisions to be incorporated into the terms and conditions of such Non-Participating YWSF Bonds pursuant to the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Accession Resolution). Similarly, in respect of Non-Participating YWSF Bond Entrenched Rights and Non-Participating YWSF Bond Reserved Matters, the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Trustee shall be entitled to convene a meeting of the Non-Participating YWSF Bondholders (subject to a valid Emergency Instruction Notice during a Default Situation (as described above in respect of Bondholders and Participating YWSF Bondholders and under “Emergency Instruction Procedure” below).

Emergency Instruction Procedure

Whilst a Default Situation is subsisting, certain decisions and instructions may be required in a timeframe which does not allow the Bond Trustee, the Participating YWSF Bond Trustee or, as the case may be, Non-Participating YWSF Bond Trustee to convene Bondholder, Participating YWSF Bondholder or, as the case may be, Non-Participating YWSF Bondholder meetings. To cater for such circumstances, the Intercreditor Arrangements provide for an emergency instruction procedure (the “Emergency Instruction Procedure”) which is subject to Entrenched Rights and Reserved Matters. In respect of any STID Matter during a Default Situation, the proposer must elect whether or not it wishes to utilise the Emergency Instruction Procedure in the event that the Bond Trustee, the Participating YWSF Bond Trustee or, as the case may be, the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Trustee convenes a Bondholder, Participating YWSF Bondholder or, as the case may be, Non-Participating YWSF Bondholder meeting and any such STID Matter will constitute a STID Direct Voting Matter for the purposes of Bondholder, Participating YWSF Bondholder or, as the case may be, Non-Participating YWSF Bondholder voting. The Security Trustee will be required to act upon instructions contained in an emergency instruction notice (an “Emergency Instruction Notice”). An Emergency Instruction Notice must be signed by DIG Representatives (the “EIN Signatories”) representing 66²/₃ per cent. or more of the aggregate Outstanding Principal Amount of the Qualifying Class A Debt or, following the repayment in full of all Qualifying Class A Debt, Qualifying Class B Debt (after excluding from the proportion of Qualifying Class A Debt or, as the case may be, Qualifying Class B Debt, the Outstanding Principal Amount of: (a) the Wrapped Bonds (following the occurrence of an FG Event of Default which is continuing in relation to the relevant Financial Guarantor); (b) the Unwrapped Bonds; (c) the YWSF Wrapped Bonds (following the occurrence of an FG Event of Default which is continuing in relation to the YWSF Financial Guarantor); (d) the YWSF Unwrapped Bonds; and (e) the Non-Participating YWSF Bonds which constitute Qualifying Class A Debt in each case, in respect of which the relevant Bondholder, Participating YWSF Bondholder or, as the case may be, Non-Participating YWSF Bondholder has not voted through the clearing systems during the initial 15 Business Day Decision Period). The Emergency Instruction Notice must specify the emergency action which the Security Trustee is being instructed to take on or after the expiry of the initial 15 Business Day Decision Period and must certify that in the EIN Signatories' reasonable opinion, unless such action is taken within the timeframe specified in the Emergency Instruction Notice, the interests of the EIN Signatories would be materially prejudiced.

As described above, the Unwrapped Bondholders, Participating YWSF Bondholders in respect of YWSF Unwrapped Bonds and, following an FG Event of Default in relation to the relevant Financial Guarantor, the relevant Wrapped Bondholders or, as the case may be, Participating YWSF Bondholders in respect of the YWSF Wrapped Bonds and the Non-Participating YWSF Bondholders in respect of Non-Participating YWSF Bonds which constitute Qualifying Class A Debt, shall each be entitled to instruct the Bond Trustee through the clearing systems in accordance with the terms of the Bond Trust Deed, Participating YWSF Bond Trust Deed or, as the case may be, Non-Participating YWSF Bond Trust Deed (as amended pursuant to the relevant Non-Participating YWSF Bond Accession Resolution) to vote on its behalf as the DIG Representative of such Bondholder or Participating YWSF Bondholder or Non-Participating YWSF Bondholder (as the case may be) in relation to any STID Matter the subject of such Emergency Instruction Notice.

Hedge Counterparties

Each Hedge Counterparty is or will be a Secured Creditor party to the STID and the Common Terms Agreement and each Hedging Agreement to hedge the currency of any Class A Debt or to hedge interest rates constitutes or will constitute Class A Debt or, if entered into to hedge the currency of any Class B Debt, Class B Debt.

The Hedge Counterparties will not form part of the Class A DIG or the Class B DIG. However, all fees, interest and principal payable by the Issuer and/or YWSF and/or YWS (as the case may be) to the Hedge Counterparties will rank in the Payment Priorities senior to or pari passu with interest or principal payments on the Class A Bonds except in relation to certain amounts payable by the Issuer and/or YWSF and/or YWS under any Currency Hedging Agreement in relation to Class B Debt and except that termination payments due or overdue to a Hedge Counterparty under any Hedging Agreement which arise as a result of a default by such Hedge Counterparty or as a result of a downgrade in the credit rating of such Hedge Counterparty following any failure by the Hedge Counterparty to comply with the applicable downgrade provisions set out in the relevant Hedging Agreement shall be subordinated to payments in respect of Class B Debt. An Interest Rate Hedging Agreement may be designated at the time of accession of the relevant Hedge Counterparty to the STID in respect of such Interest Rate Hedging Agreement as a Super Senior Interest Rate Hedging Agreement (in which case scheduled amounts rank senior to interest on Class A Debt pursuant to the Payment Priorities) or a Pari Passu Interest Rate Hedging Agreement (in which case scheduled amounts rank pari passu with interest on Class A Debt pursuant to the Payment Priorities).

See the sections "Cash Management" and "Hedging" below.

Liquidity Facility Providers

Each Liquidity Facility Provider is or will be a Secured Creditor party to the STID and the Common Terms Agreement and each Liquidity Facility Agreement constitutes or will constitute Class A Debt.

The Liquidity Facility Providers will not form part of the Class A DIG. However, fees, interest and principal payable to the Liquidity Facility Providers will rank in the Payment Priorities senior to interest and principal payments on the Class A Bonds. See the sections “Cash Management” and “The Liquidity Facilities” below.

Finance Lessors

Each Finance Lessor is or will be a Secured Creditor party to the STID and all amounts arising under the Finance Leases will constitute Class A Debt.

Authorised Credit Providers

The Existing Authorised Credit Providers constitute Class A Debt Providers and form part of the Class A DIG.

Standstill

The STID provides for an automatic standstill of the claims of the Secured Creditors against YWS, YWSF and the Issuer (the “Standstill”) immediately following notification to the Security Trustee of an Event of Default (other than an Event of Default under any Hedging Agreement with respect to a Hedge Counterparty under such Hedging Agreement) and for so long as any Class A Debt and/or Class B Debt is outstanding.

The Standstill is designed to reduce or postpone the likelihood of a Special Administration Order being made against YWS.

During the Standstill Period:

- (a) none of the Secured Creditors will be entitled to give any instructions to the Security Trustee to take any Enforcement Action (but without prejudice to the ability of the Secured Creditors to demand payment) in relation to the Security granted by the Issuer, YWSF, or YWS;
- (b) the Security granted by YWH may be enforced at any time by the Security Trustee at the direction of the Majority Creditors (provided that the relevant Quorum Requirement has been met and provided further that the Ring-fenced Secured Creditors may, without the prior consent of the Majority Creditors, accelerate their respective claims to the extent necessary to apply proceeds of enforcement of the share charges or any other Security provided by YWH but only to the extent that such accelerated claims would be discharged out of such proceeds pursuant to the Payment Priorities);
- (c) save as provided in sub-paragraph (b) above, no Enforcement Action may be taken by any Secured Creditor; and
- (d) any monies received by YWS, YWSF, or the Issuer and all monies credited to the Accounts, will be applied in accordance with the cash management provisions contained in the Common Terms Agreement (see the section “Cash Management” below) and in accordance with the Payment Priorities (see the section “Cash Management – Debt Service Payment Account” below), provided that, none of the provisions described above shall prevent the Non-Participating YWSF Bondholders or the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Trustee on their behalf or for itself exercising any rights or taking any action, step or proceedings which are specified to be Non-Participating YWSF Bond Reserved Matters.

The period of the Standstill in respect of any Event of Default relating to YWS and/or YWSF and/or the Issuer (the “Standstill Period”) will be 18 months unless the Standstill Period is automatically extended beyond 18 months (see the section “Standstill Extension” below) or any of the following occur prior to the expiry of the relevant Standstill Period:

- (i) an order is made for the Special Administration of YWS or any steps are taken to commence Insolvency Proceedings against the Issuer, YWSF, or YWS other than proceedings that are commenced by the Security Trustee;
- (ii) (during the first 18 months of the Standstill Period) Class A DIG Representatives in respect of $66\frac{2}{3}$ per cent. or more of the aggregate Outstanding Principal Amount of the Qualifying Class A Debt or (following the repayment in full of the Class A Debt) Class B DIG Representatives in respect of $66\frac{2}{3}$ per cent. or more of the aggregate Outstanding Principal Amount of Qualifying Class B Debt vote to terminate the Standstill Period (see the section “Standstill Extension” below); or
- (iii) the waiver or remedy of the relevant Event of Default giving rise to the Standstill Period.

The occurrence of a Standstill will not of itself prevent the Issuer or YWSF drawing under the Liquidity Facilities.

Upon termination of a Standstill Period (except by virtue of the matters referred to in (iii) above), each Secured Creditor will be entitled to exercise all rights which may be available to it under any Finance Document to which it is a party (other than any Security Document) or, as the case may be, the Non-Participating YWSF Bonds including directing the Security Trustee to take Enforcement Action provided that, none of the provisions described above shall prevent the Non-Participating YWSF Bondholders or the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Trustee on their behalf or for itself exercising any rights or taking any action, step or proceeding which are specified to be Non-Participating YWSF Bond Reserved Matters.

Standstill Extension

The Standstill Period shall automatically be extended beyond 18 months:

- (a) for a further 120 days unless Class A DIG Representatives in respect of 50 per cent. or more of the aggregate Outstanding Principal Amount of Qualifying Class A Debt vote at any time prior to the commencement of or during such further 120 day period to terminate the Standstill Period;
- (b) following the period referred to in sub-paragraph (a), for a further 60 days unless Class A DIG Representatives in respect of $33\frac{1}{3}$ per cent. or more of the aggregate Outstanding Principal Amount of Qualifying Class A Debt vote at any time prior to the commencement of or during such further 60 day period to terminate the Standstill Period; and
- (c) following the period referred to in sub-paragraph (b), for successive periods each of 60 days unless Class A DIG Representatives in respect of 10 per cent. or more of the aggregate Outstanding Principal Amount of Qualifying Class A Debt vote at any time prior to the commencement of or during each such further 60 day period to terminate the Standstill Period and a vote shall be taken of the relevant Class A DIG Representatives on the expiry of each subsequent period of 60 days for so long as the Standstill Period continues as to whether the Standstill Period should continue for a further period of 60 days.

None of the Bond Trustee, the Participating YWSF Bond Trustee or the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Trustee shall form part of the Class A DIG in respect of any vote to terminate the Standstill Period, unless directed or requested to vote in such manner: (i) by an Extraordinary Resolution of the relevant Sub-Class of Class A Wrapped Bonds (following the occurrence of an FG Event of Default which is continuing in respect of the relevant Financial Guarantor of such Sub-Class of Wrapped Bonds) or, as the case may be, the YWSF Wrapped Bonds (following the occurrence of an FG Event of Default which is continuing in respect of the YWSF Financial Guarantor), or Class A Unwrapped Bonds or, as the case may be, YWSF Unwrapped Bonds or, as the case may be, Non-Participating YWSF Bonds; or (ii) in writing by Bondholders or, as the case may be, Participating YWSF Bondholders, holding not less than 25 per cent. of the Outstanding Principal Amount of the relevant Sub-Class of Class A Wrapped Bonds (following the occurrence of an FG Event of Default which is continuing in respect of the relevant Financial Guarantor of such Sub-Class of Wrapped Bonds) or, as the case may be, the YWSF Wrapped Bonds (following the occurrence of an FG Event of Default which is continuing in respect of the YWSF Financial Guarantor) or Class A Unwrapped Bonds, as the case may be, YWSF Unwrapped Bonds.

When the Qualifying Class A Debt has been fully repaid, the rights to terminate the Standstill Period as described above shall be vested in the Class B DIG Representatives.

The Standstill Period in respect of any Event of Default will terminate upon the date of the waiver or remedy of the relevant Event of Default giving rise to the Standstill Period.

Enforcement

Following an Event of Default and for so long as it is continuing, the Majority Creditors (provided that the relevant Quorum Requirement has been met) may direct the Security Trustee to enforce the Security created by YWH; following the termination of a Standstill Period (except under (iii) of “Standstill” above), the Majority Creditors (provided that the relevant Quorum Requirement has been met) may direct the Security Trustee to enforce the Security created by YWS, YWSF, and the Issuer.

Subject to certain matters and to certain exceptions, following an enforcement, any proceeds of enforcement or other monies held by the Security Trustee under the STID (excluding monies credited to the Excluded Accounts) will be applied by the Security Trustee in accordance with the Payment Priorities (see the section “Debt Service Payment Account” below).

Excluded Accounts

Although pursuant to the Security Agreement, YWS, the Issuer and YWSF have created first fixed charges over the Excluded Accounts in favour of the Security Trustee, the Security Documents provide that on and following an Acceleration of Liabilities (other than a Permitted Lease Termination, Permitted Hedge Termination, Permitted EIB Compulsory Prepayment Event or Permitted Share Pledge Acceleration), all monies held in any Swap Collateral Account, the O&M Reserve Accounts, the Debt Service Reserve Accounts, the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Reserve Account and any Cash Cover Account of YWS will be held by the Security Trustee on trust for the relevant Hedge Counterparty or guarantor thereof that has provided collateral for its obligations or, as the case may be, the relevant Liquidity Facility Providers whose commitments have been drawn to fund the O&M Reserve Accounts, the Debt Service Reserve Accounts or, as the case may be, the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Reserve Account or, as the case may be, the relevant Issuing Bank or relevant Authorised Credit Provider. The trust held by the Security Trustee over amounts in the O&M Reserve Accounts, the Debt Service Reserve Accounts or the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Reserve Account will be in the proportions that the relevant Liquidity Facility Providers’ respective drawn amounts under the relevant O&M Reserve Facility Agreement or, as the case may be, DSR Liquidity Facility Agreement bear to the balance on the relevant O&M Reserve Account, the relevant Debt Service Reserve Account or, as the case may be, the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Reserve Account.

Accession of Additional Secured Creditors

The STID requires that, to the extent that YWS and/or the Issuer wishes any Authorised Credit Provider (or, in respect of Bonds, its Secured Creditor Representative) or other person to obtain the benefit of the Security, such Authorised Credit Provider or other person (other than Bondholders) must sign an Accession Memorandum whereby it agrees to be bound by the terms of the STID and the Common Terms Agreement, including those provisions which prohibit individual Secured Creditors from taking action without the consent of the Majority Creditors.

Subordinated Creditors

The STID also contains provisions restricting the rights of Subordinated Creditors in respect of any Subordinated Debt of an Obligor from time to time. The STID contains mechanics requiring any creditors in respect of Subordinated Debt to accede to the STID as a Subordinated Creditor.

Entrenched Rights and Reserved Matters

As described above, modifications, consents and waivers will be agreed by the Security Trustee, in accordance with votes of the Majority Creditors (provided that the relevant Quorum Requirement has been met), subject to Entrenched Rights and Reserved Matters. Such modifications, consents and waivers will be binding on all of the Secured Creditors, subject to Entrenched Rights and Reserved Matters. No Entrenched Right or Reserved Matter will operate to override the provisions contained in the Common Terms Agreement which allow YWS (following a Periodic Review or as a result of any material change in the regulation of the water and wastewater industry in the UK) to amend any financial ratio contained within the covenants, Trigger Events or Events of Default provided that the Security Trustee (acting on the instructions of the Majority Creditors) agrees and the relevant ratings set out in the definition of Rating Requirement (in relation to the Bonds) have been affirmed by all Rating Agencies then rating the Bonds (provided that in circumstances where a Rating Agency is not willing to issue a rating affirmation due to its then prevailing policy regarding the issue of rating affirmations, YWS has certified in writing to the Security Trustee that, in its opinion (and where the relevant Rating Agency was prepared to consult with YWS this opinion is based on consultation with such Rating Agency) such amendment would not cause the ratings of the Bonds to be downgraded below the relevant ratings set out in the definition of Rating Requirement by such Rating Agency).

Lists of Entrenched Rights and Reserved Matters are contained in the section “Entrenched Rights” and “Reserved Matters” below.

Entrenched Rights

Entrenched Rights are rights that cannot be modified or waived in accordance with the STID without the consent of the Secured Creditor having the Entrenched Right.

The Entrenched Rights of the Class B Debt Providers mirror those rights applicable for Class A Debt Providers mutatis mutandis and more specifically include any proposed modification to, or consent or waiver under or in respect of the STID or any other Finance Document which:

The Bond Trustee, the Security Trustee, the Finance Lessors, the Hedge Counterparties and the Financial Guarantors have certain other limited Entrenched Rights in relation to any provisions of the Finance Documents that generally affect them to a greater extent than others. As described under “Non-Participating YWSF Bondholders”, the Non-Participating YWSF Bondholders and the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Trustee have certain other limited Entrenched Rights.

Reserved Matters

Reserved Matters are matters which, subject to the Intercreditor Arrangements and the Common Terms Agreement, a Secured Creditor is free to exercise in accordance with its own facility arrangements and so are not exercisable by or by direction of the Majority Creditors.

Those Reserved Matters which each Ring-fenced Secured Creditor reserves to itself to decide are each and every right, power, authority and discretion of, or exercisable by, each such Ring-fenced Secured Creditor at any time:

- (a) to receive any sums owing to it for its own account in respect of premia, fees, costs, charges, liabilities, damages, proceedings, claims and demands in relation to any Authorised Credit Facility to which it (or its Secured Creditor Representative) is a party (as permitted under the Common Terms Agreement);
- (b) to make determinations of and require the making of payments due and payable to it under the provisions of the Authorised Credit Facilities to which it (or its Secured Creditor Representative) is a party (as permitted under the Common Terms Agreement);
- (c) to exercise the rights vested in it or permitted to be exercised by it (or its Secured Creditor Representative) under and pursuant to the Common Terms Agreement and the STID;
- (d) to receive notices, certificates, communications or other documents or information under the Finance Documents or otherwise;
- (e) to assign its rights or transfer any of its rights and obligations under any Authorised Credit Facility subject always to the requirement of the assignee or transferee to accede to the Common Terms Agreement and the STID as a Secured Creditor;
- (f) in the case of each Finance Lessor, to inspect the relevant Equipment, to make calculations under the financial schedules (or equivalent provisions thereunder relating to the calculations of Rental or termination sums) to the relevant Finance Lease and to terminate the relevant Finance Lease provided such termination is a Permitted Lease Termination;
- (g) in the case of the EIB, to demand for prepayment under an EIB Authorised Credit Facility provided that such demand is a Permitted EIB Compulsory Prepayment Event;
- (h) in the case of each Hedge Counterparty, to terminate the relevant Hedging Agreement provided such termination is a Permitted Hedge Termination; and
- (i) in the case of any Ring-fenced Secured Creditor, to accelerate their claims, to the extent necessary to apply proceeds of enforcement of the Share Pledge provided by YWH pursuant to the terms of the Security Documents.

The Bond Trustee, the Security Trustee, the Finance Lessors, the Hedge Counterparties and the Financial Guarantors each have certain additional Reserved Matters which each has reserved to itself to decide. For the Bond Trustee and each Financial Guarantor, these include rights vested in it pursuant to the terms of the Bond Trust Deed and the Financial Guarantee. For the Security Trustee, these include rights vested in it pursuant to the terms of the STID. As described under “Non-Participating YWSF Bondholders” above, the Non-Participating YWSF Bondholders and the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Trustee retain the right to take Independent Enforcement Action in respect of the Non-Participating YWSF Bonds.

Substitution of the Issuer and/or YWSF

The Security Trustee shall implement any STID Proposal proposing the substitution in place of the Issuer, or any substituted Issuer, or YWSF, or any entity that has substituted YWSF as the principal debtor under the Finance Documents of any other company incorporated in any other jurisdiction meeting the criteria for such a single purpose company established from time to time by the Rating Agencies. The implementation of any such proposal is an Entrenched Right of the Bond Trustee, the Participating YWSF Bond Trustee and each Financial Guarantor.

Intercompany Loan Arrangements

Issuer/YWS Loan Agreements and YWSF/YWS Loan Agreements

All Financial Indebtedness raised by the Issuer from time to time (whether through the issue of Bonds or raising of debt under DSR Liquidity Facilities (other than amounts necessary to fund the Debt Service Reserve Accounts and other than as described in “Issuer/YWS Bond Loan Agreements”, below)) will be backed by an aggregate nominal amount of debt owed by YWS to the Issuer under a loan agreement (each an “Issuer/YWS Loan Agreement”). Each advance under an Issuer/YWS Loan Agreement will relate to the principal amount of the relevant Sub-Class of Bonds issued by the Issuer on an Issue Date or the principal amount of debt raised under the relevant DSR Liquidity Facility. The Issuer’s obligations to repay principal and pay interest on the Bonds are intended to be met primarily from the payments of principal and interest received from YWS under each Issuer/YWS Loan Agreement and, where it has hedged its exposure to such payments under a Hedging Agreement, from payments received by the Issuer under such Hedging Agreement. The business of YWS demonstrates the capacity to produce funds to service any payments due and payable under the Issuer/YWS Loan Agreements.

The Financial Indebtedness of YWSF (being incurred through the issue of the YWSF Bonds on their respective issue dates prior to the Closing Date and under the DSR Liquidity Facilities (other than amounts necessary to fund the Debt Service Reserve Accounts)) from time to time will be backed by an aggregate matching debt obligation owed by YWS to YWSF under a loan agreement (each a “YWSF/YWS Loan Agreement”). The advances documented under the initial YWSF/YWS Loan Agreement entered into on the Closing Date (the “Initial YWSF/YWS Loan Agreement”) correspond to the principal amount of the relevant class of YWSF Bonds outstanding as at the Closing Date. YWSF’s obligations to repay principal and pay interest on the YWSF Bonds were, as at the Closing Date, intended to be met primarily from the payments of principal and interest received from YWS under the Initial YWSF/YWS Loan Agreement and, where it has hedged its exposure to such payments under a Hedging Agreement, from payments received by YWSF under such Hedging Agreement. On 16 August 2018, the Issuer was substituted as the issuer of the bonds previously issued by Yorkshire Water Services Bradford Finance Limited and Yorkshire Water Services Odsal Finance Limited. At this point in time, certain of the YWSF/YWS Loan Agreements (the “Transferred YWSF/YWS Loan Agreements”) were transferred from YWSF to the Issuer, to ensure that the payment flows on the bonds previously issued by Yorkshire Water Services Odsal Finance Limited continued to work (see “Issuer/YWS Bond Loan Agreements”, below).

All advances to be made by the Issuer under the Issuer/YWS Loan Agreements or by YWSF or the Issuer under the YWSF/YWS Loan Agreements (as applicable) will be in a currency and in amounts and at rates of interest (plus a retained margin as applicable), set out in the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus or Authorised Credit Facility or, if hedged by the Issuer or YWSF in accordance with the Hedging Policy (see the section “Hedging” below), at the hedged rate and will have interest payment dates on the same dates as the related Bonds or YWSF Bonds (as the case may be) or advance under the relevant Authorised Credit Facility. Interest on each advance made under an Issuer/YWS Loan Agreement or YWSF/YWS Loan Agreement will accrue from the date of such advance. In addition, each advance will be repayable on the same date as the related Bonds or YWSF Bonds (as the case may be) or advance under the relevant Authorised Credit Facility.

Issuer/YWS Bond Loan Agreements

Payments due by the Issuer under the Class A Unwrapped Bonds previously issued by Yorkshire Water Services Odsal Finance Limited will be funded in part by payments made by YWS to the Issuer under the Transferred YWSF/YWS Loan Agreements (as described above). In order to ensure that the Issuer will have sufficient funds on each Payment Date in respect of the Class A Unwrapped Bonds, there are a sequence of loan agreements corresponding to each Class of Bonds previously issued by Yorkshire Water Services Odsal Finance Limited (the “Issuer/YWS Bond Loan Agreements”).

The Issuer/YWS Bond Loan Agreements can be categorised as, in respect of each Class of Class A Unwrapped Bonds previously issued by Yorkshire Water Services Odsal Finance Limited on the Closing Date, a pair of loans consisting of: (i) an amortising loan with YWS as borrower and the Issuer as lender; and (ii) a discount (or accrued interest) loan with the Issuer as borrower and YWS as lender. In the case of any Class of Bonds previously issued by Yorkshire Water Services Odsal Finance Limited pursuant to the Exchange Offer where the principal amount of such Bonds exceeded the principal amount of the corresponding Exchanged YWSF Bonds and the interest payable on the Bonds was less than the interest payable on the corresponding Exchanged YWSF Bonds, this pairing of loans was reversed such that there is: (x) an amortising loan with the Issuer as borrower and YWS as lender; and (y) a discount (or accrued interest) loan with YWS as borrower and the Issuer as lender. In the case of any Class of Bonds previously issued by Yorkshire Water Services Odsal Finance Limited pursuant to the Exchange Offer where both the principal amount of and the interest payable on such Bonds exceeds the principal amount of or the interest payable on the corresponding Exchanged YWSF Bonds, the Issuer is the lender and YWS the borrower in respect of both the amortising loan and the discount (or accrued interest) loan. As an exception to this categorisation, in respect of any 2010 Bonds, which were exchanged for Class A Unwrapped Bonds due 2023 previously issued by Yorkshire Water Services Odsal Finance Limited, there is a single loan agreement under which YWS and the Issuer made a series of loans and repayments in the capacity as both lender and borrower (as applicable). Where the Issuer is acting as lender and interest is payable under the relevant Issuer/YWS Bond Loan Agreement, it will receive a margin payable by YWS broadly equating to 1 basis point per annum on the relevant principal amount outstanding.

As described under “Security Trust and Intercreditor Deed - Modifications, Consents and Waivers” above, YWS and/or the Issuer may propose amendments to the terms of the Issuer/YWS Bond Loan Agreements (including the payment provisions) in order to ensure that the economic effect of such loan agreements achieves the position described above and the Security Trustee shall concur with such amendments subject to certain conditions contained in the STID being satisfied.

The obligations of YWS under each Issuer/YWS Loan Agreement, each Issuer/YWS Bond Loan Agreement and under each YWSF/YWS Loan Agreement are secured pursuant to the Security Agreement, and such obligations will be guaranteed by YWH in favour of the Security Trustee, who holds the benefit of such security on trust for the Secured Creditors (including the Issuer and YWSF) on the terms of the STID (see “Security Agreement” below).

YWS agrees to make payments to each of the Issuer and YWSF free and clear of any withholding on account of tax unless it is required by law to do so – in such circumstances YWS will gross-up such payments.

In the Common Terms Agreement, YWS makes certain representations and warranties (as more fully set out under “Common Terms Agreement – Representations” below) to each Finance Party.

Each Issuer/YWS Loan Agreement, Issuer/YWS Bond Loan Agreement and each YWSF/YWS Loan Agreement is governed by English law.

Fees Generally

The Issuer is responsible for paying the properly incurred fees and expenses of, amongst others, the Bond Trustee, the Paying Agents, the Registrar, the Transfer Agents, the Agent Bank, the Arranger, the Bond Trustee’s legal advisers, the Issuer’s legal advisers and the Arranger’s legal advisers and certain fees due to liquidity providers.

YWS is responsible for paying the fees and expenses of the Security Trustee together with the other Secured Creditors.

YWS: (i) by way of facility fees under the Issuer/YWS Loan Agreements, pays to the Issuer amounts equal to the amounts required by the Issuer to pay its ongoing fees, expenses and any and all sums due to any Financial Guarantor under the Finance Documents; (ii) by way of facility fees under the Issuer/YWS Bond Loan Agreements, pays to the Issuer amounts equal to the amounts required by the Issuer to pay its ongoing fees, expenses and any and all sums due to any Financial Guarantor under the Finance Documents; and (iii) by way of facility fees under the YWSF/YWS Loan Agreements (other than the Transferred YWSF/YWS Loan Agreements), pays to YWSF amounts required by YWSF to pay its ongoing fees and expenses and any and all sums due to the YWSF Financial Guarantor under the YWSF Bonds.

Common Terms Agreement

General

Each of the Finance Lessors, the Hedge Counterparties, the Security Trustee, the Cash Manager, the Standstill Cash Manager, the Existing Authorised Credit Providers, the Senior Facilities Agent, the Initial Senior Facilities Arrangers, each Obligor, the Bond Trustee, the Participating YWSF Bond Trustee, the Principal Paying Agent, the Transfer Agent, the Registrar and others entered into, on the Closing Date or subsequently by way of accession, a common terms agreement (the “Common Terms Agreement”). The Common Terms Agreement sets out the representations, covenants (positive, negative and financial), Trigger Events and Events of Default which will apply to each Authorised Credit Facility.

It is a term of the Common Terms Agreement that any representation, covenant (to the extent of being able to declare an Event of Default), Trigger Event and Events of Default contained in any document which is in addition to those in the Common Terms Agreement and any other Common Agreement and any other exception expressly set out in the Common Terms Agreement will be unenforceable (save for limited exceptions which will, among other things, include Permitted EIB Compulsory Prepayment Events, covenants relating to the purpose of an Authorised Credit Facility, covenants relating to indemnities, covenants to pay (including related payment mechanics), covenants relating to remuneration, costs and expenses, representations and covenants in each Class or Sub-Class of Bonds, “clean-down” provisions in any Revolving Credit Facility and certain provisions under the Hedging Agreements and the Finance Leases). The Common Terms Agreement further provides that no representation, covenant, Trigger Event or Event of Default will be breached or triggered as a result of the Permitted Post Closing Events (including, but not limited to, the payments of all amounts outstanding under the Acquisition Term Facility, certain transaction fees not paid on the Closing Date (if applicable) and any other payments as may be agreed by YWS and the Security Trustee in writing).

The Common Terms Agreement allows YWS (following a Periodic Review or any material change in the regulation of the water and sewerage industry in the United Kingdom) to amend any financial ratio contained within the covenants, Trigger Events or Events of Default, provided that the Security Trustee (acting on the instructions of the Majority Creditors) agrees and the relevant ratings set out in the definition of Rating Requirement (in relation to the Bonds) have been affirmed by all Rating Agencies then rating the Bonds (provided that in circumstances where a Rating Agency is not willing to issue a rating affirmation due to its then prevailing policy regarding the issue of rating affirmations, YWS has certified in writing to the Security Trustee that, in its opinion (and where the relevant Rating Agency was prepared to consult with YWS this opinion is based on consultation with such Rating Agency) such amendment would not cause the ratings of the Bonds to be downgraded below the relevant ratings set out in the definition of Rating Requirement by such Rating Agency).

The Common Terms Agreement also sets out the cash management arrangements to apply to the YW Financing Group (see the section “Cash Management” below). The Common Terms Agreement also sets out the Hedging Policy with which each Hedging Agreement entered into must comply (see the section “Hedging Policy” below). It is a requirement of the Common Terms Agreement that future providers of Authorised Credit Facilities must also accede to the Common Terms Agreement and the STID.

A summary of the representations, covenants, Trigger Events and Events of Default to be included in the Common Terms Agreement is set out below.

Additionally, each of YWH, Yorkshire Water Services Odsal Holdings Limited, YWSF, Yorkshire Water Services Bradford Finance Limited and Yorkshire Water Services Odsal Finance Limited represented that its activities have been limited prior to the Closing Date to support their bankruptcy remote status. The Issuer represented, on the date of its accession to the Common Terms Agreement and STID, that its activities have been limited prior to such accession date to support its bankruptcy remote status.

It should be noted that following the 2018 Reorganisation, Yorkshire Water Services Odsal Holdings Limited, Yorkshire Water Services Bradford Finance Limited and Yorkshire Water Services Odsal Finance Limited are no longer party to the Finance Documents.

Allowable adjustments to the Capital Expenditure assumed by Ofwat are as follows:

- (a) in respect of changes in Out-turn Inflation, including Variances in real construction prices from assumed construction prices;

(v) Required Balance and Non-Participating YWSF Bond Required Balance of DSR Liquidity Facilities and Drawdown on O&M Reserve Facilities

If, at any time, the aggregate of all amounts available for drawing under the DSR Liquidity Facilities in respect of Class A Debt and Class B Debt and all amounts standing to the credit of the Debt Service Reserve Accounts of the Issuer and YWSF (including the value of any Authorised Investments funded from amounts standing to the credit of the Debt Service Reserve Accounts) is less than the Required Balance (although it will not be a Trigger Event if it is triggered as a direct result of a banking error and remedied by such amount being repaid within three Business Days without such repayment being funded by a further drawing under a DSR Liquidity Facility).

If, at any time, the aggregate of all amounts available for drawing under the DSR Liquidity Facilities in respect of Non-Participating YWSF Bonds (other than Exchanged YWSF Bonds) and all amounts standing to the credit of the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Reserve Account of YWSF (including the value of any Authorised Investments funded from amounts standing to the credit of the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Reserve Account) is less than the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Required Balance (although it will not be a Trigger Event if it is triggered as a direct result of a banking error and remedied by such amount being repaid within three Business Days without such repayment being funded by a further drawing under a DSR Liquidity Facility).

If, at any time, YWS draws down under an O&M Reserve Facility or YWS withdraws funds from its O&M Reserve Account, in either case to pay its operating or maintenance expenditure (excluding any drawing or repayment of any Standby Drawing in relation to an O&M Reserve Facility).

An Enforcement Order is issued under Part II, Chapter II of the WIA against YWS which would have a Material Adverse Effect if not complied with.

(xi) Audit Qualification

The Auditor qualify its report of any member of the YW Financing Group in a material manner which causes the financial ratios calculated in accordance with the Common Terms Agreement to not reflect the true position of YWS in a materially adverse manner.

(xii) Adverse Governmental Legislation

The final reading of new legislation impacting upon Relevant Undertakers (as that term is defined in the WIA) if such legislation would (if enacted) lead to a breach of the financial ratios set out above or cause a material deviation in projections as set out above (in each case, taking into account any actions available to YWS to mitigate or cure the same).

(xiii) Modification or Replacement of Instrument of Appointment

If within six months of an announcement setting out clear proposals (including a related timetable to effect such proposals) by Ofwat for the modification or replacement of the Instrument of Appointment which, if implemented, would have a Material Adverse Effect, YWS has not obtained confirmation from Ofwat that the proposed modification or replacement is not expected to be implemented or is expected to be implemented in a form which is not reasonably expected to have a Material Adverse Effect.

(xiv) Conduct of Business

The Permitted Non-Appointed Business Limits are breached.

- (a) The long-term shadow credit rating of any Class A Wrapped Bonds or YWSF Wrapped Bonds given by any two of the Rating Agencies is: (i) ascribed at or falls to BBB (S&P), Baa2 (Moody's) or BBB (Fitch) or below; or (ii) is withdrawn;
- (b) the long-term credit rating of any Class A Unwrapped Debt by any two of the Rating Agencies is: (i) ascribed at or falls to BBB (S&P), Baa2 (Moody's) or BBB (Fitch) or below; or (ii) is withdrawn;
- (c) the long-term shadow credit rating of the Class B Wrapped Bonds by any two of the Rating Agencies is: (i) ascribed at or falls below Investment Grade; or (ii) is withdrawn; or
- (d) the long-term credit rating of any Class B Unwrapped Debt by any two of the Rating Agencies is: (i) ascribed at or falls below Investment Grade; or (ii) is withdrawn.

Each credit rating referred to above is the “Trigger Credit Rating” for the relevant Class of Bonds.

(xvii) Super Senior RPI Linked Hedging Agreements

On any Calculation Date, the aggregate amount of all accretions by indexation to the original notional amounts of any Super Senior RPI Linked Hedging Agreements exceeds 6 per cent. of RCV as at that Calculation Date.

Trigger Event Consequences

Following the occurrence of a Trigger Event and at any time until such Trigger Event has been waived or deemed remedied in accordance with the Common Terms Agreement, certain consequences will result, including:

- (i) no Obligor may make Restricted Payments and YWS must not declare and must stop any implementation of any Deferrals of K;
- (ii) YWS must provide such information as may be properly requested by the Security Trustee. YWS must discuss with the Security Trustee (at a mutually convenient time and location) its plans for appropriate remedial action and the timetable for implementation of such action which must then be implemented by YWS;

- (v) restrictions on payments by YWS under Outsourcing Agreements and/or Capex Contracts with Associates which do not comply with the Outsourcing Policy.

Trigger Event Remedies

At any time when the Issuer, YWSF or YWS (as the case may be) believes that a Trigger Event has been remedied in accordance with the detailed provisions of the Common Terms Agreement, it must serve notice on the Security Trustee to that effect, and the Security Trustee must respond confirming that the relevant Trigger Event has, in its reasonable opinion, been remedied or setting out its reasons for believing that such Trigger Event has not been remedied (in which case, such event will continue to be a Trigger Event until such time as the Security Trustee is reasonably satisfied that the Trigger Event has been remedied).

Events of Default

The Common Terms Agreement contains a number of events of default (the “Events of Default”) which will be Events of Default under each Finance Document (other than, in respect of the Hedge Counterparties, the Hedging Agreements). Subject, in some cases and where not otherwise stated below, to agreed exceptions, materiality thresholds and qualifications, reservations of law, grace periods and remedies, Events of Default include:

- (a) non-payment of amounts payable under the Finance Documents;
- (b) non-compliance with certain other obligations under the Finance Documents;
- (c) material misrepresentation;

- (m) an Obligor other than YWS ceasing or threatening to cease to carry on its business or YWS ceasing or threatening to cease to carry on the Appointed Business;
- (n) litigation being started against an Obligor or its assets or revenues which would be reasonably likely to be adversely determined and, if so adversely determined, would have a Material Adverse Effect;
- (o) the Class A ICR for any Test Period is or is estimated to be less than 0.10:1; and/or
- (p) the Senior RAR for any Test Period is or is estimated to be more than 0.95:1; and/or

Cash Management

Accounts

The Common Terms Agreement requires YWS to open and maintain the following Accounts with the Account Bank:

- (a) certain Operating Accounts;
- (b) an O&M Reserve Account;
- (c) a Debt Service Payment Account; and
- (d) a Compensation Account.

The Issuer is required to open and maintain the following Accounts with the Account Bank:

- (a) a Transaction Account;
- (b) a Class A Debt Service Reserve Account;
- (c) a Class B Debt Service Reserve Account (if required); and
- (d) in the event it raises Permitted Financial Indebtedness denominated in a currency other than Sterling, an account denominated in such currency.

YWSF is required to open and maintain the following Accounts with the Account Bank:

- (a) a Transaction Account;
- (b) a Class A Debt Service Reserve Account; and
- (c) a Non-Participating YWSF Bond Reserve Account.

YWH was required to open and maintain one chequing account only with the Account Bank.

Each of the Issuer, YWSF and YWS may also open and maintain an account (each a “Swap Collateral Account”) into which any collateral provided by a Hedge Counterparty or guarantor thereof shall be deposited upon the relevant trigger occurring for the provision of such collateral to support the obligations of the Hedge Counterparty or guarantor under the terms of the appropriate Hedging Agreement.

Each of YWS and the Issuer may open and maintain a Cash Cover Account pursuant to the terms of an Authorised Credit Facility pursuant to which a letter of credit facility has been made available to YWS or the Issuer into which any amounts in respect of “cash cover” (as defined in the relevant Authorised Credit Facility) shall be deposited in accordance with the terms thereof. Any amounts standing to the credit of a Cash Cover Account shall be applied only in accordance with the terms of the relevant Authorised Credit Facility and the STID.

Each of the above accounts together with any other bank account of any Obligor are collectively referred to as the “Accounts”. Each of the Accounts (other than any Cash Cover Accounts opened at another bank or financial institution in accordance with the Senior Facilities Agreement or any other Authorised Credit Facility) will be held with the Account Bank pursuant to the Account Bank Agreement. Each Obligor will agree in the Common Terms Agreement to comply with the Account Bank Agreement and the provisions of the Common Terms Agreement applying to its Accounts.

Operating Accounts

Under the Common Terms Agreement, YWS will ensure that all of its revenues (other than any Income on Authorised Investments which shall be credited to the Account from which the relevant Authorised Investment was made) will be paid into an Operating Account.

The Operating Accounts shall be the principal current accounts of YWS through which all operating and Capital Expenditure or any Taxes incurred by YWS and (subject to the terms of the Finance Documents) payments in respect of the Financial Indebtedness of the YW Financing Group which are not permitted to be satisfied out of monies credited to the Debt Service Payment Account shall be cleared (including any amounts payable by YWS upon the occurrence of a Permitted EIB Compulsory Prepayment Event (subject to the proviso contained in the definition of Permitted EIB Compulsory Prepayment Event), any amounts payable in respect of any Non-Participating YWSF Bonds and other permitted unsecured debt of YWS). YWS may make transfers at any time from one Operating Account to another, in its sole discretion. YWS may hold separate Operating Accounts for its Appointed Business and each of the trades entered into in connection with its Permitted Non-Appointed Business.

All operating expenditure of YWS will be funded: (a) through payments made directly into the Operating Accounts; and (b) through drawings made by YWS under any Authorised Credit Facility or other Permitted Financial Indebtedness, as and when required and permitted by the Finance Documents.

Proceeds in respect of property damage insurance (other than in respect of delay of start-up, business interruption or anticipated loss in revenue or third party claims) will also be paid by YWS into the Operating Accounts. On an ongoing basis, Capital Expenditure is funded out of monies standing to the credit of the Operating Accounts and/or (in relation to Capital Maintenance Expenditure), to the extent that the sums standing to the credit of the Operating Accounts are insufficient, an O&M Reserve Account.

All Distributions and Permitted Post Closing Events will be funded (directly or indirectly) out of monies standing to the credit of the Operating Accounts subject always to the satisfaction of all of the conditions set out in the Common Terms Agreement for the making of such payments.

On the Closing Date and annually thereafter on 31 March of each year (or, if such day is not a Business Day, the immediately preceding Business Day), YWS will calculate the Annual Finance Charge for the Pre-Test Period and for the period of 12 months commencing on the immediately following, 1 April, respectively, and details of such calculation will be included in the next following Investors' Report.

Under the Common Terms Agreement, YWS is required to, on the opening of business on the first Business Day of each month until the Discharge Date, transfer from the Operating Accounts to the Debt Service Payment Account an amount (the "Monthly Payment Amount") equal to 1/12th of YWS's Annual Finance Charge for the relevant 12 month period provided that the aggregate of any interest accruing on and credited to the Debt Service Payment Account will be treated as a prepayment of future Monthly Payment Amounts payable during the relevant 12 month period. Accordingly, the Monthly Payment Amounts due for the remaining months of such 12 month period shall be reduced pro rata to reflect such prepayment.

YWS will recalculate the Annual Finance Charge and the Monthly Payment Amount if during the course of any relevant 12 month period, there occurs any increase (whether as a result of any increase in the rate of applicable interest, any drawing under any Authorised Credit Facility, any deferral of interest, any upwards adjustment of rentals under any Finance Lease, or otherwise) or decrease (whether as a result of any reduction in the rate of applicable interest, downwards adjustment of rentals under any Finance Lease or any prepayment or repayment of the debt under which the relevant liabilities arise or accrue or otherwise) in the Annual Finance Charge and shall adjust the Monthly Payment Amount for the remaining months in the relevant 12 month period, and details will be included in the next following Investors' Report.

YWS's O&M Reserve Account

YWS will ensure that the proceeds of any drawing by it under any O&M Reserve Facility Agreement (other than a Standby Drawing) are paid directly into YWS's O&M Reserve Account or an Operating Account.

Withdrawals from YWS's O&M Reserve Account will be permitted if: (i) such withdrawal is on account of operating and capital expenditure requirements that cannot be met from existing balances in the Operating Accounts; (ii) such withdrawal is for the purpose of transferring into an Operating Account any interest income earned from time to time on the O&M Reserve Accounts (including Income from any related Authorised Investments); or (iii) to the extent of any surplus O&M Reserves as certified by YWS to the Security Trustee and the Account Bank.

Debt Service Payment Account

YWS is required to ensure that each transfer of or in respect of the Monthly Payment Amount from the Operating Account is made directly into the Debt Service Payment Account.

The Common Terms Agreement provides that, on each Payment Date, monies credited to the Debt Service Payment Account shall be applied by YWS in the following order for the purpose of enabling the following payments (“Permitted Payments”) to be made in the following order of priority (the “Payment Priorities”) without double counting (provided that, any amounts applied by YWS in directly discharging an obligation of the Issuer or YWSF shall be treated as having simultaneously discharged YWS’s corresponding obligation to pay on such Payment Date to the Issuer or, as the case may be, YWSF, the relevant facility fees, interest, principal, indemnity amounts and other sums due to the Issuer or, as the case may be, YWSF under the Issuer/YWS Loan Agreements or, as the case may be, the YWSF/YWS Loan Agreements and amounts applied by YWS in directly discharging the Issuer’s obligations in respect of payments under the Class A Bonds originally issued by Yorkshire Water Services Odsal Finance Limited shall be treated as simultaneously having discharged YWSF’s corresponding obligation to pay amounts due to the Issuer under the YWSF Bonds, YWS’s corresponding obligation to pay amounts due to YWSF corresponding to such Exchanged YWSF Bonds under the Initial YWSF/YWS Loan Agreement and YWS’s corresponding obligation (if applicable) to pay amounts due to the Issuer corresponding to such Class A Bonds under the Exchange Issuer/YWS Bond Loan Agreements and provided further that, the payment of the Issuer Profit Amount (as defined in the Master Definitions Agreement) under the Issuer/YWS Loan Agreements, and the YWSF Profit Amount (as defined in the Master Definitions Agreement) under the YWSF/YWS Loan Agreements (in each case, as specified therein) shall be paid at paragraphs (vi) and (xi) below and shall be transferred to the Transaction Account of the Issuer or, as the case may be, YWSF; any amounts payable by an Obligor pursuant to the terms of any Authorised Credit Facility in respect of “cash cover” (as defined in the Senior Facilities Agreement or any other relevant Authorised Credit Facility pursuant to which a letter of credit facility is provided) shall be discharged pursuant to item (vii) below (in respect of Class A Debt) or item (xii) below (in respect of Class B Debt) by payment of such amount to a Cash Cover Account of the relevant Obligor; any payments under items (iii) to (xix) shall be excluded to the extent such payments are due to a Subordinated Secured Creditor and shall instead be applied to items (xx) and (xxi) as applicable; and the distribution of amounts payable in respect of any Authorised Credit Facility as between the parties thereto shall be governed by the terms of the relevant Authorised Credit Facility and the obligations of any Obligor in relation thereto shall be discharged in accordance with such terms):

- (xxi) twenty-first, pro rata according to the respective amounts thereof, in or towards satisfaction of principal due or overdue to any Subordinated Secured Creditor (limited: (a) in respect of amounts due to any Bondholders, Participating YWSF Bondholders or Non-Participating YWSF Bondholders, to any Subordinated Classes; and (b) in respect of amounts due to any Non-Participating YWSF Bondholders or the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Trustee, to: (A) amounts payable following the commencement of a Standstill Period and for so long as it continues (but excluding the application by the Security Trustee of any Ring-fenced Proceeds); and (B) in circumstances where the events described in the paragraph entitled 'Payments

Following Termination of Standstill and Permitted Share Pledge Acceleration’ below have arisen, the application by the Security Trustee of Shared Proceeds only); and (xxii) twenty-second, (to the extent required in the Common Terms Agreement) the balance shall remain in the Debt Service Payment Account.

If at the end of any Test Period, there are amounts standing to the credit of the Debt Service Payment Account (“Excess Funds”) as a result of either: (a) interest credited to and accruing on the Debt Service Payment Account; or (b) payment of amounts into the Debt Service Payment Account in excess of the Annual Finance Charge for such Test Period, such Excess Funds will be treated and applied as a prepayment of future Monthly Payment Amounts due in the succeeding Test Period.

If on any Payment Date there are insufficient funds available to the Obligors to pay in full all Secured Liabilities falling due for payment on such date, then the Payment Priorities shall apply and the Cash Manager shall ensure that: (a) no amounts are applied in discharging any liabilities due to a Secured Creditor unless on the date such amounts are applied all sums then due and payable to each prior ranking Secured Creditor have first been discharged in full; and (b) where funds available to the Obligors are insufficient to meet all of the payments falling due to be made on such date in any subparagraph of the Payment Priorities, such funds shall be divided pro rata between those payments.

The Payment Priorities set out in paragraphs (i) to (xxii) inclusive will not apply to: (a) the CD Amounts, which shall be applied on the Closing Date in accordance with the Settlement and Acknowledgement Deed; (b) the proceeds of any further borrowing of Permitted Financial Indebtedness which are required by the terms of such borrowing to be applied: (1) by way of loan to YWS pursuant to an Issuer/YWS Loan Agreement, an Exchange Issuer/YWS Loan Agreement or, as the case may be, a YWSF/YWS Loan Agreement; or (2) in repayment or prepayment of any then existing Financial Indebtedness of the YW Financing Group, in each case, to the extent permitted by the Common Terms Agreement; or (c) any return of collateral or premium or up front payment on replacement of a Hedging Agreement which has been terminated in the circumstances contemplated in paragraph (xv) above which will be paid to the relevant Hedge Counterparty directly. In no circumstance shall YWS be entitled to apply monies represented by the Monthly Payment Amount in or towards making a Restricted Payment.

For so long as no Standstill Period is continuing, YWS will, on the date which is seven Business Days prior to each Payment Date (such date, a “Determination Date”), determine whether the aggregate amount of monies then credited to the Debt Service Payment Account is at least equal to the aggregate of all amounts referred to in paragraphs (i) to (xxi) of the Payment Priorities described above (other than (vi)(g) and (vii)(f) and other than principal repayments on the Senior Debt) which fall due and payable on such Payment Date (such aggregate amount, “Scheduled Debt Service”). If the balance on the Debt Service Payment Account on a Determination Date is less than the amount of Scheduled Debt Service falling due on the following Payment Date, then YWS will promptly transfer to the Debt Service Payment Account an amount equal to the shortfall first from sums standing to the credit of the Operating Accounts and then, to the extent that there would still be a shortfall in meeting the Scheduled Debt Service, from sums standing to the credit of the Debt Service Reserve Accounts. No amounts may be so transferred from any Operating Account to the extent that to do so would cause the aggregate net balance of the Operating Accounts to fall below the then current aggregate net overdraft limit on the Operating Accounts or cause the balance on any Operating Account to fall below the then current gross overdraft limit in respect of such Operating Account. If after making any required transfers from the Operating Accounts and/or the Debt Service Reserve Accounts, the balance on the Debt Service Payment Account would be insufficient to pay any Scheduled Debt Service falling due for payment at paragraphs (i)-(vi) inclusive (other than (vi)(g)), (xi), (xviii) or (xix) of the Payment Priorities (excluding any termination payments under any Hedging Agreements), the Issuer and/or, in the case of a shortfall relating to the obligations of YWSF, YWSF shall promptly request a drawing under the relevant DSR Liquidity Facility (if any): (a) in the case of the Issuer, in an amount equal to any shortfall remaining in respect of the Issuer's Class A Debt or, in respect of items (xi) and (xix), the Class B Debt; (b) in the case of the Issuer, in an amount equal to any shortfall remaining in respect of the Issuer's Class A Debt; and (c) in the case of YWSF, in an amount equal to any shortfall remaining in respect of YWSF's Class A Debt.

Debt Service Reserve Accounts, Non-Participating YWSF Bond Reserve Account and O&M Reserve Accounts

YWS will (subject to and in accordance with the Payment Priorities) transfer monies standing to the credit of the Debt Service Payment Account to: (i) the Class A Debt Service Reserve Accounts (of the Issuer and YWSF) and the Class B Debt Service Reserve Account of the Issuer, as required, to maintain the Required Balance; (ii) the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Reserve Account of YWSF as required to maintain the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Required Balance; and (iii) the O&M Reserve Accounts of YWS, as required, to maintain the O&M Reserve Required Amount.

YWS will agree to procure that on any Payment Date and (in respect of paragraph (c) only) any Non-Participating YWSF Bond Payment Date:

- (a) the aggregate of: (i) all amounts available for drawing under the DSR Liquidity Facilities in respect of Class A Debt; and (ii) all amounts standing to the credit of the Class A Debt Service Reserve Accounts (including the value of any Authorised Investments funded from amounts standing to the credit of the Class A Debt Service Reserve Accounts) are at least equal to the Class A Required Balance;
- (b) the aggregate of: (i) all amounts available for drawing under the DSR Liquidity Facilities in respect of Class B Debt; and (ii) all amounts standing to the credit of the Class B Debt Service Reserve Account (to the extent one is maintained) (including the value of any Authorised Investments funded from amounts standing to the credit of the Class B Debt Service Reserve Account) (after deducting all amounts required to satisfy the Class A Required Balance) are at least equal to the Class B Required Balance; and
- (c) the aggregate of: (i) all amounts available for drawing by YWSF under the DSR Liquidity Facilities in respect of any Non-Participating YWSF Bonds (other than the Exchanged YWSF Bonds); and (ii) all amounts standing to the credit of the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Reserve Account (including the value of any Authorised Investments funded from amounts standing to the credit of the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Reserve Account), are at least equal to the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Required Balance.

(1) In the case of the relevant DSR Liquidity Facility in respect of Class A Debt, the Issuer and YWSF; (2) in the case of the relevant DSR Liquidity Facility in respect of Class B Debt, the Issuer; (3) in the case of the relevant DSR Liquidity Facility in respect of Non-Participating YWSF Bonds, YWSF; and (4) in the case of the relevant O&M Reserve Facility, YWS: (A) will be required to draw down the whole of a Liquidity Facility Provider's commitment if that Liquidity Facility Provider: (i) ceases to have the Minimum Short-Term Rating from S&P; or (ii) fails to renew its commitment at the end of the term of the relevant Liquidity Facility and whose commitment is not replaced by another Liquidity Facility Provider; and (B) may (but is not obliged to) draw down the whole of a Liquidity Facility Provider's commitment if that Liquidity Facility Provider ceases to have the Minimum Short-Term Rating from Moody's or Fitch. The Issuer or, as the case may be, YWSF must deposit the proceeds of each such drawdown into its Debt Service Reserve Account or, in the case of a DSR Liquidity Facility in respect of Non-Participating YWSF Bonds, the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Reserve Account and, in the case of a drawdown by YWS under an O&M Reserve Facility, YWS must deposit the proceeds of such drawdown into its O&M Reserve Account.

No monies may be withdrawn from the Debt Service Reserve Accounts, Non-Participating YWSF Bond Reserve Account or the O&M Reserve Accounts except as permitted by the relevant Liquidity Facility Agreement (see the section “The Liquidity Facilities” below) and the Common Terms Agreement or if the Issuer, YWSF or, as the case may be, YWS delivers, prior to any withdrawal, a certificate to the Security Trustee and the Account Bank that following the making of such withdrawal: (a) in the case of the Debt Service Reserve Accounts, the aggregate of the amounts standing to the credit of the relevant Debt Service Reserve Account (including the value of any Authorised Investments funded from amounts standing to the credit of the relevant Debt Service Reserve Account) and amounts available for drawing under the DSR Liquidity Facilities in respect of Class A Debt and Class B Debt is at least equal to the Required Balance; (b) in the case of the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Reserve Account, the aggregate of the amounts standing to the credit of the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Reserve Account (including the value of any Authorised Investments funded from amounts standing to the credit of the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Reserve Account) and amounts available for drawing under the DSR Liquidity Facilities in respect of Non-Participating YWSF Bonds is at least equal to the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Required Balance; and (c) in the case of YWS’s O&M Reserve Account, the aggregate of the O&M Reserve (including the value of any Authorised Investments funded from amounts standing to the credit of the O&M Reserve Accounts) and amounts available for drawing under the O&M Reserve Facilities is at least equal to the O&M Reserve Required Amount.

Compensation Account

YWS shall ensure that any amounts required to be deposited into the Compensation Account pursuant to items (vi)(b), (vii)(c) or (xii)(c) of the Payment Priorities are paid into the Compensation Account.

YWS may only withdraw amounts from the Compensation Account in meeting termination sums due under the relevant Hedging Agreement or as otherwise required by the Hedging Policy.

Authorised Investments

YWS and the Issuer will be permitted, in accordance with the Common Terms Agreement, to invest in certain Authorised Investments from amounts standing to the credit of any of the Accounts.

Cash Management during a Standstill Period

The arrangements described in the section “Debt Service Payment Account” above shall continue to apply until the commencement of a Standstill Period. The Common Terms Agreement will provide that, so long as a Standstill Period continues unremedied, and provided no Enforcement Action (other than a Permitted Share Pledge Acceleration and other than any Independent Enforcement Action) has occurred, YWS shall cease to be the Cash Manager and will be replaced by the Standstill Cash Manager, who shall assume control of the Accounts, pay operating expenditure when it falls due and, on a monthly basis, calculate the aggregate of all payments falling to be made during the next following period of 12 months and shall calculate all net revenues received and/or expected to be received over that 12 month period. To the extent that the forecast revenues are insufficient (after paying all relevant operating expenditure) to pay the aggregate of all payments falling to be made during the next 12 months, the Standstill Cash Manager shall notionally apply those forecast revenues to each category in accordance with the Payment Priorities until the revenue that is forecast to be available is insufficient to meet all of the payments falling to be made within such 12 month period in any sub-paragraph of the Payment Priorities (the “Shortfall Paragraph”) and shall, in respect of those categories of payment falling within the Shortfall Paragraph, divide the anticipated revenues remaining pro rata between those amounts. Throughout the Standstill Period, any payments falling to be made within a category of payment falling within a Shortfall Paragraph shall be made by a payment of the pro rata share of that payment so calculated and no payments falling in a category which (in accordance with the Payment Priorities) falls after a Shortfall Paragraph shall be made (and in either case the balance of the payments not made shall remain outstanding).

Payments Following Termination of Standstill and Permitted Share Pledge Acceleration

Following termination of a Standstill (other than due to: (a) waiver by the Majority Creditors (subject to the relevant Quorum Requirement being met) and any other Secured Creditors whose consent is required to be obtained in respect of such waiver pursuant to the Entrenched Rights; or (b) the remedy of the Event of Default giving rise to the Standstill Period) or upon a Permitted Share Pledge Acceleration, the Security Trustee shall apply all sums received by it or available for distribution in accordance with the Payment Priorities above provided that: (a) items (i), (ix), (x) and (xiv) shall be deleted for these purposes; and (b) items (vi)(g), (vii)(f) and, to the extent such items relate to payments to Non-Participating YWSF Bondholders or the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Trustee, items (xx) and (xxi) shall apply in respect of the application by the Security Trustee of Shared Proceeds only.

Additionally, during a Standstill Period the Annual Finance Charge pertaining to any Finance Leases shall be adjusted in accordance with the terms of the relevant Finance Lease or Addendum relating thereto.

Hedging Policy

The Hedging Policy provides, inter alia, that:

- The YW Financing Group will not enter into Treasury Transactions for the purpose of speculation, but rather only to manage risk inherent in its business or funding on a prudent basis (which shall include any forward starting hedges if thought appropriate) and to the extent permitted by the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000.
- Any change to the Hedging Policy will be subject to YWS board approval and may only be made with the approval of the Security Trustee.
- Subject to such approvals, the Hedging Policy will be reviewed from time to time by the YW Financing Group and amended (subject to Entrenched Rights and Reserved Matters and in accordance with the provisions of the STID) as appropriate in line with market developments, regulatory developments, and Good Industry Practice.
- The YW Financing Group must not bear currency risk in respect of any foreign currency denominated debt instruments, or in respect of any foreign currency purchases which, when aggregated with all other foreign currency exposure at the time of such purchase, causes the sterling equivalent of foreign currency exposure of the YW Financing Group to exceed 0.1 per cent. of RCV.
- The YW Financing Group will maintain at least 85 per cent. of its total outstanding liability profile for the current period to the next Periodic Review and at least 75 per cent. in the next period to the subsequent Periodic Review (each as adjusted proportionately to the extent that the period from one Periodic Review to the next Periodic Review is greater than five years) (on a rolling basis) as index-linked obligations or fixed rate obligations either directly or via hedges. This figure will be kept under review with respect to market conditions and developments in regulatory methodology and practice. Any proposal to change these figures will be approved by the YWS board and be subject to the approval of the Security Trustee (such approval not to be unreasonably withheld).
- Interest rate risk on floating rate liabilities will be hedged through a combination of cash balances and instruments such as interest rate and inflation linked swaps entered into by the Issuer.

- Subject to market constraints and YWS board approval, the YW Financing Group will raise debt through the use of index-linked instruments where it is cost effective.
- Subject to the following paragraph, the Issuer, YWSF and YWS may only enter into Treasury Transactions with counterparties whose short-term, unsecured and unsubordinated debt obligations are assigned a rating by the Rating Agencies which is no less than the minimum required ratings applicable to each Rating Agency as specified in the Hedging Policy or where a parent guarantee is provided by an institution which meets the same criteria. Each Hedging Agreement must include a provision entitling the Issuer, YWSF or, as the case may be, YWS to terminate if there is a downgrade of the Hedge Counterparty (or guarantor thereof) from such minimum required ratings or certain specified long-term ratings and the relevant Hedge Counterparty has failed to post collateral or take such other steps as may be stipulated in the relevant Hedging Agreement pursuant to the relevant provisions relating to counterparty credit risk in accordance with the current criteria of S&P, Moody's and Fitch.
- On 3 March 2014, a STID Proposal was passed which allows the Issuer, YWSF and YWS to enter into Hedging Agreements with unrated counterparties subject to various conditions, including that;
 - (a) the relevant Hedge Counterparty has posted collateral at the date on which it enters into any confirmation in respect of such Hedging Agreement in an amount to fully cover all maximum future undiscounted net payment obligations which the Hedge Counterparty has or could have under the terms of the relevant Hedging Agreement; and
 - (b) each Rating Agency has affirmed the then current rating of the Bonds at the time at which such confirmation in respect of such Hedging Agreement is entered into (provided that in circumstances where a Rating Agency is not willing to issue a rating affirmation due to its then prevailing policy regarding the issue of rating affirmations, YWS has certified in writing to the Security Trustee that, in its opinion (and where the relevant Rating Agency was prepared to consult with YWS this opinion is based on consultation with such Rating Agency), such transaction would not cause the ratings of the Bonds to be downgraded).
- Hedging Agreements must be entered into in the form, as amended by the parties thereto, of the 1992 ISDA Master Agreement (Multicurrency – Cross Border), the 2002 Master Agreement published by ISDA or any successor thereto published by ISDA unless otherwise agreed by the Security Trustee.

Security Agreement

Security

Each Obligor, on the Closing Date, entered into the security agreement (the “Security Agreement”) with the Security Trustee pursuant to which YWH guaranteed the obligations of each other Obligor under the Finance Documents and YWS, YWSF, and the Issuer guaranteed the obligations of each other (but not YWH) under the Finance Documents, in each case to the Security Trustee as security trustee for the Shared Secured Creditors and the Ring-fenced Secured Creditors on the terms set out in the Security Agreement and the STID.

Each of YWS and YWSF (together with any Permitted Subsidiaries which constitute a “Principal Subsidiary”) (as such term is defined in the terms and conditions of the Non-Participating YWSF Bonds), the “Shared Chargors”) secured its property, assets and undertakings to the Security Trustee as trustee for the Shared Secured Creditors (which include the Non-Participating YWSF Bondholders and the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Trustee). However, in respect of YWS, the creation, perfection and enforcement of such security will be subject to the WIA, the Instrument of Appointment and requirements thereunder. Each other Obligor (the “Ring-fenced Chargors”) secured its property, assets and undertakings to the Security Trustee as trustee for the Ring-fenced Secured Creditors (which do not include the Non-Participating YWSF Bondholders or the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Trustee).

The Security Agreement, to the extent applicable, incorporates the provisions of the Common Terms Agreement and is subject to the STID.

The security constituted by the Security Agreement is expressed to include, amongst other things:

- (i) first fixed charges over:
 - (a) the shares in YWS, YWSF, and the Issuer;
 - (b) each Obligor’s right, title and interest from time to time in and to certain land and other real property and the proceeds of any disposal thereof;
 - (c) all present and future plant, machinery, office equipment, computers, vehicles and other chattels;
 - (d) all monies standing to the credit of each Obligor’s bank accounts;
 - (e) certain Intellectual Property Rights owned by each Obligor;
 - (f) uncalled capital and goodwill;
 - (g) each Authorised Investment;
 - (h) all shares of any person owned by the Obligor including all dividends, interest and other monies payable in respect thereof and all other rights related thereto;
 - (i) all present and future book debts; and
 - (j) all benefit in respect of certain insurances;
- (ii) an assignment of each Obligor’s right in respect of all Transaction Documents; and
- (iii) a first floating charge of the whole of the undertaking of each Obligor, except that the Security does not include any security over Protected Land (see Chapter 6, “Regulation of the Water and Wastewater Industry in England and Wales” under “Protected Land”) or any of YWS’s other assets, property and rights to the extent, and for so long as, the taking of any such security would contravene the terms of the Instrument of Appointment and requirements thereunder or the WIA or any other applicable law.

For a description of certain limitations on the ability of YWS to grant security and certain limitations and restrictions on the security purported to be granted, see Chapter 4 “Risk Factors – Legal Risks – Security Over Assets”.

Prior to an Event of Default, notices of assignment will only be given to the relevant counterparty to the Transaction Documents that are assigned and to the insurers with whom YWS has taken out insurance in accordance with the requirements of the Common Terms Agreement (subject to certain agreed exceptions). Following an Event of Default, notices of assignment will be given in respect of any assigned contract or asset as requested by the Security Trustee upon the instructions of the Majority Creditors pursuant to the terms of the STID.

Any Permitted Subsidiary acquired or established by YWS at any time following the Closing Date will be required to accede to the Security Agreement as an Obligor.

The Financial Guarantees of Wrapped Bonds

The form of Financial Guarantee to be issued by each Financial Guarantor (upon fulfilment or waiver by the relevant Financial Guarantors of certain conditions precedent to be contained in the CP Agreement) in respect of the issue of any Wrapped Bonds issued under the Programme will be set out in a supplement to this Prospectus.

Upon an early redemption of the relevant Wrapped Bonds or an acceleration of the relevant Wrapped Bonds, each relevant Financial Guarantor's obligations will continue to be to pay the Guaranteed Amounts as they fall Due for Payment (each as defined in the relevant Financial Guarantor's Financial Guarantee) on each Payment Date. None of the Financial Guarantors will be obliged under any circumstances to accelerate payment under its Financial Guarantees. However, if it does so, it may do so in its absolute discretion in whole or in part, and the amount payable by the relevant Financial Guarantor will be the Outstanding Principal Amount (or pro rata amount that has become due and payable) of the relevant Wrapped Bonds together with accrued interest (excluding always the FG Excepted Amounts). Any amounts due in excess of such Outstanding Principal Amount (and any accrued interest thereon) will not be guaranteed by any Financial Guarantor under any of the Financial Guarantees.

The Bond Trustee as party to each of the Financial Guarantees will have the right to enforce the terms of such Financial Guarantees, and any right of any other person to do so is expressly excluded.

Guarantee and Reimbursement Deeds

On each relevant Issue Date of Wrapped Bonds, the Issuer and YWS will enter into a guarantee and reimbursement deed (each a “G&R Deed”) with the relevant Financial Guarantor, pursuant to which the Issuer will be obliged, among other things, to reimburse such Financial Guarantor in respect of the payments made by it under the relevant Financial Guarantee and to pay, among other things, any fees and expenses of such Financial Guarantor in respect of the provision of the relevant Financial Guarantee. Insofar as a Financial Guarantor makes payment under the relevant Financial Guarantee in respect of Guaranteed Amounts (as defined in such Financial Guarantee), it will be subrogated to the present and future rights of the relevant Wrapped Bondholders against the Issuer in respect of any payments made.

Finance Leases

YWS is party to various Finance Leases, whereby the Finance Lessor leases the Equipment sold or supplied to YWS on the terms and subject to the conditions set out in the lease agreements with YWS as lessee and the respective leasing company as lessor. The Finance Documents also permit YWS to enter into new Finance Leases in the future.

The Equipment acquired by or sold or supplied to such leasing companies consists mainly of plant and machinery and other equipment used in the water and sewerage operations of YWS. The Equipment is comprised of movable equipment and fixed equipment (that is Equipment which is so installed or affixed to real estate so as to become part of that real estate as a matter of law (“Fixtures”)).

Authorised Credit Facilities

YWS has entered into various bilateral and syndicated bank facilities, which incorporate and are subject to the terms of the STID and the Common Terms Agreement.

As at 31 March 2024, YWS has the following committed credit facilities available to it:

- (i) £630 million revolving credit facility provided by a syndicate of six banks, due to expire in November 2028, of which £80 million was drawn; and
- (ii) £80 million bilateral committed credit facility due to expire in 2026 and which was undrawn.

When combined with the Liquidity Facilities and cash reserves, YWS had £982 million of available liability at March 2024.

The Liquidity Facilities

DSR Liquidity Facilities

YWS agrees to procure that on any Payment Date, the aggregate of: (i) all amounts available for drawing under any DSR Liquidity Facilities; and (ii) all aggregate amounts standing to the credit of the Debt Service Reserve Accounts (including any Authorised Investments funded from amounts standing to the credit of any Debt Service Reserve Account) are at least equal to the Required Balance.

Following the Closing Date, in order to maintain the Required Balance from time to time, each of the Issuer and YWSF may enter into a DSR Liquidity Facility Agreement. The Issuer and YWSF entered the current DSR Liquidity Facility Agreements on 17 March 2022, and they were renewed most recently on 25 March 2024. The Issuer may establish further DSR Liquidity Facilities in connection with the issue of further Bonds and other Class A Debt and Class B Debt issued or incurred.

On the Closing Date, the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Required Balance represented an amount equal to the next 18 months' interest and principal forecast to be due on the Non-Participating YWSF Bonds (other than the Exchanged YWSF Bonds (if any)), after taking into account anticipated real flow receipts under any Hedging Agreement then in place in respect of any Non-Participating YWSF Bonds. An amount equal to the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Required Balance (if any) was deposited by YWS into YWSF's Non-Participating YWSF Bond Reserve Account on the Closing Date. Following the Closing Date, in order to maintain the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Required Balance from time to time, YWSF may enter into a DSR Liquidity Facility Agreement. However, as at the date of this Prospectus, the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Required Balance is maintained from monies standing to the credit of the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Reserve Account.

Under the terms of the DSR Liquidity Agreements, the DSR Liquidity Facility Providers provide a 5 year liquidity guarantee in an aggregate amount specified in the relevant DSR Liquidity Facility Agreement (which, in the case of Class A Debt and Class B Debt, when aggregated with all amounts available for drawing under any other DSR Liquidity Facilities in respect of Class A Debt and Class B Debt and all amounts standing to the credit of the Debt Service Reserve Accounts (including any Authorised Investments funded from amounts standing to the credit of any Debt Service Reserve Account), equals at least the Required Balance, and, in the case of Non-Participating YWSF Bonds, when aggregated with all amounts available for drawing under any DSR Liquidity Facility in respect of the Non-Participating YWSF Bonds (other than the Exchanged YWSF Bonds) and all amounts standing to the credit of the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Reserve Account (including any Authorised Investments funded from amounts standing to the credit of any Non-Participating YWSF Bond Reserve Account), equals at least the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Required Balance) to permit drawings to be made by:

- (i) each of the Issuer and YWSF in circumstances where YWS has or will have insufficient funds in the Debt Service Payment Account available on a Payment Date to pay amounts (other than principal amounts to be repaid in respect of Class A Debt or Class B Debt and principal amounts to be repaid or any termination payments under any Hedging Agreements) scheduled to be paid in respect of items (i) to (vi) inclusive (other than (vi)(g)) and item (xviii) of the Payment Priorities (a "Liquidity Shortfall"); and/or
- (ii) YWSF where YWS or YWSF has or will have insufficient funds in the Operating Accounts available on a Non-Participating YWSF Bond Payment Date, or otherwise fails on a Non-Participating YWSF Bond Payment Date, to pay any amounts scheduled to be paid in respect of any Non-Participating YWSF Bonds (other than the Exchanged YWSF Bonds) on such Non-Participating YWSF Bond Payment Date (a "Non-Participating YWSF Bond Shortfall").

The proceeds of drawings made by the Issuer or YWSF under the DSR Liquidity Facilities will be on-lent by the Issuer or, as the case may be, YWSF to YWS under an Issuer/YWS Loan Agreement, or, as the case may be, a YWSF/YWS Loan Agreement.

The Issuer will not be able to make a drawing in respect of a Liquidity Shortfall relating (in whole or in part) to Class B Debt unless the sum of the amount available under the DSR Liquidity Facilities and the amount standing to the credit of the Issuer's Class A Debt Service Reserve Account (including any Authorised Investments funded from amounts standing to the credit of such Debt Service Reserve Account) (immediately after such drawing) is not less than the Class A Required Balance. Only YWSF will be able to make a drawing in respect of a Non-Participating YWSF Bond Shortfall.

Unless otherwise agreed by the Issuer, YWSF and the Security Trustee, liquidity in respect of the Class A Debt and Non-Participating YWSF Bonds will be applied in making payments in respect of Class A Debt or, as the case may be, Non-Participating YWSF Bonds only and liquidity in respect of Class B Debt will be applied in making payments in respect of Class B Debt only.

O&M Reserve Facility

YWS agrees that it shall at all times maintain an O&M Reserve Facility available for drawing which, when aggregated with amounts standing to the credit of any O&M Reserve Accounts of YWS (including the value of any Authorised Investments funded from amounts standing to the credit of the O&M Reserve Account of YWS, amounts to not less than the O&M Reserve Required Amount.

In order to maintain the O&M Reserve Required Amount from time to time, YWS may enter into an O&M Reserve Facility Agreement. Yorkshire Water Services Odsal Finance Limited transferred the O&M Reserve Facility Agreement to YWS on 16 August 2018 as part of the 2018 Reorganisation to YWS. The O&M Reserve Facility Agreement was renewed on 8 March 2024 (with a commencement date of 22 March 2024).

Under the terms of the O&M Reserve Facility Agreement and each further O&M Reserve Facility Agreement, the O&M Reserve Facility Providers provide and will provide (as applicable) a 364 day liquidity facility in an aggregate amount specified in the relevant O&M Reserve Facility Agreement (which, when aggregated with all amounts available for drawing under any other O&M Reserve Facilities and all amounts standing to the credit of the O&M Reserve Accounts of YWS (including the value of any Authorised Investments funded from amounts standing to the credit of the O&M Reserve Account of YWS), equals the O&M Reserve Required Amount).

Drawings under each O&M Reserve Facility will be used by YWS to meet its operating and Capital Maintenance Expenditure requirements to the extent that YWS has insufficient funds available to it in its Operating Accounts to meet these requirements. YWS may establish further O&M Reserve Facilities in connection with other Class A Debt and Class B Debt issued or incurred by the YW Financing Group.

Liquidity Facilities – General

Each Liquidity Facility Provider must have the Minimum Short-Term Rating at the time of its accession as a Liquidity Facility Provider.

Each Liquidity Facility Provider may be replaced at any time provided that such Liquidity Facility Provider is replaced by a bank with the Minimum Short-Term Rating and all amounts outstanding to such Liquidity Facility Provider are repaid in full.

Each Liquidity Facility Agreement will provide that amounts repaid by the Issuer or, as the case may be, YWSF may be redrawn.

Each Liquidity Facility Agreement will provide that if: (i) at any time the rating of the relevant Liquidity Facility Provider falls below the Minimum Short-Term Rating from S&P; or (ii) the relevant Liquidity Facility Provider does not agree to renew its commitment under such Liquidity Facility prior to the expiry of the relevant availability period, the Issuer or, as the case may be, YWSF will:

- (a) use all reasonable endeavours to replace the relevant Liquidity Facility Provider with a party having the Minimum Short-Term Rating; and
- (b) (if a replacement is not made within the relevant time period specified in the relevant Liquidity Facility Agreement) be entitled to require such Liquidity Facility Provider to pay into the Debt Service Reserve Account (in the case of DSR Liquidity Facilities) of the Issuer or, as the case may be, YWSF, or YWS's O&M Reserve Account (in the case of an O&M Reserve Facility)

the full amount of the relevant Liquidity Facility Provider's undrawn commitment (a "Standby Drawing").

Each Liquidity Facility Agreement will provide that if at any time the rating of the relevant Liquidity Facility Provider falls below the Minimum Short-Term Rating from Moody's or Fitch, the Issuer or, as the case may be, YWSF may (but shall not be obliged to):

- (a) replace the relevant Liquidity Facility Provider with a party having the Minimum Short-Term Rating; and
- (b) (if a replacement is not made within the relevant time period specified in the relevant Liquidity Facility Agreement) be entitled (but not obliged) to require such Liquidity Facility Provider to pay into the Debt Service Reserve Account (in the case of DSR Liquidity Facilities) of the Issuer or, as the case may be, YWSF, or YWS's O&M Reserve Account (in the case of an O&M Reserve Facility) a Standby Drawing.

A Standby Drawing will generally be repayable only if the relevant Liquidity Facility Provider is rated with the Minimum Short-Term Rating or confirmation is received from each of the Rating Agencies that either: (i) the terms of a replacement Liquidity Facility; or (ii) the absence of any such facility, in each case, as applicable will not lead to a shadow ratings downgrade of the Wrapped Bonds or the YWSF Wrapped Bonds or a credit ratings downgrade of the Unwrapped Bonds or the YWSF Unwrapped Bonds from the relevant Rating Agencies.

Interest will accrue on any drawing (including a Standby Drawing) made under the Liquidity Facility provided by a Liquidity Facility Provider at a reference rate per annum plus a margin. Under the Liquidity Facility Agreements, the Issuer or, as the case may be, YWSF will also, in certain circumstances, be required to pay additional amounts if: (i) a withholding or deduction for or on account of tax is imposed on payments made by it to the relevant Liquidity Facility Provider; or (ii) if the relevant Liquidity Facility Provider suffers an increase in the cost of providing the relevant Liquidity Facility. The Issuer or, as the case may be, YWSF will pay certain agency, arrangement and renewal fees as well as a commitment fee which will accrue on any undrawn portion of the commitments under the Liquidity Facilities.

Upon the enforcement of the Security pursuant to the STID, all indebtedness outstanding under any Liquidity Facility (other than Subordinated Liquidity Facility Amounts) will rank in priority to the Bonds.

Hedging

YWS has entered into a number of Hedging Agreements, each of which must comply with the terms of the Hedging Policy. The Hedging Agreements incorporate and are subject to the terms of the Common Terms Agreement and STID. The Hedging Policy provides that the YW Financing Group must enter into Hedging Agreements in accordance with the Hedging Policy and that the only members of the YW Financing Group that may enter into Hedging Agreements are YWS, YWSF and the Issuer. (See "Hedging Policy" under "Common Terms Agreement" above for further details)

Termination

The Issuer, YWSF or, as the case may be, YWS will be entitled to terminate a Hedging Agreement in certain circumstances (including a failure to pay by the Hedge Counterparty, certain insolvency events affecting the Hedge Counterparty and certain rating downgrade events affecting the Hedge Counterparty or any guarantor as the case may be where the relevant Hedge Counterparty has failed to post collateral or take such other steps as may be stipulated in the relevant Hedging Agreement pursuant to the relevant provisions relating to counterparty credit risk in accordance with the current criteria of S&P, Moody's and Fitch).

The Hedge Counterparty will be entitled to terminate a Hedging Agreement only in certain limited circumstances being:

- (a) a failure by the Issuer, YWSF or, as the case may be, YWS to make payments when due;
- (b) certain insolvency events affecting the Issuer, YWSF or, as the case may be, YWS;
- (c) illegality affecting the Hedging Agreement;
- (d) certain tax events;
- (e) redemption in whole or in part of any Sub-Class of the Bonds hedged by such Treasury Transaction;
- (f) termination of a Standstill Period (except by virtue of remedy or waiver of the relevant Event of Default giving rise to the Standstill Period) or, if earlier, an Acceleration of any Sub-Class of the Bonds hedged by such Treasury Transaction pursuant to Condition 11 of the Bonds; or
- (g) the Discharge Date has occurred.

In addition to the circumstances described above,

- (a) YWS will be entitled to be party to the Type 2 Hedging Agreements;
- (b) YWS will be entitled to be party to certain Hedging Agreements which are not Type 2 Hedging Agreements;
- (c) subject to the terms of the STID, YWS will be entitled to agree with the relevant Hedge Counterparty to terminate a Type 2 Hedging Agreement (or part thereof) or to amend the mandatory termination provisions of a Type 2 Hedging Agreement such that following such amendment the relevant Hedging Agreement ceases to be a Type 2 Hedging Agreement; and
- (d) following the date upon which all Treasury Transactions entered into pursuant to a Type 2 Hedging Agreement cease to be outstanding, the Issuer, YWSF and YWS will be entitled to enter into new Treasury Transactions pursuant to Hedging Agreements with Hedge Counterparties pursuant to which each relevant Hedge Counterparty can have the right to terminate the relevant Treasury Transaction on or after the tenth anniversary of the original effective date of such Treasury Transaction, provided that:

- (i) as at the date of an amendment or termination pursuant to paragraph (c) above or, as the case may be, entry into a Treasury Transaction pursuant to paragraph (d) above (and in each case taking account of such amendment or termination or, as the case may be, such Treasury Transaction), the aggregate notional amount and/or sterling currency amounts (as applicable) of all outstanding Treasury Transactions referred to in sub-paragraphs (b), (c) and (d) above, in each case expressed as a percentage of RCV, does not exceed 10 per cent.;
- (ii) as at the Closing Date and as at the date of an amendment or termination pursuant to paragraph (c) above or, as the case may be, entry into a Treasury Transaction pursuant to paragraph (d) above (and taking account of such amendment or termination or, as the case may be, such Treasury Transaction), the aggregate notional amount and/or sterling currency amounts (as applicable) of all outstanding Treasury Transactions entered into pursuant to sub-paragraphs (a), (b), (c) and (d) above which:

(A) may be terminated at the election of the applicable Hedge Counterparty (taking into account the earliest optional termination date only); or

(B) will terminate pursuant to any mandatory termination provision,

(in each case not including the scheduled maturity date of such Treasury Transactions) within any period of 24 consecutive months (from and including the first day of any 24 month period to but excluding the day falling 24 months later) (any such termination date being a “Relevant Termination Date”), in each case expressed as a percentage of RCV, does not exceed 3.5 per cent.;

(iii) as at the Closing Date and as at the date of an amendment or termination pursuant to paragraph (c) above or, as the case may be, entry into a Treasury Transaction pursuant to paragraph (d) above (and taking account of such amendment or termination or, as the case may be, such Treasury Transaction), the aggregate notional amount and/or sterling currency amounts (as applicable) of all outstanding Treasury Transactions entered into pursuant to sub-paragraphs (a), (b), (c) and (d) above which:

(A) may be terminated at the election of the applicable Hedge Counterparty (taking into account the earliest optional termination date only); and

(B) will terminate pursuant to any mandatory termination provision,

(in each case not including the scheduled maturity date of such Treasury Transactions) within any rolling five-year period (any such termination date being a “Relevant Termination Date”), in each case expressed as a percentage of RCV, does not exceed 7 per cent.; and

(iv) within three months following the anniversary prior to the Relevant Termination Date of the relevant Treasury Transaction, the Issuer, YWSF or YWS (as the case may be) will be required to use all reasonable endeavours to either:

(A) enter into new Treasury Transaction(s) in order to replace the Treasury Transaction which is the subject of such termination or (subject to the terms of the STID) extend the termination provisions in respect of the Treasury Transaction which is the subject of such termination; or

(B) place on deposit in the Compensation Account an amount which the Issuer, YWSF or YWS (as the case may be) estimates, in its reasonable opinion, as being equal to the net amount, if any, payable by the Issuer, YWSF or YWS (as the case may be) to the relevant Hedge Counterparty on such termination provided that, YWS shall recalculate such estimated net amount on the dates falling 6 months prior and 3 months prior to the Relevant Termination Date and: (i) to the extent that the estimated net amount increases as at such date, YWS shall place a further amount on deposit in the Compensation Account; or (ii) to the extent that the estimated net amount decreases as at such date, YWS shall be permitted to withdraw an amount from the Compensation Account, in each case resulting in the balance of the amount on deposit in relation to such Treasury Transaction being equal to the most recent estimate in respect thereof.

In the event that a Hedging Agreement is terminated, a termination payment may be due from the Issuer, YWS or, as the case may be, YWSF.

Other Finance Documents

Account Bank Agreement

Pursuant to the Account Bank Agreement, the Account Bank will agree to hold the Accounts (other than any Cash Cover Accounts opened at another bank or financial institution in accordance with the Senior Facilities Agreement or any other Authorised Credit Facility) and operate them in accordance with the instructions of the Cash Manager or Standstill Cash Manager (as applicable). The Cash Manager or Standstill Cash Manager (as applicable) will manage the Accounts on behalf of the YW Financing Group pursuant to the Common Terms Agreement (see the section “Cash Management” above).

Tax Deed of Covenant

Pursuant to the Tax Deed of Covenant, among other things, all the parties thereto which are members of the Kelda Group will make representations and will give covenants with a view to protecting the Obligors from various tax-related risks.

Under the terms of the Tax Deed of Covenant, each Obligor will give certain representations and covenants as to its tax status and to the effect that, subject to the Obligors’ membership of the YWS VAT Group, it has not taken and, save in certain permitted circumstances, will not take any steps which could reasonably be expected to give rise to a liability to tax for an Obligor where that tax is primarily the liability of another person (a “Secondary Tax Liability”) and, save in certain permitted circumstances, that it will not take any steps and will procure that no steps are taken which would cause any Obligor to become subject, inter alia, to any charge to corporation tax on chargeable gains under section 179 of the Taxation of Chargeable Gains Act 1992 or to stamp duty land tax as a result of the withdrawal of group relief under paragraph 3 or 9 of schedule 7 to the Finance Act 2003 (each a “Degrouping Tax Liability”).

Kelda Holdings Limited and KGL (the “Covenantors”) will also represent and covenant that, other than where liability arises from membership of the YWS VAT Group, no steps have been taken nor will be taken which might reasonably be expected to give rise to a Secondary Tax Liability in an Obligor, and that they will not take and will procure, to the extent that they are able to do so, that no steps are taken which cause an Obligor to be subject to a Degrouping Tax Liability.

Under the Tax Deed of Covenant, Kelda Holdings Limited will undertake to indemnify the Obligors against any Secondary Tax Liability or Degrouping Tax Liability which arises as a result of the breach of the covenants referred to above.

With a view to preventing or mitigating a Secondary Tax Liability or Degrouping Tax Liability arising in an Obligor, the Covenantors and the Obligors (among others) will, under the Tax Deed of Covenant, incur certain obligations in relation to specified events including changes in ownership of the Obligors. For example, the Tax Deed of Covenant provides that in certain circumstances where it is anticipated that there will be a change of control for tax purposes of YWH and therefore of the Obligors (for example, as a result of the sale of shares in YWH or KGL), KGL can be required, as a condition of that sale, to deposit an amount in a trust account equal to the estimated tax liability (if any) arising or likely to arise in an Obligor as a result of the sale. The money deposited could then be used to pay the tax liability of the Obligor.

The YWS VAT Group (of which YWS is the representative member) is currently comprised of YWS, YWH, the Issuer and YWSF. With a view to mitigating the possibility of any Obligor becoming liable (on a joint and several basis or otherwise) for any VAT liability of another person (other than an Obligor), the Obligors and the Covenantors will represent and covenant that no other person shall become treated as a member of the YWS VAT Group without the consent of the Security Trustee. Kelda Holdings Limited will also indemnify YWS or procure that YWS is indemnified in respect of any Tax liability which YWS may incur by virtue of any member of the Kelda Group (other than an Obligor) having been a member of the YWS VAT Group.

CHAPTER 8 THE BONDS

Terms and Conditions of the Bonds

The following is the text of the terms and conditions which (subject to the provisions of the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus (as defined below) and, save for the italicised paragraphs) will be incorporated by reference into each Global Bond (as defined below) representing Bonds (as defined below) in bearer form, Bonds in definitive form (if any) issued in exchange for the Global Bond(s) representing Bonds in bearer form, each Registered Bond (as defined below) in global form (a “Registered Global Bond”) representing Bonds in registered form and each Registered Bond in definitive form (a “Definitive Registered Bond”) representing Bonds in registered form (only if such incorporation by reference is permitted by the rules of the relevant Stock Exchange and agreed by the Issuer). If such incorporation by reference is not so permitted and agreed, each Bond in bearer form and each Definitive Registered Bond representing Bonds in registered form will have endorsed thereon or attached thereto such text (as so completed, amended, varied or supplemented). Further information with respect to each Tranche (as defined below) of Bonds will be given in the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus which will provide for those aspects of these Conditions which are applicable to such Tranche (as defined below) of Bonds, including, in the case of Wrapped Bonds (as defined below), the form of Financial Guarantee (as defined below) and endorsement and, in the case of all Sub-Classes (as defined below), the terms of the relevant advance under the relevant Issuer/YWS Loan Agreement. If a Financial Guarantor (as defined below) is appointed in relation to any Sub-Class of Wrapped Bonds (as specified in the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus) a supplement to this Prospectus will be produced providing such information about such Financial Guarantor as may be required by the rules of the FCA or the London Stock Exchange on which such Bonds are admitted to listing and/or trading. References in the Conditions to “Bonds” are, as the context requires, references to the Bonds of one Sub-Class only, not to all Bonds which may be issued under the Programme.

Yorkshire Water Finance plc (the “Issuer”) has succeeded Yorkshire Water Services Bradford Finance Limited and Yorkshire Water Services Odsal Finance Limited which established a guaranteed bond programme (the “Programme”) for the issuance of up to £8,000,000,000 guaranteed bonds (the “Bonds”). Bonds issued under the Programme on a particular Issue Date comprise a Series (a “Series”), and each Series comprises one or more Classes of Bonds (each a “Class”). Each Class may comprise one or more sub-classes (each a “Sub-Class”) and each Sub-Class comprising one or more tranches (each a “Tranche”).

Bonds issued by the Issuer subject to a Financial Guarantee will be designated as “Class A Wrapped Bonds” or “Class B Wrapped Bonds”. The Bonds issued by the Issuer which are not subject to a Financial Guarantee will be designated as “Class A Unwrapped Bonds” (and together with the Class A Wrapped Bonds, the “Class A Bonds”) or “Class B Unwrapped Bonds” (and, together with the Class B Wrapped Bonds, the “Class B Bonds”). Each Sub-Class will be denominated in different currencies or will have different interest rates, maturity dates or other terms. Bonds of any Class may be fixed rate bonds (“Fixed Rate Bonds”), floating rate bonds (“Floating Rate Bonds”), index-linked bonds (“Indexed Bonds”) or instalment bonds (“Instalment Bonds”) depending on the method of calculating interest payable in respect of such Bonds and may be denominated in sterling, euro, U.S. dollars or in other currencies subject to compliance with applicable law.

The terms and conditions applicable to any particular Sub-Class of Bonds are these terms and conditions (“Conditions”) completed by a set of final terms in relation to such Sub-Class (a “Final Terms”) or a drawdown prospectus (a “Drawdown Prospectus”). In the event of any inconsistency between these Conditions and the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus, the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus (as applicable) shall prevail.

Reference to “Final Terms” or “Drawdown Prospectus” is to the Final Terms or, as the case may be, Drawdown Prospectus (or the relevant provisions thereof) applicable to the Bonds.

The Bonds are subject to and have the benefit of a trust deed dated the Closing Date (as defined below) (as amended, supplemented, restated and/or novated from time to time, the “Bond Trust Deed”) between the Issuer, any Financial Guarantor (as defined below) acceding thereto and Deutsche Trustee Company Limited as trustee (the “Bond Trustee”, which expression includes the trustee or trustees for the time being of the Bond Trust Deed).

The Class A Wrapped Bonds and the Class B Wrapped Bonds (each “Wrapped Bonds”) alone will be unconditionally and irrevocably guaranteed as to scheduled payments of principal and interest (as adjusted for indexation, as applicable, but excluding any additional amounts relating to premium, prepayment or acceleration, accelerated amounts and amounts (if any), in the case of Fixed Rate Bonds or Indexed Bonds (other than deferred interest), representing step-up fees at a rate specified in the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus in excess of the initial Coupons on such Sub-Class as at the relevant Issue Date (as defined in Condition 6(l) (Definitions)), and, in the case of Floating Rate Bonds, representing step-up fees at a rate specified in the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus in excess of the initial Margin on the Coupons on such Sub-Class as at the relevant Issue Date (as defined in Condition 6(l) (Definitions)) (in each case, the “Subordinated Step-up Fee Amounts”), all such amounts being the “FG Excepted Amounts”) pursuant to a financial guarantee (each, a “Financial Guarantee”) to be issued by financial guarantors (each a “Financial Guarantor”) in conjunction with the issue of each Sub-Class of Bonds.

Neither of the Class A Unwrapped Bonds nor the Class B Unwrapped Bonds (each “Unwrapped Bonds”) will have the benefit of any such Financial Guarantee.

The Bonds have the benefit (to the extent applicable) of an agency agreement (as amended, supplemented and/or restated from time to time, the “Agency Agreement”) dated the Closing Date (to which the Issuer, the Bond Trustee, the Principal Paying Agent and the other Paying Agents (in the case of Bearer Bonds) or the Transfer Agents and the Registrar (in the case of Registered Bonds) are party). As used herein, each of “Principal Paying Agent”, “Paying Agents”, “Agent Bank”, “Transfer Agents” and/or “Registrar” means, in relation to the Bonds, the persons specified in the Agency Agreement as the Principal Paying Agent, Paying Agents, Agent Bank, Transfer Agents and/or Registrar, respectively, and, in each case, any successor to such person in such capacity. The Bonds may also have the benefit (to the extent applicable) of a calculation agency agreement (in the form or substantially in the form of Schedule 1 to the Agency Agreement, the “Calculation Agency Agreement”) between, inter alios, the Issuer and any calculation agent appointed by the Issuer as calculation agent (the “Calculation Agent”).

Copies of, inter alia, the Finance Documents are available for inspection during normal business hours at the specified offices of the Principal Paying Agent (in the case of bearer Bonds) or the specified offices of the Transfer Agents and the Registrar (in the case of registered Bonds), and electronic copies are also available to Bondholders upon request to the Bond Trustee, the Principal Paying Agent, the Transfer Agents and the Registrar (as applicable).

Any reference in these Conditions to a matter being “specified” means as the same may be specified in the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus.

1 Form, Denomination and Title

(a) Form and Denomination

The Bonds are in bearer form (“Bearer Bonds”) or in registered form (“Registered Bonds”) as specified in the applicable Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus and, serially numbered in the Specified Denomination(s) provided that in the case of any Bonds which are to be admitted to trading on a regulated market within the United Kingdom or offered to the public in the United Kingdom or a Member State of the European Economic Area in circumstances which require the publication of a prospectus under the UK Prospectus Regulation, the minimum Specified Denomination shall be €100,000 (or its equivalent in any other currency as at the date of issue of the relevant Bonds). Bonds of one Specified Denomination may not be exchanged for Bonds of another Specified Denomination and Registered Bonds may not be exchanged for Bearer Bonds and vice versa. References in these Conditions to “Bonds” include Bearer Bonds and Registered Bonds and all Sub-Classes, Classes, Tranches and Series.

Interest-bearing Bearer Bonds are issued with Coupons (as defined below) (and, where appropriate, a Talon, (as defined below)) attached. After all the Coupons attached to, or issued in respect of, any Bearer Bond which was issued with a Talon have matured, a coupon sheet comprising further Coupons (other than Coupons which would be void) and (if necessary) one further Talon will be issued against presentation of the relevant Talon at the specified office of any Paying Agent. Any Bearer Bond the principal amount of which is redeemable in instalments may be issued with one or more Receipts (as defined below) (and, where appropriate, a Talon) attached thereto. (b) Title

Title to Bearer Bonds, Coupons, Receipts and Talons (if any) passes by delivery. Title to Registered Bonds passes by registration in the register (the “Register”), which the Issuer shall procure to be kept by the Registrar.

In these Conditions, subject as provided below, each “Bondholder” (in relation to a Bond, Coupon, Receipt or Talon), “holder” and “Holder” means: (i) in relation to a Bearer Bond, the bearer of any Bearer Bond, Coupon, Receipt or Talon (as the case may be); and (ii) in relation to Registered Bond, the person in whose name a Registered Bond is registered, as the case may be. The expressions “Bondholder”, “holder” and “Holder” include the holders of instalment receipts (which, in relation to Class A Bonds will be “Class A Receipts”, in relation to Class B Bonds, “Class B Receipts” and together, the “Receipts”), appertaining to the payment of principal by instalments (if any) attached to such Bonds in bearer form (the “Receiptholders”), the holders of the coupons (which, in relation to Class A Bonds will be “Class A Coupons”, in relation to Class B Bonds, “Class B Coupons” and together, the “Coupons”) (if any) appertaining to interest bearing Bonds in bearer form (the “Couponholders”), and the expression Couponholders or Receiptholders includes the holders of talons in relation to Coupons or Receipts as applicable, (which, in relation to Class A Bonds will be “Class A Talons”, in relation to Class B Bonds, “Class B Talons” and together, the “Talons”) (if any) for further coupons or receipts, as applicable attached to such Bonds (the “Talontholders”).

The bearer of any Bearer Bond, Coupon, Receipt or Talon and the registered holder of any Registered Bond will (except as otherwise required by law) be treated as its absolute owner for all purposes (whether or not it is overdue and regardless of any notice of ownership, trust or any interest in it, any writing on the relevant Bond, or its theft or loss or any express or constructive notice of any claim by any other person of any interest therein other than, in the case of a Registered Bond, a duly executed transfer of such Bond in the form endorsed on the Bond Certificate in respect thereof) and no person will be liable for so treating the holder.

Bonds which are represented by a Global Bond or Registered Global Bond will be transferable only in accordance with the rules and procedures for the time being of Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be. References to Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg shall, whenever the context so permits, be deemed to include a reference to any additional or alternative clearing system specified in the applicable Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus or as may otherwise be approved by the Issuer, the Principal Paying Agent and the Bond Trustee.

(c) Fungible Issues of Bonds comprising a Sub-Class

A Sub-Class of Bonds may comprise a number of issues in addition to the initial Tranche of such Sub-Class, each of which will be issued on identical terms save for the first Interest Payment Date, the Issue Date and the Issue Price. Such further issues of the same Sub-Class will be consolidated and form a Series with the prior issues of that Sub-Class.

2 Exchanges of Bearer Bonds for Registered Bonds and Transfers of Registered Bonds

(a) Exchange of Bonds

Subject to Condition 2(e) (Closed Periods), Bearer Bonds may, if so specified in the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus, be exchanged at the expense of the transferor Bondholder for the same aggregate principal amount of Registered Bonds at the request in writing of the relevant Bondholder and upon surrender of the Bearer Bond to be exchanged together with all unmatured Coupons, Receipts and Talons (if any) relating to it at the specified office of the Registrar or any Transfer Agent or Paying Agent. Where, however, a Bearer Bond is surrendered for exchange after the Record Date (as defined below) for any payment of interest or Interest Amount (as defined below), the Coupon in respect of that payment of interest or Interest Amount need not be surrendered with it.

Registered Bonds may not be exchanged for Bearer Bonds or vice versa.

(b) Transfer of Registered Bonds

A Registered Bond may be transferred upon the surrender of the relevant Definitive Registered Bond, together with the form of transfer endorsed on it duly completed and executed, at the specified office of any Transfer Agent or the Registrar. However, a Registered Bond may not be transferred unless: (i) the principal amount of Registered Bonds proposed to be transferred; and (ii) the principal amount of the Registered Bonds proposed to be the principal amount of the balance of Registered Bonds to be retained by the relevant transferor are, in each case, Specified Denominations (as specified in the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus). In the case of a transfer of part only of a holding of Registered Bonds represented by a Definitive Registered Bond, a new Definitive Registered Bond in respect of the balance not transferred will be issued to the transferor within three business days (in the place of the specified office of the Transfer Agent or the Registrar) of receipt of such form of transfer.

(c) Delivery of New Definitive Registered Bonds

Each new Definitive Registered Bond to be issued upon exchange of Bearer Bonds or transfer of Registered Bonds will, within three business days (in the place of the specified office of the Transfer Agent or the Registrar) of receipt of such request for exchange or form of transfer, be available for delivery at the specified office of the Transfer Agent or the Registrar stipulated in the request for exchange or form of transfer, or be mailed at the risk of the Bondholder entitled to the Definitive Registered Bond to such address as may be specified in such request or form of transfer. For these purposes, a form of transfer or request for exchange received by the Registrar after the Record Date (as defined below) in respect of any payment due in respect of Registered Bonds shall be deemed not to be effectively received by the Registrar until the Business Day (as defined below) following the due date for such payment.

(d) Exchange at the Expense of Transferor Bondholder

Registration of Bonds on exchange or transfer will be effected at the expense of the transferor Bondholder by or on behalf of the Issuer, the Transfer Agent or the Registrar, and upon payment of (or the giving of such indemnity as the Transfer Agent or the Registrar may require in respect of) any tax or other governmental charges which may be imposed in relation to it.

(e) Closed Periods

No transfer of a Registered Bond may be registered, nor any exchange of a Bearer Bond for a Registered Bond may occur: (i) during the period of 15 days ending on the due date for any redemption of, or payment of any Instalment Amount in respect of that Bond; (ii) during the period of 30 days prior to any date on which Bonds may be called for redemption by the Issuer at its option pursuant to Condition 8(b) (Optional Redemption) or Condition 8(c) (Redemption at the Option of the Issuer (Issuer Maturity Call)); (iii) after any such Bond has been called for redemption; or (iv) during the period of seven days ending on (and including) any Record Date.

3 Status of Bonds and Financial Guarantee

(a) Status of Class A Bonds

This Condition 3(a) is applicable only in relation to Bonds which are specified as being a Sub-Class of Class A Bonds.

The Class A Bonds, Class A Coupons, Class A Talons and Class A Receipts (if any) are direct and unconditional obligations of the Issuer, are secured in the manner described in Condition 4 (Security, Priority and Relationship with Secured Creditors) and rank pari passu without any preference among themselves. However, the Class A Unwrapped Bonds will not have the benefit of any Financial Guarantee.

(b) Status of Class B Bonds

This Condition 3(b) is applicable only in relation to Bonds issued by the Issuer which are specified as being a Sub-Class of Class B Bonds.

The Class B Bonds, Class B Coupons, Class B Talons and Class B Receipts (if any) are direct and unconditional obligations of the Issuer, are secured in the manner described in Condition 4 (Security, Priority and Relationship with Secured Creditors), are subordinated to the Class A Bonds, Class A Coupons, Class A Receipts and Class A Talons (if any) and rank pari passu without any preference among themselves. However, the Class B Unwrapped Bonds will not have the benefit of any Financial Guarantee.

(c) Financial Guarantee Issued by Financial Guarantor

This Condition 3(c) is applicable only in relation to Bonds which are specified as being a Sub-Class of Wrapped Bonds.

Each Sub-Class of each Class of Wrapped Bonds issued by the Issuer will have the benefit of a Financial Guarantee issued by a Financial Guarantor, issued pursuant to a guarantee and reimbursement deed between, amongst others, the Issuer and a Financial Guarantor dated on or before the relevant Issue Date (as defined below) of such Bonds (each a “G&R Deed”). Under the relevant Financial Guarantee, the relevant Financial Guarantor unconditionally and irrevocably agrees to pay to the Bond Trustee all sums due and payable but unpaid by the Issuer in respect of scheduled interest and payment of principal (but excluding FG Excepted Amounts) on such Wrapped Bonds, all as more particularly described in the relevant Financial Guarantee.

The terms of the relevant Financial Guarantee provide that amounts of principal on any such Bonds which have become immediately due and payable (whether by virtue of acceleration, prepayment or otherwise) other than on the relevant Payment Date (as defined under the Financial Guarantee) will not be treated as Guaranteed Amounts (as defined in the Financial Guarantee) which are Due for Payment (as defined in the Financial Guarantee) under the Financial Guarantee unless the Financial Guarantor in its sole discretion elects so to do by notice in writing to the Bond Trustee. The Financial Guarantor may elect to accelerate payments due under the Financial Guarantee in full or in part. All payments made by the relevant Financial Guarantor under the relevant Financial Guarantee in respect of partial acceleration shall be applied: (i) to pay the Interest (as defined in the relevant Financial Guarantee) accrued but unpaid on the Principal (as defined in the relevant Financial Guarantee) of such part of the accelerated payment; and (ii) to reduce the Principal (as defined in the relevant Financial Guarantee) (or, in the case of Wrapped Bonds repayable in instalments, each principal repayment instalment on a pro rata basis with a corresponding reduction of each amount of the Interest (as determined in the Financial Guarantee)) outstanding under the relevant Sub-Classes of Wrapped Bonds. If no such election is made, the Financial Guarantor will continue to be liable to make payments in respect of the Bonds pursuant to the relevant Financial Guarantee on the dates on which such payments would have been required to be made if such amounts had not become immediately due and payable.

To the extent that the early redemption price of any Bonds exceeds the aggregate of the Principal Amount Outstanding of any such Bonds and any accrued interest outstanding on any such Bonds to be redeemed (each as adjusted for indexation in accordance with Condition 7 (Application of the Index Ratio), if applicable), payment of such early redemption price will not be guaranteed by the Financial Guarantor under the relevant Financial Guarantee.

(d) Status of Financial Guarantee

This Condition 3(d) is applicable only in relation to Bonds issued by the Issuer which are specified as being a Sub-Class of Wrapped Bonds.

The relevant Financial Guarantee provided by the Financial Guarantor in respect of the Bonds will constitute a direct, unsecured obligation of the Financial Guarantor which will rank at least pari passu with all other unsecured obligations of such Financial Guarantor, save for such obligations as may be preferred by provisions of law that are both mandatory and of general application.

(e) Security Trustee not Responsible for Monitoring Compliance

Subject to certain exceptions, when granting any consent or waiver or exercising any power, trust, authority or discretion relating to or contained in the STID, the other Finance Documents or any Ancillary Documents, the Security Trustee will act in accordance with its sole discretion (where granted such right) or as directed, requested or instructed by or subject to the agreement of the Majority Creditors (provided that the relevant Quorum Requirement has been met) or, in particular cases, other specified parties and in accordance with the provisions of the STID.

The Security Trustee shall not be responsible for monitoring compliance by YWS with any of its obligations under the Finance Documents to which it is a party except by means of receipt from YWS of certificates of compliance which YWS has covenanted to deliver to the Security Trustee pursuant to the provisions of the Common Terms Agreement and which will state among other things, that no Default is outstanding. The Security Trustee shall be entitled to rely on certificates absolutely unless it is instructed otherwise by the Majority Creditors (provided that the relevant Quorum Requirement has been met) in which case it will be bound to act on such instructions in accordance with the STID. The Security Trustee is not responsible for monitoring compliance by any of the parties with their respective obligations under the Finance Documents. The Security Trustee may call for and is at liberty to accept as sufficient evidence a certificate signed by any two Authorised Signatories of any Obligor or any other party to any Finance Document to the effect that any particular dealing, transaction, step or thing is in the opinion of the persons so certifying suitable or expedient or as to any other fact or matter upon which the Security Trustee may require to be satisfied. The Security Trustee is in no way bound to call for further evidence or be responsible for any loss that may be occasioned by acting on any such certificate although the same may contain some error or is not authentic. The Security Trustee is entitled to rely upon any certificate believed by it to be genuine and will not be liable for so acting.

All Bondholders shall (on providing sufficient evidence of identity) be entitled to view a copy of the Periodic Information as and when available to the Security Trustee pursuant to the terms of the Common Terms Agreement and to view a copy of the unaudited interim accounts and audited annual accounts of YWS within 60 days of 30 September and 120 days of 31 March of each year, respectively.

In addition, each Guarantor has covenanted to provide the Security Trustee with certain additional information (as set out in Schedule 5, Part 1 “Information Covenants” of the Common Terms Agreement). Such information may be published on a website designated by the relevant Guarantor and the Security Trustee.

In the event the relevant website cannot be accessed for technical reasons or is non-operational or is infected by an electronic virus or function software for a period of five consecutive days, all such information set out above which would otherwise be available will be delivered to the Security Trustee in paper form for onward delivery to the Bond Trustee and the Agents. Copies of such information will be available for inspection at the specified office of the Agents and the Bond Trustee.

4 Security, Priority and Relationship with Secured Creditors

(a) Guarantee and Security

Under the Security Agreement, Yorkshire Water Services Holdings Limited (“YWH”) unconditionally and irrevocably guarantees the obligations of each other Obligor under the Finance Documents and YWS, YWSF, and the Issuer will unconditionally and irrevocably guarantee the obligations of each other under the Finance Documents, in each case to the Security Trustee for itself and on behalf of the Secured Creditors on the terms set out in the Security Documents (including, without limitation, the Bond Trustee for itself and on behalf of the Bondholders) and secures such obligations upon the whole of its property, undertaking, rights and assets, subject to certain specified exceptions and, in the case of YWS, to the terms of the Instrument of Appointment (as defined below) and any requirements thereunder or the Act (as defined below). There is no intention to create further security for the benefit of the holders of Bonds that may be issued after the Closing Date. All Bonds issued by the Issuer under the Programme and any additional creditor of the Issuer acceding to the STID will share in the security (the “Security”) constituted by the Security Documents.

In these Conditions:

the “Act” means the United Kingdom Water Industry Act 1991 (as amended); and “Instrument of Appointment” means the instrument of appointment dated 1989 as amended under which the Secretary of State for the Environment appointed YWS as a water and sewerage undertaker under the Act for the areas described in the Instrument of Appointment, as modified or amended from time to time.

(b) Relationship among Bondholders and with other Secured Creditors

The Bond Trust Deed contains provisions detailing the Bond Trustee’s obligations to consider the interests of the Bondholders as regards all powers, trusts and authorities, duties and discretions of the Bond Trustee (except where expressly provided or otherwise referred to in Condition 16 (Bond Trustee Protections)).

The STID provides that the Security Trustee (except in relation to Reserved Matters and Entrenched Rights and subject to certain exceptions) will act on instructions of the Majority Creditors (provided that the relevant Quorum Requirement has been met) (including the Bond Trustee as trustee for and representative of the holders of each Sub-Class of Wrapped Bonds (following the occurrence of an FG Event of Default in respect of the Financial Guarantor of such Wrapped Bonds which is continuing) and the holders of each Sub-Class of Unwrapped Bonds) and, when so doing, the Security Trustee is not required to have regard to the interests of any Secured Creditor (including the Bond Trustee as trustee for and representative of the Bondholders or any individual Bondholder) in relation to the exercise of such rights and, consequently, has no liability to the Bondholders as a consequence of so acting.

(c) Enforceable Security

In the event of the Security becoming enforceable as provided in the STID, the Security Trustee shall, if instructed by the Majority Creditors (provided that the relevant Quorum Requirement has been met) or pursuant to a valid Emergency Instruction Notice, enforce its rights with respect to the Security in accordance with the instructions of the Majority Creditors or with such Emergency Instruction Notice, but without any liability as to the consequence of such action and without having regard to the effect thereof on, or being required to account for such action to, any particular Bondholder, provided that the Security Trustee shall not be obliged to take any action unless it is indemnified and/or secured and/or prefunded to its satisfaction.

(d) Application After Enforcement

After enforcement of the Security, the Security Trustee shall (to the extent that such funds are available) use funds standing to the credit of the Accounts (other than the Excluded Accounts) to make payments in accordance with the Payment Priorities (as set out in the Common Terms Agreement).

(e) Bond Trustee and Security Trustee not liable for security

The Bond Trustee and the Security Trustee will not be liable for any failure to make the usual investigations or any investigations which might be made by a security holder in relation to the property which is the subject of the Security, and shall not be bound to enquire into or be liable for any defect or failure in the right or title of the relevant Obligor to the Security, whether such defect or failure was known to the Bond Trustee or the Security Trustee or might have been discovered upon examination or enquiry or whether capable of remedy or not, nor will it have any liability for the enforceability of the Security created under the Security Documents whether as a result of any failure, omission or defect in registering or filing or otherwise protecting or perfecting such Security. The Bond Trustee and the Security Trustee have no responsibility for the value of any such Security.

5 Issuer's Covenants

So long as any of the Bonds remain Outstanding, the Issuer has agreed to comply with the covenants as set out in Schedule 4 (Covenants) of the Common Terms Agreement.

The Bond Trustee shall be entitled to rely absolutely on a certificate of any director of the Issuer in relation to any matter relating to such covenants and to accept without liability any such certificate as sufficient evidence of the relevant fact or matter stated in such certificate.

6 Interest and other Calculations

(a) Interest on Fixed Rate Bonds and Indexed Bonds

This Condition 6(a) is applicable only if the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus specifies the Bonds as Fixed Rate Bonds or Indexed Bonds.

Each Fixed Rate Bond and Indexed Bond bears interest on its Principal Amount Outstanding and, if it is an Indexed Bond, adjusted for indexation in accordance with Condition 7 (Indexation) from (and including) the Interest Commencement Date at the rate(s) per annum equal to the Interest Rate(s). Interest will be payable in arrear on the Interest Payment Date(s) in each year up to (and including) the Maturity Date.

The amount of interest payable in respect of each Fixed Rate Bond and Indexed Bond shall be the amount of interest payable per Calculation Amount multiplied by the Principal Amount Outstanding of such Bond and divided by the Calculation Amount and rounding the resultant figure to the nearest unit of the Relevant Currency in accordance with Condition 6(d) (Rounding).

The amount of interest payable per Calculation Amount in respect of any Fixed Rate Bond and Indexed Bond for any Fixed Interest Period shall be equal to the product of the Interest Rate, the Calculation Amount specified, and the Day Count Fraction for such Fixed Interest Period and rounding the resultant figure to the nearest unit of the Relevant Currency in accordance with Condition 6(d) (Rounding), unless an Interest Amount (or a formula for its calculation) is applicable to such Interest Period, in which case the amount of interest payable per Calculation

Amount in respect of such Bond for such Fixed Interest Period shall equal such Interest Amount (or be calculated in accordance with such formula).

Where any Interest Period comprises two or more Fixed Interest Periods, the amount of interest payable per Calculation Amount in respect of such Interest Period shall be the sum of the Interest Amounts payable in respect of each of those Fixed Interest Periods.

If interest is required to be calculated for a period other than a Fixed Interest Period or if no Fixed Coupon Amount is specified in the applicable Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus, such interest payable per Calculation Amount shall be calculated: (i) in the case of Bonds other than Indexed Bonds, by applying the Interest Rate to the Calculation Amount specified, multiplying such sum by the applicable Day Count Fraction, and rounding the resultant figure to the nearest unit of the Relevant Currency in accordance with Condition 6(d) (Rounding); and (ii) in the case of Indexed Bonds, on an actual/actual basis in line with the method used by the Debt Management Office for the United Kingdom Index-Linked Gilt Edged Market.

(b) Interest on Floating Rate Bonds

This Condition 6(b) is applicable only if the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus specifies the Bonds as Floating Rate Bonds.

(i) Interest Payment Dates

Each Floating Rate Bond bears interest on its Principal Amount Outstanding from (and including) the Interest Commencement Date and such interest will be payable in arrear on either:

- (A) the Specified Interest Payment Date(s) in each year specified in the applicable Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus; or
- (B) if no Specified Interest Payment Date(s) is/are expressly specified in the applicable Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus, each date (each such date, together with each Specified Interest Payment Date, an “Interest Payment Date”) which falls the number of months or other period specified as the Specified Period in the applicable Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus after the preceding Interest Payment Date or, in the case of the first Interest Payment Date, after the Interest Commencement Date.

Such interest will be payable in respect of each Interest Period.

The amount of interest payable in respect of each Floating Rate Bond shall be the amount of interest payable per Calculation Amount multiplied by the Principal Amount Outstanding of such Bond and divided by the Calculation Amount and rounding the resultant figure to the nearest unit of the Relevant Currency in accordance with Condition 6(d) (Rounding).

The amount of interest payable per Calculation Amount shall be determined in accordance with paragraph (iii) below.

(ii) Interest Rate(s)

The Interest Rate(s) payable from time to time in respect of the Floating Rate Bonds will be determined in the manner specified hereon and the provisions below relating to either Screen Rate Determination or ISDA Determination, depending upon which is specified the applicable Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus.

- (A) Save where the Reference Rate specified in the applicable Final Terms is SONIA, where, “Screen Rate Determination” is specified in the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus as the manner in which the Interest Rate(s) is/are to be determined, the Interest Rate applicable to the Bonds for each Interest Period will be determined by the Agent Bank (or the Calculation Agent, if applicable) on the following basis:
- (1) if the Page (as defined below) displays a rate which is a composite quotation or customarily supplied by one entity, the Agent Bank (or the Calculation Agent, if applicable) will determine the Relevant Rate (as defined in Condition 6(1) (Definitions)), being EURIBOR, as specified in the applicable Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus);
 - (2) in any other case, the Agent Bank (or the Calculation Agent, if applicable) will determine the arithmetic mean of the Relevant Rates (as defined in Condition 6(1) (Definitions)), being EURIBOR, as specified in the applicable Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus, which appear on the Page at the Relevant Time (as defined in Condition 6(1) (Definitions)) on the relevant Interest Determination Date;
 - (3) if, in the case of (1) above, such rate does not appear on that Page or, in the case of (2) above, fewer than two such rates appear on that Page or if, in either case, the Page is unavailable:
 - (a) the Issuer (on behalf of the Agent Bank or the Calculation Agent (if applicable) will request the principal Relevant Financial Centre office of each of the Reference Banks (as defined in Condition 6(1) (Definitions)) to provide the Agent Bank (or the Calculation Agent, if applicable) with a quotation of the Relevant Rate at approximately the Relevant Time on the relevant Interest Determination Date to prime banks in the Relevant Financial Centre (as defined in Condition 6(1) (Definitions)) interbank market (or, if appropriate, money market) in an amount that is representative for a single transaction in that market at that time; and
 - (b) the Agent Bank (or the Calculation Agent, if applicable) shall determine the arithmetic mean of such quotations; and
 - (4) if fewer than two such quotations are provided as requested by the Issuer in Condition 6(b)(ii)(A)(3), the Agent Bank (or the Calculation Agent, if applicable) will determine the arithmetic mean of the rates (being the rates nearest to the Relevant Rate as determined by the Agent Bank (or the Calculation Agent, if applicable)) quoted by the Reference Banks at approximately 11.00 a.m. (local time in the Relevant Financial Centre of the Relevant Currency) on the first day of the relevant Interest Period (as defined in Condition 6(1) (Definitions)) for loans in the Relevant Currency to leading banks in (if the Reference Rate is EURIBOR), the Euro-zone inter-bank market, for a period equal to the relevant Interest Period and in the Representative Amount (as defined in Condition 6(1) (Definitions)), and the Interest Rate for such Interest Period shall be the sum of the Margin and the rate or (as the case may be) the arithmetic mean so determined. However, if the Agent Bank is unable to determine a rate or (as the case may be) an arithmetic mean in accordance with the above provisions in relation to any Interest Period, the Interest Rate applicable to the Bonds during such Interest Period will be the sum of the Margin and the rate or (as the case may be) the arithmetic mean last determined in relation to the Bonds in respect of a preceding Interest Period.

- (B) If “ISDA Determination” is specified in the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus as the manner in which the Interest Rate(s) is/are to be determined, the Interest Rate(s) applicable to the Bonds for each Interest Period will be the sum of the Margin and the relevant ISDA Rate where “ISDA Rate” in relation to any Interest Period means a rate equal to the Floating Rate (as defined in the ISDA Definitions) that would be determined by the Agent Bank (or the Calculation Agent, if applicable) under an interest rate swap transaction if the Agent Bank (or the Calculation Agent, if applicable) were acting as calculation agent for that interest rate swap transaction under the terms of an agreement incorporating the ISDA Definitions and under which:
- (1) the Floating Rate Option (as defined in the relevant ISDA Definitions) is as specified in the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus;
 - (2) the Designated Maturity (as defined in the relevant ISDA Definitions) is the Specified Duration (as defined in Condition 6(l) (Definitions));

 - (4) if the specified Floating Rate Option is an Overnight Floating Rate Option (as defined in the relevant ISDA Definitions), Compounding is specified to be applicable in the relevant Final Terms and:
 - (a) Compounding with Lookback is specified as the Compounding Method in the applicable Final Terms, then (a) Compounding with Lookback is the Overnight Rate Compounding Method and (b) Lookback is the number of Applicable Business Days (as defined in the relevant ISDA Definitions) specified in the applicable Final Terms;
 - (b) Compounding with Observation Period Shift is specified as the Compounding Method in the applicable Final Terms, then (a) Compounding with Observation Period Shift is the Overnight Rate Compounding Method, (b) Observation Period Shift is the number of Observation Period Shift Business Days (as defined in the relevant ISDA Definitions) specified in the applicable Final Terms and (c) Observation Period Shift Additional Business Days (as defined in the relevant ISDA Definitions), if applicable, are the days specified in the applicable Final Terms; or is the number of Lockout Period Business Days (as defined in the relevant ISDA Definitions) specified in the Final Terms and (c) Lockout Period Business Days, if applicable, are the days specified in the applicable Final Terms; and

- (5) if the specified Floating Rate Option is an Index Floating Rate Option (as defined in the relevant ISDA Definitions) and Index Provisions are specified to be applicable in the relevant Final Terms, the Compounded Index Method with Observation Period Shift shall be applicable and, (a) Observation Period Shift is the number of Observation Period Shift Business Days (as defined in the relevant ISDA Definitions) specified in the applicable Final Terms and (b) Observation Period Shift Additional Business Days (as defined in the relevant ISDA Definitions) are the days, if applicable, specified in the applicable Final Terms);

 - (b) if the Temporary Non-Publication Fallback for any specified Floating Rate Option is specified to be “Temporary Non-Publication Fallback – Alternative Rate” in the Floating Rate Matrix of the 2021 ISDA Definitions, the reference to “Calculation Agent Alternative Rate Determination” in the definition of “Temporary Non-Publication Fallback – Alternative Rate” shall be replaced by “Temporary Non-Publication Fallback – Previous Day’s Rate”, provided, however, that if the Agent Bank (or Calculation Agent, if applicable) is unable to determine a rate in accordance with the above provisions in relation to any Interest Period, then the Interest Rate applicable to the next succeeding Interest Period shall be equal to the sum of the Margin (if applicable) and the rate last determined in relation to the Bonds in respect of the immediately preceding Interest Period. .

- (C) If “Screen Rate Determination” is specified in the relevant Final Terms as the manner in which the Interest Rate(s) is/are to be determined, and the Reference Rate specified in the applicable Final Terms is SONIA, the Interest Rate applicable to the Bonds for each Interest Period will be either SONIA Compounded Index Rate or SONIA Compounded Daily Reference Rate as provided, however, that, if the SONIA Compounded Index Value is not available in relation to any Interest Period on the Relevant Screen Page for the determination of either or both of SONIA Compounded Index_{START} and SONIA Compounded Index_{END}, the Interest Rate shall be calculated for such Interest Period on the basis of the SONIA Compounded Daily Reference Rate as set out in Condition 6(b)(ii)(C)(2) as if SONIA Compounded Daily Reference Rate with Observation Shift had been specified hereon and the “Relevant Screen Page” shall be deemed to be the “Relevant Fallback Screen Page” as specified hereon,

For the purposes of this Condition 6(b)(ii)(C)(2):

“SONIA Compounded Daily Reference Rate” means, in respect of an Interest Period, the rate of return of a daily compound interest investment during the Observation Period corresponding to such Interest Period (with the daily Sterling overnight reference rate as reference rate for the calculation of interest) and will be calculated by the Calculation Agent on the relevant Interest Determination Date, as follows, and the resulting percentage will be rounded, if necessary, to the fourth decimal place, with 0.00005 being rounded upwards,

- (ii) the London Business Day (being a London Business Day falling in the relevant Observation Period) falling “p” London Business Days prior to the relevant London Business Day “i” where Lag is specified hereon; and the “SONIA reference rate”, in respect of any London Business Day, is a reference rate equal to the daily Sterling Overnight Index Average (“SONIA”) rate for such London Business Day as provided by the administrator of SONIA to authorised distributors and as then published on the Relevant Screen Page on the next following London Business Day or, if the Relevant Screen Page is unavailable, as published by authorised distributors on such London Business Day or, if SONIA cannot be obtained from such authorised distributors, as published on the Bank of England’s Website at www.bankofengland.co.uk/boeapps/database/ (or such other page or website as may replace such page for the purposes of publishing the SONIA reference rate)

- (D) Where SONIA is specified as the Reference Rate hereon and either: (i) SONIA Compounded Daily Reference Rate is specified hereon; or (ii) the SONIA Compounded Index Rate is specified hereon and Condition 6(b)(ii)(C)(2) applies, if, in respect of any London Business Day, the SONIA reference rate is not available on the Relevant Screen Page or Relevant Fallback Screen Page as applicable, (or as otherwise provided in the relevant definition thereof), such Reference Rate shall be:

1. (i) the Bank of England's Bank Rate (the "Bank Rate") prevailing at close of business on the relevant London Business Day; plus (ii) the mean of the spread of the SONIA reference rate to the Bank Rate over the previous five days on which the SONIA reference rate has been published, excluding the highest spread (or, if there is more than one highest spread, one only of those highest spreads) and lowest spread (or, if there is more than one lowest spread, one only of those lowest spreads) to the Bank Rate, or
 2. if such Bank Rate is not available, the SONIA reference rate published on the Relevant Screen Page (or as otherwise provided in the relevant definition thereof) for the first preceding London Business Day on which the SONIA reference rate was published on the Relevant Screen Page (or as otherwise provided in the relevant definition thereof), and in each case, SONIA shall be interpreted accordingly.
- (E) If the Interest Rate cannot be determined in accordance with the foregoing provisions the Interest Rate shall be: (i) that determined as at the last preceding Interest Determination Date (though substituting, where a different Margin or Maximum Interest Rate or Minimum Interest Rate is to be applied to the relevant Interest Period from that which applied to the last preceding Interest Period, the Margin or Maximum Interest Rate or Minimum Interest Rate relating to the relevant Interest Period, in place of the Margin or Maximum Interest Rate or Minimum Interest Rate relating to that last preceding Interest Period); or (ii) if there is no such preceding Interest Determination Date, the initial Interest Rate which would have been applicable to such Series of Bonds for the first Interest Period had the Bonds been in issue for a period equal in duration to the scheduled first Interest Period but ending on (and excluding) the Interest Commencement Date (but applying the Margin and any Maximum Interest Rate or Minimum Interest Rate applicable to the first Interest Period).

If the relevant Series of Bonds become due and payable in accordance with Condition 11 (Event of Default), the final Interest Determination Date shall, notwithstanding any Interest Determination Date specified hereon, be deemed to be the date on which such Bonds became due and payable and the Interest Rate on such Bonds shall, for so long as any such Bond remains outstanding, be that determined on such date.

(iii) Calculations

The amount of interest payable per Calculation Amount in respect of any Floating Rate Bond for each Interest Period shall be calculated by multiplying the product of the Interest Rate and the Calculation Amount specified by the Day Count Fraction (as defined in Condition 6(1)(Definitions)) and rounding the resultant figure to the nearest unit of the Relevant Currency (rounded in accordance with Condition 6(d) (Rounding)).

(c) Minimum Interest Rate and/or Maximum Interest Rate

If any Maximum Interest Rate or Minimum Interest Rate is specified in the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus, then the Interest Rate shall in no event be greater than the maximum or be less than the minimum so specified, as the case may be, provided that the Minimum Interest Rate may not be less than zero. If no Minimum Interest Rate is specified in the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus, then it shall be deemed to be zero.

(d) Rounding

For the purposes of any calculations required pursuant to these Conditions (unless otherwise specified):

- (i) all percentages resulting from such calculations will be rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point (with halves being rounded up);
- (ii) all figures will be rounded to seven significant figures (with halves being rounded up); and
- (iii) all currency amounts which fall due and payable will be rounded to the nearest unit of such currency (with halves being rounded up). For these purposes, “unit” means, with respect to any currency other than euro, the lowest amount of such currency which is available as legal tender in the country of such currency and, with respect to euro, means 0.01 euro.

(e) Business Day Convention

If any date referred to in these Conditions or the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus is specified to be subject to adjustment in accordance with a Business Day convention and: (x) if there is no numerically corresponding day on the calendar month in which such date should occur; or (y) such date would otherwise fall on a day which is not a Business Day (as defined in Condition 6(1) (Definitions)), then if the Business Day Convention specified in the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus is:

- (i) the “Following Business Day Convention”, such date shall be postponed to the next day which is a Business Day;
- (ii) the “Modified Following Business Day Convention”, such date shall be postponed to the next day which is a Business Day unless it would thereby fall into the next calendar month, in which event such date shall be brought forward to the immediately preceding Business Day; or
- (iii) the “Preceding Business Day Convention”, such date shall be brought forward to the immediately preceding Business Day.

(f) Determination and Publication of Interest Rates, Interest Amounts, Redemption Amounts and Instalment Amounts

As soon as practicable after the Relevant Time on each Interest Determination Date or such other time on such date as the Agent Bank (or the Calculation Agent, if applicable) may be required to calculate any Redemption Amount or the amount of an instalment of scheduled principal (an “Instalment Amount”), obtain any quote or make any determination or calculation, the Agent Bank (or the Calculation Agent, if applicable) will determine the Interest Rate and calculate the Interest Amount for the relevant Interest Period (including, for the avoidance of doubt any applicable Index Ratio to be calculated in accordance with Condition 7(b) (Application of the Index Ratio (RPI))), calculate the Redemption Amount or Instalment Amount, obtain such quote or make such determination or calculation, as the case may be, and cause the Interest Rate and the Interest Amounts for each Interest Period and the relevant Interest Payment Date and, if required to be calculated, the Redemption Amount, Principal Amount Outstanding or any Instalment Amount to be notified to, in the case of Bearer Bonds, the Paying Agents or in the case of Registered Bonds, the Registrar, and, in each case, the Bond Trustee, the Issuer, the Bondholders and the London Stock Exchange and each other listing authority, stock exchange and/or quotation system by which the relevant Bonds have then been admitted to listing, trading and/or quotation) as soon as possible after its determination but in no event later than: (i) (in case of notification to the London Stock Exchange and each other listing authority, stock exchange and/or quotation system by which the relevant Bonds have then been admitted to listing, trading and/or quotation) the commencement of the relevant Interest Period, if determined prior to such time, in the case of an Interest Rate and Interest Amount; or (ii) in all other cases, the fourth Business Day after such determination. The Interest Amounts and the Interest Payment Date so published may subsequently be amended (or appropriate alternative arrangements made by way of adjustment) without notice in the event of an extension or shortening of the Interest Period. Any such amendment will be promptly notified to each stock exchange or other relevant authority on which the relevant Sub-Class or Tranche of Bonds are for the time being listed or by which they have been admitted to listing and to the Bondholders in accordance with Condition 17 (Notices). Where any Interest Payment Date or Interest Period Date is subject to adjustment pursuant to Condition 6(b)(ii)(C), the Interest Amounts and the Interest Payment Date so published may subsequently be amended (or appropriate alternative arrangements made with the consent of the Bond Trustee by way of adjustment) without notice in the event of an extension or shortening of the Interest Period. If the Bonds become due and payable under Condition 11 (Events of Default), the accrued interest and the Interest Rate payable in respect of the Bonds shall, subject in the case of each of the SONIA Compounded Index Rate and the SONIA Compounded Daily Reference Rate to Condition 6(b)(ii)(C)(2)(i), nevertheless continue to be calculated as previously provided in accordance with this Condition but no publication of the Interest Rate or the Interest Amount so calculated need be made unless otherwise required by the Bond Trustee.

If the Calculation Amount is less than the minimum Specified Denomination, the Agent Bank (or the Calculation Agent, if applicable) may publish only the Calculation Amount and the Interest Amount in respect of a Bond having the minimum Specified Denomination. The determination of each Interest Rate, Interest Amount, Redemption Amount and Instalment Amount, the obtaining of each quote and the making of each determination or calculation by the Agent Bank (or the Calculation Agent, if applicable) or, as the case may be, the Bond Trustee pursuant to this Condition 6 or Condition 7 (Indexation), shall (in the absence of manifest error) be final and binding upon all parties.

(g) Accrual of Interest

Interest will cease to accrue on each Bond (or, in the case of the redemption of part only of a Bond, that part only of such Bond) on the due date for redemption unless, upon due presentation, payment of principal is improperly withheld or refused, in which event interest will continue to accrue (both before and after judgment) at the Interest Rate in the manner provided in this Condition 6 to the Relevant Date (as defined in Condition 6(l) (Definitions)).

(h) Deferral of interest on Class B Bonds

This Condition 6(h) is applicable only in relation to Bonds issued by the Issuer which are specified as being Class B Bonds.

In the case of interest on Class B Bonds only, if, on any Interest Payment Date prior to the taking of Enforcement Action, there are insufficient funds available to the Issuer (after taking into account any amounts available to be drawn under any DSR Liquidity Facility or from the Debt Service Reserve Accounts) to pay such accrued interest, the Issuer's liability to pay such accrued interest will be treated as not having fallen due and will be deferred until the earliest of: (i) the next following Interest Payment Date on which the Issuer has, in accordance with the cash management provisions of Schedule 11 (Cash Management) of the Common Terms Agreement, sufficient funds available to pay such deferred amounts (including any interest accrued thereon); (ii) the date on which the Class A Debt has been paid in full; and (iii) an Acceleration of Liabilities (other than a Permitted Hedge Termination, a Permitted Lease Termination or a Permitted EIB Compulsory Prepayment Event) and in the case of a Permitted Share Pledge Acceleration only to the extent that there would be sufficient funds available in accordance with the Payment Priorities to pay such deferred interest (including any interest accrued thereon). Interest will accrue on such deferred interest at the rate otherwise payable on unpaid principal of such Class B Bonds.

(i) Agent Bank, Calculation Agent and Reference Banks

The Issuer will procure that there shall at all times be an Agent Bank (and a Calculation Agent, if applicable) and four Reference Banks selected by the Issuer acting through the Agent Bank (or the Calculation Agent, if applicable) with offices in the Relevant Financial Centre if provision is made for them in these Conditions applicable to this Bond and for so long as it is Outstanding. If any Reference Bank (acting through its relevant office) is unable or unwilling to continue to act as a Reference Bank, then the Issuer acting through the Agent Bank (or the Calculation Agent, if applicable) will select another Reference Bank with an office in the Relevant Financial Centre to act as such in its place. If the Agent Bank (or the Calculation Agent, if applicable) is unable or unwilling to act as such or if the Agent Bank (or the Calculation Agent, if applicable) fails duly to establish the Interest Rate for any Interest Period or to calculate the Interest Amounts or any other requirements, the Issuer will appoint (with the prior written consent of the Bond Trustee) a successor to act as such in its place. The Agent Bank may not resign its duties without a successor having been appointed as aforesaid.

(j) Determination or Calculation by Bond Trustee

If the Agent Bank (or the Calculation Agent, if applicable) does not at any time for any reason determine any Interest Rate, Interest Amount, Redemption Amount, Instalment Amount or any other amount to be determined or calculated by it, the Bond Trustee shall (without liability for so doing) determine such Interest Rate, Interest Amount, Redemption Amount, Instalment Amount or other amount as aforesaid at such rate or in such amount as in its absolute discretion (having regard as it shall think fit to the procedures described above, but subject to the terms of the Bond Trust Deed and always subject to any Minimum Interest Rate or Maximum Interest Rate specified in the applicable Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus) it shall deem fair and reasonable in all the circumstances or, subject as aforesaid, apply the foregoing provisions of this Condition, with any consequential amendments, to the extent that, in its sole opinion, it can do so and in all other respects it shall do so in such manner as it shall, in its absolute discretion, deem fair and reasonable in the circumstances, and each such determination or calculation shall be deemed to have been made by the Agent Bank (or the Calculation Agent, if applicable).

(k) Certificates to be final

All certificates, communications, opinions, determinations, calculations, quotations and decisions given, expressed, made or obtained for the purposes of the provisions of Condition 6 (Interest and Other Calculations) whether by the Principal Paying Agent, the Agent Bank (or the Calculation Agent, if applicable) or, if applicable, any calculation agent, shall (in the absence of wilful default, negligence, bad faith or manifest error) be binding on the Issuer, YWS, YWSF, YWH, the Agent Bank, the Bond Trustee, the Principal Paying Agent, the other Agents and all Bondholders, Receipholders and Couponholders and (in the absence as aforesaid) no liability to the Issuer, YWS, YWSF, YWH, the Bond Trustee, the Bondholders, the Receiptholders or the Couponholders shall attach to the Principal Paying Agent, the Agent Bank or, if applicable, any calculation agent in connection with the exercise or non-exercise by it of its powers, duties and discretions pursuant to such provisions.

(c) Changes in Circumstances Affecting the Index (RPI)

(i) Change in base: If at any time and from time to time the Index is changed by the substitution of a new base therefore, then with effect from the calendar month from and including that in which such substitution takes effect (1) the definition of “Index” and “Index Figure” in Condition 7(a) (Definitions (RPI)) shall be deemed to refer to the new date or month in substitution for January 1987 (or, as the case may be, to such other date or month as may have been substituted therefore); and (2) the new Base Index Figure shall be the product of the existing Base Index Figure (being at the Closing Date 178.2) and the Index Figure immediately following such substitution, divided by the Index Figure immediately prior to such substitution.

(d) Application of Changes (RPI)

Where the provisions of Condition 7(c)(ii) (Delay in publication of Index) apply, the determination of the Indexation Adviser as to the Index Figure applicable to the month in which the date for payment falls shall be conclusive and binding. If, an Index Figure having been applied pursuant to Condition 7(c)(ii)(2) (Delay in publication of Index), the Index Figure relating to the relevant month is subsequently published while a Bond is still Outstanding, then:

- (i) in relation to a payment of principal or interest in respect of such Bond other than upon final redemption of such Bond, the principal or interest (as the case may be) next payable after the date of such subsequent publication shall be increased or reduced by an amount equal to (respectively) the shortfall or excess of the amount of the relevant payment made on the basis of the Index Figure applicable by virtue of Condition 7(c)(ii)(2) (Delay in publication of Index), below or above the amount of the relevant payment that would have been due if the Index Figure subsequently published had been published on or before the fourteenth Business Day before the date for payment; and
- (ii) in relation to a payment of principal or interest upon final redemption, no subsequent adjustment to amounts paid will be made.

(e) Cessation of or Fundamental Changes to the Index (RPI)

- (i) If (1) the Issuer has been notified by the Agent Bank (or the Calculation Agent, if applicable) that the Index has ceased to be published; or (2) any change is made to the coverage or the basic calculation of the Index which constitutes a fundamental change which would, in the opinion of the Issuer (following consultation with an Indexation Adviser), be materially prejudicial to the interests of the Bondholders, the Issuer will give written notice of such occurrence to the Bondholders, and the Issuer shall: (i) following consultation with an Indexation Adviser, determine for the purpose of the Bonds one or more adjustments to the Index or a substitute index (with or without adjustments) with the intention that the same should leave the Issuer and the Bondholders in no better and no worse position than they would have been had the Index not ceased to be published or the relevant fundamental change not been made; or (ii) appoint a bank or other person in London (such bank or other person so appointed being referred to as the “Expert”) to determine for the purpose of the Bonds one or more adjustments to the Index or a substitute index (with or without adjustments) with the intention that the same should leave the Issuer and the Bondholders in no better and no worse position than they would have been had the Index not ceased to be published or the relevant fundamental change not been made. Any Expert so appointed shall act as an expert and not as an arbitrator and the determination of such Expert shall be binding on the Bondholders. All fees, costs and expenses of the Expert and the Issuer and the Bond Trustee in connection with such appointment shall be borne by the Issuer.
- (ii) The Index shall be adjusted or replaced by a substitute index as determined by the Issuer or the Expert pursuant to the foregoing paragraphs, as the case may be, and references in these Conditions to the Index and to any Index Figure shall be deemed amended in such manner as the Issuer may determine, and notify to the Bond Trustee and Bondholders, as appropriate to give effect to such adjustment or replacement. Such amendments shall be effective from the date of such notification and binding upon the Issuer, the Financial Guarantor(s), the other Secured Creditors, the Bond Trustee and the Bondholders. Notices to the Bondholders pursuant to this Condition shall be given by the Issuer as promptly as practicable and in accordance with Condition 17 (Notices).

(g) Application of the Index Ratio (CPI and CPIH)

(h) Changes in circumstances affecting the Index (CPI and CPIH)

(i) Changes in Circumstances Affecting the Index: change in base: If at any time and from time to time the Index is changed by the substitution of a new base therefor, then with effect from the month from and including that in which such substitution takes effect or, as the case may be, from the first date from and including that on which such substitution takes effect:

(A) the definition of “Index” and “Index Figure” in Condition 7(f) shall be deemed to refer to the new date, month or year as applicable in substitution for 2015 (or, as the case may be, to such other date, month or year as applicable as may have been substituted therefor); and

(ii) Changes in Circumstances Affecting the Index: delay in publication of the Index: If the Index Figure relating to any month (the “relevant month”) which is required to be taken into account for the purposes of determining the Index Figure for any date (the “relevant figure”) has not been published on or before the 14th business day before the date on which such payment is due (the “date for payment”), the Calculation Agent shall determine a substitute index figure (the “Substitute Index Figure”) as follows:

“Base Figure” means the level of the Index published or announced by the National Office of Statistics (or any successor entity which publishes the Index) in respect of the month which is 12 calendar months prior to the month for which the Substitute Index Figure is determined;

“Latest Figure” means the latest level of the Index published or announced by the National Office of Statistics (or any successor entity which publishes the Index) prior to the month in respect of which the Substitute Index Figure is being calculated; and “Reference Figure” means the level of the Index published or announced by the National Office of Statistics (or any successor entity which publishes the Index) in respect of the month that is 12 calendar months prior to the month referred to in the definition of Latest Figure above.

(iii) Application of Changes: If:

- (A) an Index Figure having been applied pursuant to paragraph (ii) above, the Index Figure relating to the relevant month, is subsequently published while a Bond is still outstanding; or
- (B) within 30 days of publication, the National Office of Statistics (or any successor entity which publishes the Index) corrects the level of the Index to remedy a manifest error in its original publication,

then:

- (a) in relation to a payment of principal or interest in respect of such Bond other than upon final redemption of such Bond, the principal or interest (as the case may be) next payable after the date of such subsequent publication shall be increased or reduced, as the case may be, by an amount equal to the shortfall or excess, as the case may be, of the amount of the relevant payment made on the basis of the Substitute Index Figure applicable by virtue of paragraph (ii) above or the Index Figure as originally published, as applicable, above the amount of the relevant payment that would have been due if the Index Figure subsequently published had been published on or before the 14th business day before the date for payment; and
- (b) in relation to a payment of principal or interest upon final redemption, no subsequent adjustment to amounts paid will be made.

(iv)

(A) If:

- (1) the Issuer has been notified by the Calculation Agent that the Index has ceased to be published; or
- (2) any change is made to the coverage or the basic calculation of the Index which constitutes a fundamental change which would, in the opinion of the Issuer (following consultation with an Indexation Adviser), be materially prejudicial to the interests of the Bondholders, the Issuer will give written notice of such occurrence to the Bondholders, and the Issuer shall: (i) following consultation with an Indexation Adviser, determine for the purpose of the Bonds one or more adjustments to the Index or a substitute index (with or without adjustments) with the intention that the same should leave the Issuer and the Bondholders in no better and no worse position than they would have been had the Index not ceased to be published or the relevant fundamental change not been made; or (ii) appoint a bank or other person in London (such bank or other person so appointed being referred to as the “Expert”) to determine for the purpose of the Bonds one or more adjustments to the Index or a substitute index (with or without adjustments) with the intention that the same should leave the Issuer and the Bondholders in no better and no worse position than they would have been had the Index not ceased to be published or the relevant fundamental change not been made. Any Expert so appointed shall act as an expert and not as an arbitrator and the determination of such Expert shall be binding on the Bondholders. All fees, costs and expenses of the Expert, the Issuer and the Bond Trustee in connection with such appointment shall be borne by the Issuer.

- (B) The Index shall be adjusted or replaced by a substitute index as determined by the Issuer or the Expert pursuant to the foregoing paragraphs, as the case may be, and references in these Conditions to the Index and to any Index Figure shall be deemed amended in such manner as the Issuer may determine, and notify to the Bond Trustee and Bondholders, as appropriate to give effect to such adjustment or replacement. Such amendments shall be effective from the date of such notification and binding upon the Issuer and the other Obligor, the Bond Trustee, the Financial Guarantors, the other Secured Creditors and the Bondholders. Notices to the Bondholders pursuant to this Condition shall be given by the Issuer as promptly as practicable and in accordance with Condition 17 (Notices).

(a) Partial and Final Redemption

Unless previously redeemed, or purchased and cancelled as provided below, or unless such Bond is stated in the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus as having no fixed Maturity Date, each Bond will be redeemed at its Principal Amount Outstanding (in the case of Indexed Bonds as adjusted in accordance with Condition 7(b) (Application of the Index Ratio (RPI))), on the date or dates (or, in the case of Floating Rate Bonds, on the Interest Payment Date(s)) specified in the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus plus accrued but unpaid interest and, in the case of Indexed Bonds as adjusted in accordance with Condition 7(b) (Application of the Index Ratio (RPI)).

In the case of principal on Class B Bonds only, if on any date, prior to the taking of Enforcement Action, on which such Bond is to be redeemed (in whole or in part) there are insufficient funds available to the Issuer to pay such principal, the Issuer’s liability to pay such principal will be treated as not having fallen due and will be deferred until the earliest of: (i) the next following Interest Payment Date on which the Issuer has, in accordance with the cash management provisions of Schedule 11 (Cash Management) of the Common Terms Agreement, sufficient funds to pay such deferred amounts (including any interest accrued thereon); (ii) the date on which all Class A Debt has been paid in full; and (iii) an Acceleration of Liabilities (other than a Permitted Hedge Termination, a Permitted Lease Termination or a Permitted EIB Compulsory Prepayment Event) and in the case of a Permitted Share Pledge Acceleration only to the extent that there would be sufficient funds available in accordance with the Payment Priorities to pay such deferred principal (including any accrued interest thereon). Interest will accrue on such deferred principal at the rate otherwise payable on unpaid principal of such Class B Bonds.

(b) Optional Redemption

Subject as provided below, upon giving not more than 60 nor less than 30 days' notice to the Bond Trustee, the Security Trustee and the Bondholders, the Issuer may (prior to the Maturity Date) redeem any Sub-Class of the Bonds in whole or in part (but on a pro rata basis only) on any Interest Payment Date at their Redemption Amount, provided that (i) Floating Rate Bonds may not be redeemed before the date specified in the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus; and (ii) if the term "Issuer Maturity Call" is also specified to be applicable in the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus, such redemption date falls prior to the start of the Issuer Maturity Call Period, as follows:

- (i) In respect of Fixed Rate Bonds, the Redemption Amount will, unless otherwise specified in the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus, be an amount equal to the higher of:
 - (A) their Principal Amount Outstanding; and
 - (B) the price determined to be appropriate by a financial adviser in London (selected by the Issuer and approved by the Bond Trustee) as being the price at which the Gross Redemption Yield (as defined below) on such Bonds on the Reference Date (as defined below) is equal to the Gross Redemption Yield at 3:00 p.m. (London time) on the Reference Date on the Reference Gilt (as defined below) while that stock is in issue, and thereafter such Government stock (or such other stock as specified in the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus for Bonds denominated in currencies other than Sterling) as the Issuer may, with the advice of three persons operating in the gilt-edged market (selected by the Issuer and approved by the Bond Trustee) determine to be appropriate plus the Redemption Margin, in each case, together with accrued but unpaid interest on the Principal Amount Outstanding.

For the purposes of this Condition 8(b)(i), "Gross Redemption Yield" means a yield expressed as a percentage and calculated on a basis consistent with the basis indicated by the United Kingdom Debt Management Office publication "Formulae for Calculating Gilt Prices from Yields" published 8 June 1998 with effect from 1 November 1998 and updated on 16 March 2005 (and as further updated, supplemented, amended or replaced from time to time), pages 7 to 11 in respect of Indexed Bonds where "8 month lag" is specified in the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus or pages 12 to 13 in respect of Indexed Bonds where "3 month lag" is specified in the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus or any replacements therefore; "Reference Date" means the date which is two Business Days prior to the despatch of the notice of redemption under this Condition 8(b)(i); "Reference Gilt" means the Treasury Stock specified in the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus; and "Redemption Margin" means the margin specified in the relevant Final Terms, if any.

- (ii) In respect of Floating Rate Bonds, the Redemption Amount will, unless otherwise specified in the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus, be the Principal Amount Outstanding plus any premium for early redemption in certain years (as specified in the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus) plus any accrued but unpaid interest on the Principal Amount Outstanding.
- (iii) In respect of Indexed Bonds, the Redemption Amount will (unless otherwise specified in the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus) be the higher of:

- (A) the Principal Amount Outstanding; and
- (B) the price determined to be appropriate (without any additional indexation beyond the implicit indexation in such determined price) by a financial adviser in London (selected by the Issuer) as being the price at which the Gross Real Redemption Yield (as defined below) on the Bonds on the Reference Date (as defined below) is equal to:
 - (1) (in the case of RPI being the applicable Index or Index Figure) the sum of:
 - (a) the Gross Real Redemption Yield at 3:00 p.m. (London time) on the Reference Date on the Reference Gilt while that stock is in issue, and thereafter such Government stock as the Issuer may, with the advice of three persons operating in the gilt-edged market, (selected by the Issuer), determine to be appropriate; and
 - (b) the Redemption Margin, in each case, plus accrued but unpaid interest (as adjusted in accordance with Condition 7(b) (Application of the Index Ratio (RPI))) on the Principal Amount Outstanding; and

 - (2) (in the case of CPI or CPIH being the applicable Index or Index Figure) the sum of:
 - (a) if a Reference Gilt is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the Gross Redemption Yield at 3.00 p.m. (London time) on the Reference Date on the Reference Gilt (as defined below) while that stock is in issue, and thereafter such United Kingdom Government stock as the Issuer may, with the advice of three persons operating in the gilt-edged market (selected by the Issuer), determine to be appropriate; and
 - (b) the Redemption Margin.

For the purposes of this Condition 8(b)(iii):

- (A) “Gross Real Redemption Yield” means a yield expressed as a percentage and calculated on a basis consistent with the basis indicated by the United Kingdom Debt Management Office publication “Formulae for Calculating Gilt Prices from Yields” published 8 June 1998 with effect from 1 November 1998 and updated on 16 March 2006, (and as further updated, supplemented, amended or replaced from time to time) (provided that, for the purpose of calculating the Gross Redemption Yield on Index Linked Bonds in respect of which CPI or CPIH is specified as the applicable Index, any references to RPI (or the UK Retail Price Index) therein shall be read and construed as references to CPI or CPIH (as applicable) if CPI or CPIH is not covered by such publication), pages 7 to 11 in respect of Indexed Bonds where “8 months lag” is specified in the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus or pages 12 to 13 in respect of Indexed Bonds where “3 months lag” is specified in the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus or any replacements therefore; and
- (B) “Redemption Margin” means the margin specified in the Final Terms, if any;

- (C) “Reference Date” means the date which is two Business Days prior to the despatch of the notice of redemption under Condition 8(b)(iii); and
- (D) “Reference Gilt” means the Treasury Stock specified in the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus.

In any such case, prior to giving any such notice, the Issuer must certify (as further specified in the Finance Documents) to the Bond Trustee that it will have the funds, not subject to any interest (other than under the Security) of any other person, required to redeem the Bonds as aforesaid.

(c) Redemption at the Option of the Issuer (Issuer Maturity Call)

If the term “Issuer Maturity Call” is specified in the applicable Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus, upon giving not more than 30 nor less than 15 days’ notice (or such other notice period as may be specified in the applicable Final Terms) to the Bond Trustee, the Security Trustee and the Bondholders, the Issuer may (prior to the Maturity Date), redeem any Sub-Class of the Bonds in whole or in part (but on a pro rata basis only) then outstanding at any time during the Issuer Maturity Call Period at the Final Redemption Amount specified in the applicable Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus, together (if applicable) with interest accrued (but unpaid) to (but excluding) the date fixed for redemption.

For the purposes of these Conditions, “Issuer Maturity Call Period” has the meaning given to it in the applicable Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus.

(d) Redemption for Index Event, Taxation or Other Reasons

Redemption for Index Events: Upon the occurrence of any Index Event (as defined below), the Issuer may, upon giving not more than 60 nor less than 30 days’ notice to the Bond Trustee, the Security Trustee and the holders of the Indexed Bonds in accordance with Condition 17 (Notices), redeem all (but not some only) of the Indexed Bonds of all Sub-Classes referable to the Index the subject of the Index Event which are linked to the relevant index on any Interest Payment Date at the Principal Amount Outstanding (adjusted in accordance with Condition 7(b) (Application of Index Ratio (RPI))) plus accrued but unpaid interest. No single Sub-Class of Indexed Bonds may be redeemed in these circumstances unless all the other Classes and Sub-Classes of Indexed Bonds referable to the Index the subject of the Index Event are also redeemed at the same time and the Issuer has discharged all amounts due and payable to any Financial Guarantor that has issued a Financial Guarantee in respect of such Class or Sub-Class of Indexed Bonds. Before giving any such notice, the Issuer shall provide to the Bond Trustee, the Security Trustee, the Majority Creditors and the relevant Financial Guarantor(s) a certificate signed by an Authorised Signatory: (a) stating that the Issuer is entitled to effect such redemption and setting forth a statement of facts showing that the conditions precedent to the right of the Issuer so to redeem have occurred; and (b) confirming that the Issuer will have sufficient funds on such Interest Payment Date to effect such redemption and payment to the relevant Financial Guarantor(s).

“Index Event” means:

- (i) if RPI is specified as the Index or Index Figure in the applicable Final Terms,
 - (A) the Index Figure for three consecutive months fails to be determined on the basis of an Index Figure previously published as provided in Condition 7(c)(ii) (Delay in publication of Index) and the Bond Trustee has been notified by the Principal Paying Agent that publication of the Index has ceased; or

- (B) notice is published by His Majesty's Treasury, or on its behalf, following a change in relation to the Index, offering a right of redemption to the holders of the Reference Gilt, and (in either case) no amendment or substitution of the Index has been advised by the Indexation Adviser to the Issuer and such circumstances are continuing.
- (ii) if CPI or CPIH is specified as the Index or Index Figure in the applicable Final Terms, the Index Figure fails to be determined for three consecutive months other than on the basis provided in Condition 7(h)(ii) (Changes in Circumstances Affecting the Index: delay in publication of the Index) and the Bond Trustee has been notified by the Calculation Agent that publication of the Index has ceased.

Redemption for Taxation Reasons: In addition, if at any time the Issuer satisfies the Bond Trustee that the Issuer would, on the next Interest Payment Date, become obliged to deduct or withhold from any payment of interest or principal in respect of the Bonds (other than in respect of default interest), any amount for or on account of any present or future taxes, duties, assessments or governmental charges of whatever nature imposed, levied, collected, withheld or assessed by the United Kingdom or, if the Issuer is substituted for a company incorporated under or tax resident in another jurisdiction as permitted in accordance with these Conditions, such other jurisdiction or, in each case, any political subdivision thereof, or any other authority thereof, then the Issuer may, in order to avoid the relevant deductions or withholding, use its reasonable endeavours to arrange the substitution of a company incorporated under another jurisdiction approved by the Bond Trustee as principal debtor under the Bonds and as lender under the Issuer/YWS Loan Agreements and as obligor under the Finance Documents upon satisfying the conditions for substitution of the Issuer as set out in the STID (and referred to in Condition 15 (Meetings of Bondholders, Modification, Waiver and Substitution)). If the Issuer is unable to arrange a substitution as described above having used reasonable endeavours to do so and, as a result, the relevant deduction or withholding is continuing then the Issuer may (but will not be obliged to), upon giving not more than 60 nor less than 30 days' notice to the Bond Trustee, the Security Trustee and the Bondholders in accordance with Condition 17 (Notices), redeem all (but not some only) of the Bonds on any Interest Payment Date at their Principal Amount Outstanding plus accrued but unpaid interest thereon (each adjusted, in the case of Indexed Bonds, in accordance with Condition 7(b) (Application of the Index Ratio (RPI))). Before giving any such notice of redemption, the Issuer shall provide to the Bond Trustee, and the Security Trustee and the relevant Financial Guarantors a certificate signed by an Authorised Signatory: (a) stating that the Issuer is entitled to effect such redemption and setting forth a statement of facts showing that the conditions precedent to the right of the Issuer so to redeem have occurred; and (b) confirming that the Issuer will have sufficient funds on such Interest Payment Date to discharge all its liabilities in respect of the Bonds and any amounts under the Security Agreement to be paid in priority to, or pari passu with, the Bonds under the Payment Priorities.

(e) Redemption on Prepayment of Issuer/YWS Loan Agreements

This Condition 8(e) is applicable to Bonds issued by the Issuer only.

If YWS gives notice to the Issuer under an Issuer/YWS Loan Agreement that it intends to prepay all or part of any advance made under such Issuer/YWS Loan Agreement and such advance was funded by the Issuer from the proceeds of the issue of a Sub-Class of Bonds, the Issuer shall, upon giving not more than 60 nor less than 30 days' notice to the Bond Trustee, the Security Trustee, the relevant Financial Guarantors (if any) and the Bondholders in accordance with Condition 17 (Notices), (where such advance is being prepaid in whole) redeem all of the Bonds of that Sub-Class or (where part only of such advance is being prepaid) the proportion of the relevant Sub-Class of Bonds which the proposed prepayment amount bears to the amount of the relevant advance. In the case of a voluntary prepayment, the relevant Bonds will be redeemed at their Redemption Amount determined in accordance with Condition 8(b) (Optional Redemption) except that, in the case of Fixed Rate Bonds and Indexed Bonds, for the purposes of this Condition 8(e), “Reference Date” means the date two Business Days prior to the despatch of the notice of redemption given under this Condition 8(e), plus accrued but unpaid interest and, in the case of any other prepayment, the relevant Bonds will be redeemed at their Principal Amount Outstanding plus accrued but unpaid interest.

(f) Purchase of Bonds

The Issuer may, provided that no Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, purchase Bonds (provided that all unmatured Receipts and Coupons and unexchanged Talons (if any) appertaining thereto are attached or surrendered therewith) in the open market or otherwise at any price. Any purchase by tender shall be made available to all Bondholders alike.

If not all the Bonds which are in registered form are to be purchased, upon surrender of the existing Definitive Registered Bond, the Registrar shall forthwith upon the written request of the Bondholder concerned issue a new Definitive Registered Bond in respect of the Bonds which are not to be purchased and despatch such Definitive Registered Bond to the Bondholder (at the risk of the Bondholder and to such address as the Bondholder may specify in such request).

While the Bonds are represented by a Global Bond or Registered Global Bond (as defined below), the relevant Global Bond or Registered Global Bond will be endorsed to reflect the Principal Amount Outstanding of Bonds to be so redeemed or purchased.

(g) Redemption by Instalments

Unless previously redeemed, purchased and cancelled as provided in this Condition 8, each Bond which provides for Instalment Dates (as specified in the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus) and Instalment Amounts (as specified in the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus) will be partially redeemed on each Instalment Date at the Instalment Amount.

(h) Cancellation

In respect of all Bonds purchased by or on behalf of the Issuer, the Bearer Bonds or the Registered Bonds shall be surrendered to or to the order of the Principal Paying Agent or the Registrar, as the case may be, for cancellation and, if so surrendered, will, together with all Bonds redeemed by the Issuer, be cancelled forthwith (together with, in the case of Bearer Bonds, all unmatured Receipts and Coupons and unexchanged Talons attached thereto or surrendered therewith). Any Bonds so surrendered for cancellation may not be reissued or resold and the obligations of the Issuer in respect of any such Bonds shall be discharged.

(i) Instalments

Instalment Bonds will be redeemed in the Instalment Amounts and on the Instalment Dates. In the case of early redemption, the Redemption Amount will be determined pursuant to Condition 8(b) (Optional Redemption) above.

9 Payments

(a) Bearer Bonds

Payments to the Bondholders of principal (or, as the case may be, Redemption Amounts or other amounts payable on redemption) and interest (or, as the case may be, Interest Amounts) in respect of Bearer Bonds will, subject as mentioned below, be made against presentation and surrender of the relevant Receipts (in the case of payment of Instalment Amounts other than on the due date for final redemption and provided that the Receipt is presented for payment together with its relative Bond), Bonds (in the case of all other payments of principal and, in the case of interest, as specified in Condition 9(f) (Unmatured Coupons and Receipts and Unexchanged Talons)) or Coupons (in the case of interest, save as specified in Condition 9(f) (Unmatured Coupons and Receipts and Unexchanged Talons)), as the case may be, at the specified office of any Paying Agent outside the United States of America by transfer to an account denominated in the currency in which such payment is due with, or (in the case of Bonds in definitive form only) a cheque payable in that currency drawn on, a bank in: (i) the principal financial centre of that currency provided that such currency is not euro; or (ii) the principal financial centre of any Participating Member State if that currency is euro.

(b) Registered Bonds

Payments of principal (or, as the case may be, Redemption Amounts) in respect of Registered Bonds will be made to the holder (or the first named of joint holders) of such Bond against presentation and surrender of the relevant Registered Bond at the specified office of the Registrar and in the manner provided in Condition 9(a) (Bearer Bonds).

Payments of instalments in respect of Registered Bonds will be made to the holder (or the first named of joint holders) of such Bond against presentation of the relevant Registered Bond at the specified office of the Registrar in the manner provided in Condition 9(a) (Bearer Bonds) above and annotation of such payment on the Register and the relevant Bond Certificate.

Interest (or, as the case may be, Interest Amounts) on Registered Bonds payable on any Interest Payment Date will be paid to the holder (or the first named of joint holders) on the fifteenth day before the due date for payment thereof (the “Record Date”). Payment of interest or Interest Amounts on each Registered Bond will be made in the currency in which such payment is due by cheque drawn on a bank in: (a) the principal financial centre of the country of the currency concerned, provided that such currency is not euro; or (b) the principal financial centre of any Participating Member State if that currency is euro and mailed to the holder (or to the first named of joint holders) of such Bond at its address appearing in the Register. Upon application by the Bondholder to the specified office of the Registrar before the relevant Record Date, such payment of interest may be made by transfer to an account in the relevant currency maintained by the payee with a bank in: (a) the principal financial centre of the country of that currency provided that such currency is not euro; or (b) the principal financial centre of any Participating Member State if that currency is euro.

A record of each payment so made will be endorsed on the schedule to the Global Bond or the Registered Global Bond by or on behalf of the Principal Paying Agent or the Registrar, as the case may be, which endorsement shall be prima facie evidence that such payment has been made.

(c) Payments in the United States of America

Notwithstanding the foregoing, if any Bearer Bonds are denominated in U.S. dollars, payments in respect thereof may be made at the specified office of any Paying Agent in New York City in the same manner as aforesaid if:

- (i) the Issuer has appointed Paying Agents with specified offices outside the United States of America with the reasonable expectation that such Paying Agents would be able to make payment of the amounts on the Bonds in the manner provided above when due;
- (ii) payment in full of such amounts at all such offices is illegal or effectively precluded by exchange controls or other similar restrictions on payment or receipt of such amounts; and
- (iii) such payment is then permitted by the law of the United States of America, without involving, in the opinion of the Issuer, adverse tax consequences to the Issuer.

(d) Payments subject to fiscal laws; payments on Global Bonds and Registered Bonds

Save as provided in Condition 10 (Taxation), payments will be subject in all cases to any other applicable fiscal or other laws, regulations and directives in the place of payment or other laws and regulations to which the Issuer, the Guarantors or their respective Agents agree to be subject and neither the Issuer nor the Guarantors will be liable for any taxes or duties of whatever nature imposed or levied by such laws, regulations, directives or agreements. No commission or expenses shall be charged to the Bondholders or Couponholders in respect of such payments.

The holder of a Global Bond or Registered Global Bond shall be the only person entitled to receive payments of principal (or Redemption Amounts) and interest (or Interest Amounts) on the Global Bond or Registered Global Bond (as the case may be) and the Issuer will be discharged by payment to, or to the order of, the holder of such Global Bond or Registered Global Bond in respect of each amount paid.

(e) Appointment of the Agents

The Paying Agents, the Agent Bank, the Transfer Agents and the Registrar (the “Agents”) appointed by the Issuer (and their respective specified offices) are listed in the Agency Agreement. Any Calculation Agent will be listed in the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus and will be appointed pursuant to a Calculation Agency Agreement. The Agents act solely as agents of the Issuer and do not assume any obligation or relationship of agency or trust for or with any holder. The Issuer reserves the right, with the prior written consent of the Bond Trustee at any time to vary or terminate the appointment of any Agent, and to appoint additional or other Agents, provided that the Issuer will at all times maintain: (i) a Principal Paying Agent (in the case of Bearer Bonds); (ii) a Registrar (in the case of Registered Bonds); (iii) an Agent Bank or Calculation Agent (as specified in the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus) (in the case of Floating Rate Bonds or Indexed Bonds); and (iv) if and for so long as the Bonds are admitted to listing, trading and/or quotation by any listing authority, stock exchange and/or quotation system which requires the appointment of a Paying Agent, Transfer Agent or Registrar in any particular place, a Paying Agent, Transfer Agent and/or Registrar, as applicable, having its specified office in the place required by such listing authority, stock exchange and/or quotation system. Notice of any such variation, termination or appointment will be given in accordance with Condition 17 (Notices).

(f) Unmatured Coupons and Receipts and Unexchanged Talons

- (i) Subject to the provisions of the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus, upon the due date for redemption of any Bond which is a Bearer Bond (other than a Fixed Rate Bond, unless it has all unmaturing Coupons attached), unmaturing Coupons and Receipts relating to such Bond (whether or not attached) shall become void and no payment shall be made in respect of them.
- (ii) Upon the date for redemption of any Bond, any unmaturing Talon relating to such Bond (whether or not attached) shall become void and no Coupon shall be delivered in respect of such Talon.
- (iii) Upon the due date for redemption of any Bond which is redeemable in instalments, all Receipts relating to such Bond having an Instalment Date falling on or after such due date (whether or not attached) shall become void and no payment shall be made in respect of them.
- (iv) Where any Bond, which is a Bearer Bond and is a Fixed Rate Bond, is presented for redemption without all unmaturing Coupons and any unexchanged Talon relating to it, a sum equal to the aggregate amount of the missing unmaturing Coupons will be deducted from the amount of principal due for payment and, redemption shall be made only against the provision of such indemnity as the Issuer may require.
- (v) If the due date for redemption of any Bond is not an Interest Payment Date, interest accrued from the preceding Interest Payment Date or the Interest Commencement Date, as the case may be, or the Interest Amount payable on such date for redemption shall only be payable against presentation (and surrender if appropriate) of the relevant Bond and Coupon.

(g) Non-Business Days

Subject as provided in the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus, if any date for payment in respect of any Bond, Receipt or Coupon is not a business day, the holder shall not be entitled to payment until the next following business day nor to any interest or other sum in respect of such postponed payment. In this paragraph, “business day” means a day (other than a Saturday or a Sunday) on which banks are open for presentation and payment of debt securities and for dealings in foreign currency in London and in the relevant place of presentation and in the other cities referred to in the definition of Business Days and specified as “Relevant Financial Centres” in the relevant Final Terms and (in the case of a payment in a currency other than euro), where payment is to be made by transfer to an account maintained with a bank in the relevant currency, on which dealings may be carried on in the relevant currency in the principal financial centre of the country of such currency and, in relation to any sum payable in euro, a day on which T2 is open for the settlement of payments in euro.

(h) Talons

On or after the Interest Payment Date for the final Coupon forming part of a coupon sheet issued in respect of any Bond, the Talon forming part of such coupon sheet may be surrendered at the specified office of any Paying Agent in exchange for a further coupon sheet (and if necessary another Talon for a further coupon sheet) (but excluding any Coupons which may have become void pursuant to Condition 13 (Prescription)).

10 Taxation

All payments in respect of the Bonds, Receipts or Coupons will be made (whether by the Issuer, the Guarantors, any Paying Agent, the Registrar, the Bond Trustee, the Security Trustee or, in respect of Wrapped Bonds, the Financial Guarantors) free and clear of, and without withholding or deduction for, or on account of, any present or future taxes, duties, assessments or charges of whatsoever nature unless the Issuer, the Guarantors, any Paying Agent or the Registrar or, where applicable, the Bond Trustee, the Security Trustee or the Financial Guarantor is required by applicable law to make any payment in respect of the Bonds, Receipts or Coupons subject to any withholding or deduction for, or on account of, any present or future taxes, duties or charges of whatsoever nature. In that event, the Issuer, the Guarantors, such Paying Agent, the Registrar, the Bond Trustee, the Security Trustee or the Financial Guarantor, as the case may be, shall make such payment after such withholding or deduction has been made and shall account to the relevant authorities for the amount so required to be withheld or deducted. None of the Issuer, the Guarantors, any Paying Agent, the Registrar, the Bond Trustee, the Security Trustee or the Financial Guarantor will be obliged to make any additional payments to the Bondholders, Receiptholders or the Couponholders in respect of such withholding or deduction. The Issuer, the Guarantors, any Paying Agent, the Registrar, the Bond Trustee, the Security Trustee or the Financial Guarantor may require holders to provide such certifications and other documents as required by applicable law in order to qualify for exemptions from applicable tax laws.

If the Issuer is obliged to make any such deduction or withholding, the amount so deducted or withheld is not guaranteed by the Financial Guarantor.

11 Events of Default

The Events of Default (as defined in the Master Definitions Agreement) relating to the Bonds are set out in Schedule 6 (Events of Default) of the Common Terms Agreement.

Following the notification of an Event of Default, the STID provides for a Standstill Period (as defined in the Master Definitions Agreement) to commence and for restrictions to apply to all Secured Creditors of the Obligors. The Common Terms Agreement also contains various Trigger Events that will, if they occur, (among other things) permit the Majority Creditors (provided that the relevant Quorum Requirement has been met) to commission an Independent Review, require YWS to discuss its plans for appropriate remedial action and prevent the YW Financing Group from making further Restricted Payments until the relevant Trigger Events have been remedied.

(a) Events of Default

If any Event of Default occurs and is continuing, subject always to the terms of the STID, the Bond Trustee may at any time (in accordance with the provisions of the Bond Trust Deed and the STID), having certified in writing that, in its opinion, the occurrence of such event is materially prejudicial to the interests of the Bondholders and shall upon the Bond Trustee being so directed or requested: (i) by an Extraordinary Resolution (as defined in the Bond Trust Deed) of holders of the relevant Sub-Classes of Class A Bonds or, if there are no Class A Bonds outstanding, the Class B Bonds; or (ii) in writing by holders of at least one quarter in outstanding nominal amount of the relevant Sub-Class of Class A Bonds, or if there are no Class A Bonds outstanding, the Class B Bonds and subject, in each case, to being indemnified and/or secured and/or prefunded to its satisfaction, give notice to the Issuer and the Security Trustee that the Bonds of the relevant Sub-Class are, and they shall immediately become, due and repayable, at their respective Redemption Amounts determined in accordance with Condition 8(b) (Optional Redemption) (except that, in the case of Fixed Rate Bonds and Indexed Bonds for the purposes of this Condition 11(a), the “Reference Date” means the date two Business Days prior to the despatch of the notice of redemption given under this Condition 11(a)) or as specified in the applicable Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus.

(b) Confirmation of no Event of Default

The Issuer, pursuant to the terms of the Common Terms Agreement, shall provide written confirmation to the Bond Trustee, on a semi-annual basis, that no Event of Default has occurred.

(c) Enforcement of Security

If the Bond Trustee gives written notice to the Issuer and the Security Trustee that an Event of Default has occurred under the Bonds of any Sub-Class, a Standstill Period shall commence. The Security Trustee may only enforce the Security acting in accordance with the STID and, subject to certain limitations on enforcement during a Standstill Period, on the instructions of the Majority Creditors (provided that the relevant Quorum Requirement has been met) or pursuant to a valid Emergency Instruction Notice, in each case, pursuant to the STID.

(d) Automatic Acceleration

In the event of the acceleration of the Secured Liabilities (other than a Permitted Share Pledge Acceleration, a Permitted Hedge Termination, a Permitted Lease Termination or a Permitted EIB Compulsory Prepayment Event as set out in the STID), the Bonds of each Series shall automatically become due and repayable at their respective Redemption Amounts determined in accordance with Condition 8(b) (Optional Redemption) (except that, in the case of Fixed Rate Bonds and Indexed Bonds for the purposes of this Condition 11(d), “Reference Date” means the date two Business Days prior to the date of such acceleration) or as specified in the applicable Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus plus, in each case, accrued and unpaid interest thereon.

12 Enforcement Against Issuer

No Bondholder is entitled to take any action against the Issuer or, in the case of the holders of Wrapped Bonds, against the Financial Guarantor or against any assets of the Issuer or any Financial Guarantor to enforce its rights in respect of the Bonds or to enforce any of the Security or to enforce any Financial Guarantee unless the Bond Trustee or the Security Trustee (as applicable), having become bound so to proceed, fails or neglects to do so within a reasonable period and such failure or neglect is continuing. The Security Trustee will act (subject to Condition 11(c) (Enforcement of Security)) on the instructions of the Majority Creditors (provided that the relevant Quorum Requirement has been met) or pursuant to a valid Emergency Instruction Notice, in each case, pursuant to the STID and neither the Bond Trustee nor the Security Trustee shall be bound to take any such action unless it is indemnified and/or secured and/or prefunded to its satisfaction against all fees, costs, expenses, liabilities, claims and demands to which it may thereby become liable or which it may incur by so doing.

Neither the Bond Trustee nor the Bondholders may institute against, or join any person in instituting against, the Issuer any bankruptcy, winding up, reorganisation, arrangement, insolvency or liquidation proceeding (except for the appointment of a receiver and manager pursuant to the terms of the Security Agreement and subject to the STID) or other proceeding under any similar law for so long as any Bonds are Outstanding or for two years and a day after the latest Maturity Date on which any Bond of any Series is due to mature.

13 Prescription

Claims against the Issuer for payment in respect of the Bonds, Receipts or Coupons (which, for this purpose, shall not include Talons) shall be prescribed and become void unless made within ten years (in the case of principal) or five years (in the case of interest) from the appropriate Relevant Date) in respect thereof.

14 Replacement of Bonds, Coupons, Receipts and Talons

If any Bearer Bond, Registered Bond, Receipt, Coupon or Talon is lost, stolen, mutilated, defaced or destroyed it may be replaced, subject to applicable laws and requirements of the London Stock Exchange (in the case of listed Bonds), if the relevant Bonds have been admitted to listing, trading and/or quotation on such a stock exchange), at the specified office of the Principal Paying Agent or, as the case may be, the Registrar upon payment by the claimant of the expenses incurred in connection with such replacement and on such terms as to evidence, security, indemnity and otherwise as the Issuer may require. Mutilated or defaced Bonds, Receipts, Coupons or Talons must be surrendered before replacements will be issued.

15 Meetings of Bondholders, Modification, Waiver and Substitution

(a) Decisions of Majority Creditors, STID Matters and STID Direct Voting Matters

The STID contains provisions dealing with the manner in which STID Matters affecting the interests of the Secured Creditors (including the Bond Trustee and the Bondholders) will be dealt with. Bondholders will (subject to various Reserved Matters and Entrenched Rights) be bound by the decisions of the Majority Creditors (provided that the relevant Quorum Requirement has been met) (and additionally in a Default Situation, decisions made pursuant to the Emergency Instruction Procedure (as set out in Clause 9.14 (Emergency Instruction Procedure) of the STID)).

The STID provides that in respect of STID Direct Voting Matters which do not relate to the Entrenched Rights or Reserved Matters of the Bondholders (as set out in the STID) and provided that no Default Situation is continuing (other than in respect of a STID Matter in respect of which the relevant proposer has elected to utilise the Emergency Instruction Procedure), the holders of Class A Unwrapped Bonds (or, following the repayment in full of all Qualifying Class A Debt, the holders of Class B Unwrapped Bonds) and following an FG Event of Default in relation to a Financial Guarantor, the holders of the relevant Class A Wrapped Bonds (or, following the repayment in full of all Qualifying Class A Debt, the holders of the relevant Class B Wrapped Bonds) (the “Qualifying Bondholders”) shall each be entitled to instruct the Bond Trustee through the clearing systems in accordance with the terms of the Bond Trust Deed to vote on its behalf in relation to such STID Direct Voting Matters as the DIG Representative of such Bondholder.

As more fully set out in the STID and the Bond Trust Deed, voting in connection with such STID Direct Voting Matters shall be determined on a pound-for-pound basis by reference to the Outstanding Principal Amount owed to each of the Qualifying Class A Debt Providers (or, following the repayment in full of all Qualifying Class A Debt, the Qualifying Class B Debt Providers) voting in respect of such STID Direct Voting Matters, so that all votes in favour of the proposal and all votes against the proposal from such Qualifying Debt Providers are considered on an aggregate basis, irrespective of whether a majority of such holders of Unwrapped Bonds or, as the case may be, Wrapped Bonds (following an FG Event of Default in respect of the relevant Financial Guarantor) are in favour or against the proposal.

For the purpose of voting in connection with a STID Direct Voting Matter, upon receipt thereof in accordance with the provisions of the STID, the Bond Trustee shall promptly forward a copy of such notice to the Qualifying Bondholders in accordance with Condition 17 (Notices) requesting them to instruct the Bond Trustee how to vote. After obtaining the instruction of the Qualifying Bondholders, the Bond Trustee will vote in relation to the relevant STID Direct Voting Matter in accordance with such instructions. The Bond Trustee shall not be entitled to convene a meeting of any one or more Sub-Class of Bondholders to consider a STID Matter unless a Default Situation is subsisting (subject to any Emergency Instruction Notice) or the STID Matter relates to an Entrenched Right or a Reserved Matter of the relevant Sub-Class or Class of Bondholders.

If a STID Matter relates to an Entrenched Right or a Reserved Matter of a Sub-Class or Class of Bondholders (whether before or whilst a Default Situation is subsisting), such STID Matter shall not be a STID Direct Voting Matter and the Bond Trustee shall be entitled to convene a meeting of any one or more Sub-Classes of Bondholders to consider such STID Matter and the Bond Trustee shall (subject to any Emergency Instruction Notice) vote in accordance with a direction by those holders of such outstanding Bonds by means of an Extraordinary Resolution of the relevant Sub-Class of Bonds. In any case, the Bond Trustee shall not be obliged to vote unless it has been indemnified and/or secured and/or prefunded to its satisfaction.

If a Default Situation has occurred and is subsisting, the Bond Trustee shall (subject to any Emergency Instruction Notice) be entitled to convene a meeting of any one or more Sub-Classes of Unwrapped Bondholders (or, following an FG Event of Default in respect of a Financial Guarantor, the relevant Sub-Class or Sub-Classes of Wrapped Bonds) to consider any STID Matter and the Bond Trustee shall vote in accordance with a direction by those holders of such outstanding Unwrapped Bonds (or, following the occurrence of an FG Event of Default in respect of a Financial Guarantor, the relevant Wrapped Bonds): (i) by means of an Extraordinary Resolution of the relevant Sub-Class of Bonds; or (ii) (in respect of a DIG Proposal to terminate a Standstill) as requested in writing by the holders of at least one quarter of the Principal Amount Outstanding of the relevant Sub-Class of Bonds then outstanding. In any case, the Bond Trustee shall not be obliged to vote unless it has been indemnified and/or secured and/or prefunded to its satisfaction.

Subject to Entrenched Rights and Reserved Matters, whilst a Default Situation is subsisting, certain decisions and instructions may be required in a timeframe which does not allow the Bond Trustee to convene Bondholder meetings. To cater for such circumstances, the STID provides for an emergency instruction procedure (the “Emergency Instruction Procedure”). In respect of any STID Matter during a Default Situation, the proposer must elect whether or not it wishes to utilise the Emergency Instruction Procedure in the event that the Bond Trustee, the Participating YWSF Bond Trustee or, as the case may be, the Non-Participating YWSF Bond Trustee convenes a Bondholder, Participating YWSF Bondholder or, as the case may be, Non-Participating YWSF Bondholder meeting and any such STID Matter will constitute a STID Direct Voting Matter for the purposes of Bondholder, Participating YWSF Bondholder or, as the case may, be Non-Participating YWSF Bondholder voting. Subject to Entrenched Rights and Reserved Matters, the Security Trustee will be required to act upon instructions contained in an emergency notice (an “Emergency Instruction Notice”). The Emergency Instruction Notice must specify the emergency action which the Security Trustee is being instructed to take and must certify that, unless such action is taken within the time frame specified in the Emergency Instruction Notice, the interests of the EIN Signatories will be materially prejudiced. An Emergency Instruction Notice must be signed by DIG Representatives (the “EIN Signatories”) representing $66\frac{2}{3}$ per cent. or more of the aggregate Outstanding Principal Amount of the Qualifying Class A Debt or, following the repayment in full of all Qualifying Class A Debt, Qualifying Class B Debt (after excluding from the proportion of Qualifying Class A Debt or, as the case may be, Qualifying Class B Debt, the Outstanding Principal Amount of: (a) the Wrapped Bonds (following the occurrence of an FG Event of Default which is continuing in relation to the relevant Financial Guarantor); (b) the Unwrapped Bonds; (c) the YWSF Wrapped Bonds (following the occurrence of an FG Event of Default which is continuing in relation to the YWSF Financial Guarantor); (d) the YWSF Unwrapped Bonds; and (e) the Non-Participating YWSF Bonds which constitute Qualifying Class A Debt, in each case, in respect of which the relevant Bondholder, Participating YWSF Bondholder or, as the case may be, Non-Participating YWSF Bondholder has not voted through the clearing systems during the initial 15 Business Day Decision Period). The Emergency Instruction Notice must specify the emergency action which the Security Trustee is being instructed to take on or after the expiry of the initial 15 Business Day Decision Period and must certify that in the EIN Signatories' reasonable opinion, unless such action is taken within the timeframe specified in the Emergency Instruction Notice, the interests of the EIN Signatories would be materially prejudiced. As described above, the holders of Unwrapped Bonds and, following the occurrence of an FG Event of Default which is continuing in relation to a Financial Guarantor, the holders of the relevant Wrapped Bonds shall each be entitled to instruct the Bond Trustee through the clearing systems in accordance with the terms of the Bond Trust Deed to vote on its behalf as the DIG Representative of such Bondholder in relation to such Emergency Instruction Notice as a STID Direct Voting Matter.

(b) Meetings of Bondholders

The Bond Trust Deed contains provisions for convening meetings of the Bondholders (including by video or audio conference call) to consider any matter affecting their interests, including the modification of the Bonds, the Receipts, the Coupons or any of the provisions of the Bond Trust Deed, (in the case of Class A Wrapped Bonds and Class B Wrapped Bonds) the Financial Guarantees and any other Finance Document to which the Bond Trustee is a party (subject to the terms of the STID). Any modification may (except in relation to any Entrenched Right or Reserved Matter of the Bond Trustee (as set out in the STID) subject to the terms of the STID including, in the case of any of the Class A Wrapped Bonds or Class B Wrapped Bonds, to Entrenched Rights or Reserved Matters of any Financial Guarantor (as set out in the STID) and subject to the provisions concerning ratification and/or meetings of particular combinations of Sub-Classes of Bonds as set out in Condition 16(b) (Exercise of rights by Bond Trustee) and the Bond Trust Deed), be made if sanctioned by a resolution passed at a meeting of such Bondholders duly convened and held in accordance with the Bond Trust Deed by a majority of not less than three-quarters of the votes cast (an “Extraordinary Resolution”) at such meeting. Such a meeting may be convened by the Bond Trustee or the Issuer, and shall be convened by the Issuer upon the request in writing of the relevant Bondholders holding not less than one-tenth in nominal amount of the relevant Bonds for the time being Outstanding.

The quorum at any meeting convened to vote on an Extraordinary Resolution will be one or more persons holding or representing not less than 50 per cent. in nominal amount of the relevant Bonds for the time being Outstanding or, at any adjourned meeting, one or more persons being or representing Bondholders, whatever the nominal amount of the relevant Bonds held or represented, provided however, that certain matters as set out in paragraph 5 of the Fourth Schedule to the Bond Trust Deed (the “Basic Terms Modifications”) in respect of the holders of any particular Sub-Class of Bonds may be sanctioned only by an Extraordinary Resolution passed at a meeting of Bondholders of the relevant Sub-Class of Bonds at which one or more persons holding or representing not less than three-quarters or, at any adjourned meeting, one-quarter in nominal amount of the Outstanding Bonds form a quorum. Any Extraordinary Resolution duly passed at any such meeting shall be binding on all the relevant Bondholders, Receiptholders and Couponholders whether present or not.

In addition, a resolution in writing signed by or on behalf of all Bondholders who for the time being are entitled to receive notice of a meeting of Bondholders under the Bond Trust Deed will take effect as if it were an Extraordinary Resolution. Such a resolution in writing may be contained in one document or several documents in the same form, each signed by or on behalf of one or more Bondholders.

(c) Modification, consent and waiver

As more fully set out in the Bond Trust Deed (and subject to the conditions and qualifications therein and to the terms of the STID), the Bond Trustee may and shall, without the consent of the Bondholders of any Sub-Class, concur with the Issuer or any other relevant parties in making:

- (i) any modification of these Conditions, the Bond Trust Deed, any Financial Guarantee or any Finance Document if in the opinion of the Bond Trustee such modification is of a formal, minor or technical nature or is made to correct a manifest or proven error or to comply with mandatory provisions of law; and
- (ii) any modification and granting any consent under or waiver or authorisation of any breach or proposed breach (or determination that any Event of Default or Potential Event of Default shall not be treated as such) of these Conditions, the Bond Trust Deed, any Financial Guarantee or any Finance Document which is, in the opinion of the Bond Trustee, not materially prejudicial to the interests of the Bondholders of that Sub-Class;

Any such modification, consent, waiver or authorisation shall be binding on the Bondholders of that Sub-Class, and the holders of all relevant Receipts and Coupons and, if the Bond Trustee so requires, notice thereof shall be given by the Issuer to the Bondholders of that Sub-Class as soon as practicable thereafter.

The Bond Trustee shall be entitled to assume that any such modification, consent, waiver or authorisation is not materially prejudicial to the Bondholders if the Rating Agencies confirm that there will not be any adverse effect thereof on the original issue ratings of the Bonds.

(d) Substitution of the Issuer

As more fully set forth in the STID (and subject to the conditions and qualifications therein), the Bond Trustee may also agree with the Issuer, without reference to the Bondholders, to the substitution of another corporation in place of the Issuer as principal debtor in respect of the Bond Trust Deed and the Bonds of all Series and subject to the Wrapped Bonds continuing to be subject to a Financial Guarantee of the relevant Financial Guarantor.

16 Bond Trustee Protections

(a) Trustee considerations

Subject to the terms of the STID and Condition 16(b) (Exercise of rights by Bond Trustee), in connection with the exercise, under these Conditions, the Bond Trust Deed, any Financial Guarantee or any Finance Document, of its rights, powers, trusts, authorities and discretions (including any modification, consent, waiver or authorisation), the Bond Trustee shall have regard to the interests of the holders of the Bonds provided that, if the Bond Trustee considers, in its sole opinion, that there is a conflict of interest between the interests of the holders of the Class A Bonds and the interests of the holders of the Class B Bonds, the Bond Trustee shall give priority to the interests of the holders of the Class A Bonds whose interests shall prevail. Where, in the sole opinion of the Bond Trustee, there is a conflict between holders of two or more Sub-Classes of Bonds of the same Class, it shall consider the interests of the holders of the Sub-Class of Bonds with the shortest dated maturity and, in either case, will not have regard to the consequences of such exercise for the holders of other Sub-Classes of Bonds or for individual Bondholders, resulting from their being for any purpose domiciled or resident in, or otherwise connected with, or subject to the jurisdiction of, any particular territory. The Bond Trustee shall not be entitled to require from the Issuer or any Financial Guarantor, nor shall any Bondholders be entitled to claim from the Issuer, any Financial Guarantor or the Bond Trustee, any indemnification or other payment in respect of any consequence (including any tax consequence) for individual Bondholders of any such exercise.

(b) Exercise of rights by Bond Trustee

- (1) Except as otherwise provided in these Conditions and the Bond Trust Deed, when exercising any rights, powers, trusts, authorities and discretions relating to or contained in these Conditions or the Bond Trust Deed (other than in determining or in respect of any Entrenched Right or Reserved Matter relating to the Bonds or any other Basic Terms Modification), which affects or relates to any Class A Wrapped Bonds and/or Class B Wrapped Bonds, the Bond Trustee shall only act on the instructions of the relevant Financial Guarantor(s) (provided no FG Event of Default has occurred and is continuing) in accordance with the provisions of the Bond Trust Deed and the Bond Trustee shall not be required to have regard to the interests of the Bondholders in relation to the exercise of such rights, powers, trusts, authorities and discretions and shall have no liability to any Bondholders as a consequence of so acting. As a consequence of being required to act only on the instructions of the relevant Financial Guarantor(s) in the circumstances referred to in the previous sentence, the Bond Trustee may not, notwithstanding the provisions of these Conditions, be entitled to act on behalf of the holders of any Sub-Classes of Wrapped Bonds.
- (2) Subject as provided in sub-paragraph (1) above or elsewhere in these Conditions and the Bond Trust Deed, the Bond Trustee will exercise its rights under, or in relation to, the Bond Trust Deed, the Conditions or any Financial Guarantee in accordance with the directions of the relevant Bondholders, but the Bond Trustee shall not be bound as against the Bondholders to take any such action unless it has: (i): (a) (in respect of the matters set out in Condition 11 (Events of Default) and Condition 15(a) (Decisions of the Majority Creditors, STID Matters and STID Direct Voting Matters) only) been so requested in writing by the holders of at least 25 per cent. in nominal amount of the relevant Sub-Classes of Bonds Outstanding; or (b) been so directed by an Extraordinary Resolution; and (ii) been indemnified and/or furnished with security and/or prefunded to its satisfaction.

(c) Decisions under STID binding on all Bondholders

Subject to the provisions of the STID and the Entrenched Rights and Reserved Matters of the Bond Trustee and the Bondholders, decisions of the Majority Creditors (provided that the relevant Quorum Requirement has been met) and (in a Default Situation) decisions made pursuant to the Emergency Instruction Procedure will bind the Bond Trustee and the Bondholders in all circumstances.

17 Notices

Notices to holders of Registered Bonds will be posted to them at their respective addresses in the Register and deemed to have been given on the date of posting. Other notices to Bondholders will be valid if published in a leading daily newspaper having general circulation in London (which is expected to be the Financial Times). The Issuer shall also ensure that all notices are duly published in a manner which complies with the rules and regulations of the London Stock Exchange, on which the Bonds are for the time being listed. Any such notice (other than to holders of Registered Bonds as specified above) shall be deemed to have been given on the date of such publication or, if published more than once or on different dates, on the first date on which publication is made. Couponholders and Receiptholders will be deemed for all purposes to have notice of the contents of any notice given to the holders of Bearer Bonds in accordance with this Condition 17.

So long as any Bonds are represented by Global Bonds, notices in respect of those Bonds may be given by delivery of the relevant notice to Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg or any other relevant clearing system as specified in the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus for communication by them to entitled account holders in substitution for publication in a daily newspaper with general circulation in London. Such notices shall be deemed to have been received by the Bondholders on the day of delivery to such clearing systems.

18 Indemnification of the Bond Trustee and Security Trustee

(a) Indemnification of the Bond Trustee

The Bond Trust Deed contains provisions for indemnification of the Bond Trustee, and for its relief from responsibility, including provisions relieving it from taking any action including taking proceedings against any Issuer, any Financial Guarantor and or any other person unless indemnified and/or secured and/or prefunded to its satisfaction. The Bond Trustee or any of its affiliates (as defined in Condition 7 (Indexation)) are entitled to enter into business transactions with the Issuer, any Financial Guarantor, the other Secured Creditors or any of their respective subsidiaries or associated companies without accounting for any profit resulting therefrom.

(b) Indemnification of the Security Trustee

Subject to the Entrenched Rights and Reserved Matters of the Security Trustee, the Security Trustee will only be required to take any action under or in relation to, or to enforce or protect the Security, or any other security interest created by a Finance Document, or a document referred to therein, if instructed to act by the Majority Creditors or Secured Creditors (or their representatives) (as appropriate) or pursuant to a valid Emergency Instruction Notice, in each case pursuant to the terms of the STID and if indemnified and/or secured and/or prefunded to its satisfaction.

(c) Directions, Duties and Liabilities

Neither the Security Trustee nor the Bond Trustee, in the absence of its own wilful misconduct, gross negligence or fraud, and in all cases when acting as directed by or subject to the agreement of the Majority Creditors or Secured Creditors (or their representatives) (as appropriate) or pursuant to a valid Emergency Instruction Notice pursuant to the terms of the STID, shall in any way be responsible for any loss, costs, damages or expenses or other liability, which may result from the exercise or non-exercise of any consent, waiver, power, trust, authority or discretion vested in the Security Trustee or the Bond Trustee pursuant to the STID, any Finance Document or any Ancillary Document.

19 Miscellaneous

(a) Governing Law

The Bond Trust Deed, STID, the Security Agreement, the Bonds, the Coupons, the Receipts, the Talons (if any), the relevant Financial Guarantee (if any) and the other Finance Documents are, and any non-contractual obligations arising out of or in connection with such documents shall be governed by, and shall be construed in accordance with, English law.

(b) Jurisdiction

The courts of England are to have exclusive jurisdiction to settle any dispute that may arise out of or in connection with the Bonds, the Coupons, the Receipts, the Talons, the relevant Financial Guarantee (if any) and the Finance Documents and accordingly any legal action or proceedings arising out of or in connection with the Bonds, the Coupons, the Receipts, the Talons (if any) the relevant Financial Guarantee (if any) and/ or the Finance Document may be brought in such courts. The Issuer has in each of the Finance Documents irrevocably submitted to the jurisdiction of such courts.

(c) Third Party Rights

No person shall have any right to enforce any term or condition of the Bonds or the Bond Trust Deed under the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999, but this does not affect any rights or remedy which exists or is available apart from the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999.

FORMS OF THE BONDS

Form and Exchange – Bearer Bonds

Each Sub-Class of Bonds initially issued in bearer form will be issued either as a temporary global bond (the “Temporary Global Bond”), without Coupons, Receipts or Talons attached, or a permanent global bond (the “Permanent Global Bond”), without interest Coupons, Receipts or Talons attached, in each case as specified in the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus. Each Temporary Global Bond or, as the case may be, Permanent Global Bond (each a “Global Bond”) will be delivered on or prior to the issue date of the relevant Sub-Class of the Bonds to a depository or a common depository for Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg and/or any other relevant clearing system on or about the Issue Date of the relevant Sub-Class.

The relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus will also specify whether United States Treasury Regulation §1.163-5(c)(2)(i)(C) (or any successor rules in substantially the same form that are applicable for purposes of Section 4701 of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”)) (the “TEFRA C Rules”) or United States Treasury Regulation §1.163-5(c)(2)(i)(D) (or any successor rules in substantially the same form that are applicable for purposes of Section 4701 of the Code) (the “TEFRA D Rules”) are applicable in relation to such Bonds, or whether such Bonds are issued other than in compliance with the TEFRA D Rules or the TEFRA C Rules but in circumstances in which the Bonds will not constitute “registration required obligations” under the United States Tax Equity and Fiscal Responsibility Act of 1982 (“TEFRA”), which circumstances will be referred to in the applicable Final Terms as a transaction to which TEFRA is not applicable.

Temporary Global Bond exchangeable for Permanent Global Bond

If the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus specifies the form of Bonds as being represented by “Temporary Global Bond exchangeable for a Permanent Global Bond”, then the Bonds will initially be in the form of a Temporary Global Bond which will be exchangeable, in whole or in part, for interests in a Permanent Global Bond, without Coupons, Receipts or Talons attached, not earlier than 40 days after the issue date of the relevant Sub-Class of the Bonds upon certification as to non-U.S. beneficial ownership. No payments will be made under the Temporary Global Bond unless exchange for interests in the Permanent Global Bond is improperly withheld or refused. In addition, payments of interest in respect of the Bonds cannot be collected without such certification of non-U.S. beneficial ownership.

Whenever any interest in the Temporary Global Bond is to be exchanged for an interest in a Permanent Global Bond, the Issuer shall procure (in the case of first exchange) the prompt delivery (free of charge to the bearer) of such Permanent Global Bond, duly authenticated, to the bearer of the Temporary Global Bond or (in the case of any subsequent exchange) an increase in the principal amount of the Permanent Global Bond in accordance with its terms against:

- presentation and (in the case of final exchange) surrender of the Temporary Global Bond at the specified office of the Paying Agent; and
- receipt by the Paying Agent of a certificate or certificates of non-U.S. beneficial ownership issued by Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg and/or any other relevant clearing system, within 7 days of the bearer requesting such exchange.

The principal amount of the Permanent Global Bond shall be equal to the aggregate of the principal amounts specified in the certificates of non-U.S. beneficial ownership; provided, however, that in no circumstances shall the principal amount of the Permanent Global Bond exceed the aggregate initial principal amount of the Temporary Global Bond and any Temporary Global Bond representing a fungible Sub-Class of Bonds with the Sub-Class of Bonds represented by the first Temporary Global Bond.

The Permanent Global Bond will be exchangeable in whole, but not in part, at the request of the bearer of the Permanent Global Bond for Bonds in definitive form (“Definitive Bearer Bonds”):

- on the expiry of such period of notice as may be specified in the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus;
- at any time, if so specified in the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus;
- if the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus specifies “in the limited circumstances described in the Permanent Global Bond”, then if: (a) Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg or any other relevant clearing system is closed for business for a continuous period of 14 days (other than by reason of legal holidays) or announces an intention permanently to cease business; or (b) any of the circumstances described in Condition 11(a) (Events of Default) occurs; or
- the Issuer certifies to the Bond Trustee that it has or will, on the next payment date for interest or principal, become subject to adverse tax consequences which would not be suffered if the Bonds are not represented by a Permanent Global Bond.

If a Permanent Global Bond is exchangeable for Definitive Bearer Bonds at the option of the Bondholders or Issuer other than in the limited circumstances described in the Permanent Global Bond, the Bonds shall be tradeable only in principal amounts of at least the Specified Denomination (or if more than one Specified Denomination, the lowest Specified Denomination).

Whenever the Permanent Global Bond is to be exchanged for Definitive Bearer Bonds, the Issuer shall procure the prompt delivery (free of charge to the bearer) of such Definitive Bearer Bonds, duly authenticated and with Coupons, Receipts and Talons attached (if so specified in the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus), in an aggregate principal amount equal to the principal amount of the Permanent Global Bond to the bearer of the Permanent Global Bond against the surrender of the Permanent Global Bond at the specified office of the Paying Agent within 30 days of the bearer requesting such exchange but not earlier than 40 days after the Issue Date of such Bonds.

Temporary Global Bond exchangeable for Definitive Bearer Bonds

If the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus specifies the form of Bonds as being “Temporary Global Bond exchangeable for Definitive Bearer Bonds” and also specifies that the TEFRA C Rules are applicable or that neither the TEFRA C Rules nor the TEFRA D Rules are applicable, then the Bonds will initially be in the form of a Temporary Global Bond which will be exchangeable, in whole but not in part, for Definitive Bearer Bonds not earlier than 40 days after the issue date of the relevant Sub-Class of the Bonds.

If the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus specifies the form of Bonds as being “Temporary Global Bond exchangeable for Definitive Bearer Bonds” and also specifies that the TEFRA D Rules are applicable, then the Bonds will initially be in the form of a Temporary Global Bond which will be exchangeable, in whole or in part, for Definitive Bearer Bonds not earlier than 40 days after the issue date of the relevant Sub-Class of the Bonds upon certification as to non-U.S. beneficial ownership. Interest payments in respect of the Bonds cannot be collected without such certification of non-U.S. beneficial ownership.

Whenever the Temporary Global Bond is to be exchanged for Definitive Bearer Bonds, the Issuer shall procure the prompt delivery (free of charge to the bearer) of such Definitive Bearer Bonds, duly authenticated and with Coupons, Receipts and Talons attached (if so specified in the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus), in an aggregate principal amount equal to the principal amount of the Temporary Global Bond so exchanged to the bearer of the Temporary Global Bond against the presentation (and in the case of final exchange, surrender) of the Temporary Global Bond at the specified office of the Paying Agent within 30 days of the bearer requesting such exchange but not earlier than 40 days after the issue of such Bonds.

Permanent Global Bond exchangeable for Definitive Bearer Bonds

If the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus specifies the form of Bonds as being “Permanent Global Bond exchangeable for Definitive Bearer Bonds”, then the Bonds will initially be in the form of a Permanent Global Bond which will be exchangeable in whole, but not in part, for Definitive Bearer Bonds:

- on the expiry of such period of notice as may be specified in the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus;
- at any time, if so specified in the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus;
- if the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus specifies “in the limited circumstances described in the Permanent Global Bond”, then if: (a) Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg or any other relevant clearing system is closed for business for a continuous period of 14 days (other than by reason of legal holidays) or announces an intention permanently to cease business; or (b) any of the circumstances described in Condition 11(a) (Events of Default) occurs; or
- the Issuer certifies to the Bond Trustee that it has or will, on the next payment date for interest or principal, become subject to adverse tax consequences which would not be suffered if the Bonds are not represented by a Permanent Global Bond.

If a Permanent Global Bond is exchangeable for Definitive Bearer Bonds at the option of the Bondholders or Issuer other than in the limited circumstances described in the Permanent Global Bond, the Bonds shall be tradeable only in principal amounts of at least the Specified Denomination (or if more than one Specified Denomination, the lowest Specified Denomination).

Whenever the Permanent Global Bond is to be exchanged for Definitive Bearer Bonds, the Issuer shall procure the prompt delivery (free of charge to the bearer) of such Definitive Bearer Bonds, duly authenticated and with Coupons, Receipts and Talons attached (if so specified in the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus), in an aggregate principal amount equal to the principal amount of the Permanent Global Bond to the bearer of the Permanent Global Bond against the surrender of the Permanent Global Bond at the specified office of the Paying Agent within 30 days of the bearer requesting such exchange but not earlier than 40 days after the Issue Date of such Bonds.

In the event that a Global Bond is exchanged for Definitive Bearer Bonds, such Definitive Bearer Bonds shall be issued in Specified Denominations(s) only. A Bondholder who holds a principal amount of less than the minimum Specified Denomination will not receive a Definitive Bearer Bond in respect of such holding and would need to purchase a principal amount of Bonds such that it holds an amount equal to one or more Specified Denominations.

Conditions applicable to the Bonds

The Conditions applicable to any Definitive Bearer Bond will be endorsed on that Bond and will consist of the Conditions set out under “Terms and Conditions of the Bonds” above and the provisions of the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus which supplement, amend, vary and/or replace those Conditions.

The Conditions applicable to any Global Bond will differ from those Conditions which would apply to the Definitive Bearer Bond to the extent described under “Provisions Relating to the Bonds while in Global Form”.

Legend concerning United States persons

Global Bonds and Definitive Bearer Bonds having a maturity of more than one year and any Coupons, Receipts and Talons appertaining thereto where the relevant Final Terms specify that the TEFRA D Rules apply will bear a legend to the following effect:

“Any United States person who holds this obligation will be subject to limitations under the United States income tax laws, including the limitations provided in Sections 165(j) and 1287(a) of the Internal Revenue Code.”

The sections referred to in such legend provide that a United States person who holds a Bond, Coupon, Receipt or Talon will generally not be allowed to deduct any loss realised on the sale, exchange or redemption of such Bond, Coupon, Receipt or Talon and any gain (which might otherwise be characterised as capital gain) recognised on such sale, exchange or redemption will be treated as ordinary income.

Form and Exchange – Registered Global Bonds

The following description is in respect of registered bonds issued under the Programme that are offered outside the United States in accordance with Regulation S of the Securities Act.

Registered Global Bonds

Registered Bonds held in Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg and/or any other clearing system will be represented by a registered global bond (each a “Registered Global Bond”) which will be registered in the name of a nominee for, and deposited with, a depository for Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg and/or such other relevant clearing system on or about the Issue Date of the relevant Sub-Class. These provisions will not prevent the trading of interest in the Bonds within a clearing system whilst they are held on behalf of such clearing system, but will limit the circumstances in which the Bonds may be withdrawn from the relevant clearing system.

Transfers of the holding of Bonds represented by any Registered Global Bond pursuant to Condition 2(b) (Transfer of Registered Bonds) may only be made in part:

- (i) if the Bonds represented by the Registered Global Bond are held on behalf of Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg and/or any other clearing system and any such clearing system is closed for business for a continuous period of 14 days (other than by reasons of holidays, statutory or otherwise) or announces an intention permanently to cease business or in fact does so; or provided that, in the case of the first transfer of part of a holding pursuant to paragraph (i) above, the registered Holder has given the Registrar not less than 30 days’ notice at its specified office of the registered Holder’s intention to effect such transfer. Where the holding of Bonds represented by a Registered Global Bond is only transferable in its entirety, the Bond issued to the transferee upon transfer of such holding shall be a Registered Global Bond. Where transfers are permitted in part, Bonds issued to transferees shall not be Registered Global Bonds unless the transferee so requests and certifies to the Registrar that it is, or is acting as a nominee for, Clearstream, Luxembourg, Euroclear and/or any other clearing system.

Rights Against Issuer

Under the Bond Trust Deed, persons shown in the records of Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg and/or any other relevant clearing system as being entitled to interests in the Bonds will (subject to the terms of the Bond Trust Deed and the STID) acquire directly against the Issuer all those rights to which they would have been entitled if, immediately before the Global Bond or Registered Global Bond became void, they had been the registered Holders of Bonds in an aggregate principal amount equal to the principal amount of Bonds they were shown as holding in the records of Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg and/or any other relevant clearing system (as the case may be).

Provisions Relating to the Bonds while in Global Form

Clearing System Accountholders

References in the Conditions of the Bonds to “Bondholder” are references to the bearer of the relevant Global Bond or the person shown in the records of the relevant clearing system as the holder of the Registered Global Bond.

Each of the persons shown in the records of Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg and/or any other relevant clearing system, as the case may be, as being entitled to an interest in a Global Bond or a Registered Global Bond (each an “Accountholder”) must look solely to Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg and/or such other relevant clearing system (as the case may be) for such Accountholder’s share of each payment made by the Issuer or, in the case of Wrapped Bonds, the relevant Financial Guarantor, to such Accountholder and in relation to all other rights arising under the Global Bond or Registered Global Bond. The extent to which, and the manner in which, Accountholders may exercise any rights arising under a Global Bond or Registered Global Bond will be determined by the respective rules and procedures of Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg and any other relevant clearing system (as the case may be) from time to time. For so long as the relevant Bonds are represented by a Global Bond or Registered Global Bond, Accountholders shall have no claim directly against the Issuer or, in the case of Wrapped Bonds, the relevant Financial Guarantor in respect of payments due under the Bonds and such obligations of the Issuer and, in the case of Wrapped Bonds, the relevant Financial Guarantor will be discharged by payment to the bearer of the Global Bond or the registered holder of the Registered Global Bond, as the case may be.

Amendment to Conditions

Global Bonds will contain provisions that apply to the Bonds which they represent, some of which modify the effect of the Conditions of the Bonds as set out in this Prospectus. The following is a summary of certain of those provisions:

- Meeting: The holder of a Global Bond or Registered Global Bond shall be treated as being two persons for the purposes of any quorum requirements of a meeting of Bondholders and, at any such meeting, the holder of a Global Bond or Registered Global Bond shall be treated as having one vote in respect of each minimum denomination of Bonds for which such Global Bond or Registered Global Bond may be exchanged.
- Cancellation: Cancellation of any Bond represented by a Global Bond or Registered Global Bond that is required by the Conditions to be cancelled (other than upon its redemption) will be effected by reduction in the principal amount of the relevant Global Bond or Registered Global Bond.
- Notices: So long as any Bonds are represented by a Global Bond or Registered Global Bond and such Global Bond or Registered Global Bond is held on behalf of Euroclear, Clearstream, Luxembourg or any other relevant clearing system, notices to the Bondholders may be given, subject always to listing requirements, by delivery of the relevant notice to the Euroclear, Clearstream, Luxembourg or any other relevant clearing system for communication by it to entitled Accountholders in substitution for publication as provided in the Conditions.

- Payment: For the purpose of any payments made in respect of a Global Bond, the relevant place of presentation shall be disregarded in the definition of “business day” set out in Condition 9(g) (Non-Business Days).

All payments in respect of any Bond represented by a Registered Global Bond will be made to, or to the order of, the person whose name is entered on the Register at the close of business on the Clearing System Business Day immediately prior to the date for payment, where “Clearing System Business Day” means Monday to Friday inclusive except 25 December and 1 January.

PRO FORMA FINAL TERMS

PROHIBITION OF SALES TO EEA RETAIL INVESTORS- The Bonds are not intended to be offered, sold or otherwise made available to and should not be offered, sold or otherwise made available to any retail investor in the European Economic Area (“EEA”). For these purposes, a retail investor means a person who is one (or more) of: (i) a retail client as defined in point (11) of Article 4(1) of Directive 2014/65/EU (as amended, “MiFID II”); or (ii) a customer within the meaning of Directive (EU) 2016/97 (the “Insurance Distribution Directive”), where that customer would not qualify as a professional client as defined in point (10) of Article 4(1) of MiFID II ; or (iii) not a qualified investor as defined in Regulation (EU) 2017/1129. Consequently, no key information document required by Regulation (EU) No 1286/2014 (as amended, the “PRIIPs Regulation”) for offering or selling the Bonds or otherwise making them available to retail investors in the EEA has been prepared and therefore offering or selling the Bonds or otherwise making them available to any retail investor in the EEA may be unlawful under the PRIIPs Regulation.

PROHIBITION OF SALES TO UK RETAIL INVESTORS- The Bonds are not intended to be offered, sold or otherwise made available to and should not be offered, sold or otherwise made available to any retail investor in the United Kingdom (“UK”). Consequently no key information document required by Regulation (EU) No 1286/2014 as it forms part of domestic law by virtue of the EUWA (the “UK PRIIPs Regulation”) for offering or selling the Bonds or otherwise making them available to retail investors in the UK has been prepared and therefore offering or selling the Bonds or otherwise making them available to any retail investor in the UK may be unlawful under the UK PRIIPs Regulation.

[MiFID II PRODUCT GOVERNANCE- Solely for the purposes of each manufacturer’s product approval process, the target market assessment in respect of the Bonds has led to the conclusion that: (i) the target market for the Bonds is eligible counterparties and professional clients only, each as defined in MiFID II; and (ii) all channels for distribution of the Bonds to eligible counterparties and professional clients are appropriate. Any person subsequently offering, selling or recommending the Bonds (a “distributor”) should take into consideration the manufacturers’ target market assessment; however, a distributor subject to MiFID II is responsible for undertaking its own target market assessment in respect of the Bonds (by either adopting or refining the manufacturers’ target market assessment) and determining appropriate distribution channels.]

[UK MiFIR PRODUCT GOVERNANCE- Solely for the purposes of [the/each] manufacturer’s product approval process, the target market assessment in respect of the Bonds has led to the conclusion that: (i) the target market for the Bonds is only eligible counterparties, as defined in the Bonds FCA Handbook Conduct of Business Sourcebook, and professional clients, as defined in Regulation (EU) No 600/2014 as it forms part of domestic law by virtue of the European Union (Withdrawal) Act 2018 (“UK MiFIR”); and (ii) all channels for distribution of the Bonds to eligible counterparties and professional clients are appropriate. Any person subsequently offering, selling or recommending the Bonds (a “distributor”) should take into consideration the manufacturer[’s/s’] target market assessment; however, a distributor subject to the FCA Handbook Product Intervention and Product Governance Sourcebook (the “UK MiFIR Product Governance Rules”) is responsible for undertaking its own target market assessment in respect of the Bonds (by either adopting or refining the manufacturer[’s/s’] target market assessment) and determining appropriate distribution channels.]

CHAPTER 9 USE OF PROCEEDS

The proceeds from each issue of Bonds by the Issuer under the Programme have been or will be on-lent to YWS under the terms of an Issuer/YWS Loan Agreement to be applied by YWS for its general corporate purposes or used to repay or service YWS's Financial Indebtedness.

If, in respect of an issue of Bonds, there is a particular use of proceeds, this will be stated in the applicable Final Terms.

YWS, together with its financing subsidiaries Yorkshire Water Services Finance Limited and Yorkshire Water Finance plc, established the Yorkshire Water Sustainable Finance Framework in 2019, which was subsequently updated in 2023. Where the applicable Final Terms indicates that the Bonds are Green Bonds, Social Bonds or Sustainable Bonds (each as defined below), the Issuer intends to apply the net proceeds from such issue of Bonds (or an amount equal thereto) specifically to finance or refinance, in whole or in part, assets and expenditures of a sustainable nature across YWS's activities, meeting certain eligibility criteria, as further set out in the Yorkshire Water Sustainable Finance Framework.

Green Bonds:

Where the applicable Final Terms denote a Series of Bonds as "Green Bonds" ("Green Bonds"), the proceeds of the Bonds will be on-lent by the Issuer to YWS for the financing and/or refinancing of, and/or investment in, the Eligible Green Portfolio (as defined below) falling within the Green Eligible Categories (as defined below).

For the purposes of this Chapter:

"Eligible Green Portfolio" means a portfolio of one or more Eligible Green Investments. Debt financing will only be allocated against investments where spend has occurred within the two financial years prior to the financial year of issuance of the relevant debt, where spend occurs within the financial year of issuance of the relevant debt, and/or where spend is due to occur within a period of two financial years following the financial year of issuance of the relevant debt.

"Eligible Green Investments" means investments which fall within the Green Eligible Categories.

"Green Eligible Categories" means the categories prepared by the Issuer and/or YWS as set out in the Yorkshire Water Sustainable Finance Framework (which shall be made available at www.keldagroup.com) and includes:

- Renewable energy
- Energy efficiency
- Pollution prevention and control
- Environmentally sustainable management of living natural resources and land use
- Terrestrial and aquatic biodiversity conservation
- Clean transportation
- Sustainable water and wastewater management
- Climate change adaption
- Eco-efficient and/or circular economy adapted products, production technologies and processes

- Green buildings.

“Yorkshire Water Sustainable Finance Framework” means the framework produced by the Issuer and YWS under which it can raise debt to support the financing and/or refinancing of assets and expenditures of a sustainable nature across its activities.

A third party consultant may review the Eligible Green Investments and issue a report and/or opinion based on the Eligible Green Investments (a “Green External Review”). The Green External Review will be made available at www.keldagroup.com.

The Issuer and/or YWS will establish systems and/or processes to monitor and account for the net proceeds for investment in the Eligible Green Portfolio falling within the Green Eligible Categories.

Social Bonds

Where the applicable Final Terms denote a Series of Bonds as “Social Bonds” (“Social Bonds”), the proceeds of the Bonds will be on-lent by the Issuer to YWS for the financing and/or refinancing of, and/or investment in, the Eligible Social Portfolio (as defined below) falling within the Social Eligible Categories (as defined below).

For the purposes of this Chapter:

“Eligible Social Investments” means investments which fall within the Social Eligible Categories.

“Eligible Social Portfolio” means a portfolio of one or more Eligible Social Investments. Debt financing will only be allocated against investments where spend has occurred within the two financial years prior to the financial year of issuance of the relevant debt, where spend occurs within the financial year of issuance of the relevant debt, and/or where spend is due to occur within a period of two financial years following the financial year of issuance of the relevant debt.

“Social Eligible Categories” means the categories prepared by the Issuer and/or YWS as set out in the Yorkshire Water Sustainable Finance Framework (which shall be made available at www.keldagroup.com) and includes:

- Affordable basic infrastructure
- Access to essential services
- Affordable housing
- Employment generation
- Food security and sustainable food systems
- Socioeconomic advancement and empowerment

A third party consultant may review the Eligible Social Investments and issue a report and/or opinion based on the Eligible Social Investments (a “Social External Review”). The Social External Review will be made available at www.keldagroup.com.

The Issuer and/or YWS will establish systems and/or processes to monitor and account for the net proceeds for investment in the Eligible Social Portfolio falling within the Social Eligible Categories.

Sustainability Bonds:

Where the applicable Final Terms denote a Series of Bonds as “Sustainability Bonds” (“Sustainability Bonds”), the proceeds of the Bonds will be on-lent by the Issuer to YWS for the financing and/or refinancing of, and/or investment in, the Eligible Sustainability Portfolio (as defined below) falling within the Sustainability Eligible Categories (as defined below).

For the purposes of this Chapter:

“Eligible Sustainability Portfolio” means a portfolio of one or more Eligible Sustainability Investments. Debt financing will only be allocated against investments where spend has occurred within the two financial years prior to the financial year of issuance of the relevant debt, the financial year of issuance of the relevant debt, and/or where spend is due to occur within a period of two financial years following the financial year of issuance of the relevant debt.

CHAPTER 11 TAX CONSIDERATIONS

UK Taxation

The following is a general summary of the UK withholding taxation treatment at the date hereof in relation to payments of principal and interest in respect of the Bonds. It is based on current law as applied in England and Wales and the practice of His Majesty's Revenue and Customs ("HMRC"), which may not be binding on HMRC and may be subject to change, sometimes with retrospective effect. The comments do not deal with other UK tax aspects of acquiring, holding or disposing (including redeeming) of Bonds. The comments are made on the assumption that the Issuer of the Bonds is resident in the UK for UK tax purposes. The comments relate only to the position of persons who are absolute beneficial owners of the Bonds. The comments do not necessarily apply where the income is deemed for tax purposes to be the income of any other person. Prospective Bondholders should be aware that the particular terms of issue of any series of Bonds may affect the tax treatment of that and other series of Bonds. The following is a general guide for information purposes and should be treated with appropriate caution. It is not intended as tax advice and it does not purport to describe all of the tax considerations that may be relevant to a prospective purchaser. Bondholders who are in any doubt as to their tax position should consult their professional advisers. Bondholders who may be liable to taxation in jurisdictions other than the UK in respect of their acquisition, holding or disposal of the Bonds are particularly advised to consult their professional advisers as to whether they are so liable (and if so under the laws of which jurisdictions), since the following comments relate only to certain UK taxation aspects of payments in respect of the Bonds. In particular, Bondholders should be aware that they may be liable to taxation under the laws of other jurisdictions in relation to payments in respect of the Bonds even if such payments may be made without withholding or deduction for or on account of taxation under the laws of the UK.

The references to "interest" in this section mean "interest" as understood in UK tax law. The statements do not take any account of any different definitions of "interest" or "principal" which may prevail under any other law or which may be created by the terms and conditions of the Bonds or any related documentation.

The following description of the UK withholding tax position assumes that there will be no substitution of the Issuer pursuant to Condition 8(d) (Redemption for Index Event, Taxation or Other Reasons) or Condition 15(d) (Substitution of the Issuer) of the Bonds or otherwise and does not consider the tax consequences of any such substitution.

Payment of Interest by the Issuer on the Bonds

Bonds which carry a right to interest will constitute "quoted Eurobonds" provided they are and continue to be listed on a recognised stock exchange, within the meaning of section 1005 of the Income Tax Act 2007. Whilst the Bonds are and continue to be quoted Eurobonds, payments of interest by the Issuer on the Bonds may be made without withholding or deduction for or on account of UK income tax.

Securities will be regarded as "listed on a recognised stock exchange" for this purpose if (and only if) they are admitted to trading on an exchange designated as a recognised stock exchange by an order made by the Commissioners for HMRC and either they are included in the UK official list (within the meaning of Part 6 of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000) or they are officially listed, in accordance with provisions corresponding to those generally applicable in European Economic Area states, in a country outside the UK in which there is a recognised stock exchange.

The London Stock Exchange is a recognised stock exchange for these purposes, and accordingly the Bonds will constitute quoted Eurobonds provided they are and continue to be included in the UK official list and admitted to trading on the London Stock Exchange.

In all cases falling outside the exemption described above, interest on the Bonds will generally fall to be paid under deduction of UK income tax at the basic rate (currently 20 per cent.) subject to such relief as may be available under the provisions of any applicable double taxation treaty or to any other relief or exemption which may apply. However, this withholding will not apply if the relevant interest is paid on Bonds with a Maturity Date of less than one year from the date of issue and which are not issued under a scheme or arrangement of borrowing intended to be capable of remaining outstanding for a year or more. If UK withholding tax is imposed, the Issuer will not pay additional amounts in respect of the Bonds.

Payments by Guarantor or Financial Guarantor

The UK withholding tax treatment of payments by the Guarantor or Financial Guarantor under the terms of the Guarantee or Financial Guarantee in respect of interest on the Bonds (or other amounts due under the Bonds other than the repayment of amounts subscribed for the Bonds) is uncertain. In particular, such payments by a Guarantor or Financial Guarantor may not be eligible for the exemptions described above in relation to payments of interest by the Issuer. Accordingly, if the Guarantor or Financial Guarantor makes any such payments, these may be subject to UK withholding tax at the basic rate (currently 20 per cent.). If UK withholding tax is imposed, no Guarantor or Financial Guarantor will pay additional amounts in respect of the Bonds.

Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act (“FATCA”) Withholding

Pursuant to certain provisions of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, commonly known as FATCA, a “foreign financial institution” (including an intermediary through which Bonds are held) may be required to withhold at a rate of 30 per cent. on certain payments it makes (“foreign passthru payments”) to persons that fail to meet certain certification, reporting, or related requirements. A number of jurisdictions (including the UK) have entered into, or have agreed in substance to, intergovernmental agreements with the United States to implement FATCA (“IGAs”), which modify the way in which FATCA applies in their jurisdictions. Certain aspects of the application of these rules to instruments such as the Bonds, including whether withholding would ever be required pursuant to FATCA or an IGA with respect to payments on instruments such as the Bonds, are uncertain and may be subject to change. Even if withholding would be required pursuant to FATCA or an IGA with respect to payments on instruments such as the Bonds, proposed regulations have been issued which provide that such withholding would not apply prior to the date that is two years after the date on which final regulations defining foreign passthru payments are published in the U.S. Federal Register. In the preamble to the proposed regulations, the U.S. Treasury Department indicated that taxpayers may rely on these proposed regulations until the issuance of final regulations. Additionally, Bonds characterised as debt (or which are not otherwise characterised as equity and have a fixed term) for U.S. federal tax purposes that are issued on or prior to the date that is six months after the date on which final regulations defining “foreign passthru payments” are filed with the U.S. Federal Register generally would be “grandfathered” for purposes of FATCA withholding unless materially modified after such date (including by reason of a substitution of the Issuer). However, if additional tranches of a Sub-Class of Bonds (as described under “Terms and Conditions of the Bonds – Form, Denomination and Title – Fungible Issues of Bonds comprising a Sub-Class”) that are not distinguishable from other tranches of such Sub-Class issued prior to the expiration of such grandfathering period are issued after the expiration of the grandfathering period and are subject to withholding under FATCA, then, withholding agents may treat all Bonds in such Sub-Class, including grandfathered tranches of Bonds of the same Sub-Class, as subject to withholding under FATCA. Holders should consult their own tax advisors regarding how these rules may apply to their investment in the Bonds. In the event any withholding would be required pursuant to FATCA or an IGA with respect to payments on the Bonds, no person would be required to pay additional amounts as a result of the withholding.

CHAPTER 12 SUBSCRIPTION AND SALE

Dealership Agreement

Bonds may be sold from time to time by the Issuer to any one or more of Bank of China Limited, London Branch, Barclays Bank PLC, BNP Paribas, Lloyds Bank Corporate Markets plc, National Australia Bank Limited, NatWest Markets Plc, MUFG Securities EMEA plc, RBC Europe Limited, SMBC Nikko Capital Markets Limited and any other dealer appointed from time to time in respect of the Programme or a particular Issue Date (the “Dealers”) pursuant to the dealership agreement originally dated 15 July 2009 as amended, supplemented, restated and/or novated from time to time, made between, amongst others, YWS, the Issuer, the Arranger and the Dealers (the “Dealership Agreement”). The arrangements under which a particular Sub-Class of Bonds may from time to time be agreed to be sold by the Issuer to, and purchased by, Dealers are set out in the Dealership Agreement and the subscription agreements relating to each Sub-Class of Bonds. Any such agreement will, inter alia, make provision for the form and terms and conditions of the relevant Bonds, the price at which such Bonds will be purchased by the Dealers and the commissions or other agreed deductibles (if any) payable or allowable by the Issuer in respect of such purchase. The Dealership Agreement makes provision for the resignation or termination of appointment of existing Dealers and for the appointment of additional or other Dealers either generally in respect of the Programme or in relation to a particular Series, Class or Sub-Class of Bonds.

In the Dealership Agreement, the Issuer, failing whom YWS, have each agreed to reimburse the Dealers for certain of their expenses in connection with the establishment and maintenance of the Programme and the issue of Bonds under the Dealership Agreement and each of the Obligors has agreed to indemnify the Dealers against certain liabilities incurred by them in connection therewith.

Selling Restrictions

The Bonds and the Guarantees in respect thereof have not been and will not be registered under the Securities Act or the securities laws of any state or other jurisdiction of the United States and may not be offered or sold, or in the case of Bearer Bonds, delivered, within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons except in certain transactions exempt from, or not subject to, the registration requirements of the Securities Act and, in all cases, in accordance with any applicable state or local securities laws. Terms used in this paragraph have the meaning given to them in Regulation S. The Bonds and the Guarantees in respect thereof are being offered and sold outside the United States to non-U.S. persons in reliance on Regulation S.

Bearer Bonds are subject to U.S. tax law requirements and may not be offered, sold or delivered within the United States or its possessions or to a United States person, except in certain transactions permitted by U.S. Treasury regulations. Terms used in this paragraph have the meanings given to them by the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”) and U.S. Treasury regulations promulgated thereunder.

Each Dealer represents and agrees, and each further Dealer appointed under the Programme will be required to agree, that, except as permitted by the Dealership Agreement, it has not offered or sold or, in the case of Bearer Bonds, delivered, the Bonds and the Guarantees in respect thereof, and agrees that it will not offer, sell or, in the case of Bearer Bonds, deliver the Bonds and the Guarantees in respect thereof: (i) as part of their distribution at any time; or (ii) otherwise until 40 days after the completion of the distribution of the Bonds comprising the relevant Sub-Class, as certified to the Principal Paying Agent or the Issuer by such Dealer (or, in the case of a sale of a Sub-Class of Bonds to or through more than one Dealer, by each of such Dealers as to the Bonds of such Sub-Class purchased by or through it, in which case the Principal Paying Agent or the Issuer shall notify each such Dealer when all such Dealers have so certified) only in accordance with Rule 903 of Regulation S.

Accordingly, neither it, its affiliates nor any persons acting on its or their behalf have engaged or will engage in any “directed selling efforts” with respect to the Bonds and the Guarantees in respect thereof, and it and they have complied and will comply with the offering restrictions requirement of Regulation S. Each Dealer agrees that, at or prior to confirmation of sale of Bonds and the Guarantees in respect thereof, it will have sent to each dealer within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons, and such Dealer will have sent to each Dealer to which it sells Bonds and the Guarantees in respect thereof during the distribution compliance period a confirmation or other notice to substantially the following effect: “The securities and the guarantees covered hereby have not been registered under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the “Securities Act”) and may not be offered or sold within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons (i) as part of their distribution at any time or (ii) otherwise until 40 days after the completion of the distribution of the Bonds comprising the relevant Sub-Class, as certified to the Principal Paying Agent or the Issuer by such Dealer (or, in the case of a sale of a Sub-Class of Bonds to or through more than one Dealer, by each of such Dealers as to the Bonds of such Sub-Class purchased by or through it, in which case the Principal Paying Agent or the Issuer shall notify each such Dealer when all such Dealers have so certified), except in either case in accordance with Regulation S under the Securities Act and all applicable state or local securities laws. Terms used above have the meanings given to them by Regulation S under the Securities Act”.

In addition, until 40 days after the commencement of the offering of Bonds comprising any Sub-Class and the Guarantees in respect thereof, any offer or sale of such Bonds and the Guarantees in respect thereof within the United States by any dealer (whether or not participating in the offering) may violate the registration requirements of the Securities Act.

Bearer Bonds will be issued in accordance with U.S. Treasury Regulation §1.163-(c)(2)(i)(C) (or any successor rules in substantially the same form that are applicable for the purposes of Section 4701 of the Code) (“TEFRA C”) or U.S. Treasury Regulation §1.163-5(c)(2)(i)(D) (or any successor rules in substantially the same form that are applicable for purposes of Section 4701 of the Code) (“TEFRA D”) or other than in compliance with the TEFRA D or TEFRA C but in circumstances in which the Bonds will not constitute “registration required obligations” under the United States Tax Equity and Fiscal Responsibility Act of 1982 (“TEFRA”), which circumstances will be referred to in the applicable Final Terms as a transaction to which TEFRA is not applicable, as specified in the relevant Final Terms or Drawdown Prospectus relating to one or more Sub-Classes of Bearer Bonds.

- (a) In relation to each Sub-Class of Bearer Bonds issued in accordance with TEFRA D, each Dealer represents and agrees, and each further Dealer appointed under the Programme will be required to agree, that:

period to a person who is within the United States or its possessions or to a United States person, except as permitted by TEFRA D;

- (iii) if such Dealer is a United States person, it represents that it is acquiring the Bearer Bonds for purposes of resale in connection with their original issuance and if it retains Bearer Bonds for its own account, it shall only do so in accordance with the requirements of U.S. Treas. Reg 1.163- 5(c)(2)(i)(D)(6) (or any successor rules in substantially the same form that are applicable for purposes of Section 4701 of the Code);
- (iv) with respect to each affiliate that acquires from such Dealer Bearer Bonds for the purpose of offering or selling such Bonds during the restricted period, each Dealer either (A) repeats and confirms the representations contained in Clauses (i), (ii) and (iii) on behalf of such affiliate or (ii) agrees that it shall obtain from such affiliate for the benefit of the Issuer the representations contained in Clauses (i), (ii) and (iii); and
- (v) it will obtain for the benefit of the Issuer the representations and agreements contained in clauses (i), (ii), (iii), (iv) and this clause (v) from any person other than its affiliates with whom it enters into a written contract, as defined in U.S. Treasury Regulation § 1.163-5(c)(2)(i)(D)(4) (or any successor rules in substantially the same form for the purposes of section 4701 of the Code), for the offer or sale during the restricted period of Bearer Bonds.

Terms used in this paragraph have the meanings given to them by the Code and regulations thereunder, including TEFRA D.

- (b) In relation to each Sub-Class of Bearer Bonds issued in accordance with TEFRA C, each Dealer acknowledges and agrees, and each further Dealer appointed under the Programme will be required to acknowledge and agree that such Bonds must be issued and delivered outside the United States and its possessions in connection with their original issuance and represents and agrees that:
 - (i) it has not offered, sold or delivered, and shall not offer, sell or deliver, directly or indirectly, Bearer Bonds within the United States or its possessions in connection with their original issuance; and
 - (ii) in connection with the original issuance of Bearer Bonds, it has not communicated, and shall not communicate, directly or indirectly, with a prospective purchaser if either such purchaser or the Dealer is within the United States or its possessions and shall not otherwise involve its U.S. office in the offer or sale of Bearer Bonds.

Terms used in this paragraph have the meanings given to them by the Code and regulations thereunder, including TEFRA C.

Certain of the Arranger, Dealers and their affiliates have engaged, and may in the future engage, in investment banking and/or commercial banking transactions with, and may perform services for the Issuer and its affiliates in the ordinary course of business. Certain of the Arranger, Dealers and their affiliates may have positions, deal or make markets in the Bonds issued under the Programme, related derivatives and reference obligations, including (but not limited to) entering into hedging strategies on behalf of the Issuer and its affiliates, investor clients, or as principal in order to manage their exposure, their general market risk, or other trading activities. Certain of the Dealers may from time to time also enter into swap and other derivative transactions with the Issuer and its affiliates.

In addition, in the ordinary course of their business activities, the Arranger, Dealers and their affiliates may make or hold a broad array of investments and actively trade debt and equity securities (or related derivative securities) and financial instruments (including bank loans) for their own account and for the accounts of their customers. Such investments and securities activities may involve securities and/or instruments of the Issuer or its affiliates. Certain of the Arranger, Dealers or their affiliates that have a lending relationship with the Issuer routinely hedge their credit exposure to the Issuer consistent with their customary risk management policies. Typically, such Arranger, Dealers and their affiliates would hedge such exposure by entering into transactions which consist of either the purchase of credit default swaps or the creation of short positions in securities, including potentially the Bonds issued under the Programme. Any such positions could adversely affect future trading prices of Bonds issued under the Programme or whether a specified barrier or level is reached. The Arranger, Dealers and their affiliates may also make investment recommendations and/or publish or express independent research views in respect of such securities or financial instruments and may hold, or recommend to clients that they acquire, long and/or short positions in such securities and instruments.
